Graveling of streets within the village of Greenwood and adjacent territory includes the street leading to the Christian church and the Louisville-Plattsmouth road as far east as the cemetery. Both the Greenwood churches and the cemetery are now on gravel, which will prove a great convenience, especially in the holding of funerals. Modern day transportation needs call for hard surfaced roads and without them there is much inconvenience.

Good Interest Shown in Revival

The revival meetings which have been in progress at the Christian church, are very well attended and there is much interest being manifested in the meetings. The preaching, music and singing are all provided by the local church pastor and members, and much enthusiasm is being aroused. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come and enjoy the meetings and lend a helping hand in the furtherance of this work.

Cannon in Demand

The local American Legion post, as most everybody knows, has secured a cannon from the government, which they have mounted on a wheel carriage, so it may be drawn in a parade. Now, this cannon made a great hit in the state Legion convention parade at Norfolk and as we visited Greenwood this week, we found the fair board conferring with the Legionnaires regarding the matter of putting the cannon in the parade at the county fair next week, accompanied by a large delegation of Cass county Legionnaires. The cannon has been painted in modernistic manner, utilizing the camouflage plan existent during the world war and brings recollections to many veterans of the time back in 1917-18, when the most innocent looking places concealed the deadly weapons of destruction.

King's Daughters Entertained

The King's Daughters class was pleasantly entertained on Friday afternoon, Sept. 2nd by Mrs. L. C. Marvin at her home. There was a large crowd present.

The usual business meeting was conducted by the president and it was decided to hold an auction sale at the next meeting. The remainder of the time was spent visiting and with fancy work. Delicious refreshments, consisting of ice cream, cake and coffee, were served. The next meeting will be held on Sept. 16th, at the church, with Mrs. Charles Martin as hostess.

Injured in Runaway

Last Tuesday, while Paul Buckingham was working with a team of high spirited horses, they ran away with the wagon on which Paul was riding, overturning it and throwing him out with such force that he suffered the fracture of one of the bones of his lower right leg. He was taken to the office of Dr. N. D. Talcott, who reduced the fracture and treated the injury. The following day Paul was in town to have the injury redressed, and is getting along as well as could be expected. He considers himself fortunate in that his injuries were no worse, for with a team of plunging horses hitched to the wagon on which anyone is riding, most anything can happen.

Gave Reception to Teachers

There was given at the Methodist church on last Tuesday evening, a reception in honor of the teachers of last year and the teachers who are in the faculty this year. Included among the guests of honor were former Superintendent H. D. Hughes and wife and Mrs. Alice Clayton, mother of Mrs. Hughes, all of whom now reside in Lincoln.

Greenwood's Bible Schools

Greenwood has two very progressive Bible schools, the Christian and the Methodist, and also the city is represented by a Catholic church organization, but with no Bible school.

The Christian Bible school has an enrollment of about 85 members. The pastor, W. E. Goings, and a full complement of officers and teachers are responsible for the interest and attendance which continues to grow.

The King's Daughters is an adult class of thirty members, all hard workers and hustlers for the good of the church and Bible school. Their teacher is Mrs. W. A. Armstrong. The Young Peoples class consists of 20 young people, who are taught by Walter Goings, superintendent of the entire school. The Junior Girls, of whom there are fifteen, are taught by Margaret Jeffries. The Dorcas society, which has a membership of some 25, has as its president Mrs. June Kyles, who is a very active leader and greatly devoted worker. The Christian Endeavor, with Virginia Newkirk as its president, has 38 members. The Boy Scouts class numbers 14 and is taught by Lloyd Jeffreys.

M. E. BIBLE SCHOOL

The Methodist Bible school has enrolled some 200 members and an average attendance of around 100. Their superintendent is Watson Howard, a conscientious and indefatigable worker. Their secretary is Phillip Buskirk. The Men's Bible class contains 20 members and is taught by J. C. Harned. The Young Women's class, which is a large one, is taught by Miss Maggie Greer. The Young Men's class which numbers 30, is taught by E. A. Leesley. The High school class, with 8 members, is taught by Mrs. O. F. Peters. The Intermediates, with 15 members, The Ladies Aid society has a membership of 35 and is very active throughout the year. The Missionary society also has a good membership and is very active. This society recently contributed $50 to assist in keeping Mrs. Bragg, of Elmwood, a missionary, on the job in a foreign field and has done much to keep the church work moving both at home and in remote parts of the earth.

Four Men Decide Fate of Walker as a Candidate

Leading Tammany Light Expected to Soon Say if Former Mayor Shall Run.

New York.—A possibility that the political fate of James J. Walker will be decided within the next twenty-four hours was seen Thursday as four of the five democratic city organization leaders headed for Albany together. The power of deciding whether Walker, who resigned as mayor last week, will be the organization candidate at the next election is in their hands. The question is one of the most pressing the leaders face, and is the object of national political interest.

John F. Curry, Tammany leader, has indicated there will be no formal announcement of the decision for about a month. The issue may be threshed out, as they journey northward, and after they get to Albany. The state committee meeting they are going to attend has been called merely to set a time and place for the state convention, but the tangled New York political situation may come up for discussion in private conferences.

John H. McCooey, Brooklyn leader, who is one of the four traveling together, visited national headquarters for the first time. It was announced he had agreed to participate actively in the national campaign.

The other two, John Theofel, Queens leader, like Curry held no conferences with the Roosevelt-Garner forces. Meanwhile Joseph V. McKee, who succeeded Walker as mayor, and who is not a Tammany member like his predecessor, continued to attack the city's financial problems and to ignore politics.

The Sun said the drastic economy measures he had instituted in his few days as mayor "have become a matter of grave concern to Tammany hall." The Sun said the purpose of the meeting was Curry's desire to "learn how far the new mayor could go" with his salary slashing program.

The World-Telegram reported, after a meeting of Bronx democratic leaders, that it learned on good authority a decision had been reached "to make a determined fight to keep McKee in the mayor's chair."

Al Smith has said nothing about the mayoralty situation, and has issued no statement on the presidential race since one pledging his support to the party, after his return from Chicago.—State Journal.

STEPS BEFORE LOCOMOTIVE

Grand Island.—Mrs. W. B. Manifold, wife of the Rupert, Ida., sheriff, is being held by local authorities pending arrival of her husband. Suffering from a mental disorder, she stepped from a Union Pacific train here Monday afternoon, and a moment later deliberately stepped into the path of the approaching switch engine. She was pulled off the track just in time to avoid being struck.

Mrs. Manifold appears to be suffering from a delusion that she is being sought for an ax murder, officials said, and named as the crime one which occurred in Iowa about fifteen years ago and which was cleared up.

Until Tuesday noon she refused to take any food, alleging that all food offered her was poisoned. Her delusion is so positive at times she even names the persons whom she believes are looking for her.

EXPECT SMITH TO TALK

New York.—The Herald Tribune says a statement from Alfred E. Smith supplementing his previous announcement of support for the democratic ticket in November is expected soon by supporters of Governor Roosevelt. The former governor and 1928 presidential nominee is understood to have held a conference with a group of persons whose names were not disclosed, at which national, state and city politics were discussed.

RETURNS FROM EUROPE

Miss Hazel Dovey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Dovey of this city, has just returned home from a visit of several months in Europe. She sailed immediately after a short time spent here with the home folks and since that time has been busy in seeing the many interesting points of the European nations.

Miss Dovey accompanied an excursion party to school people, she being a teacher in the Canton, (Ohio) schools, the group being taken on a directed tour through the most interesting places and locations in the old world. A tour of the Scottish highlands and the English cathedral country, a trip through France and Switzerland, was a part of the trip. Miss Dovey found Switzerland very beautiful at this season of the year and from the land of the Alps she journeyed to Rome where the party was received by the Pope of Rome. In Spain Miss Dovey had the opportunity of witnessing a bull fight, the nation's favorite outdoor sport. She landed at New York on Monday afternoon and is now ready to resume her teaching work at Canton.

Fred W. Nolting of this city has received the announcement of the death of his sister, Mrs. Henry Jasper, at Filer, Idaho. The death of the sister leaves Mr. Nolting the last of his family of seven brothers and sisters. The death occurred on last Saturday.

Mrs. Jasper was seventy years of age and had been a sufferer for some time from heart attacks, but passed away quite suddenly from one of the attacks. She and her husband have made their home of late with their son, Julius Jasper and family, their health not permitting their continuing housekeeping.

The deceased lady was formerly Miss Anna Nolting and she and Mr. Jasper were married in this city many years ago and made their home near here until moving to Idaho where they engaged in farming. On her recent visit to the west Miss Grace Nolting was a visitor with the aunt and uncle at Filer.

W. F. M. S. HOLDS SEPTEMBER MEETING

From Thursday's Daily Mrs. Charles O. Troy entertained the members of the Womans Foreign Missionary society yesterday at the last meeting of the year.

Mrs. Frank Barkus was the devotional leader. She took her text from II John 9, and brought the thought that we are especially responsible for some definite work for our Lord, if we claim to be Christians.

The lesson led to a discussion of plans for 1932-33, and an article pertaining to this was given from "The Missionary Friend" by Miss Margaret Mapes.

Plans were discussed for the rally meeting in October when the new year will start.

Mrs. Robert Hayes gave as a solo number one of the favorite hymns of the members.

Something doing in Plattsmouth this fall. Watch for announcement. You'll be surprised at what the old town can do.

Glenwood, Ia., Sept. 8.—Fred Cozad suddenly changed his plea today after going to trial for the slaying of his son-in-law, Gale Vanderhule, and was sentenced to 12 years in the Iowa penitentiary at Fort Madison.

Cozad was indicted for first degree murder. He had pleaded not guilty to that charge.

A jury was selected today, and the trial was ready to begin, when counsel said that Cozad would plead guilty to a charge of second-degree murder.

Cozad made no statement in court. His counsel were Genung and Genung of Glenwood. Whitney Gilliland, county attorney, was prosecuting the case.

The slaying occurred at the edge of a carnival crowd in Malvern, east of here. Vanderhule and Cozad's daughter, Mildred, 18, an expectant mother, had separated. Cozad sought a reconciliation, but Vanderhule refused to return to his wife.

After a quarrel, Cozad suddenly began shooting. Then Cozad fled afoot to his home, then beat his way to Omaha, Sioux City, and Grand Island, where he was arrested July 25.

Loan Men Favor Revision in Law on Income Tax

League Directors in Annual Convention Point Out Discrimination in Federal Rule.

French Lick, Ind.—Effort to change existing federal regulations which prevent a home owner from deducting from his taxable income losses sustained in the sale of property used by him as a residence was favored by the board of directors of the United States Building and Loan League. The board met following the league's annual convention here last week.

A resolution adopted points out an apparent discrimination in the federal income tax laws against the man who lives in the house he owns as opposed to the owner of property used for revenue or profit. The latter, it was stated, may deduct losses incurred in selling, whereas the owner-occupant cannot.

The session of the directors was held after installation of Mr. Ward B. Whitlock of Springfield, Ill., as president of the league. Mr. Whitlock has been first vice-president during the past year and has spent 42 years in the building and loan business. Mr. Philip Lieber of Shreveport, La., becomes first vice-president and Mr. I. Friedlander of Houston, Texas, second vice-president.

Chief among the resolutions was one expressing appreciation for President Hoover's contribution to thrift and home-owning as embodied in his advocacy of the Federal Home Loan Bank system.

Judge Fred G. Stickel, Jr., of Newark, N. J., in an address before the final session, said that the ideal home loan bank system would be one compelling home financing institutions to be members. "The compulsory system could not prevail in national legislation," he said.

said, "therefore, the persuasion system had to be resorted to. That too slow to meet the present emergency, hence the entrance of the government into the picture solely to loan sufficient money to the system to get it started to aid in the alleviation of existing emergency conditions."

Mr. Friedlander, reporting a chairman for the advisory committee on state legislation, urged uniformity of building and loan law among the several states, pointing out that 30 state legislatures would meet during the coming year and that all those states which have not brought their laws up to date should consider it a major obligation to amend their statutes to meet present conditions.

WHEAT DISTRIBUTION BY THE RED CROSS

Chapters applying for flour, 3,113; chapters applying for stock feed, 332; families aided by the flour, 3,188, 290; families aided by stock feed, 179,038; barrels of flour requisitioned, 223,921; millers receiving orders, 706; bushels of wheat committed, 35,312,028; to be continue until $5,000,000 bushels of wheat delivered.

Flour shipped has been of uniform quality No. 1-No. 2 grade wheat. The magnitude of this wheat operation may be gained by the following comparisons:

A mill of 250 barrel capacity would have to run 12 hours a day for half a century to turn out the orders the Red Cross handled up July 1, 1932.

The flour (250 bbls. to a freight car) would fill more than 12,000 cars or make a freight train 70 miles long. One by-product of the flour comprised children's dresses, men's shirts, quilts made from flour sacks.

Everything for the student from penny leadpencils to typewriters. The place to get them why, at Bates Book Store, course.

Congrats From a Good Loser

Showing the sportsmanship for which he is justly renowned, Kaye Don (left), British speedboat racer, is shown as he congratulated Gar Wood, (right), American conqueror, after the latter had won the second and final heat in the contest for the Harmsworth Trophy, on Lake St. Clair, Mich. Lower photo shows Don's boat, Miss England III, leading Wood's "Miss America X" on the first lap of the second heat. But as in the first steam, Don's engines failed and Wood coasted to an easy victory.
