Odd Fellows Enjoy an Inter-City Meeting

Pacific Junction Degree Team Here for Initiation Work—Visitors From Many Points.

From Wednesday's Daily
The Plattsmouth lodge of the I. O. O. F. were hosts last evening to a large group of visitors from Pacific Junction, Ia., Louisville and Greenwood to enjoy a fraternal gathering.

The degree team of the Pacific Junction lodge was present and conferred the ritualistic work on a class of candidates of the order, the officers conferring the work in a most impressive manner.

During the evening the members of the fraternal group had the pleasure of several inspiring addresses along the lines of fraternal work. Postmaster Moore of Pacific Junction, who has been a member of the order for the past fifty-eight years was one of the speakers of the evening and told of many of the incidents of his long work in the order. Fred W. Ethredge, Greenwood, one of the active members of the order also spoke, as did Past District Grand Master W. E. Newkirk of Greenwood, who gave an inspiring talk on the principles of the great fraternal organization. The members of the party also had the pleasure of hearing from John H. Busche, of Louisville, a former Plattsmouth resident and long a member of the I. O. O. F.

The meeting was presided over by Alex Schiesske, newly installed noble grand of the Plattsmouth lodge.

Following the lodge session the members adjourned to the banquet room of the building where the Rebekahs had prepared and served a fine repast that aided in the making of a very happy and interesting evening.

MRS. M. S. BRIGGS GETS THRILL

Sure there are thrills in everyday life and some times they do not have to be looked for, and such was the experience on Monday of Mrs. M. S. Briggs when she assayed to go down the outside cellar stair, the disc stringer which was somewhat decayed gave way precipitating her to the bottom of the flight somewhat shaken up and bruised but not otherwise injured. Gathering herself together she looked ruefully at the wreck of the stairway and thought, "how will I get out." She called her dog "Tatters" and told him to call Mrs. Ramsel, the next door neighbor. The dog went and barked at the front door of Mrs. Ramsel's house who noticed him but thought he was only barking. Then Mrs. Briggs said go tell Mrs. Ellington and the dog went and barked and Mrs. Ellington and daughter Bertha said wonder what ails Tatters, but did not think any more about the matter. Mrs. Briggs then crawled on a portion of the stairway and called to some kiddies playing in the tourist park.

They came and called Mr. Fred Kunzmann who got Mrs. Ramsel and helped Mrs. Briggs out. A new stairway will now replace the old one. Mrs. Briggs is very thankful for the fortunate ending of the experience but does not want any more of the kind.

WIN A CLOSE GAME

The Valley Oilers of this city won a close and hard fought game from the Junior Four Mile Creek team Sunday. The local boys took the battle by the score of 16 to 15. "Dusty" Rhodes, well known youthful hurler was on the mound for the Oilers while Eugene Meisinger whiffed the ball over for the Creelers. The game was marked by heavy hitting by both teams and the Oilers in particular were able to hit at opportune times. Taylor and Vanlandingham scored home runs while two sackers were annexed by Kalina, Rhodes, Seitz, and Clark. The game was a real battle to the last and the smashing two sacker of Clifton Clark in the ninth inning was responsible for bringing over the run that spelled victory.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Fritz A. Fricke of this city was operated on Monday at the Methodist hospital at Omaha. Mr. Fricke has been suffering from an infection of the kidneys and bladder for some time and in order to give any permanent relief, it was decided that an operation would be necessary. Mr. Fricke came through the operation nicely and it is hoped may soon be well on the way to recovery and to again regain his former good health.

Has Grain Inspected for Cass Co. Certification

Several of Farmers Have Fields of Oats and Barley Inspected for Certification.

E. G. Steckley, Carl Day and Paul Gerard, all of Weeping Water, have had their oat and barley fields inspected for certification. Byron Sharp, field inspector for the Nebraska Crop Growers Association, reports the fields in very good shape. These fields were Nebraska 21 oats and Comfort barley.

In order to pass the certification test the seed must come from a field that was certified last year, and have less than one per cent smut, less than 100 plants per acre of other grain, and less than one-twentieth per cent of other varieties of the same grain. It must be entirely free of any noxious weeds and less than ten other weed seed in a pound of grain. The field must have been in a crop other than small grain the year before, and grow a reasonable distance from other varieties of the same grain.

A representative threshed sample of the grain is sent to the state seed analyst to see that it comes up to standard for purity and germination. All of the seed that is sold will have a tag on the sack showing the per cent and kind of weed seed if any and also the germination.

If you buy certified seed you can be assured that it is as pure as can be grown, and will grow.

LEAVING FOR EUROPE

From Tuesday's Daily
Julius Hillecker, one of the well known farmers of this section of Cass county, is leaving Wednesday on a trip to Europe and to enjoy a reunion there with members of his family. Mr. Hillecker has resided in this community for a great many years and has several times planned to visit the old world and the once familiar scenes of his childhood and which he is now to realize. He has sisters and a brother residing in the old country and who he has not seen for many years. He is leaving Omaha Wednesday evening for New York and from which port he is sailing. He is anticipating a pleasant trip and which will cover a two months period.

Paul Ackerman Drowns in Pit Near Pasadena

Son of Former Well Known Family of Plattsmouth Meets Death While Swimming.

Old friends of the George Ackerman family in this city, have received word of the death of Paul Ackerman, 15, who was drowned while swimming in a gravel pit at Pasadena, California. The boy with some twelve companions were swimming in the water filled gravel pit. With his chum, Robert Equi, young Ackerman had started to swim across the pit which was some fifty feet wide and 150 feet long. The boys were both poor swimmers and it is the opinion of the chum that Ackerman became tired and was unable to make the distance. The companion of Ackerman had just reached the bank of the pit and gotten out when he heard Ackerman call, thinking he was joking he suddenly was horror stricken to see Ackerman sink. Equi, who was unable to dive could not go to the rescue. Edward Ducey, one of the owners of the company on whose grounds the pit was located, dived seven times before he could secure the body. The efforts of Mr. Ducey and the use of an inhaler was unable to revive the drowned boy.

The dead boy is survived by the parents, one sister, Rita, and three brothers, Ted, Don and Richard. He was a tenth grade student at the Washington Junior high school of Pasadena.

The Ackerman family resided in this city for a number of years in the late eighties and the early nineties and the parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ackerman removed from this city to Lincoln some thirty-five years ago. The boy was a nephew of W. F. Ackerman, superintendent of the Burlington shops at Havelock.

KNEW STRANGE CHARACTER

A picture appearing in the Believe It or Not, section of the metropolitan papers, prepared by Ripley, brought the recollection of a strange character to a Plattsmouth lady. The picture by Ripley told of Mrs. Mary Eckert, of Falladaburg, Pennsylvania, who for thirty-two years carried a nickel clasped in her hand. Mrs. Eckert was known by Mrs. W. E. Rosencrans of this city, who as a girl resided near the Eckert farm and often had seen the strange character. When a girl of seven and eight years, Mrs. Rosencrans had visited the farm often and conversed with Mrs. Eckert, who was a sturdy character and worked in the fields along with the men of the family. She would frequently come and sit on the rail fence surrounding the farm and converse with Mrs. Rosencrans and who recalls that she always carried a small rag in her hand, altho at that time Mrs. Rosencrans did not know of the eccentric habit of Mrs. Eckert in carrying the nickel with her. Some thirty-two years ago Mrs. Rosencrans was back in Pennsylvania and then saw the aged woman for a few moments. This is a true story as to the aged woman as the Plattsmouth lady can vouch for its authenticity.

SPEAKS ON SAFETY FIRST

Ed F. Burke, head of the safety first department of the Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph Co., and active in the Boy Scout work of the Lincoln area, was a guest of the local Rotary club Tuesday.

To enjoy the fine talk the Boy Scouts of the city were also invited to join the Rotarians after the luncheon and eighteen responded to the invitation.

Mr. Burke cited some interesting and startling figures as to the number of accidents that occur yearly in the United States, the auto accidents leading the various classes and whose toll is greater each year than the losses of the United States troops in the world war. The second largest class is that of home accidents, where the carelessness and thoughtlessness of the people cause them a great many painful injuries. Mr. Burke also cited several preventive moves that would lessen the number of accidents and especially in the handling of autos and trucks. The talk was very interesting and followed closely by the members of the club.

In the absence of President Heine-man, who is at Columbus for the Rotary conference, the meeting was presided over by Judge A. H. Duxbury, the vice-president of the club.

FUNERAL OF MISS MORTENSEN

The funeral of Miss Gertrude Mortensen, teacher in the Plattsmouth public schools for the past several weeks and which had grown much worse in the last week. She had talked of making several trips and left home last week, returning from Kansas City, Thursday, she explaining that she had started for Texas but on reaching Kansas City, had decided to return home. A few hours later she had set fire to herself while suffering from the nervous breakdown and after the rash act had attempted to put out the flames but without success and when discovered by the family was fatally burned.

A short service was held at the Mortensen home, conducted by Rev. O. G. Wichmann, of this city, whose church had been attended by Miss Mortensen while she was residing here.

Services were also held at the Baptist church at Herman, Rev. Peterson, a student minister, of the Evangelical church conducting the service. At this service Rev. Wichmann read a short sketch of Miss Mortensen's life and the feeling of sorrow that her passing had occasioned to the residents of Plattsmouth, who had known her so well and held her in such high esteem. He also read a tribute from the board of education of this city, to the faithful member of their teaching force.

The death of Miss Mortensen had come after a gradual breakdown that had affected her for the past several weeks and which had grown much worse in the last week. She had talked of making several trips and left home last week, returning from Kansas City, Thursday, she explaining that she had started for Texas but on reaching Kansas City, had decided to return home. A few hours later she had set fire to herself while suffering from the nervous breakdown and after the rash act had attempted to put out the flames but without success and when discovered by the family was fatally burned.

Our 1st Anniversary

Next Saturday, July 16th, rounds out our first year in Plattsmouth and we are proud of the results. Even with the low prices and the depression, we paid out for cream $29,879.28, and for eggs and poultry, $26,741.37. We have developed a strong market for Casco Butter, selling all we can make, and with a demand for more, as fast as our cream volume permits. We thank our many friends for making this possible. . . . Our patronage is increasing steadily and, while we realize it is impossible to please everyone all the time, we are doing our best now and always to satisfy our farmer friends and make them better profits. . . . Again we thank you, and trust we may be able to serve you and your friends through the next year! We will pay the following Cash prices—

Thursday - Friday - Saturday
