BRYAN

The Republican state committee has sent to every boxholder in Nebraska a paper entitled "WHO PAYS." The paper is filled with gross misrepresentations and untrue statements of fact and is sent out for the purpose of deceiving the voters.

The paper says Nebraska is spending more money now to run the state government than ever before.

The fact is there has been a reduction of $2,971,832.92 under Bryan, and there would have been twice as much if he had had a legislature in sympathy with his tax reduction program. The total taxes levied under Bryan in 1931 and 1932 are:

1931	$6,393,935.93
1932	$5,974,772.32

Under Governor Weaver:

1929	$7,879,328.60
1930	$7,461,203.57

The paper put out by the Republican committee says Bryan spent six million dollars more than Weaver in 1931. The above figures refute the charge.

The paper says the cost of operating the state government in 1931 was $28,205,678.17. The truth is the cost of operating the state government, exclusive of road building in 1931, was $6,393,935.93. This is the only money that is raised by a tax on property. The federal government matched the gasoline fund and in addition the government appropriated five million dollars to build highways and aid unemployment in Nebraska. This did not come out of the gas fund and does not have to be repaid.

The paper says there will be a deficit of $2,100,000.00. The state tax commissioner, W. H. Smith, says: "THERE IS NO DEFICIT and sufficient taxes have been levied to meet the appropriations, as all the members of the State Board of Equalization will testify." A majority of the Board is made up of republican state officers, to-wit: Secretary of State, Auditor and Treasurer.

The paper intimates that Governor Bryan uses the state sheriff's car for campaign purposes.

That is a false statement. He does not. He uses his own car. He has used the state car only when he has been on the state's business, attending a road or bridge dedication or when he has represented the state at county fairs.

The paper says the Governor led depositors in failed banks to believe they would get their money.

One of the Governor's first acts when he took office was to order the collection of bank assessments to pay depositors. The banks went into court and enjoined him. The case went to the United States Supreme court, where the state won. The Governor then made another attempt and again the banks went into court. The last case, known as the "Hubbell Bank case," was argued on October 17th, and a decision should be had soon. Bryan has had his hands tied by a republican legislature and a republican attorney general. Help him by giving him a democratic legislature and democratic state officials.

The paper says: "Let's substitute work benches for rocking chairs in the Governor's office."

The rocking chairs and the expensive rugs that the republican candidate for Governor has been charging Governor Bryan with buying, were bought by the capitol commission in 1925 when McMullen was Governor and were in the office during both the McMullen and Weaver administrations.

HELP GOVERNOR BRYAN HELP YOU BY REDUCING STATE TAXES STILL FURTHER.

LEAVES FOR CRETE

From Tuesday's Daily

W. J. Lorenz, who has been here visiting with his brothers, L. W. and E. A. Lorenz and their families, departed this afternoon for Crete where he expects to enjoy a visit with friends. Mr. Lorenz has had a great deal of pleasure in his stay here in meeting the old time friends in this city, altho many that were here during his residence have moved away. Mr. Lorenz is expecting to leave soon for California for the winter season and may have the opportunity of visiting here before he goes to the west.

Your Support on November 8th Will Be Appreciated

Judge James T. Begley Has Most Brilliant Career

Long Service on the Bench Has Won Him Wide Recognition Over the State.

Judge James T. Begley, is a candidate for re-election as Judge of the Second judicial district at the election to be held on November 8, 1932.

Judge Begley was reared on a farm in Sarpy county and is a graduate of the public schools and the state university. He began the practice of law at Papillion and has held many offices of public trust with distinction and honor.

He served as city attorney at Papillion in an able manner, and among other things, he had passed and enforced an ordinance prohibiting the holding of public dances in any building in which a saloon was located. This was the first ordinance of its kind in the state.

He served as county judge for five years and then retired from public life. However, he was soon recalled by a petition of the voters to serve as county attorney in cleaning up the criminal element then infesting the county.

As county attorney he vigorously enforced the law prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquor within two and one-half miles of a Fort, for the first time in its history. He was offered a bribe of $250.00 per month to permit bootlegging, and prosecuted and convicted the offender.

His vigorous and fearless prosecutions and his wise handling of the county's affairs, attracted the attention of Governor Morehead, and in 1913 he was appointed to fill a vacancy on the district bench, a position he has held without opposition for several years.

As district judge he has won a reputation for ability, honesty and impartiality. He has dispensed with red tape and yet maintained the dignity of his office. He was the first judge in this district to permit juries to separate for the night and reconvene for deliberation on the following morning. He has appointed attorneys in rotation and not by political preference. He saves time by personally examining jurors on voir dire examination.

His services have been in demand in other districts and on the Supreme bench. He has sat on the bench in sixteen counties outside his district. He was the first district judge called to sit as a member of the Supreme Court under the recent law. He has frequently sat as a member of the Supreme Court and has written some fifty opinions and has taken part in about two hundred others.

Many new laws have been enacted during his tenure of office and have been interpreted by him. He has taken a leading part in interpreting the Bank Guarantee act, the prohibition law, the workmen's compensation law, and the juvenile law and others.

He has made three important interpretations of the liquor act. Namely, in permitting evidence of smell to be received instead of the liquors themselves; in holding that search warrants could be issued on information and belief; and in holding that a mortgage lien on an automobile was lost when the car was confiscated while being used for illegal transportation of liquor. He was instrumental in securing this amendment to the liquor law.

He has had much experience in interpreting the rights of depositors under the Bank Guarantee Fund act. He has at present several banks in the course of liquidation by receivership under his direction. These are being administered with satisfaction to depositors, creditors and the state department. Within a year a determination of the rights of hundreds of thousands of dollars will be determined and his experience will be a valuable asset to those interested therein.

He disposes of cases quickly and with certainty. He has tried and disposed of as many as three jury cases in one day. By this means he saved many thousands of dollars to litigants and taxpayers in a year.

No private corporation changes its officers because of length of service, but only for superior qualifications. The same rule should apply to public officers. A plea for a change of public officers without claim or merit, is the appeal of the demagogue.

Judge Begley has always taken a prominent part in civic affairs. He served two terms as president of the Chamber of Commerce at Plattsmouth and at present is a member of the board of directors. Largely through his efforts the Masonic Home was retained at Plattsmouth and the new infirmary costing $125,000 was erected.

During the World war he was chairman of the Cass county chapter of the Red Cross and supervised the collection of funds for the relief of the soldiers in the war. He devised a system for the payment of only the quota called for and retained the balance for home work. The result was that at the close of the war, Cass chapter had several thousand dollars in its treasury which has since been used to help the needy veterans and others, and Cass county has since been used to help the needy veterans and others, and Cass county has not been called upon to raise a cent for these purposes.

He also organized and was chairman of the War Relief committee whereby all money was fairly and equitably collected and dispersed for all war relief purposes. He is a member of the American Legion building committee at Plattsmouth.

Judge Begley's record in all public offices has been outstanding. He has always protected the peoples' interests and administered the affairs of his office with fearlessness and expedition. If his past record meets with your approval, he will appreciate your assistance and vote at the polls on November 8, 1932.

ORGANIZE DEMOCRATIC CLUB

The organization of a Roosevelt-Bryan club in Tipton precinct, has just been reported to the county committee. This club was organized through the efforts of the active democrats of that precinct and the assistance of Miss Mia U. Gering, vice-chairman of the county committee.

There are fifty-six now enrolled and numbers being added each day to those who are going to support the ticket of the party at the election on next Tuesday. The officers of the club are:

P. B. Cruise, president; Elmer Adams, vice-president; Mrs. Jessie Lytle, secretary and Ed Carr, treasurer.

The club is preparing to do its part in seeing that the voters are out to register their expression at the coming election.

P. C. STANDER VERY POORLY

The reports from the Methodist hospital at Omaha state that P. C. Stander, prominent business man of Louisville, who has been there for the past week suffering from pneumonia, is very critically ill. Tuesday morning Mr. Stander, who has been very ill suffered a cerebral hemorrhage. The patient has since the attack been unconscious and his condition gives but little hope of his recovery. Mr. Stander is a member of the firm of Stander Brothers, one of the old time business firms of Louisville. The news of the condition of Mr. Stander has brought a great sorrow to the host of friends all over Cass county.

ARMISTICE PROGRAM

Armistice Day will be observed by the students of Plattsmouth high school by a special program under a student council committee of which Miss Virginia Samek is the chairman. H. L. Gayer, a world war veteran, will be the speaker. Another interesting feature of the program will be a demonstration of C. M. T. C. work by the local boys who have attended camp under the direction of Robert Bestor. In the afternoon at 3:30 the final home football game will be played with Tecumseh as the opponent. This week is also American Education week throughout the nation and appropriate recognition of this fact will be given by the public schools.

TEAM TO WAHOO

From Tuesday's Daily

The Plattsmouth high school football team is journeying to Wahoo Wednesday to battle the Hornets on their own grounds. The Platters last year suffered defeat at the hands of the Wahoo team, the first victory of the Hornets in many years. This year the exceptionally strong team of the Platters gives them the hope of reversing the score this year in favor of the locals. The team and Coach Rother are to leave Wednesday just after the noon hour in order to get to Wahoo and have a warming up period before the game. A number of the fans are planning on accompanying the team and assisting them on to victory with their support.

The last home game of the Platters will be on November 11th, Armistice day, when they will meet the strong Tecumseh team on the home grounds. This is one of the big games of the season and a large crowd is looked for at this time.

"A SACRED PUBLIC TRUST"

Aptly Defines the Duties of Your County Judge

When you answer "the summons of death," the disposition of all your property comes under the jurisdiction of the County Judge. It is he you must trust to guard and protect the interest and welfare of your loved ones. You have a personal interest in the election of a County Judge who has had actual legal training and experience in the practice of probate law, who is incorruptible, fearless and yet whose "heart beats in human sympathy," and who will extend every kindness, courtesy and thoughtful consideration to your dependent family when they appear in the County Court to settle your estate, and who will protect their property interests according to law.

Upon this basis, I respectfully and earnestly ask for your vote on November 8th.

A. H. DUXBURY,
County Judge Cass County.
