"Jesus Giving Life and Health"

Mark 5:21-25; 35-43.

The miracles of Jesus are all above comprehension, but faith bows to Him who performs them, and accepts them as the supreme act of Deity. The greatest of Christ's miracles were undoubtedly the raising of the dead. A study of resurrections brings out the fact that there were three before Christ's coming: 1-Kings, 17:21, a widow's son; II Kings 4:35, the son of Shunammite; II Kings 13:35, a man brought to life. There were also three resurrections during Christ's life: Luke 8:11, a widow's son; Mark 5:23, Jarius' daughter; John 11:43, Lazarus. And three resurrections are chronicled in the Scriptures after that of Christ: Math. 27:52; Acts 9:40; Acts 20:9.

Jesus brought to life (a) a child, 12 years old; (b) a young man, the only support of a widowed mother; (c) a full grown man. The first had just died, the second was on the way to be buried, the third had been four days in the grave.

When Jesus was not wanted in Gergesa, he recrossed the Sea of Galilee, back to his city. His fame brought the multitudes to him, but it endangered his life and threatened to cut his activity short, before his work was finished. That was one reason why Jesus did not want people to spread the news of their being healed. His great popularity became his undoing.

Jesus had some happy moments in his ministry. As he is preaching by the seaside, he has a visitor, a father in distress; an only child sick unto death, drive him to Jesus. He knew how Jesus in nearby Nain had restored life to a young man; so he takes a chance and calls upon Jesus. More people call on God in their troubles than when all goes well. He is not ashamed to kneel in prayer, even on the bare ground. He prays out his soul in an agonizing prayer, and he asks not in vain. Jesus does not hesitate, but goes with him. It must have greatly cheered his heart. An interlude follows. The multitudes throng around the Lord. We can have little idea of the crowds that followed Jesus. The Lord had no program for the day; he simply "went about doing good." He was always at the beck and call of human need. Here is a woman in need of help. She was unclean; her touch would defile anyone. So she tries to touch Jesus in the throng, believing that she would not be noticed. She was sick for twelve years, the age of Jarius' daughter; she suffered all those years, while the other home enjoyed a precious child.

This woman had observed and seen how Jesus had cured the many sufferers; her faith grew until it bloomed into action. "If I may touch but his clothes, I shall be whole." And she believed not in vain. Instantly the disease left her. She knew what had happened and so did Jesus. Why did Jesus expose her?

B. F. Wiles of Plattsmouth was looking after some business matters in Murray for a short time on Tuesday of this week and visiting with his friends.

The Lancaster orchestra are putting on a dance in the room just east of the Lancaster store for the coming Saturday night. Better go and have a good time.

Fred W. Woolsey of Nebraska City, was a visitor in Murray last Monday and was securing some materials for the construction of some buildings on his farm south of Union.

Representative George E. Nickles and wife were spending the week end at their home in Murray, driving down from Lincoln where they are making their home during the session of the legislature.

Ira B. Green, the contractor who has been constructing the new home for Mrs. Hanni, was a visitor for over the week end at his home at Randolph, Iowa, returning early Monday to continue his work here.

Phillip Fleming, who makes his home a number of miles west of Murray, was a visitor in Plattsmouth on last Saturday and again on Tuesday was looking after some business matters at Weeping Water.

Mrs. J. A. Scotten, who went to the hospital at Omaha for a clinic and for treatment, is getting along fairly and goes to Omaha for treatment each alternate day, being taken by Mr. Scotten in their car.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett and Mrs. George Latta, all of Lincoln, were here for a few days visiting during the past week and were guests while here at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Will S. Smith and Sam F. Latta as well as visiting with James Latta during their stay.

Will Creamer, Sr., who is employed with Perry Nickles, while baling hay on the farm had the misfortune to be thrown from a load of hay with the effect that he had one of his legs caught and it has not yet been determined whether the member had been fractured or badly sprained.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gansmer are having some extensive decorating and papering done at their home in the country, the same being done by M. G. Churchill, who is an artist in this line of work, he carrying a line of sample books for the latest patterns of wall coverings.

Fred Druecker and family who have been making their home for the past year on the Mrs. Mary Mast place, moved last week to the home of Mrs. Joe Hathaway. The place where they have just vacated will be occupied by Ray Creamer, who has recently moved from the western portion of the state.

Mrs. Hattie Royal came to Murray on last Tuesday morning and has been visiting with her many friends here during the week, remaining until Saturday and enjoying a visit with Mr. W. S. Smith, Mrs. A. A. Young and also assisting with the care of her friend, Mrs. Sadie Oldham.

Lucean Carper and family were spending the day on last Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Gertrude Carper and where they enjoyed the day very pleasantly. However Lucean and Mr. S. E. Lingo of Nehawka went in the afternoon to the Plattsmouth golf links where they enjoyed a game of this fascinating sport.

Last Saturday Earl Mrasek and Paul Richter departed with their big truck for Aldon, Kansas, where they brought the household effects of A. W. Reed and family, they having made their home there for some time past. Mr. and Mrs. Reed will make their home on the Nickles place which they rented during the past fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lancaster entertained at their country home on last Sunday and had as their guests for the occasion a number of their friends, among whom were Dan Horchar and family, Curtis Farris and family. The day was very pleasant, all enjoying a good time which Mr. and Mrs. Lancaster provided for the guests.

Louis Klemme, who has been making his home south of Plattsmouth for some time past, was moving during the past week to the farm which he recently purchased and on which Joe Martis farmed during the past year. Mr. Martis moved to the place where A. T. Hanson formerly resided while Mr. Hanson has moved to the F. W. Moore place.

The Twelve Knights.
A deed a day is a star in your crown.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Raymond Lancaster, and the roll was called by the secretary, Dale Long. The secretary then read the minutes.

We decided that we could answer with the same call someone else uses. The club decided that the contest about keeping our books neat would end March 31, and that the losers would give the party at any suitable time after this date. The ones on the side in the lead now is Thelma Townsend, Raymond Lancaster, Catherine McCulloch and Hazel West. This side is leading by one mark.

The entertainment was: Flora Bell Meade sang a song and we played spin the bottle and gossip. The decoration committee made decorations for St. Patrick's day.—Charles Stastka, news reporter.

surprise to celebrate their 6th wedding anniversary. The evening was spent in card playing and dancing.

A very delightful lunch was served and they all returned home wishing Mr. and Mrs. Hoschar welfare and happiness during the following years.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Ally Leonard and sons, Lorency and Ray, Mr. and Mrs. John Valley and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Geary, Mr. and Mrs. John Stones, Mr. and Mrs. John Blotzer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baker and son, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lancaster, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Tigner, Albert Scudder, Gertrude and Mildred Burton, Earl, Dave, Crystal, Neva, Raymond and Florence Lancaster, Alice Dill, Irene, Nora, Margaret and James Hoschar, Lester Potts, Ray Herald, Herold, Earl, Gerald Puls, Ella, Lyvina Troop and Ray Blunt.

Meeting of The Twelve Knights
"A deed a day is a star in your crown."

The meeting was called to order by the president, Raymond Lancaster, and the roll was called by the secretary, Dale Long. Each member answered with the call of a bird.

We are having a contest to keep our books in neat order as well as our tablets and pencils. There are four different sides. The losing side has to give the other sides a party, or in case of a tie, the two losing sides will give the other two sides a party.

There were two pupils absent this month. Wallace Nelson on February 16th and Flora Bell Meade on February 20th.

The pupils who go all month without missing or being tardy, are excused for a fourth of a day at the end of the month.

We had a Valentine party. We drew names and gave one another valentines. We then played games and had a very nice time. Delores Barker and Maxine Hanni made the valentine box and did a very nice job of it.—Charles Stastka, News Reporter.

OBITUARY

Ner King Peoples, son of Jonathan and Sarah Peoples, was born in Oregon, Missouri, January 29, 1868, and died in Plattsmouth, Nebr., February 25, 1933, at the age of 65 years and 28 days. August 19, 1892 he was united in marriage to Ella Rimmerfeld at the Methodist church of Watson, Missouri, of which they were both members. On November 1st, 1905, the couple moved to Plattsmouth where Mr. Peoples became employed in the C. B. & Q. shops in this city.

Eight children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Peoples, six of whom with his wife preceded him in death.

There remains to mourn his passing a son, Norris Peoples, and a daughter, Anna Peoples, both of this city. Also four brothers and one sister, William A. Peoples of Otoe, Nebraska; Fred R. of Plattsmouth; Joseph C. of Fairfax, Missouri; Mrs. J. C. Baughman of Coshocton, Ohio, and Edward B. Peoples of Otoe, Nebraska.

The body of Ner King Peoples was interred at the High Creek cemetery of Watson, Missouri, Febr. 27, 1933.

GOVERNOR BRYAN BETTER

Governor Bryan was reported by Dr. John C. Thompson to be feeling better than at any time since he first took to his bed, nearly four months ago, with pneumonia which was followed by heart disease.

"I think we will be able to have him up within a few days," said the physician. "Two of his teeth have been removed, the last one about a week ago, and since then there has been a definite improvement."

The governor has wanted to arise for some time, said Doctor Thompson, but has not been permitted to do so. A similar attempt last year resulted in serious relapses. It will be some time before he is permitted to do much.

PAIRINGS FOR TOURNEY

The drawings have been made for the games in the class A tournament of the Southeast Nebraska regional tourney. The tourney will be held on March 9-11 and will include the best of the basketball talent of this part of the state.

Four of the teams were seeded in the tournament, Plattsmouth, Nebraska City, Peru Prep and Falls City. This will place Plattsmouth and Falls City, the favorites for the final honors in different brackets.

The drawings for the first round games are Nebraska City vs. Auburn, Plattsmouth vs. Stella; Peru Prep vs. Humboldt, Sterling vs. Falls City.

Will exchange painting or papering for live stock feed. Ralph Wever, Phone 145-W. f23-4TW

FOUR-MILE CLUB MEETS

The Four-Mile Community club met February 28th at the home of Miss Helen Hunter, with Mrs. Joseph Biertl, assistant hostess.

The meeting was opened by singing "America the Beautiful," followed by reading of minutes of last meeting and discussion of business before the club.

At the close of the business meeting the leaders, Mrs. Nolting and Miss Hunter demonstrated cheddar cheese making which was very interesting.

At the close of the meeting the hostesses served delicious chicken salad, parker house rolls, potato chips and coffee which brought to a close a very pleasant meeting. There were seventeen members and two visitors present.

The next meeting will be held March 28th at the home of Mrs. John Wehrlein.

LENT OPENS

From Wednesday's Daily This morning services were held in the two Catholic, St. Luke's Episcopal and the St. Paul's Evangelical church, marking the opening of the forty day period of Lent.

At the Catholic churches the blessed ashes were distributed to the large congregation which attended the two masses and which will be repeated at the evening services of the rosary and sermon. At the St. Luke's church there was a penitential office and followed by the Holy communion at 10 o'clock.

This period that marks the time of the preparation of Christ for His death and triumph in the resurrection and is observed over the entire Christian world with reverence and the abandoning of many of the worldly things for the spiritual side of life.

MANY ON THE ROADS

From Monday's Daily The unusually fine weather yesterday called forth many of the car owners for short trips and the highway was crowded with cars most of the days. The greater part of them were being operated on 1932 licenses, indicating a desire on the part of auto owners to wait and see what the legislator is going to do in the way of reducing license fees, before they invest in 1933 plates.

First 4-H Club Banquet Successful.
The first county-wide 4-H club banquet, sponsored by the Cass County Farm Bureau, was held at the Philpot Hall in Weeping Water Friday evening, February 24th, proved a very successful event. 250 4-H club members, local leaders and guests were seated at the banquet tables. The program for the evening was presided over by James Wall of Eagle, as toastmaster.

Special awards as follows, were presented by the county agent, D. D. Wainscott, to the following ten outstanding club members:

Malze Foreman, Palmyra—Trip to Washington, D. C. to attend National 4-H club camp as one of four delegates to represent Nebraska.

Warren Peger, Avoca—Hastings college scholarship, which makes it possible for him to attend college one year.

Marjorie Zink, Murdock—County home economics champion, medal presented by Montgomery, Ward & Co.

Both Ann Erickson and Betty Sumner, Nehawka—Trips to Club Week at Lincoln given by Crete Mills for their demonstration at state fair on which they were judged the reserve grand champion demonstration team in home economics.

Merle Eveland, Elmwood—Club Week trip given by Bell Bros. Mfg. Co. to high ranking county canning club champion.

Willis Cole, Mynard—Club Week trip given by Crete Mills to outstanding swine club member.

Robert Pollard, Nehawka—Club Week trip given by Omaha Union Stockyards Co. to high ranking swine club member.

Warren Peger, Avoca—Club Week trip given by Omaha Union Stockyards Co. to county corn club champion.

Milford Smith—Club Week trip given by Cudahy Packing Co. to outstanding sheep club member.

Included in the speakers list were W. H. Brokaw, director of extension service; F. S. Rickard, secretary of the Omaha Livestock Exchange, who presented framed Master Feeders Certificates to 18 4-H club members in a unique address; Fred Carsten, president of the Cass county fair; George Jackson, ex-secretary of the Nebraska state fair; Senator W. B. Banning and Representative Geo. E. Nickles; Paul Gerard, secretary of the Farm Bureau board and Mrs. C. R. Eveland of Elmwood.

Community singing and special vocal and orchestral selections were interspersed with the speaking. A special feature of the evening's entertainment was the presentation of Max Plink, "The Boy with a Thousand Voices," who delighted the assembly with his impersonations of such popular radio characters as Amos 'n' Andy, Ed Wynn, Henry Field, Seth Parker, etc.

The 4-Hers present voted unanimously to hold another such banquet next year.

Honey Producers Organize.

A meeting of eighteen bee keepers in eastern Cass county, held at the Roy Cole farm last week, resulted in the organization of the "Eastern Cass County Honey Producers Association." The group elected Chas. Warga president; John J. Stone, vice president, and Arthur Troop secretary-treasurer.

The purpose of the organization is to have demonstration meetings throughout the year on better ways of managing their apiaries, to increase interest in the uses and ways of using honey, to put on exhibits at fairs and festivals, and to standardize the price of the product.

Four demonstrations will be held on Mr. Troop's farm throughout the year. O. S. Bare, bee specialist from the college will conduct the work at the demonstrations. The first meeting will be held in the latter part of April. All honey producers in the county are invited to join the organization and attend the meetings.

4-H Fix-It Club of Eagle Organizes

The first 4-H Fix-It club in the county was organized at Eagle last week. Twenty members are enrolled in the club. All of them are of the ages from 17 to 21 years. A big majority of the members are leaders of other 4-H clubs and this organization will help strengthen the club work in that community. This club is not only a standard club but will serve as an organized leaders group to help one another as club leaders.

Poison Gophers.

At the first signs of a gopher working, is the time to poison him. They have been without green food for a long time and will soon begin to eat the green fresh roots of alfalfa and other plants.

They will take poisoned bait much more readily when they first begin their spring work than later on. One of the best poisons to use is strychnine, alkaloid (powdered), sodium bicarbonate and saccharin. The poison is available at the Farm Bureau office and demonstrations will be held upon request.

Junior Housewives Organize.

One of the first 4-H clubs to organize for the 1933 year is the Junior Housewives, a club of girls in the Eagle community of the ages of ten to twelve years, who completed the Learning to Cook project last year and are now ready to begin the first year cooking project. Mrs. R. M. Kildee, is leader of the club which boasts an enrollment of thirteen.

The major projects for this year in home economics clubs are, Girls Room I and Cooking II. Girls of the ages from ten to twelve are urged to take either the Learning to Cook or Learning to Sew project.

If you are interested in organizing a 4-H club write to the Farm Bureau office at Weeping Water.

RETURNS FROM WEST

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kreager and family, who have been visiting at Chapman, Nebraska, at the home of Mrs. Kreager's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Stewart, returned home last evening. While at Chapman they assisted Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Stewart, parents of E. P. Stewart in the observance of their golden wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart are living at the farm near Chapman, moving there recently from Farnham, Nebraska where they have been residing.

ATTENDS DISTRICT MEETING

From Tuesday's Daily Miss Alpha C. Peterson, county superintendent, was at Wahoo today where she attended a district meeting of the county superintendents. The school heads of the state are having many large problems to meet each day in the affairs of their schools, and conferences are held to aid in solving them. In many schools, especially in the small schools the present depression has brought real problems to the school heads and teachers.

GIVE FAREWELL

A farewell party was given Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Schlieske, for the Snodgrass family who are moving to Iowa.

There were some thirty guests, including Curtis and Francis Abdoch from Omaha. The evening was spent in playing games and dancing.

Miss Lillian Solomon assisted Mrs. Schlieske in serving the dainty refreshments at a late hour.
