Rev. W. E. Goings has been assisting at the Hillis cafe during the time Mr. Hillis has been down with pneumonia.

Mrs. Dora Leesley and Mrs. G. W. Lunciford attended a meeting of the R. N. A. lodge at Waverly on last Friday afternoon.

Charlie Wiedeman, who has been making his home at Cambridge for some time, is back in Lincoln, where he will spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Peters visited her sister, Mrs. Lewis and family, of near Verdon, last week, while Glenn was enjoying his vacation.

Jacob Witt was hustling during the cold weather, getting the roads in condition so that when the weather moderates they can be used.

Pearl Sanborn and wife visited in Lincoln last Tuesday, Mr. Sanborn looking after some business matters and his better half visiting friends.

Fred Etheredge and wife were guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Bobbitt, of near Lincoln. Mesdames Etheredge and Bobbitt are cousins.

L. D. Porter was looking after some business matters in Omaha last Wednesday afternoon, making the trip in his car despite the cold weather that prevailed.

John R. Stine, of Plattsmouth, was a visitor in Greenwood last Wednesday, where he was looking after some business matters and meeting a number of his friends.

Miss Vera Anderson, daughter of Arthur Anderson, was a visitor last Thursday at the home of her uncle, A. O. Anderson, of Wahoo, enjoying the visit very much.

Mrs. F. M. Hoenschell, of Wymore, was a visitor in Greenwood with her many friends, on last Saturday and Sunday, and was also visiting friends and relatives in Omaha.

Col. and Mrs. P. L. Hall were in Lincoln Wednesday of last week, Mr. Hall going to look after some business matters and Mrs. Hall visiting with relatives and friends.

Dewey H. Headley was called to Lincoln last Wednesday afternoon to look after some business matters for the Searle-Chapin Lumber company, of whose business in Greenwood he is manager.

Mrs. Ella Marshall and Miss Catherine Coleman, the efficient postmistress, were dinner guests at the home of E. A. Landon last Sunday, enjoying the hospitality and a nice visit for the day.

Mrs. Ray Rouse entertained a week ago Sunday in honor of her husband's birthday, by giving a family dinner. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rouse and family and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Newkirk and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Headley were called to Lincoln a week ago Sunday evening on account of the serious illness of his nephew, Jerry Lee, son of Mrs. Ollie Trumble, who was taken to the Bryan Memorial hospital for treatment.

Mrs. Fred Anderson fell on the concrete sidewalk and injured one of her knees very severely. The injury has been giving her much trouble during the past week, but is showing some improvement at this time and she is now able to walk again.

Miss Elva Coleman and Miss Thelma Leesley gave a miscellaneous shower for Marion Sheffer at the M. E. church a week ago Saturday. Miss Sheffer became a bride last Wednesday, the account of her wedding appearing in this department.

Bert Diemer and wife, with their two daughters, Misses Edith and Ellen, of Fairbury, were guests for the day last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Etheredge. Mrs. Etheredge is the mother of Mr. Diemer. All enjoyed the visit a great deal.

Gust Sorman and the force of workmen have been busy completing the Porter garage, north of Greenwood, and have so far progressed with their work that the building is being used. George Trunkenbolz is in charge of the repair shop and reports business as very good.

W. L. Hillis was stricken with a severe attack of pneumonia on last Sunday, after having been considerably under the weather for a number of days. The family physician was called and while he is still a very sick man, there are signs of improvement in his condition, which will be pleasing news to his friends.

A recent letter from Mrs. P. E. Clymer stated they were enjoying the warm weather in California, but the press dispatches of the past few days tell of zero weather on the coast, so the people out there, instead of escaping from the cold altogether seem to be getting a share of the chilling blasts that have swept over the middle west.

Aid Society Meets

The M. E. Aid society was pleasantly entertained on Tuesday afternoon, December 6th, at the church basement by Mesdames John Grady and Lloyd Grady. The usual business meeting was conducted by the president. It was reported that they had made about $50 at their annual bazaar and supper. The rest of the afternoon was spent socially and visiting. Delicious refreshments were provided by the hostesses. The next meeting will be held on Tuesday of this week.

King's Daughters Elect

The King's Daughters Sunday school class was pleasantly entertained a week ago Friday afternoon by Mrs. C. W. Newkirk, at the church. The business meeting was conducted by the president. New officers for the ensuing year were elected, as follows: Mrs. R. E. Mathews, president; Mrs. E. L. McDonald, vice president and Mrs. E. O. Miller, treasurer. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. The next meeting will be held the first Friday in January.

Birthday Surprise

On last Wednesday a group of the members of the Rebekah lodge went to Waverly, where they surprised Mrs. Harry Hughes in honor of her birthday, which occurred a few days previous. At noon a fine basket dinner was enjoyed by those present. The afternoon was spent visiting and with fancy work. Those going from Greenwood were Mesdames Minnie Mason, Joe Kyles, Dora Leesley, Nannie Coleman, Ollie Sayles, Rosetta Axmaker and Ray McNurlin. Mrs. J. C. Strahn, of Waverly, was also present. All departed at a late hour wishing Mrs. Hughes many more happy birthdays.

New Barber for Greenwood

Last Saturday there was opened in Greenwood a new barber shop, which is to be operated by Glen Beatty, a former resident of Malcolm, where he was engaged in this same line of business for the past four years. He is an experienced tonsorialist of a number of years standing and comes well recommended. He is a pleasing gentleman to meet and we trust will like Greenwood and make it his permanent home. He is occupying the room which was formerly occupied by Fred Anderson.

Excellent Woman Called Home

Miss Frances Mathis was born 47 years ago in the vicinity of Greenwood and lived here during her childhood, attending the schools here. Upon attaining womanhood, she was married to Albert Erickson. They resided here for a time, but later moved to Colorado and have made their home at Kirk. Mrs. Erickson, early in life, united with the Methodist church, and has lived a devoted and consistent Christian life ever since.

Their home was blessed with one son, Everett, now 11 years of age.

During the last few years, Mrs. Erickson has been troubled with a heart affliction and in addition suffered an affection of one of her legs, for which an operation was performed at the Bryan Memorial hospital in Lincoln late in September. Since she was able to leave the hospital, she had been staying at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mathis. For a time the amputated member did not heal readily, but she had been getting along nicely of late and seemed on the road to recovery, the cause of her death, which occurred last week, being heart failure.

The funeral was held from the Methodist church, with interment in the Greenwood cemetery.

The relatives and friends of this good woman have the sympathy of their many friends here.

Have Excellent Ball Team

Greenwood High school has two good basketball teams, the regular first team and an almost equally good second team. Coach Lee Knolle has a knack of getting the best out of his players and has a fine list of first and second string players, who are ready to get into the fray at a moment's notice and do their part to uphold the glory of Greenwood High.

The two teams met like teams from Nehawka last week and won both games by decisive scores. The game between the first teams was a lopsided affair, with Greenwood scoring 48 points to their opponents' 3. The second teams were more evenly pitted, however, and the score was 16 to 7 in favor of the home boys. Go to it, boys—play the game square at all times, and win or lose you will have no regrets.

Pretty Home Wedding

Last Thursday there occurred the wedding of Miss Marian Sheffer and Charles Beighnes, a resident of Wisconsin, who was here during the time the pavement was being laid on highway No. 6 thru Greenwood. The wedding was very quiet, being attended by members of the family and a few close friends. The marriage laws were read by the Rev. W. T. Shepherd, pastor of the Methodist church at Elmwood and a former pastor here. The groom arrived here on Tuesday, from his home in the east, making the trip in his car, and they left at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, expecting to arrive at the new home by Friday.

Mr. Beighnes is well known to a large number of people in Greenwood, as a result of his residence here while the paving work was in progress. The bride he has won is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Sheffer and was born and raised in Greenwood, having the honor and respect of all who know her.

The congratulations and best wishes of their host of friends accompany them to their new home in the east, and in this the Journal is pleased to join.

Eastern Star Election

The Order of Eastern Star held its regular meeting on last Wednesday at the hall, and upon conclusion of the regular order of business took up the election of new officers for the ensuing year. After this they enjoyed a Christmas program and busied themselves with plans of providing Christmas cheer in those homes of the community where the prospect of old Santa stopping on his rounds seemed rather remote. Mrs. W. G. Holt was initiated into the mysteries of the order.

The new officers elected are: Mrs. Myrtle Coleman, W. M.; A. E. Leesley, W. P.; Mrs. Edna Clymer, associate Matron; W. I. Miller, associate Patron; Mrs. Minnie Stradley, secretary; Mrs. Lulu Landon, treasurer; Mrs. W. I. Miller, conductor; Mrs. Ada Mathews, associate conductor.

The new officers will be installed on the regular meeting night in January, if the weather permits.

Greenwood Woman's Club

The Greenwood Woman's club met last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. E. A. Landon. After the regular business meeting, Mrs. O. F. Peters read a paper on "Community Christmas." The rest of the time was spent making plans for the Christmas relief work to be done by the club. Mrs. Wayne Landon and Mrs. Cedric Fulmer were guests.

Mrs. Dewey Headley, as chairman of the Welfare committee, asks that all who have old toys that can be repaired and used again, please bring them to her home or notify her and she will see that they are collected. The club, with the help of other relief organizations of the town, plans to see that the toys are repaired and distributed to the children of the community who would not otherwise receive toys this Christmas.

The benefit card party given recently by the club was fairly well attended and enjoyed by those present. However, the cold weather and prevailing sickness hindered many from taking part who had planned to do so. It is hoped that another such party may strike a more favorable time. The funds from this party and other activities of the club will be used in bringing Christmas cheer to the needy of our community. Mrs. Mathews and her committee wish to thank all who assisted in making the party a success.

Funeral of Mrs. Atkinson

Lillie Atkinson was born at Ponca City, Nebraska, December 15, 1865. When she was 17 years old, she was married to Byron Atkinson, at Greenwood. A little later they moved to Butler county, where they took up a homestead, on which they resided for 46 years, rearing three children, Olive, Minnie and Charles. In 1919, they returned to Greenwood, where they spent the remainder of their lives. Mr. Atkinson preceded his wife in death in 1931. Charles, the son, also preceded his mother in death, passing away last June.

The death of Mrs. Atkinson occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Minnie Marolf. She is also survived by the other daughter, Mrs. Olive Bell, nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Atkinson was a member of the Greenwood M. E. church, having transferred her membership to the church on her return from Butler county.

Funeral services were held at the Greenwood Methodist church on Saturday, December 10th, conducted by the pastor, Rev. G. B. Warren, and interment was made in the Greenwood cemetery.

Schroeder Rites Last Monday

Funeral services for Henry Schroeder, of Lincoln, who died the Friday previous while visiting a daughter, Mrs. Lillie Walradt, at Clay Center, were held at the home there on Monday, followed by a second service at the Greenwood Methodist church in the afternoon, Rev. Wallace officiating. Burial was at Ashland.

The deceased gentleman came to Greenwood in 1889, but moved to Lincoln in 1912. Five sons, E. C. and John H., of Lincoln; Alfred, of Danville, Iowa, and Harry and Harvey, of Greenwood, and three daughters, Mrs. Anna Bolick, Bloomfield, Iowa; Mrs. Walradt, Clay Center, and Mrs. Elsie Nichols, Fairmont, survive.

State Constitution Bars All 'Intoxicants'

Attorney General C. A. Sorenson Rules That Amendment Is Necessary.

Lincoln, Dec. 14.—An opinion that the Nebraska legislature cannot authorize manufacture of intoxicating liquor without an amendment of the state constitution was prepared today by Attorney General C. A. Sorenson.

Answering an inquiry from State Representative Rudolph Tesar of Omaha he said, however, there had been some misconception, however, about the constitution's forbidding "malt, spirituous, vinous or other intoxicating liquors." He said there had been an attempt to interpret this as barring any malt, spirituous or vinous liquors but that he believed the intent of the constitution was to bar only the liquors of those kinds which are intoxicating.

Tesar asked if the Volstead act were changed and beer legalized by congress if the state legislature could change its interpretation of intoxicating liquor to permit beer in Nebraska. The attorney general said the Nebraska courts had consistently held the state constitutional provision barred liquor which drunk in a quantity which a man could consume practically would be intoxicating. Sorenson said it would be a matter of fact for the courts to determine what percentage of alcohol could be permitted in a beverage without violating the constitutional limitation against intoxicants.

The opinion recognized the right of the legislature to submit a constitutional amendment to the people. —World-Herald.

SOLON KEPT FROM CAPITOL

Washington.—Armed with a handful of campaign cards bearing his signature, Otha D. Waarin, the twenty-eight year old representative-elect from Iowa, almost had to storm the capitol to gain admission. Wearing a scarlet tie, a pale tan shirt and a dark brown suit, the gentleman from the tall corn state ran afoul of guards wherever he sought to enter.

Doorkeepers of both houses, unusually cautious because Tuesday a youth held the house membership at the point of a gun, shook their heads vigorously upon his arguments that he was entitled to the floor. Even when he produced his campaign cards, he had to stand by patiently while guards looked up the records. "I served two terms in the Iowa state legislature," he said, "but even out there I've never been suspected so much in one day as I was here."

CLAIMS RIGHT TO ESTATE

Ainsworth, Neb.—County Judge F. R. Galbraith Thursday refused to reopen a case involving the will of Ida May Alton of Long Pine to permit a contest against its being probated.

After he ordered probate of the will which left an estimated $13,360 estate to friends in Norfolk and Long Pine and excluded a nephew, Ralph Alton Crissler supposed to be her only heir, another claimant appeared.

Mrs. Minnie Mitten of Sloan, Ia., alleged that she was a cousin of Miss Alton and the only legal heir and asked that the case be reopened and probate of the will denied on the ground that undue influence had been influenced on Miss Alton.

Attorneys for Mrs. Mitten Thursday indicated after the hearing before Judge Galbraith that they would carry the contest to the district court.

SANTA AND THE SICK

Santa is a big hearted fellow and doesn't want to see any little child disappointed so he has sent word that when he comes next Saturday he will try and visit those who are too sick to come down town to see him. Now this doesn't mean that he will visit all who prefer to stay at home rather than exert themselves to come down town but only cases of actual sickness. Have mother call 150 on phone and give us your name and street number and Santa will do his best to call and bring your gift.

Chautemps Fails, So Paul-Bancour Seeks a Cabinet

Satisfactory Debt Formula Proves a Snag in Negotiations—Wait United States Word.

Paris, Dec. 16.—Joseph Paul-Bancour tonight undertook the task in which Camille Chautemps failed—to give France a government likely to find the best solution to the war debt problem.

Late tonight he accompanied retiring Premier Herriot to Elysee palace, where the latest information on Washington's attitude toward the debts, cabled by Ambassador Caudel, was shown by President Lebrun.

It was said in official circles that the ambassador's cablegram indicated that Washington, to which was submitted the chamber of deputies' resolution against making the December truce negotiations on the subject of 15 debt payment, was willing to con- sider the payment although the due date is passed. So far as was made known, no mention was made of the American attitude toward a general debt conference. An official indication of the American stand is still awaited.

After an hour's talk with Lebrun, Paul-Bancour left for home, announcing that he would talk with his friends, notably Chautemps, in the morning and then give the president his decision. He added that he would only begin the customary calls and consultations if he definitely decided to form a cabinet.

Chautemps, the young radical leader, gave up the task of constructing a cabinet because he could not find a compromise on the debt problem.

Having failed to find this compromise, which would be acceptable to parliament and presumably agreeable to Washington and would assure belated payment to America, Chautemps definitely lost the collaboration of Edouard Herriot, the retiring premier. —World-Herald.
