MYNARD LADIES MEET

The Goldenrod Study club had a most enjoyable meeting last Thursday, at the Mynard community hall. At noon the ladies arrived with their "covered dishes" and in a short time the committee in charge had everything assembled to be served cafeteria style. At the long table, which was indeed beautiful, in green and white decorations, all did justice to a splendid repast.

During the afternoon the regular business meeting was in order, and officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

Mrs. Adda Perry, president
 Mrs. Howard Wiles, vice president
 Mrs. A. L. Huffer, secretary-treasurer.

The review of Memory songs was led by Miss Grace Livingston.

In response to the roll call: "Trees I would like to add to the landscaping around my home," much interest was shown and it was evidenced that the Chinese elm was the favored tree, although the oak, spruce, weeping birch and red maple were named, also.

Mrs. Adda Perry led the discussion on "Nebraska Trees and Native Grasses," which was interesting and instructive, as well.

Those in charge of this social occasion were the hostesses, Mrs. Harry Nelson and Mrs. Wallace Warner, assisted by Mrs. Roy O. Cole and Mrs. Adda Perry of the Refreshment committee.

The table committee was composed of Mrs. Elbert Wiles and Mrs. A. L. Huffer.

Besides the members there were visitors to enjoy this pleasant club gathering.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

From Monday's Daily

Saturday night Sheriff Ed Thimman was called to Elmwood, where he arrested Mort Parish, a young man of that community, who it was alleged had assaulted Harry Duckworth, also a resident of Elmwood. Mr. Parish was arraigned this morning in the county court and to the charge entered a plea of guilty. He stated to the court that he had been away from Elmwood since July and on his return had heard that reports were circulated that Parish had given the information that led to a liquor raid in that community. He had accused Duckworth as the person responsible for the story and in their argument he had struck Duckworth.

The complaining witness was not here and the judgment of the court was deferred until both sides of the question could be heard.

Time for Spring Cleaning.

Are you one of the many women who are racking their brains trying to think up ways of making their homes more attractive, at little expense, along with the usual spring cleaning? If so, try calling at the Farm Bureau office for information and suggestions for rearranging and refinishing of furniture, hanging of pictures, suggestions in the selection of wall paper and other accessories, and hints on solving your floor problem.

You would be surprised and delighted at the results you might achieve with some of the old-fashioned furniture which you may be lucky enough to have stored away in attic or basement. By taking off useless decorative pieces usually glued to furniture of the "by-gone" days, and making slight alterations, you will find that you have ideal pieces which when painted in colors, or varnished, are very useful and attractive in the home. Whole bedroom sets, when slightly altered to suit an individual room and painted in delicate harmonizing or contrasting colors, with curtains, bed spreads, and other accessories may change the entire atmosphere of the room. Grandmother's old chest of drawers, when refinished, often serves very nicely in place of a buffet in the dining room and makes a very attractive piece of furniture when placed beneath a mirror in a suitable shape to balance the ensemble. A low bowl between candles in simple holders, or distinctive pieces of old china or glass give the proper decorative touches.

Extension Circular 1154 contains many suggestions for altering and refinishing furniture and floors and includes the recipe for a very good varnish remover.

Treat Potatoes Now to Insure Good Crop

In the eastern half of Nebraska, potatoes planted early in April or late in March generally give the highest yield. Such diseases as scab and black scab or rhizoctonia sometimes attack them however and cut down the yield or lower the quality of the potatoes. If good seed is used on clean ground, seed treatment may not be so essential, but if uncertified seed is used, it usually pays to treat it. Potatoes should be planted on new ground because of the danger of infection from diseases which live over in the ground. It is also better to plant potatoes apart from the vegetable garden and ground that is used for potatoes one year should not be planted to potatoes again for five years.

The best method to use is the hot formaldehyde treatment described below, although the cold water solution is sometimes used. Hot treatment: Use two pints of formaldehyde to 30 gallons of water. Heat to 125 degrees. Treat potatoes before cutting and leave in solution 4 minutes. Seed potatoes should be cut into blocky pieces that average 1½ to 2 ounces in weight. Each seed piece should have at least one good eye. It is generally best to cut the seed just previous to planting and after it has been treated. Potatoes that show discoloration in the flesh should not be planted.

Garden for Family of Five.

The farm garden to supply a family of five should be about 150 feet long and 100 feet wide, the project leaders of women's club in this county are now telling their local club members and visitors at a number of neighborhood meetings. This garden, they say, will probably not be large enough for potatoes. It is a good idea to plant the potatoes outside of the usual farm garden.

Probably more manure will be spread over the garden patches than usual this year since the project leaders learned in their monthly meeting that a garden should be fertilized with well rotted barnyard, poultry, or sheep manure. In some cases a part of the straw pile may be spread out over the garden as a mulch to conserve the moisture and keep down the weeds. Mulching the potato patch is a common practice but most garden vegetables will do well also under the straw.

Insects that chew leaves are generally controlled with poisons like lead arsenate, calcium arsenate, or Paris Green, either applied as a spray or dry dust. Insects like plant lice and squash bugs which suck juices out of the plants, can be controlled with nicotine sulfate as a dust or spray, the leaders say. Irish cobblers are being recommended in central and eastern Nebraska as the best variety of potato for the ordinary farm. The Triumph probably is the best potato for west Nebraska and the Russet Rural New Yorker is also a satisfactory potato for western irrigated regions.

The planting table and the plan for the farm vegetable garden contained in the new garden circular which the women's clubs are using has been one of the most useful parts of the circular in the monthly lesson. Another feature which the members seem to appreciate is our list of satisfactory varieties of each of the common garden vegetables.

Temporary Pasture Crops.

For temporary pasture this spring the University of Nebraska agricultural college recommends seeding of oats early this spring and then later the seeding of a field of sudan grass. The oats will give early spring pasture and will last up to about the first of June. Sudan grass should be seeded about corn planting time and will furnish pasture during the hot summer months and until frost in the fall. Fall rye seeded next August or September will furnish a lot of fall pasture.

A small field of sweet cover seeded early this spring will furnish a little pasture after this fall and considerable pasture during the summer months next year. Two bushel of oats, six pecks of rye or 30 pounds of sudan grass seed per acre are about the amounts usually recommended.

Brush Dams Stop Erosion.

The construction of brush dams in a ditch will stop erosion and fill up the ditch but something else must be done if the work is to be permanent. The brush used to make the dam will rot away within two or three years and a new ditch will quickly form since the soil that washed in around the brush dam is comparatively loose and fine.

Hundreds of Nebraska farmers who have installed brush dams under the direction of their county agents and county farm bureaus have seeded down a strip of land in order to hold the soil after the brush is rotted away. This little strip of sod in the field is not as big a nuisance in cultivating the field as a deep ditch might be. In some cases the farmer has made the strip of sod wide enough so that he could mow it and get a little hay out of it. In other cases he has seeded the entire field down to alfalfa and permanent pasture. Improving the soil fertility of the field as a whole will tend to make the soil hold more water. This will lessen the run off and also the danger of opening up the old ditch again during an exceptionally heavy rain.

Mynard Club Hold Fine Meeting Friday Nite

Splendid and Varied Program Is Given at Community Building Friday Night.

The Mynard Community club held their March meeting Friday evening, with a very large crowd in attendance.

Due to the bad roads the club did not hold a meeting in February, but the program as planned was given at this meeting which everyone thoroughly enjoyed.

After the business session, with Mr. E. H. Spangler presiding, the program was in charge of Mr. W. F. Nolte and Miss Helene Perry, chairmen of the two program committees of the club. Mr. Nolte read a paper on "Washington as a Farmer," which portrayed this most interesting phase of his life.

Miss Shogren, teacher of the Eight Mile Grove school gave a splendid reading entitled "Review of Washington's Life."

Wilma and Kathleen Nolte each gave recitations about Washington. Whipple Leonard played a piano solo.

Lawrence Leonard sang two beautiful numbers. Mrs. Elbert Wiles played a flute solo which is always an enjoyable feature.

The remainder of the program was in charge of Miss Helene Perry whose time and efforts in directing a program is very much appreciated by the members of the community club, and those who attended.

The play, "Martha and George Return," was presented by Miss Gertrude Vallery, Margaret Hirt, Janet Vallery and Eleanor Swatek, which was greatly enjoyed by the audience.

The Misses Ruth and Rose Ferrie danced the Minuet in a most graceful manner.

Mr. Spangler on behalf of the club, expressed the appreciation to those who took part in the program, and the meeting was dismissed.

MRS. BAIRD PASSES AWAY AT HOME IN ELMWOOD

The funeral services of Mrs. Baird were held from the Methodist church conducted by Rev. Shepard. Music was rendered by Mrs. Guy L. Clements, Mrs. Opal Clements and the Misses Ethel and Pearl Coatsman. Interment was made in the Elmwood cemetery. Mrs. Baird was one of the early residents of this community and has lived in Elmwood for many years and her passing will be felt keenly by all who knew her. Following is the outline of her life:

Mary L. Grant was born in Mantino, Ill. in 1856, and died at her home in Elmwood, Neb., March 20, 1932. She was the daughter of Thomas W. and Margaret Jane Grant, who preceded her in death some years ago. She was the oldest of twelve children.

In December, 1872, she was married to John R. Baird, and to this union were born three children, two of whom died in infancy, and Mrs. Jessie Mapes, who died in 1921.

In 1875, they came to the state of Nebraska, and settled on a farm near Elmwood, and a number of years later moved to town to spend their declining years. Her husband preceded her in death in the year 1912. Mr. and Mrs. Baird were among the early pioneers of this part of the country. They were here and went thru the grasshopper day in the 80's.

She leaves to mourn her departure five grandchildren, Guy, Margaret, Lester, Lorene and Cecil Mapes of Los Angeles, Calif.; and Ed Mapes, a son-in-law of Lincoln; three sisters, Miss Ida Grant of Elmwood, Mrs. Carrie E. Strayer of Lincoln, and Mrs. Jennie Miller of Chicago; three brothers, Ulysses S. Grant of Aurora, Ill., Norman L. Grant of Chicago; and a niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Davis of Elmwood, who cared for her during her illness; and other relatives and a host of friends.

In 1914, she united with the M. E. church at Elmwood, and was always in Sunday school and church when her health permitted. — Elmwood Leader-Echo.

LOSES A WHEEL

Sunday morning while Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gansemer of Mynard were driving south on Sixth street, one of the wheels of their car came off and started merrily rolling on down the street. The hub cap of the car broke and allowed the wheel to work loose until it worked off. The wheel was checked in its flight by Clifford Propst while the car was taken to a garage and the wheel again adjusted.

ICWA PEOPLE WEDDED

Saturday afternoon at the court house occurred the marriage of Frank Bergman and Miss Bertha Dargo, both of Avoca, Iowa. The wedding was performed by Judge Duxbury in his usual impressive manner and at the conclusion the young people returned to their homes.

Kenneth Johnson and Miss Paulina Evans, both of Glenwood, were also granted a license to wed and later repaired to the Presbyterian manse, where they were joined in the bonds of holy wedlock by Rev. H. G. McClusky. The bridal couple were accompanied by the mothers of both the bride and groom.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Charles Peterson was hostess Tuesday afternoon at a very delightful birthday party honoring Mrs. Martha J. Peterson, at the Peterson home on South Fifth street. The members of the party comprised the ladies of the pinochle club of which the guest of honor is a member. The time was most delightfully spent in the fascinations of pinochle and in the playing Mrs. F. R. Guthmann was awarded the first honors. At a suitable hour a dainty two course luncheon was served by the hostess. In honor of the occasion Mrs. Peterson received a large number of very handsome and attractive gifts.
