Mr. Puls and Miss Anna West were married on March 14, 1907, and moved at once to the fine farm that they now occupy and where they were showered by the friends with congratulations on the passing of another year of wedded life.

The evening was spent in cards and dancing, the music being furnished by Bill and Arthur Johnson of Weeping Water and Fred Kahler, on banjo, guitar and accordion.

At the close of the evening a fine luncheon was served that aided in the completion of a most pleasant event and at the homegoing hour all joined in hoping that Mr. and Mrs. Puls might have many more such pleasant events in the future.

Farmers Here to Enjoy Get-Together Meet

Over Three Hundred Guests of Chamber of Commerce at Industrial Demonstration.

The get-together meeting of the farmers of this section of Nebraska and Iowa, with the representatives of Plattsmouth industries, proved a great success last evening. The event was held at the American Legion building and three hundred and twenty-five were gathered there to enjoy the fine program that had been arranged.

The occasion was arranged by the agricultural and entertainment committee of the Chamber of Commerce for the farmers of this section to have them become acquainted with the industries of this city and particularly that of the Norfolk Packing Co. in which they, as producers are interested in developing.

The meeting was presided over by L. S. Devoe, superintendent of the city schools, in his clever manner and who kept the program moving nicely.

The Mynard community orchestra was heard in several numbers at the opening of the program and which was much enjoyed as this group embraces some of the most talented musicians of this section of Cass county.

The formal address of welcome was given by President William Baird of the Chamber of Commerce, who gave praise of the local industry and of the fine standing over the nation of the Norfolk Packing Co. Mr. Baird extended the welcome of the civic body to their guests and the wish that they might come often.

The response for the visitors was given by Luke L. Wiles and who urged the spirit of co-operation in the dealings of the packing plant and the farmers, the plant furnishing a good outlet for crops and an organization that was dependable, while the farmers by raising crops made possible the expansion of the plant here and more employment.

T. H. Pollock, chairman of the committee was then called upon to introduce the various industries of the city. The various industry representatives were: James Rebal, broom manufacturer for the past forty years; John Bajek, cigar manufacturer; Phil Hoffman, home dairy, who has handled a large amount of cream and produce here in the past year and paid out $6,300 to the farmers; Emery Duddy, manager of the stock feeding yards, where 3,000 head were fed the past season and where it is expected some 4,000 will be handled this year; L. D. Hlatt, Nebraska Basket factory, whose plant had in the busy season twenty-eight persons engaged and had paid out $6,000; George Hetrick, Plattsmouth Produce, who had taken over the Farmers Co-operative creamery, organized by 170 farmers of this community, 184,734 pounds of butterfat had been purchased in the past year and $24,011.50 paid to the farmers, with 50,000 pounds of butter manufactured a month; George J. Jeager, BREX shops, where 150 men are employed and where 2,000 cars were repaired the last year and where it is expected that the building and rebuilding of the cars will be carried on at full capacity now.

The chairman then introduced A. E. Stewart, manager of the local plant of the Norfolk Packing Co., to whom this section of the program was turned over by the speaker. Mr. Stewart stated that they were not at this time negotiating any leasing of acreage, altho they expected to later. Mr. Stewart explained the value of a plant of this nature to the producers of crops and offering them the opportunity of raising more than a one staple crop a year and with more return per acreage. Mr. Stewart stated that they wished to increase the output of the local plant by from 33 to 50 per cent this year over last, more of the corn to be handled and in addition a large line of vegetables which the local plant was now equipped to handle efficiently and speedily.

While Mr. Stewart was explaining the wishes of the company, the canned products of the company were shown on a large table and which were later served in a practical demonstration of the excellent quality of the Norfolk pack.

The serving of the canned goods was looked after by a committee composed of the employees of the packing company as well as of the Chamber of Commerce. Each guest was provided with a spoon and as the large trays of canned goods were passed they were sampled.

There were presented three varieties of corn, three varieties of peas, hominy, tomato puree, pork and beans in two varieties, three lines of beet carrots, light and dark red kidney beans, kraut, tomatoes, kraut juice and spinach.

Mr. Stewart introduced E. H. Bernhardt, plant superintendent, and Leo Quirk, who has come here from one of the large eastern plants to assist in the handling of the new lines of goods here.

Mr. Stewart and his assistants were kept busy in answering questions as to the various crops and methods of handling, the variety of seeds that were to be used and several other matters that pertained to the planting and raising of the crops.

The entertainment portion of the program under the direction of Mr. Devoe was resumed with a fine piano selection offered by Mrs. Roy Palmatag of La Platte, one of the gifted musicians of that section.

Ross Nichols, popular musical entertainer of Louisville, was presented in a saxophone selection that was very much enjoyed and Mr. Nichols was forced to respond with several encores.

The Lewiston band under the direction of Prof. Schmidt gave several numbers that were much enjoyed and showed much skill on the part of the young people.

After the close of the program all were served with sandwiches and doughnuts by the committee under the direction of Carl J. Schneider, while Henry Seennichsen was handling the preparation and serving of the coffee.

Advance Bills to Cut Salaries of Elective Officers

Changes Made in the One Effecting State Officials Includes Raising Governor's Salary $1,000

From Tuesday's Daily

The Nebraska legislature is getting down to business since passage of the auto and truck license bills a week ago and today advanced two important economy bills—one cutting the salaries of state officials and the other containing similar provisions relating to county officers, whose salaries, subject to certain limitations, would come under control of their respective county boards.

Changes made in the state salary bill, by amendment thereto, include raising the governor's salary from $5,000 to $6,000; members of the Board of Control from $3,000 to $3,200 and the Attorney General from $3,600 to $4,000. District judges, who get $1,400 lopped from their present $5,000 salaries failed to get any of the cut rescinded as the bill now stands and seems assured of early passage.

The salary of the governor at present is $7,500.

ROPE OFF THE DANGER ZONE

Los Angeles.—Curiosity seekers swarming in by motor cars forced Long Beach officials to rope off thirty-five square blocks in the business section of that earthquake damaged city. The crowds of spectators had interfered with reconstruction work and the removing of debris. Under orders of C. S. Henderson, head of an emergency relief committee, all automotive traffic was barred with the exception of material trucks. Pedestrians were allowed in the area. The factor of safety also was taken into consideration, city inspectors reporting that some of the downtown buildings of Long Beach were weakening under the recurrent shocks, one of which occurred at 1:24 p. m. Sunday.

Henderson announced emergency refuge camps at Long Beach, filled with thousands since the catastrophe, would be abandoned this week.

San Pedro.—Heroism of a life guard, Jack Cheaney, saved a group of small children from possible injury or death, but it may cost his life. An earth shock jarred a high tension electric wire from its moorings and it fell into a baseball park where twenty-five children were at play. Cheaney seized the wire and threw it over the fence, suffering severe burns upon his hands and abdomen.

VOTES PROTECTION TO RAILROAD SIGNALS

Lincoln, Neb., March 15.—The house passed three bills today, the Lowry bill to make it a crime to meddle or tamper with railroad signals, the Iodence bill, appropriating $325 for damage done to property of James Duncan by state highway work and the Gillespie bill to have tuition of soldier children paid from the state school fund.

The house turned down a resolution by Representative Henry Bock (dem. of David City, seeking to put the house on record for a 50-50 division between the state and counties of the gasoline tax.
