The strictest dramatic censorship ever known was enforced in Vienna during the early part of the nineteenth century. One of its most ridiculous restrictions prevented stage lovers from appearing in a scene unless they were accompanied by a chaperon.

MURDOCK ITEMS

Dr. and Mrs. L. D. Lee and Harold Tool were visitors in Lincoln last Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Gordon, of Omaha, were visiting over Mother's Day at the home of Mrs. George Utt.

E. W. Thimgan was a visitor in Murdock on last Wednesday and was also looking after some business matters.

Eddie Craig and wife were spending Mother's day at Johnson, where they were guests at the home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Williams.

John Ostbloom says business is good and growing better with each week, which he attributes largely to the increasing prices being paid for farm products.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Thimgan were guests for the day last Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Backemeyer for the afternoon and evening.

The closing of a very successful school year last week was featured by a dinner at the school building and a general good time by all the teachers and students.

Emil Kuehn and the family were over to Louisville on last Wednesday, where they were visiting for the day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Addeam.

John Eppings and the family were visiting at Murray, being guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lancaster for the day last Sunday, where all enjoyed a very pleasant visit.

A party of the younger married people of Murdock were over to Nehawka on last Wednesday, where they went to attend a dance which was given at the auditorium, and where all enjoyed a very fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tool were on Omaha on Mother's Day, spending the day at the home of their daughter, Mrs. George Work and family, and also with their son, Douglas, who is attending school there. All enjoyed the day most happily.

Henry Carson was helped into a car and rode to Lincoln, where he visited his mother, who is in bed with a fractured hip, on Mother's day. Mr. Carson found his mother resting fairly well and enjoyed being able to visit with her, although he is not in good health, either.

John Gakemeier and G. Bauer have a very extensive garden which they are cultivating together and keeping in good condition. This will provide them with some very fine vegetables for the table during the summer and also permit the putting up of supplies for use next winter. If everyone would use their spare time in the cultivation of a garden, they would not only be healthier, but find the returns would more than compensate for the time put in. In many cities over the country, garden clubs are being formed as a means of obtaining needed outdoor exercise by those who are employed inside the year 'round. It beats chasing a golf ball around the fairways, and instead of adding to one's expense, provides a nice return.

Married Quarter Century Otto Eicheff and Miss Maude Reiley were united in marriage at Apache, Oklahoma on May 17, 1908, where they made their home for a number of years, and a few years ago moved to Murdock, where they have since resided. Last Wednesday they were quietly celebrating the passing of their 25th year of happy wedded life and were receiving the congratulations of their many friends.

Doing Business Two Places George Miller has located a cream station at Louisville, where he is looking after the business, while his wife is conducting the business here in this line, as well as carrying a stock of shoes.

Grandmother Utt Zappy Mrs. George Utt received the happy news of the birth of an eight pound grandson, who arrived at the Lincoln General hospital on May 11th, being the son of Mr. and Mrs. Diller Utt. The mother and son are doing nicely and the proud father is getting along as well as could be expected. Mrs. Utt and daughter, Mrs. A. L. Gordon were over on last Monday to see the new arrival.

Visiting Here with Parents Mr. and Mrs. William Gakemeier and their little daughter, June, who reside in Chicago, taking advantage of a little spell when business was not so rushing, came home to visit the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gakemeier, and selected the period falling on Mother's Day for their visit.

mobile, overcome by gas fumes emitted from the car. Mr. Koeling was 57 years of age and a farmer. He had not been in the best of health and had retired from farming, but feeling that the time was heavy on his hands, had gone back to work again and had been engaged in feeding cattle during the past winter.

Mr. Koeling was united in marriage at Huntley, Nebraska some 20 years ago to Miss Emma Merckle, and they have resided near Ord for a number of years.

On last Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rikli went out to attend the funeral, which was held Monday. Mesdames Rikli and Koeling are sisters.

On Monday, Rev. Knosp, who is a cousin and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heineman, the latter also being a sister of Mrs. Koeling, went out for the funeral. Mrs. Heinemann is remaining for a visit of a couple of weeks with her sister.

Says Rain Sure Henry Tool found it necessary to make a trip to Alvo on last Wednesday afternoon and in doing so observed four bull snakes crawling on the road as he drove along. Henry said that was a sure sign of rain, so a bit perturbed we hurried along for home to get over the roads before they got muddy. However, the rain did not come, although we suppose it will soon.

Observe Mother's Day Mothers Day was properly observed by the Neitzel clan. All met at the home of O. J. Hitchcock at Havelock for dinner, they being, A. J. Neitzel and family, Mrs. Meta Mac Diarmid and daughter, Dolly Jane, of Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. L. Neitzel. A very pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

Joyous Gathering A party of young folks, consisting of all the children and grandchildren met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kupke, in honor of their parents on Mother's Day, bringing with them well filled baskets and an abundance of ice cream. All enjoyed a good time.

Gave Buttons to Class L. Neitzel, teacher of the Young People's class at the Evangelical church in Murdock, of which there are nearly forty members, and of whom thirty-six were in attendance on Mother's Day, distributed Mother's Day buttons to be worn in honor of mother. It made a pretty sight to see each of the members wearing a button honoring their mother.

Delivers Very Able Address The Rev. H. R. Knosp, pastor of the Murdock church and a very competent and devoted worker, was selected to deliver the Baccalaureate address to the graduating class of the Murdock schools and met the occasion with a discourse filled with many fine points and admonitions to those going out into life. A large and greatly interested crowd was present to enjoy this fine sermon.

Still Keeps to His Bed Henry Carson, better known among his friends as "Slats," is still confined to his bed as a result of the injury to one of his knees that has been of many weeks duration. It seems a long time to be confined, but he has stood it patiently, although he is hoping the knee will soon show sufficient improvement as to enable him to get out once more and pursue his regular work.

VISITORS IN THE CITY From Thursday's Daily Mr. and Mrs. Henry Oehlerking of near Wabash, were in the city today, bringing in a consignment of roosters from their farm and which were disposed of to the local dealers at the extra bonus price. After disposing of the roosters they visited the Journal to renew their subscription to the semi-weekly edition of the paper and finding that their trip to this city had brought them a real advantage in the price of their roosters.

State Tax Cut

by Legislature

Totals Do Not Include the Half Million Dollars of Reappropriated Balances.

Legislative appropriations from tax funds, during the recent session, not including an estimated half million of reappropriated funds, totals $11,073,146.26, as compared with $14,523,436.21, or a decrease of $3,450,289.95, according to a compilation by State Tax Commissioner Smith.

The salaries bill and general appropriations, totaling $10,745,876, exceed Governor Bryan's budget recommendations by only $327,270.26. Included in the list of appropriations is $10,000 for the state library commission, a commission which is abolished and its work transferred to the university librarian, altho the title of the bill does not mention an appropriation. Without this in the title the appropriation may be held void by the courts.

The total appropriation at the past session, including $14,172,757.78 cash and federal funds, which are a mere estimate, the total appropriations for the past three years are listed:

1933 Totals Tax funds $11,073,146.26 Cash and Federal $14,172,757.78 $25,245,904.04

Alvo News

Mrs. Ivan Kinney has been enjoying a visit for the past week from a brother who makes his home in Iowa.

John Banning was a visitor in Union for a short time on last Sunday, driving over in his auto for the occasion.

Robert Custor and son, Robert, Jr., were called to Plattsmouth on last Tuesday, where they were looking after some business matters at the court house.

L. M. Scott, the operator, was called to Lincoln, where he was working for a few days last week, relieving an operator there, who was looking after some business.

John Skinner, of the firm of Skinner & Coatsman, was over to Omaha on last Monday with a load of cattle for Roy Stewart and was accompanied by John B. Elliott.

On last Sunday when the game of ball was played between Eagle and Alvo at Eagle, a very closely contested game was had, with the Eagle team winning by a score of 11 to 10.

Clarence Cruyea, of Lincoln, was in Alvo last Wednesday and was looking after some business matters at the home, and reported that their father, who has been quite sick for some time past is still very poorly.

John Elliott, with his truck, took the Junior class of the Alvo school to Lincoln, then to Omaha, where they saw the two towns and enjoyed the ride and the fine day as well as seeing many sights in the two largest Nebraska towns.

While Edgar Edwards was looking after some business for the Alvo Hardware and Implement company, and John Elliott was called to the country to look after some matters, R. M. Coatsman was looking after the store and it seemed like the olden days when he operated the institution years ago.

At the University hospital in Omaha on last Wednesday forenoon, Mrs. William Paul underwent an operation on one of her eyes for the removal of a growth that has interfered with the proper functioning of that important member. At latest reports she was said to be getting along fairly well.

Last Wednesday afternoon the members of the Royal Neighbors of America were gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hardnock, where they were holding their regular business session as well as enjoying a kensington which was presided over by Mrs. Hardnock, who proved a most capable entertainer. Refreshments were served late in the afternoon.

Mesdames Carl Rosenow and Arthur Dinges were visiting for a number of days last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Keister, who formerly made their home here, where Mr. and Mrs. Keister were instructors in the Alvo schools, Mrs. Keister then being Miss Mary Brant. The ladies drove over to the Keister home at Grand Island on last Monday, returning on Wednesday evening.

Fred Kunzmann, of Plattsmouth, was a visitor in Alvo on last Wednesday, coming to visit at the home of Henry Bailey and found no one at home as Mrs. Miller and Kenneth were in Lincoln, while Uncle Henry was at the home of Charles Jordan, where he was assisting with some work on the farm. Mr. Kunzmann, however, on his return home, went via Mr. Jordan's place and visited with Mr. Bailey and also with Mrs. Jordan, who is a niece. Mr. Kunzmann has been making his home in South Dakota during the past winter, and only recently returned home, being brought down to Omaha in the airplane of his son-in-law. Despite his advanced age, he enjoys traveling via air and has made numerous trips in the plane between Omaha and Winner.

Alvo Schools Close The schools of Alvo closed last week with a picnic at the Boyles grove, which was enjoyed by all the students and many of their parents. There were games and eats and all that goes to make a successful picnic.

Doubles Their Joys The home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rueter was made happy on last Monday night when the stork brought to their home two very fine little baby girls, which has made the entire family very happy. This makes nine children in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rueter, all doing nicely.

Made a Fine Address Attorney C. S. Worthman, of Ashland, and former superintendent of schools in Cass county, was selected to deliver the address at the commencement exercises of the Alvo

As long as there are automobiles... there will be some reckless drivers. Your only protection against them is to have sufficient sound insurance.

high school last week and delivered a very worth while address, with a vigor and energy of his former years and with the added learning that experience has brought to him

Berry Building Torn Down The Berry building in Alvo, belonging to the Berry estate, which its day served many people, often a barber shop, but which has given way to age and the ravages of time having become a hazard to the safety of other buildings, was torn down last week and the materials pile up. The passing of this old landmark is but another step in the progress of the times and sooner or later a new and more modern structure will doubtless rise on the ground this one occupied for so many years

Memorial Service May 28 The American Legion will have charge of the Memorial services that will be held here on Sunday, May 28th, and the address and observance during the morning will be held at the Methodist church, with the Rev. R. J. McKenzie delivering the sermon. In the afternoon, the observance will be held at the cemetery, with the Hon. John E. Curtiss of Lincoln, former member of the state railway commission, a past national vice commander of the American Legion and a very fluent speaker, making the address.

Enjoyed Mothers Day Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Armstrong were greatly pleased when the children and their families gathered at their home on Sunday, May 14th, Mother's Day, and visited and enjoyed a splendid dinner in honor of mother. The family always gets together and celebrates at least once each year, and there could be no better occasion than that of Mother's Day for the holding of such a gathering.

ENTERS THEATRICAL WORK From Saturday's Daily Miss Anna May Sandin, one of the talented students of the local high school, is enjoying the experience of dramatic and dancing numbers at several of the theatres in this state and Iowa. Miss Sandin, who has unusual talent in dramatics, music and dancing, was given a tryout by dramatic agency in Omaha and secured several engagements to appear in different theatres in her act which will consist of character sketches as well as dancing specialties. Miss Sandin made her first appearance last night at Perry, Iowa, where she received much approval and that evening she is to appear at Columbus, Nebraska, in her act. The matinees will join in wishing this talented lady the greatest of success in the work for which she has such an unusual talent.

EIGHT MILE GROVE LUTHERAN CHURCH Thursday, May 25th German Ascension Day service 10:30 a. m. Sunday, May 28th 9:30 a. m. Sunday school. 10:30 a. m. English services.
