

Often Overlooked

LEAKY gaskets are often overlooked as a cause of hard-starting motors. Yet a leaky cylinder-head or intake-manifold gasket can handicap a motor in starting—and in running—to a great extent. Better let us check over your gaskets—it's inexpensive to replace them.

Miss Florence Lancaster had to remain away from school on Tuesday, so her sister could remain home to help there.

M. G. Churchill has been decorating the home of Earl Lancaster south of town, by papering and otherwise beautifying the home.

A. D. Bakke was in Omaha last Monday, where he was looking after some business connected with the conduct of his garage here.

Herman C. Ross and Lester Schumaker, both of near Union, were looking after some business matters in Murray Tuesday morning.

Bible School Lesson Study!

Sunday May 7

By L. Neitzel, Murdock, Neb.

"Jesus Faces the Cross"
Mark 10:32-45.
As we draw near the close of our Savior's life, his greatness shines ever more resplendent, and we see ever more clearly that it is the greatness—not of wisdom or power, though these he had more than any man that ever lived—but the greatness of sacrificial service. That is the essence of all true greatness for his followers as well, as we are to study it in this lesson as a teaching for our individual lives.

Leaving Peracca, our Lord now joined the crowd of passover pilgrims. They were going up to Jerusalem. It was always up, as the city was located on the central ridge of Palestine. Jesus was going before them—the Twelve. His custom was to walk in the midst of them, and this caused amazement. There seemed to be something awesome and majestic in his bearing. "He set his face to go to Jerusalem." Luke 9:51.

Fear took hold of them and they became afraid for their beloved leader, as well as for themselves. In the forward movement of the centuries, Christ is always in the forefront. He "goeth on before," leading all great enterprises in the march toward the golden age. Our cry, therefore, is not "Back to Christ," but "Forward to Christ."

Jesus saw their distress and pitied them and he took again the twelve and told them in plain words what would happen to him. "The Son of Man," Christ's favorite designation of himself, signifying the divine assumption of complete humanity. He is the representative man, to make atonement for the sins of mankind. He was preparing them for the great test that they would undergo; but pointing to the glorious outcome—the resurrection on the third day.

While in the midst of this solemn declaration, Jesus is interrupted by Salome, and her two sons, James and John. (Math. 20:20-23 gives this incident more in detail). Here were two ambitious disciples. The honesty of the Bible is repeatedly shown in the way it pictures the darks as well as the lights in the character of its heroes. These twelve were the men who led the churches, who established Christianity; and yet half of them are left in utter obscurity, one is shown to be a traitor and suicide, one a denier of the Lord, one a doubter of the resurrection, and all of them to have forsaken Christ at his arrest.

Two of the most revered were James and John, yet here we have a discreditable anecdote recorded against them. History, thus written, is to be trusted implicitly.

Here comes Salome with James and John. Salome was probably the sister to Mary, the mother of Jesus, so that James and John were his cousins.

Mrs. Gussie Brubacher has been rather poorly for the past week and for a time was kept to her bed, but is reported as being some better of late.

Owen Keil recently purchased a new P & O lister from Joe Mrasek, of Plattsmouth, and is exceedingly well pleased with the new acquisition.

Herman Wohlfarth was looking after some business matters in the county seat on last Tuesday, and while there visited with his numerous friends.

Mrs. Scotten, who has been so ill following the operation on her knee, is now making good improvement and is able to walk about the house with the aid of a cane.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hull, of Union, were visiting at Murray on last Tuesday, coming over to see Dr. Tyson, as Mrs. Hull's health has not been the best of late.

At the home of Phillip Kell they have been painting the interior of the kitchen and thus brightening up the home nicely. Owen Keil, or "Doc," as he is more familiarly known, did the painting.

Mrs. Gertrude Carper and brother, Gust Nelson, who are brother and sister of Harry Nelson, were in Murray last Sunday, where they enjoyed a visit and a very fine dinner as well, at the Nelson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucean Carper and their son were in Lincoln last Sunday, where they were guests for the day at the home of the parents of Mrs. Carper, going on Saturday and returning home on Monday.

The Murray Lumber yard has secured a car of cinders, which have been placed in the drive way of the lumber shed, making a great improvement in the drive way and keeping it in good condition at all times. Come to Lewiston Friday, May 12, to see "The Irish Stew."

Frank Martis is staying with his sister a couple of weeks.

We see Gus Split is able to drive a car since his terrible accident.

"A Temperamental Widow"—Mrs. O'Flaherty, at Lewiston, May 12.

Don't forget to see "Jasper," the colored undertaker, at Lewiston, on May 12.

Mrs. Slagle spent the past week with her sister, Mrs. John Hobscheidt.

"Irish Stew" at Lewiston Friday, May 12th.

Mont Shrader is making quite an improvement in the looks of the Lewiston cemetery.

Mrs. Walton, of Comstock, has been spending a few days with her son, Allen Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jennings, Mrs. Hanni and daughter, Maxine, were visiting in Lincoln Sunday.

Arthur Hansen and family, Mrs. Moore and Margaret took dinner last Sunday with Harry Vantine and family. Mrs. Hansen remaining with her daughter for a few days.

Jean Nickles and his wife are staying with their grandmother while Alf Nickles and sister have gone to Lincoln.

The Social Circle club is having a picnic Sunday, May 7th, at Lewiston. We hope all members and their families will be present.

Lon Crosser, of the Garage of Murray, was called to Omaha on last Tuesday to look after some business. They have observed a marked improvement in the business which has come to their garage during the past month.

Dewey Hobson and father, J. W. Hobson, of Plattsmouth, were busy tearing down the little portion of the J. W. Holmes building across from the Garage of Murray, and will use the larger one for their mill, which they will move soon.

Thomas Nelson, who has been having some trouble with two ulcerated teeth for some time, was in Plattsmouth last Friday and had the offending molars removed. Since then he has been nursing a sore mouth, but which is getting better at this time.

Frank and Earl Mrasek were over to Omaha on last Sunday night, at which place they were delivering a number of cattle to the stock yards for Otto Puls, and again on Monday night, Parr Young, with his own truck, was over with a load of his feeding.

George Nickles, who moved back to his home in Murray last week, has been driving back and forth between here and Lincoln to attend the daily sessions of the legislature. Living at home seems rather pleasant after having been a resident of Lincoln all winter.

Willard Nelson, who was 19 years old last Wednesday, visited at home for his birthday, which was celebrated here at the home of his parents. He was accompanied by a lady friend, Miss Margaret Knapp, they both being students at the Wesleyan University at Lincoln.

Vaclav Michulsky, the village blacksmith, is at this time busy and keeps hammering away at his work most of the time from early morning till late at night, making very long days. This is different than the way things went earlier, for everyone was waiting then as long as they could before getting their work done.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Adams, of Nelson, nephews of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Smith, were guests for the day last Monday at the Smith home in Murray, where they all enjoyed a very fine visit. In the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Adams departed for Omaha, where they had some business matters to look after, and as well were visiting with friends there.

Held Pleasant Meeting
The Ladies Aid society of the Murray Christian church, held a most pleasant and profitable meeting at the church parlors on Wednesday of this week, when they had a very worth while program, a sociable time and did much good work for the church.

Will Hold Services
It was thought the minister would not be able to be here and there would be no services at the Christian church this coming Sunday, but such is not to be the case, and we are advised that the regular services will be held as usual.

Had His Honey Stolen
Thomas Nelson, who has a few stands of bees at his home in Murray, lost a lot of honey a few nights ago, when it was stolen from the hives. A paddle used to secure the honey, was left behind and on it were fingerprints. Mr. Nelson has sent the paddle to Omaha to have the fingerprint record made therefrom and expects to investigate the fingerprints of the suspected party, which will definitely determine whether he is the guilty one.

The Twelve Knights

"A deed a day is a star in your crown." The meeting was called to order by the president and the roll was called by the secretary. We decided we would answer the roll call with a name of some country for May.

We had new and old business. We then had the deeds.

The club held its election of officers for May. Dale Long was elected president, Wallace Nelson vice president; Maxine Hanni, secretary, and Charles Stastka, news reporter.

Garden Club Meets.

The Murray Sunnyside Garden club met at the leader's home on April 24. Most all members were present.

The lesson was on planning the garden and germination tests. The 1933 4-H buttons were given to all members.

After the meeting club songs were sung.—Charles Stastka, news reporter.

VISITS IN THE CITY

Mr. and Mrs. William Kelly of Cedar Creek, were in the city Saturday and Sunday, looking after some business matters and also visiting with the relatives and friends. While here Saturday they were callers at the Journal to renew their subscription. They were also here Sunday where the daughter, Miss Ellen, was receiving treatment for a very painful ingrowing nail of the right foot. It was necessary to have the nail removed and has interfered with the usual activities of Miss Kelly.
