He was engaged in taking inventory of the stock and also looking after the business which comes to the store, and will conduct the business for the present.

Held Gospel Meetings

The Rev. W. W. Stanley of the Christian church of Lincoln, was a visitor in Alvo on last Tuesday evening and delivered a very worth-while discourse on the streets, which was listened to with much interest. He also attended the Ministerial Association gathering which was held here, they having only a business session.

Markets His Cattle

Ben Plymale marketed his cattle on last Tuesday, having them delivered at Omaha, some 26 in number. The cattle averaged 1280 pounds apiece, which was a good gain for the length of time he had them on feed. The price received was not as high as it should be, but the good gain he was able to put on the animals helped to offset any loss from his feeding operations.
