"Why Should a Car be Tightened?"

Because it not only eliminates those irritating squeaks and rattles, but the big thing is, it makes your car last longer, holds down repair bills, and forestalls accidents. A good time to have your car tightened is right after we lubricate it.

The Easter Message

I Cor., 15:1-8, 20-26.

For our lesson this Easter Sunday we turn aside from the studies in Mark's Gospel, to devote ourselves to the great theme of the resurrection as treated by Paul. This letter to the Corinthians was written only twenty-five years after the resurrection. Paul had founded this church in a campaign that lasted 18 months, about 50 A. D. Some years later, Paul learns of parties forming in the church; called by their leaders, they had adopted a party of Paul, a party of Apollos, a party of Cephas, and a party of Christ. This schism caused Paul much pain and anxiety. Some Corinthians disbelieved in the resurrection of the dead—not apparently in Christ's resurrection, though St. Paul felt this would soon follow, but in their own future resurrection.

This is the cause of this grand chapter. Unity and purity are the keynote of the epistle.

—The Royal Roll of Witnesses: First reminding them of some of the teachings on which he had laid special emphasis during his stay with them: the whole first chapter of this epistle proves that in his preaching and teaching, the redemptive work of Jesus was the burden of all he taught them; that God made Christ for us "wisdom, and righteousness and sanctification and redemption," Chap. 1: 20. A good foundation for their faith, but they were slipping. By faith in this doctrine they were saved, as also men are today. Paul admonishes them to "hold fast the word which I have preached to you." This "word" had wrought a great transformation in their lives. The "word" was that Christ had died for our sins, according to the scriptures. Christianity is a system of religion, it is a revelation of God, it is a body of ethical teaching, but first of all it is a record of deeply significant historical facts. It is a story of something that took place in the world. Jesus lived and died, and was buried, but was raised from the dead on the third day. To all this there are witnesses of veracity and truthfulness, we may name them as Jesus appeared to them in the following order: (a) Mary Magdalene, John 20:1; (b) other women, Matt. 28:9; (c) Peter, Luke 24:34; (d) two disciples, Luke 24:13-25; (e) ten disciples Sunday night, John 20:19; (f) eight days later, Thomas present, John 20:24-26; (g) at the appointed meeting in Galilee—500 present, Matt. 28:16-17; (h) by the sea of Galilee, seven being present, John 21:1, 2; (i) James, I Cor. 15:7; (j) Assentation, Acts 1:9, 10; (k) Paul, I Cor. 15:8.

When Paul wrote this epistle, many of these witnesses were still alive and could be consulted. These witnesses have never been doubted. They could have no motive to tell a falsehood, because most of them did suffer martyrdom, for their faith in the risen Christ. (Bible students will please look up the scriptures referred to above).

With all the evidence of the bodily resurrection of Christ, it is far more difficult to doubt it than to believe it. (The teacher may call some of these witnesses and have them testify).

II—The fruits of Christ's resurrection: The whole system of Christianity rests upon this fact. If the Christian's hope is only for this life, he is of all men most miserable; all self-denial, scorn, persecution endured for naught. But now Christ is risen; our hope has a foundation that cannot be shaken; Jesus told his disciples, "I go to prepare a place for you . . . I will come again and receive you unto myself." Millions have entered that place, and are now with the Lord. Christ has blazed the way, it is easy to follow him. God has perfect order in his kingdom, as is seen in v. 23, 24. Through Adam's fall, sin and death came into the world. Through Jesus, salvation and eternal life has been wrought; he is the second Adam, and only as we inherit from him do we receive into our lives the principle of immortality.

Herein lies the vital importance of Christ's resurrection to us. It is the living seal of all his work. In it the prophet is vindicated, the priest exalted, the king glorified. The empty tomb proclaims, Jesus lives! He is the world's only risen, reigning king. His resurrection is established on the testimony of most competent witnesses. The results of Christian civilization attest it. The transformation of men's lives testify to the power of it. The institution of the Lord's day is a clear proof of it. The empty tomb of Jesus proclaims—Jesus is conqueror!

The world's most decisive battle and victory were fought and won at Calvary and the garden tomb. He is not a dead Christ. A triumphant strain we find in B. B. McKinney's immortal hymn:

"He rose from death and all its sorrow,
To dwell in that land of joy and love;
He is coming back so glad tomorrow,
And He'll take all His children home above.
He lives on high; He lives on high—
Triumphant over sin and all its stain!
He lives on high; He lives on high!
Some day He's coming again."

One thing is certain, Gus Splitt has a lot of friends, for on last Sunday the following named persons from this vicinity drove to Omaha to visit with him at the hospital, and found him getting along very nicely: John Hobscheidt and son, John, Jr., George Ray, Arthur T. Hansen, George E. Nickles, Chester Shrader, Thomas Nelson, Ray and William Splitt.

Mrs. D. C. Rhoden was a visitor in Plattsmouth for the day last Monday and was visiting with her brother-in-law, George W. Rhoden, who is very sick at the home of his son, Galen Rhoden, in Plattsmouth. Mr. Rhoden has been so sick that the attending physician has forbidden anyone entering the room or visiting with him except those nursing or in charge of the sick room.

Dallas Young was working for a few days at Union on the bridges over the Weeping Water, but with the completion of this work has not been able to find anything else. The work of grading will soon begin, as well as paving, and all of this is to be done under the federal labor regulations for public work of this kind, namely, a six hour day and a five day week. This amounts to a thirty hour week and by working two shifts of men the contractors are able to keep their machinery operating full time and will get the paving on the O street road finished in a comparatively short time.

Attended the Presbytery.

Rev. J. C. Stewart and wife and their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boedecker, jr., were over to Lincoln on last Tuesday where they were in attendance at the meeting of the Nebraska Presbytery of the Presbyterian church. They were delegates from the church in Murray.

Gust Splitt Home.

Gust Splitt, who got his hand entangled in the corn sheller last week and had it so badly mangled that he had to have it amputated, was able to be home again this week, and was in Murray meeting his friends, and says the hand is doing nicely at this time and is healing rapidly. It was fortunate that the hand went in crosswise for had it been lengthwise the entire arm would have been drawn into the machinery and the arm have been lost.

Will Vote on Bond Issue.

The Murray school district No. 56, have posted notices for the holding of a school election at the Presbyterian church on May 1st for the voting on the issuance of bonds in the sum of $5,000 for the building of a school building for the district, in sums of $500 each. Since the burning of the schoolhouse some months ago school has been held in the Presbyterian church and the public library.

Have Family Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Ferry who have been making their home in town for some time have moved to the residence a short distance west of Murray on the north side of the highway and will work for John Davis for the summer.

The couple came to Nebraska and took a homestead in 1877 and have resided in Kearney county since that time. There remain two sons and three daughters, one of whom is Mrs. Aubrey Townsend of Murray.

Upon the death of her mother, Mrs. Townsend advised the husband, and he immediately departed for Hildreth, where on last Friday the funeral and burial was held. The Townsend family returned home on last Saturday night. Mrs. Silas was a member of the American Lutheran church and a very devoted follower of the Master. Mrs. Townsend and the family have the sympathy of their host of friends in Murray in this sad loss.

SMALL FIRE ALARMS

From Wednesday's Daily
Early this morning someone passing along the alley between Fourth and Fifth streets, north side, dropped a match or cigarette in a bunch of weeds and brush at the rear of the property occupied by the McFarland family. The dried grass and brush at once burst into flames and made a lively fire for a few moments and as it was burning in a narrow space between two old brick barns caused a great deal of concern to the residents of that locality. The fire, however, burned out without any damage and removed the debris.

There are several of these places along the alleys in the city and which are potential dangers of fire which if getting a good start would do a great deal of damage.

MAY CLOSE CHICAGO SCHOOLS

From Wednesday's Daily
With 28 million unpaid salaries, the Chicago school board is considering closing the schools for a "long vacation," according to dispatches from the windy city today. The plan for closing proposed by one member of the board is said to be receiving serious consideration.

Now the board is considering giving them a real vacation.
