WESCOTT'S

WILL TEST CATTLE

The state department of agriculture announces that there will be a test of cattle in Cass county in the next few weeks.

It has been approximately three years since Cass county was declared a modified accredited tuberculosis-free area. In order to maintain the county its status, it becomes necessary under the regulations governing these areas to retest a limited number of cattle in the county.

It will be the purpose to test the breeding herds in Mount Pleasant, Rock Bluffs, South Bend and Tipton precincts, previously infected herds and the cattle from which milk is being supplied to the towns of the county. In the event that the infection among those cattle tested is less than one-half of one per cent, no further testing will be done. On the other hand, should the infection be greater than one-half of one per cent, it will be necessary to continue on until the reactors found represent no more than one-half of one per cent of the entire number tested.

Each herd owner will be notified of the date and approximate time on which the veterinarian will arrive to test his cattle. It is contemplated that the work will begin on Monday, February 29th, under the direction of Dr. Lavender who will be temporarily located in the county. The work will be completed just as speedily as possible with the least amount of expense.

Save by Making Your Own Soap.

Any woman who has a surplus of fats, such as left-over last year's lard, and scraps from this year's butchering, can make her own soap for both the laundry and bathroom and save the cost of buying soap at the store. Any of the women who attended the four soap making demonstrations held in Cass county last fall, under the supervision of Miss Jessie H. Baldwin, Home Extension Agent, will tell you how easy it is to make the soap, how surprisingly soft and velvety it leaves the hands after using, and how nicely it shaves up for the laundry tub.

Many women have sighed with relief the past few weeks when they saw the last of the beef or pork (sometimes both) salted down, or smiling back at them from neatly packed jars on a shelf in cellar or cave. These jars of fresh meat will mean much to them this summer when there are so many meals to plan, to say nothing of the saving they will make by having their own lard packed away in stone jars for home use.

Perhaps some of these women have a little more lard than they expect to use, or possibly had left over quite a large proportion of fats which they deemed unworthy of turning into lard for table use. And it is even more probable that a good many had surplus lard left over from last year that is becoming a little aged and rancid. It is possible to use up all of this material in a way which a number of modern homemakers had forgotten about or deemed too hard a task to undertake—soap-making. But the task is not so hard when a few simple directions are followed. And think of the saving you can make on your soap bill.

Directions for perfuming the soap made at home are also included in the leaflet prepared on soap-making which may be secured at the Farm Bureau office for the asking.

Women Enjoy Program at Corn, Hog and Poultry Day

Managing time instead of letting it manage you, was emphasized by Mrs. Sarah Porter Ellis, acting state extension agent in women's work, Lincoln, when she spoke to a group of fifty-seven women at the Corn, Hog and Poultry meeting held at Alvo last Wednesday afternoon. Tied up with the problem of making the most of one's time is that of utilizing one's leisure time to satisfy one's craving for the beautiful and cultural things of life. This phase of the homemaker's problem was handled in an illustrated talk given by Mrs. Ruth Davis Hill, also of Lincoln. Mrs. Hill recommended that the homemaker devote some of her leisure time to making her home attractive to her family and friends. The idea of utilizing the things which the average homemaker has to work with in such a way that her home becomes an attractive place for her children to spend their time and to entertain their friends, is not to be overlooked. Suggestions for brightening up the corners at little expense, rearrangement of furniture, hanging of pictures, etc., were given by Mrs. Hill.

The women who attended this meeting had come with their husbands earlier in the day, most of them driving in in wagons, who came for the Corn, Hog and Poultry meetings. The women enjoyed the poultry program conducted by J. R. Redditt of the Agricultural College, and with the men, ate a dinner consisting of hot dog sandwiches, coffee and pie at the Methodist church basement, at noon.

Organize 4-H Clubs.

4-H club work is off to a good start in 1932 with the organization of eight clubs at present and the prospect of several more in the immediate future or as soon as the roads permit a meeting. The Everlay poultry club, led by James Wall and three baby beef clubs, led by William Brandt, Nehawka; Glen Henger, Weeping Water, and Keith Althouse, Eagle, have been organized for some time. Recently the Happy Hustlers Pig club of Murray reorganized with John Hobscheidt their leader for the second year. Officers of the club are: Robert Wolfe, president; James Schafer, vice president; Vernie Pullen, secretary, and Gwendolyn Hansen, reporter.

Three clubs were organized in the vicinity of Murray and Mynard, Saturday. The Daisy Dairy Calf club organized for their second year work with Noble Kiser as leader. The same group organized for the pig club work and chose the name of Mynard Blue Ribbon pig club. Noble Kiser will lead this club also. The members of these two clubs are: Willis Cole, Eugene Nolte, Richard Cole, Bill Ruffner, Junior Kiser, Jacqueline Stratton, Kathleen Nolte, Valery Stratton, Frances Wetenskap, Albert Ulrich, Ella Mae and Dorothy Ruffner.

The Sunny Side Garden club at Murray also organized Saturday with twenty-one members. Mrs. W. E. Mackey is their leader and the club is being sponsored by the woman's club at Murray which assures us that it will be most successful.

Relief Committee Says the Worst is Over

May Renew Appeals if the Red Cross Asks Further Aid for Sufferers.

Norfolk, Neb., Feb. 14.—The north Nebraska drought relief committee today accepted the judgment of Albert Evans, Red Cross director, that the worst of the drought relief emergency is probably over, and will cease in general appeals to the state, but will hold itself in readiness to renew them later if the Red Cross should request it.

The Red Cross has stationed a field representative, L. M. Williamson, with the committee here to assist in equitable distribution of feed now in transit or promised.

There are a few spots where relief has not been given in the past, where some work needs to be done, such as in the northwest corners of Pierce and Dixon counties, but the Red Cross feels that there is sufficient feed in transit or promised which can be diverted to such points.

The north Nebraska committee has suggested that all supplies now assembled be loaded and shipped into the area. When cars are sent, the committee asks the donors wire headquarters here, to ascertain from the Red Cross where the need is greatest on that particular day.

The committee in turn will wire the donors, giving them the best destination for the feed and arranging free transportation.

The committee today issued a statement extending thanks to all donors, to all co-operating individuals and organizations, to the press, and to the railroads on behalf of the people of the affected area.—World-Herald.

FILES FOR LIEUT.-GOVERNOR

Henry F. Schepman of Falls City has filed for the democratic nomination for Lieutenant governor. Before moving to Falls City, Mr. Schepman was a farmer, having lived on a farm for more than 20 years and served as a member of the legislature from Johnson county, in 1925. Since moving to Falls City, he has served as secretary of the Falls City chamber of commerce for six years; adjutant of the Falls City post of the American Legion; member of the democratic state central committee; secretary to Congressman John H. Morehead during the 69th congress; now serving in that capacity in the 72nd congress, and served as state senator of the first district during the past two terms, being elected at the last election without opposition in either the primary or general election.

He was one of the introducers of the legislative act which submitted to the people the question of a constitutional amendment permitting the banking department to sue stockholders on their double liability as soon as the bank closes. The act was adopted by a large majority of the vote of the people and has resulted in doubling the assets made available to depositors.

Mr. Schepman has the record of not missing a single roll call and voting on every question during two regular sessions and two special sessions. During the last session, he did not vote in one instance to raise the appropriation recommended by the governor and he voted against an increase in the salary of the governor's secretary and other increases. Mr. Schepman attended the University of Chicago and also worked his way through the University of Nebraska. In college he was a member of the dramatic club, Pershing Rifles, Delta Theta Phi law fraternity, Lutheran club and Walther League. He is a member of the Christ Lutheran church of Falls City.—Falls City Journal.

Has to Bob Hair as Result of Auto Mishap

Mis Della Sutton, of Alvo, Says Beauty Ruined and Asks for $25,000 Damages.

From Friday's Daily
Miss Della Sutton, of Alvo, is the plaintiff in an action that was filed in the district court at Omaha, asking $25,000 damages as the result of injury suffered in an auto accident.

Miss Sutton states that prior to the accident she had a luxuriant head of hair and since the accident she has been compelled to wear her hair bobbed which has detracted from her appearance and caused her much worry and annoyance and destroying the beauty of her hair.

On December 16th last, Miss Sutton was a passenger in a car driven by Arthur E. Gordon, Omaha waiter. On the highway near Gretna the front tire of the car of Mr. Gordon blew out as the car collided with one driven by Marvin Rüh, a Lincoln oil station operator. Miss Sutton was thrown through the windshield in the accident and scalp wounds inflicted that resulted in the destruction of her hair.

Attorney Carl D. Ganz of Alvo was in the city for a short time today looking after some matters at the court house.

Carl Newman of St. Louis is in the city for a visit at the home of his father, Frank Newman and the brothers and sisters.

CEDAR CREEK PROJECT CLUB

The Cedar Creek Project club members held a very enjoyable meeting Tuesday afternoon, February 9th, at the home of Mrs. Rudolf Meisinger, who was assisted in the event by Mrs. Robert Stivers. The lesson was on "Formal and Informal Outdoor Living Rooms," which the leaders presented in a very interesting manner, judging by the interest shown by those present there should be some very fine informal outdoor living rooms in this community this coming summer.

Nine members were present and two visitors, Mrs. Clarence Meisinger and Miss Bernese Kaffenberger. The next meeting will be held March 1st at the home of Mrs. Victor Stoehr with Mrs. Rudolf Meisinger and Mrs. Wm. Knutson, assistant hostesses. The achievement program will be held sometime in March.

The Journal will appreciate your phoning in news items. Call No. 6. Thanks!

MOVE TO NEW LOCATION

The Home Dairy, which has been located in the Hart building on Main street between Fourth and Fifth streets, is to move to a new location. The dairy will be located in the building at the corner of Fifth street which was formerly occupied by the Egenberger soft drink parlor. The building will be arranged for the use of the dairy and its location will be more convenient as the cream and produce which is handled can be unloaded at the rear of the building. The dairy has been quite successful in developing a nice trade in the various lines of its products and feel that the new location will give them a much better opportunity for the expansion of their lines.
