ENJOY VISITS

Mr. and Mrs. Christ Bell have been enjoying many visitors. Some three weeks ago two of their granddaughters, Mrs. George Weiss and Mrs. Levi Nedrow and families of Imperial, Nebraska, spent some two weeks with them as well as visiting other friends and relatives.

Last week Mrs. Bell's grand-niece Mrs. Clara Schodtfeldt and daughter, Dorothy, stopped for the week on their return from a vacation in the Rockies. Their home is at Dewitt, Iowa. And again on Tuesday evening, a nephew and son of Chicago, Ill., stopped for a short visit at their home.

RETURN FROM ILLINOIS

Mrs. J. G. Lohnes and daughter, Mrs. Ralph Hill and son, Kenneth, who have been at Oak Park, Illinois, have returned home. They were called to Oak Park by the illness of a brother of Mrs. Lohnes, Louis Frederick, remaining there until the brother showed some marked improvement. They also visited in Chicago and inspected the work on the world's fair buildings which are now nearing readiness for the big exposition to be held next year. Before returning home they also spent a short time visiting with other relatives in Illinois.

Dr. Byron Arries, Former Resident, Gets Purple Heart

American Military Medical Originated by George Washington, Presented to Arries.

Dr. Byron Arries, dentist, located at 1604 Medical Arts building, Omaha, has been awarded the military medal of the Purple Heart. The former Plattsmouth young man has the added distinction of palms to indicate that it is a double award of the honor.

When the world war was entered by the United States in April, 1917, the three Arries boys, Major, Don and Byron, were still engaged in their school work in this city. They however, laid aside all other consideration to enter the services of their country and all three enlisted in the marines. Byron Arries was a member of the Eightieth company of the Sixth regiment which was attached to the second regular army division. This company was in some of the heaviest fighting of the July, 1918, offensive of the Germans and was engaged for several days as the Americans were turning back the Germans at the battles at the Marne at Chateau Thierry. Byron was wounded in this offensive and for several months was in the hospital suffering from the effects of machine gun wounds. He later was released and sent to join his company and in the Argonne offensive he again was wounded just two days before the signing of the armistice.

SEND UNFORTUNATES BACK

They arrived in this city Thursday an unfortunate family by the name of Crowner—they being brought here from Otoe county regardless of their wishes and it was proposed that they should be forced on Cass county as wards.

The family consisted of the husband, wife and seven children, who had been making their home at Syracuse since the early spring. They were in most pitiful condition and with the need of relief for they were loaded into a truck with their few household effects, poultry and even two cats. When the family was loaded up at Syracuse the driver of the truck was instructed to go to the court house and see what arrangements had been fixed for the care of the family.

When the caravan arrived here the members of the county board were all at the court house to look after some matters and at once the three commissioners gathered in a huddle and decided that the family would be returned to Otoe county and at once.

The Otoe county officials are of the opinion that the family, who formerly lived at Union and received aid there, should be cared for by Cass county, while our county board figures that the present legal residence is at Syracuse and that their feeding and care should be looked after by the Otoe commissioners—anyway the family are back in Otoe.

Nebraska Dry Chief to Serve a Jail Term

Court Issues Order in Contempt Case in Delaware—Sentenced to Indefinite Term.

Harold D. "Two-Gun" Wilson, deputy prohibition administrator for the Nebraska district, must go to jail.

According to an Associated Press dispatch from Wilmington, Del., the circuit court of appeals issued a mandate Wednesday ordering the sentence for contempt of court pronounced by Federal Judge John P. Nields put into effect.

Judge Nields had sentenced Wilson to an indefinite stay in jail when he refused to reveal the name of the person giving him a key to the headquarters of the Democratic League of Delaware, which he raided.

Wilson was released on bail pending appeal, and in the meantime was transferred to Omaha to take charge of the Nebraska district.

He is now in Wilmington, according to Charles Davis, who is in acting charge of the office here.—World-Herald.

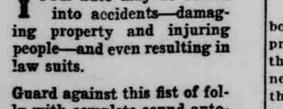

HAVE FINE SUPPER

From Thursday's Daily

The fried chicken supper given by the Social Workers of the Christian church last evening at the vacant room in the Masonic building, was enjoyed by a very large number. There was a fine array of the chicken as well as other trimmings that made the feast one of the greatest enjoyed to all who attended. The proceeds of the supper go to the maintenance of the church and its activities.

MANY ENJOY BRIDGE GAME

The attractive Gering home on North 6th street was the scene of a pleasant benefit bridge, given by one of the groups of the St. Mary's guild. There were fourteen tables of bridge and in the contests Mrs. C. E. Hartford was winner of the first honors and Mrs. J. A. Donelan, second. During the afternoon dainty and delicious refreshments were served.

Weeping Water Has Visitation of Robbers Last Nite

Garage and Service Station Entered and Small Amount of Cash was Secured.

From Friday's Daily

Persons unknown pried open windows at the Cole Motor Co. garage and the Amick Service station Wednesday night or early Thursday morning.

John Cole, owner of the Cole Motor Co., says the thieves took in the neighborhood of $34.00 from the till in cash and paper bills. This was the first time for a long period that Mr. Cole had failed to put the change in the safe for the night. However, he neglected to do this earlier in the evening, expecting to return to the garage and care for some other matters before going on home.

Mr. Amick says that his money drawer was torn open and the contents strewn around on the floor, but no money was taken. There was a few dollars in change in the till, but this was seemingly overlooked by the person or persons doing the job.

Sheriff Ed W. Thimman was called to Weeping Water Thursday but no visible clues had been left by the culprits.

This makes a total of five jobs that has been pulled in Weeping Water in less than a month, the first being the Atlantic-Pacific and Gulf Oil Co's station.

PERPLEXING PRESIDENTIAL PROBLEMS

I was bred in old Missouri, where the luscious pawpaws grow, and came here to Nebraska fifty years or more ago.

Where money grew on a cottonwood, and all you had to do, summer through the tree, shake down the "dough," and gather up a few.

I guess the "guy" that told me this was "kinda spoofin'" me. For I hunted and searched for many a day, and never found that tree.

Nor the buffalo cow that gave the milk that nourished poor old Lo. Till he became the terror of the great plains and plateau.

But I sure met up with rattlesnakes, and prairie dogs and owls, and heard his yelps and howls; Grasshoppers then took hold of things and drove us from our home; And cyclones, wind, and summer drought just gave us kingdom come.

Then bootleggers and big gun men began to show their stride, and picking up competitors would "take 'em for a ride." But all of this is but a dream that haunts me night and day.

When I listen in while radio sings spellbinders' little lay.

Two presidential candidates, as maybe you remember, are up to us electors to cast votes for in November.

If you see OUIK man, one coterie croaks, as he yodels his siren song, You'll ever chortle, full of pride—that other chap's all wrong.

Now with sorrow surging through us, spurred with grief that none can tell Which ever one I vote for, Why, the country's gone to—well? Administrations come and go—the country wags along, And everything, it seems to me, moves onward like a song.

Great situations may arise, conditions must be met, And some how they adjust themselves—have never failed us yet. But if we to the bow-wows everlastingly should go, I'll hike back to Missouri—where the pawpaws grow.

I'll find a little cabin on the bank of some clear stream Where I'll hunt, and fish, and tranquilly enjoy a quiet dream, With never a thought of taxes, nor of rents that bother here, I'll eat my 'possum, feed my dogs, and drink my 'simmon beer.
