CANNOT HEAD THIRD PARTY

Oregon, Ill.—Former Governor Lowden of Illinois told a delegation of independent voters that his advanced years precluded his considering their request that he head a third party ticket as candidate for president in the November election. The delegation was headed by W. W. O'Brien, Chicago, attorney and independent candidate for governor. Mr. Lowden, now seventy-two, said he did not wish to shoulder the burdens of a campaign.

4-H CLUB MEETS

The Peppery Cooking club, west of Mynard, met at the home of the club leader, Mrs. Carl Meisinger. In the absence of the president, the vice president, Evelyn Meisinger, called the meeting to order. Our secretary was also absent, so the vice president gave the roll call. There were six members present. Reading of minutes of last meeting was dispensed with owing to secretary's absence.

We then proceeded to prepare the different fruits for the serving of punch. Each individual had their work to do in order to learn the first lesson.

The next meeting will be held on June 16th at the home of our leader, and it is hoped that a 100 per cent attendance may be present.

BUILDING OF 1770 RAIDED

Hackensack, N. J.—Federal prohibition agents raided the mansion house where officers of the continental army appeared their thirst in November, 1770, before the capture of half of Washington's army in Fort Washington. It was in the same building that Washington paused with his remaining 3,000 men quartered about the city while the Hessians under Cornwallis stopped on the east bank of the Hackensack river.

The federal agents arrested Moe Katzman, former amusement park operator, and his bartender, Samuel Brown, on charges of selling liquor. They were released on bond.

Obstacles Rise to Slow Action on Jobless Aid

Chiefs Expect a Compromise in Spite of the Quarrel Between Two Houses.

Washington.—Despite the outbreak of a threatening dispute between house and senate over unemployment relief legislation, congress pushed ahead toward adjournment with promise of consideration for farm aid and Philippine independence bills. A cool reception was accorded in the house to the 200 million dollar democratic relief bill approved by the senate and there were threats of blocking action on it until the senate considers the $2,300,000,000 Garner measure. Leaders were confident, however, of a compromise agreement on unemployment legislation and laid their plans for an adjournment at the end of next week, if possible.

Meanwhile, the house debated the administration sponsored proposal for creation of a system of home loan banks. It adjourned without reaching a vote. Progress was made in both houses on the all important government supply bills which must be enacted before adjournment and the controversial national economy measure.

The senate passed the District of Columbia appropriation bill and made the McNary farm relief bill the unfinished business, giving it preferred legislative status. It also agreed to consider Philippine independence legislation Monday night, the leaders expressed doubt a vote could be reached in the three and a half hours allowed for debate.

A dispute over relief broke out when the 300 million dollar bill passed by the senate for loans to states reached the house. Even before it was presented, leaders on that side of the capitol displayed some ire that the senate had ignored the Garner bill which the house had previously approved. Democratic Leader Rainey, expressing fear there would be no "real relief legislation," said "when congress adjourns we will have enacted nothing but doles."

Rainey attacked the democratic leadership of the senate, saying Senator Robinson, the minority leader "is following the republican leader (Senator Watson of Indiana), and he, of course, is following the president."

"The Wagner bill (the senate measure) is just another good campaign fund for the president," Rainey said to newspapermen. "So far we haven't passed anything that would get at the basic difficulties of the depression and provide employment. We have passed a dole for farmers, a dole for railroads, a dole for farmers, and now the senate approves a dole for states."

Representative Snell, republican house leader, said the senate bill "should pass as quickly as possible." He predicted there would be few votes against, if Speaker Garner would let the measure come up. Garner was sick at his hotel, and it was not known what action he would take.

Leaders of the non-partisan group in the house met and agreed to make every effort to block action on the senate bill and "stop the adjournment of congress until some comprehensive relief bill is passed."

During the day both houses approved the $70,000,000 legislative appropriation bill and the house appointed new conferees on the economy measure which is incorporated in it. The house also accepted a partial conference report on the 175 million dollar agricultural appropriation bill.—State Journal.

ROOSEVELT STOPS A RUMOR

Albany.—Governor Roosevelt sought to discourage reports from Chicago that he would make a dramatic appearance in the thick of the democratic convention there late this month. "I'm not going to make any statement in answer to the dozens of unfounded rumors that will appear in the next few weeks," he declared. It was known here, however, that the suite of hotel rooms reserved at Chicago two months ago for the New Yorker were being retained in the event some unforeseen crisis developed in the fight of Roosevelt backers to nominate him for the presidency.
