on the rising market can take advantage of the special price. Although the rate was in effect throughout the past month, receipts were small until the last week or ten days, when corn sales have increased and money is once more beginning to find its way into the farmers' pocketbooks. The special rate will apply on arrearages as well as time paid for in advance and amount to a 25 per cent discount on the past indebtedness. The Journal has been patient throughout the long months of the depression, but now with improved conditions returning, will greatly appreciate payment of all subscription accounts and is holding out an extra inducement to bring it about.

TWO VIEWS OF LIFE

Some folks see only the dark side of life Or meet its stern raps with a frown, When a smile or a word might win the strife And put the grim chimera down.

The specter seems hid in a dense cloud of gloom, As one trembles and waits for the sight Of the oere created by portent of doom, To appear at the first glint of light.

But the shadow floats off in a shimmer of haze, And the radiant beams of the dawn Greet the day with an aura of opalesque rays, As they herald the advent of morn.

In the touch of relief that its coming awakes There is born an accord with mankind— A kindlier glimpse of conditions it takes— A more cheerful scope brings to mind.

And the rosy hues of the bright gleam of day Chase the shade of the gloom aside, To bring cheer and pleasure along the way, Where peace and contentment abide.

The soul can then face the wide world with a smile, And with words of a comforting cheer Aid other poor pilgrims on life's weary miles, As the end of the journey draws near. "K"

VISIT AT LINCOLN

From Saturday's Daily This morning Mrs. W. A. Robertson and children, Miss Vestetta, Rachel and Billy, motored to Lincoln where they were guests of friends for the day. While at Lincoln they attended the track meet of the Big Six schools, participated in by Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, Oklahoma A. & M. and Oklahoma.

Nebraska Drys Vote to Fight Beer Bills

Decide Upon Court Tests of Both Measures Passed by the State Legislature.

Representatives of dry organizations and Christian temperance leaders in Nebraska met at the Lincoln Y. M. C. A. Thursday afternoon and decided to "fight the beer bill, H. R. 585 and the Omaha brewers' bill, S. F. 323 with every legal device possible. Until lawyers advise them on the possibilities in court, the group voted to hold in abeyance any attack by petition and referendum.

The group appointed a committee of five to select lawyers to direct legal strategy in a proposed test of the bills in court. The committee comprises: Superintendent Hutton of the Nebraska Anti-Saloon league, chairman; Maurice A. Hyde, state treasurer of Nebraska Allied Drys; Charles A. Bowers, secretary Nebraska State Teachers association; Mrs. Eva M. Innis, state president of the Nebraska W. C. T. U.; and Rev. B. F. Wyland, state president of the Allied Drys.

Superintendent Hutton, who called the meeting, was unable to preside because of a throat illness. Rev. Ray E. Hunt presided and Mrs. Innis acted as secretary. Future meetings were left to the judgment of Superintendent Hutton, Mrs. Innis and their advisors.

The group issued the following statement: "The Nebraska 'beer bill,' H. R. 585, did not grow out of Nebraska political soil, but was an alien importation from the east. The sordid political activity of a highly financed beer lobby is well known in our capital city. House Beer Bill 585 affronts Nebraska voters' sensibilities, as follows:

"First: This alien beer bill violates the Nebraska regulatory liquor law which grew up out of local needs and became a model law for America. The experience under the Canadian system and the Nebraska Slocum law has been completely disregarded.

"Second: This alien beer bill refused to keep the sale of liquor 100 feet away from public schools. To make drinkers out of minors has been its acknowledged purpose. According to their trade journal statements, 90 percent of American youth do not drink and must be taught to drink beer. Youth is to be a new market for the brewers products.

"Third: This alien beer bill refuses to allow the people of any city or town to vote upon whether or not they want booze. This undue protection of beer is a determination to make local self government on liquor impossible.

"Fourth: This alien beer bill, by granting holders of permits the right to sell in private rooms, creates conditions making possible the establishment of houses of assignation. This is the infamous Raines law upon which Tammany hall thrived by the profitable alliance of liquor and prostitution. Why revive a condition that makes for vice and degradation of human lives?

"Fifth: This alien beer bill seeks to build a political party around liquor by leaving the appointment and the fixing of the salaries of a vast army of inspectors and field men completely in the hands of the county commissioners. It is the old Tammany system from New York City to build political power on liquor."

"See it before you Buy it."

ENTERTAINS CLASS

Miss Irene Simons entertained the A. & O. class of the Methodist church at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cole, Thursday evening. A very interesting lesson was given by Mrs. A. S. Ghrist, teacher of the class. Musical selections by the Cole children added much to the evening's entertainment. Delicious refreshments, daintily served by the hostess, finished a very pleasant evening.

Ice Rates to be Reduced in Plattsmouth

Through Efforts of Mayor John P. Sattler, Rate Reduction will Soon be in Effect.

For some time Mayor John P. Sattler has been interested in trying to secure a reduction in the rates for ice in this city, his efforts resulting in the announcement of a reduction in the price of ice.

The Iowa-Nebraska Lige and Power company, owners of the local ice plant, are making the announcement that they will put in effect soon a reduction that will be appreciated by the users of ice in the community, which is due to the work of the mayor in getting a voluntary reduction.

The new rates will be 50c a hundred, delivered by the ice wagon, instead of the old rate of 60c which was in effect last season.

The platform rate will be 40c per hundred this season, instead of 45c, which was in effect last year.

The light and power company hope to maintain this rate for the entire season and will unless the rising price of materials necessary in the manufacture of the ice advances to the point where a change may become necessary, but state they will endeavor to see that this new rate is maintained.

The reduction will provide a decided saving for the people of Plattsmouth, and one that will be appreciated by all users of ice.

HUSBAND WINS ACQUITTAL

Chicago.—The defense story that the shooting of Mrs. Leola Raymun was accidental won acquittal for A. Robert Raymun, 40, her husband, who was accused of murder. A criminal court jury freed Raymun, former resident of Minneapolis and later known here as a speakeasy operator, after deliberating two hours.

Mrs. Raymun, said by police to have been a daughter of William G. Goepaner, an Olean, N. Y., manufacturer, was shot Feb. 2 in a loop hotel. The husband, arrested a day later, admitted the shooting but insisted it was accidental during a struggle for possession of the revolver. The state accused Raymun of killing his wife during a quarrel over money.

Mrs. Carl Nickles of Weeping Water was among the visitors in the city Thursday, driving up to share in the unusual poultry prices that were being offered by the local merchants. While in the city Mrs. Nickles called at the Journal and renewed her subscription to the semi-weekly edition.

May Develop a Train with 100-Mile Speed

Union Pacific Studying Diesel Engine, Shaped Like Dirigible; Would Meet Competition

Omaha.—Officials of the Union Pacific railway here admit that research is under way for the development of a new style of passenger train which may mean an average speed of close to 100 miles an hour on its crack transcontinental trains.

Officials, however, protested vigorously the "premature publication" of the scheme which they said has not yet been much more than a dream on the part of company engineers.

Plans, according to a story published in an afternoon newspaper, call for a dirigible-shaped, gas-electric or Diesel engine powered locomotive, the passenger cars also to be dirigible-shaped to eliminate retarding speed by the wind.

Vice President E. E. Adams has been assigned to special research for the road since 1929, and the new style train will climax his efforts, according to the story.

With such a train the Omaha-Los Angeles schedule would be cut to less than thirty hours, it was pointed out, and it might prove an effective answer to airplane competition which of late has cut deeply into western roads passenger revenue.—State Journal.
