Aged Lady Injured

Last Sunday while about her home in the north part of Murdock, Mrs. Eliza Witthaupt, sustained a fall while out in the yard that resulted in a number of broken ribs. Despite her age (88), she has taken her injuries lightly and was able to be up and around and says she is soon going to be well again. When one gets that old, a broken bone is a matter for concern, but not so with Mrs. Witthaupt.

Organize Church at South Bend

The Rev. W. W. Stanley, a pastor of the Christian church of Lincoln, but who has become an independent evangelist, going from town to town, pushing his belongings in a cart, and has successfully conducted meetings at Eagle, Alvo, Elmwood, Avoca, Weeping Water and Louisville, has been similarly engaged of late in the village of South Bend, has created sufficient interest that those who are workers in the Evangelical church at Murdock have been able, with the assistance of Rev. Stanley, to organize a church there. The initial list of those who are willing to become members and stand behind the proposition and work for the advancement of the new church numbers 24 of the people of that community. There has been a great interest created in religious matters and with the organization of the church body and an active Sunday school, there is an opportunity to do great good for all.

When his labors are concluded at South Bend, Rev. Stanley will go to Cedar Creek, where he will endeavor to effect a church organization and increase interest in the Bible school already there.

Plattsmouth Party Experiences Western Storms

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Ghrist Forced to Drive 200 Miles Out of Road by Rain and Snow Storms

Word has been received here by friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Ghrist, who recently drove with W. N. Ghrist of Knoxville, Iowa, to Evans, Colorado, for the funeral of a brother of Mr. Ghrist.

The party made the trip to Evans very successfully and attended the funeral services but on their return met a great deal of trouble in the storms that swept that section of the west.

During the first part of this week the storms have raged in violent form, the message states, snow and rain alternating in making the conditions very bad. The roads, Mr. Ghrist states, were badly damaged, especially in the foothills where in many places there were serious washouts and making travel impossible.

The party was compelled to drive 200 miles out of the way in order to get a start on the way home. They arrived at Greeley, Colorado, on Thursday and had been compelled to wait in that city until traveling conditions improved.

They are expecting to leave Greeley today if the weather and roads will permit their leaving for the east and hope to reach here sometime Sunday if there is no further delay by road trouble east of Greeley.

ENGAGES IN DRUG BUSINESS

Harlan Gorder, who has been engaged as clerk at one of the large drug stores of North Platte, has become part owner of the establishment. The final details of the transaction was closed a few days ago and Mr. Gorder is now associated in the store as owner of half interest. Mr. Gorder has many friends here who will be pleased to learn that he is to engage in the management of the drug business and with his experience and special training should find a great success.

Will Have Band Concerts

At the meeting of the village board it was determined that the town will have band concerts during the warm weather when the people can enjoy being out of doors. The Alvo school band, under the direction of Superintendent Robert Quick, will furnish the music, and a band stand is to be erected just east of the Methodist church, where the concerts will be held.

Visit Iowa Sneak Day

The Senior class of the Alvo consolidated school selected last Wednesday as their sneak day, and accompanied by the principal of the school, Elbert Miller, with Virgil Woods as the driver, they went to Shenandoah to visit the radio stations and look the town over. Needless to say, they had a fine time.

The class is composed of Donald Shelton, Albert Fairfield, Warren

A. B. Stromer and Teddy Nyden, who have been visiting here for the past few days, were over to the Platte river for a short time last Monday, but found the river so high that the fish were not doing any biting.

Miss Mary Creamer of near Murdock and a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Jewell, was spending a few days at the home of her grandparents last week. Mary was rejoicing over the fact that her school had closed last week.

Lawrence Henriksen, who has been visiting here for a number of days, a guest at the home of his sister, Mrs. Simon Rehmeier and husband, departed for his home at Clarion, Iowa, after having enjoyed the stay here very much.

Ivan Heter was at the Tip Top club Wednesday evening at Frank's home. The evening was enjoyed by all, playing games. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Franks and her daughters. The next meeting will be held at the Ivan Heier home.

Emil Bornemeier and son from near Elmwood were looking after some business matters in Alvo last Wednesday. Emil said that with the fine weather which prevailed on Monday, they started to plant corn, but when the weather again turned cold, they stopped until later.

Lambert Wyatt and wife who make their home at Colby, Kansas, have been visiting for several days at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Wyatt, departing on Thursday for their home. They expect soon to engage in the cleaning business in a town a short distance from Colby.

The Woman's Reading Club of Alvo had a very pleasant and worthwhile meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Banning, where they enjoyed a fine program and the hospitality of their hostess, Mrs. Banning, who served delicious refreshments. The meeting was held on last Thursday afternoon.

John Banning received and had unloaded at his lumber yard a car of lumber to replace that which has been sold out during the past few weeks. He is anticipating greatly increased business as the price level of farm commodities continues to rise and will keep his stock up so that he will be able to meet all demands.

Called on Sad Mission

From Saturday's Daily This morning R. B. Brisse and son, Everett, of Johnson, Nebraska, were in the city en route to Glenwood, Iowa. They were called to Glenwood by the death of Henry Hyde, father of Mrs. Brisse. Mrs. Brisse has been at Glenwood with the father and will be joined there by the husband and son for the funeral this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mr. Hyde was seventy-three years of age and a long time resident of Glenwood. He has been poorly for some time but bedfast only a short time.

Mr. Brisse is a former resident here, leaving this city in 1912, and while here visited a number of the old time friends that he recalled from his boyhood days in Plattsmouth.

From Thursday's Daily

James M. Manners of Lincoln was here today to enjoy a visit with his brothers, C. M. Manners and G. H. Manners, as well as the many old time friends in this community where he made his home for so many years. Mr. Manners is also a former resident of the vicinity of Alvo.

Scheulke, Margaret Ayres, Lucille Beussing and Dorothy Greer, all of whom made the trip.

Reorganize Village Board

The old village board met and looked after such business as demanded their attention, adjourning sine die, whereupon the new board was organized, with the new member, Charles F. Rosenow. The board as it stands now is composed of the following: Arthur Dinges, mayor; R. M. Coatsman, secretary; Simon Boyles, treasurer; L. D. Muller, street commissioner, and Charles F. Rosenow as quarantine officer.

Won the Opening Game

The Alvo baseball team, playing at Manley a week ago Sunday, won by the close score of 7 to 6. It was the opening game in the new league and if the Alvo boys keep up the pace they set in this first game, they will be real contenders for the championship honors.

Ends Successful School Year

Miss Doris Coatsman, who has been instructor of the Bushberry school, closed the school year last week with a school picnic last Friday at the school house. The children enjoyed themselves with games and the picnic dinner, served at noon, with an abundance of good food for everyone. Miss Doris is to be congratulated on the excellence of the school and the fine progress the pupils have made.

Condemns Hazardous Buildings

The fire marshal of Nebraska was in Alvo last week and met with the village board, looking over the town and passing on a number of buildings which he considers as hazardous to the remaining buildings of the town. After the inspection three buildings were declared fire hazards and ordered placed in good condition or torn down. One of them has already been torn down and we understand the other two will be razed soon. The building just north of the drug store is the one that has been torn down, the others condemned being the former office of Dr. L. Muir and the rear or north end of the building that E. L. Nelson, formerly occupied with his store and just across the street from where he now has his store.

The removal of these buildings will greatly reduce the fire danger. The Alvo Fire Department has been very successful in the fighting of fires and holding losses down to a minimum and this lessening of the hazard will be very welcome to them, we are sure.

UTILITY PROJECTS LIKELY

Omaha—Professor Clark E. Mickey of Lincoln told the Omaha Engineers club there is a strong possibility that two hydro-electric and irrigation projects costing approximately $5,000,000 each will be begun within the next three months.

Chairman of the civil engineering department at the University of Nebraska, Professor Mickey is also advisory engineer to the Reconstruction Finance corporation. He pointed out that recently enacted state legislation enables Nebraska to take advantage of Reconstruction Finance corporation aid for the proposed projects.

The first application from this state, he said, will probably be for the so-called Columbus hydro-electric project. The second will be the "Sutherland project," proposed for the area south of North Platte. Its dual purpose is to manufacture 65,000,000 kilowatts of electrical energy, and to provide storage water for 176,000 acres of land already irrigated by direct flow from the Platte river.

FAIRVIEW WORKERS MEET

The May meeting of the Fairview Workers club was held at the home of Martha Privett with Myrtle Tritsch as assistant.

New officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Edna Buehler, president; Florence Terryberry, vice-president; Agnes Wetenka, secretary; treasurer; Elinor Terryberry, social leader.

Plans were made to collect money amongst the members to donate to charity. Marie Kelly joined the club at the meeting.

ATTEND SCHOOL BANQUET

The alumni of the Springfield school held their annual banquet Friday evening, bringing together many of the former graduates students to enjoy the stories of old days. County Attorney W. Kieck and Mrs. John F. Gorder of this city were attendants at the banquet, both having passed their school days in Springfield.

AFTER 40 bowel trouble

Constipation may very easily become chronic after forty. And any continued constipation at that time of life may bring attacks of piles and a host of other unpleasant disorders.

Watch your bowels at any age. Guard them with particular care after forty. Whenever they need any help, remember a doctor should know what is best for them.

"Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a doctor's prescription for the bowels. Tested by 47 years' practice, it has been found thoroughly effective in relieving constipation and its ills for men, women and children of all ages. It has proven perfectly safe even to babies. Made from fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients, it cannot gripe; will not sicken you or weaken you; can be used without harm as often as your breath is bad, or when your tongue is coated whenever a headachy, bilious, gassy condition warns of constipation.

When Dandelions were Rarity in Cass County

Plattsmouth Lady Recalls Having Brought Seed from Old Home in Pennsylvania to Elmwood

A person glancing over the law and yards of the present day would not suspect that at one time the plentiful dandelion was a rarity in Cass county, in fact the seed for plants had to be imported from the east.

Mrs. W. E. Rosencrans of this county recalls that some forty years ago that the dandelions were unknown at Elmwood where the family was then residing, that on a trip back to the old home in Pennsylvania, she had secured some of the dandelion seed and brought home with her plant and try and raise the plants to the toothsome "greens."

A large amount of the seed sown at the farm of Dave Cartmire some three miles out of Elmwood where the soil seemed well adapted to the growing. In a short time dandelions were coming strong from the farm and dozens of the Elmwood people would drive out in their biggies and wagons to pick the plants for use as "greens." In fact this is a regular duty of Clate and Mrs. Rosencrans in their tender youth garner the luscious large plants use in the summertime dainty—grandfather of the spinach diet.

With the bringing of the seed to the east, the neighbors as well as the Rosencrans family started to raise the dandelions, or at least tried as it was with only much effort that they were induced to start in gardens at homes in Elmwood.

Seed was sown in rows and cared with watering in the hope that it might spring into life—eventually the labor was successful and bright hued blossoms appeared, not to be conquered and over the country they have spread, their seed carried by the wind in all directions.
