

FARMERS ASK FOR LOANS

Washington, May 25.—In the week following the passage of the emergency and mortgage act, 304 farmers asked for loans or information concerning them from the Federal Land bank, of Omaha, reports Henry Morgenthau, governor designate of the farm credit administration.

The twelve federal land banks had more than 4,000 applications and inquiries. The St. Louis bank, serving Arkansas, Illinois and Missouri, had 1,348 requests, the largest number of any single bank. The New Orleans district was second, Spokane third and St. Paul fourth.

"The financial position of the borrowers to whom loans were made during the first week show a great variation," announces the federal farm board. "Some represent first mortgages on farms the refinancing of which gave the farmer a lower rate of interest and a longer period in which to repay—thirteen years. Others represented loans to farmers who were so heavily involved it was necessary for their creditors to scale down their claims to make it possible to refinance the farmers with commissioner's loans."

MURDOCK ITEMS

Douglas Tool, who is a student at Creighton college, was a visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tool, over the week end.

L. Neitzel was occupying the pulpit at the Murdock church yesterday, and had for his subject "The Man Who Never Came Back." It being the patriarch, Enock, for he walked with God and God took him.

Paul Eichhoff, who has been visiting here for the past two weeks with friends and relatives, coming from his home in Oklahoma, departed on last Thursday morning for St. Louis, in which city he expects to work during the summer.

The Beauty Shoppe has been redecorated by Mrs. Jennie Lau, the proprietor and operator, and everything is now looking very fine, she being ready for all services to the women and girls of the vicinity in the line of beauty work.

H. W. Tool, who is a regular guy and a fine fellow, frankly admits he is a "Ladies Aid" as he was impressed into the service of housecleaning by the good wife and makes an excellent addition to the housecleaning force, which he smilingly admits is co-operation.

John H. Buck, with the slackening of work in other lines, has been turning his attention to the transforming of a large Dodge automobile into a truck for which he will find good use, and not himself alone, for should some one want the completed truck after it has been transformed, they can have it.

I. G. Hornbeck picked up a handful of roofing nails which some one in a very careless manner had spilled in front of Mr. Hornbeck's garage door. As roofing nails cost a considerable sum of money it would seem as though some one had better be more careful during the hard times following the depression.

Milton G. Keedy and wife, the latter a sister of A. H. Ward, arrived in Murdock and were visiting with Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Ward. Mr. Keedy, who is engaged in the bakery business, reports business greatly improved with the passing of the recent months. Mr. Goodridge and wife, of Beatrice, where the Keedys also reside, accompanied them as far as Elmwood, where they visited for a short time.

Will Help in Bank

Mr. O. E. Bradford, who with the husband, have made their home at Mr. Clare during the last school year, while Mr. Bradford has been an instructor in the schools, with the closing of the school year have come to Murdock, where they will make their home during the vacation period. Mrs. Bradford, who was formerly Miss Mary Tool, will assist in the bank. During the past few months, Mrs. Henry A. Tool has been assisting her husband with the work and this new arrangement will allow her to spend a great deal more time at home.

A Newspaper Bargain

With inflation on the way and everything going up in price, the special $1.50 per year subscription price for the Semi-Weekly Journal that has now been extended to and including July 1st, makes this a real newspaper bargain. Not only does the rate apply to advance subscription payment but the arrears as well, where the entire sum due is paid up and at least one year in advance. Now is the time to save 25 per cent on your newspaper subscription price. This special offer, now being extended at the request of many of our readers to give them time to sell farm products at the new advancing prices, will be withdrawn July 1st, so bring or send in your money and save the extra 50 cents per year.

TIME COUNTS

Insist on genuine Bayer Aspirin; not only for its safety, but its speed.

Take a tablet of Bayer Aspirin and some other tablet, and drop them in water. Then watch the Bayer tablet dissolve—rapidly and completely. See how long it takes to melt down the other.

That's an easy way to test the value of "Bayer" preparations. It's a far better way than testing them in your stomach!

Bayer Aspirin offers safe and speedy relief of headaches, colds, sore throat, neuralgia, neuritis, lumbago, rheumatism, or periodic pain. It contains no coarse, irritating particles or impurities.

tery midway between the two towns, have with the passing years always joined in the holding of Memorial services at the church yard and this year is no exception as yesterday they assembled there to hold the usual remembrance. The Linger Longer club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gerbeling for a picnic basket supper at seven o'clock May 25th.

A very delightful supper was enjoyed by all present. There were thirteen members present. Four were absent. There were seventy-seven visitors. Fifteen new homes were represented.

After the supper hour a number of games were played, such as drop the handkerchief, three deep, as sure as the moon shines, last couple out and needle's eye.

About 9 o'clock everyone departed for their respective homes.—News Reporter.

STOCKS CONTINUE ADVANCE

New York.—Financial markets responded to favorable trade news and the initial step of the federal reserve system in following the inflationary provisions of the farm relief act. The stock market bulged up to a new high level for 1933, as measured by price averages, with many gains of $1 to more than $3 a share. Trading reached the largest volume in more than a week.

Industrial and railroad stocks, according to price averages, reached the best level since November of 1931 but utilities continued to lag, approximating only the levels of the end of the last January. The Standard Statistics company price average of 90 representative issues—50 industrials, 20 rails and 20 utilities—came within little more than a point of the 1932 peak, reached in September. Transfers in the stock exchange were 4,720,300 shares.

Wheat futures at Chicago gained about 1 1/2 to 2c a bushel. Silver futures advanced .43 to .62 of a cent an ounce; raw sugar .30 to .05 a cent a pound; copper futures .05 to .13 of a cent; wool futures .50 to .70 of a cent; and raw milk, 2 to 5 cents per pound.

Alvo News

The high winds of last Tuesday played havoc with the roof of the hen house of Lefe Mullen by blowing it off, which caused this genial gentleman to have to replace the same when the wind went down.

The first band concert of the season was held at the platform near the Methodist church on last Saturday night and was listened to by a large number of the citizens of Alvo and the surrounding vicinity.

B. H. Davis, of Syracuse, who is a brother-in-law of J. H. Welch, accompanied Irene Stucker, a granddaughter, of Dunbar, on a visit here at the Welch home, where all enjoyed a most pleasant time.

Reports from the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Curyea, of Lincoln, are to the effect that Mr. Curyea is still very sick, although everything possible is being done to speed the return to good health of the patient.

John Banning and wife were in Lincoln on last Wednesday, where Mr. Banning was called to look after some business matters and Mrs. Banning accompanied him, doing some shopping and visiting with friends.

Ralph Creamer was a visitor over night at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Jewell, enjoying his visit here very much, and on the following morning went with Elmer Rosenow to Elmwood, where he attended school. The school there closed last week.

Held Last Meeting

The Double Four H club of the neighborhood east of Alvo met last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry Welch, where they looked after the business coming before them and enjoyed an excellent program as well. Had Excellent Eats

On last Saturday night at the basement of the Alvo Methodist church, the members of the Mothers and Daughters club held a banquet and a program that included numerous musical selections interspersed with readings and short talks. A splendid time was had.

Will Alvo Celebrate?

The city of Alvo, with a citizenry that is intensely patriotic and who have exceptional talent, have been considering the question of whether or not to celebrate the passing of the national birthday in a fitting manner. If it is decided to pass up the celebration, those living in this vicinity will have to go elsewhere for entertainment and amusement. On the other hand, if a celebration is to be held, it is high time that steps be taken in that direction. All those interested in the matter should see Eugene Barkhurst.

Visitors from Oklahoma

Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Hoague, of Seneca, Oklahoma, visited for a few days last week with L. M. Scott and family in Alvo. Mr. Hoague was a co-worker with Mr. Scott as operators for the Rock Island and enjoyed the visit here with his old friend very much.

Found Business Good

George Trunkholz, of Greenwood, was visiting in Alvo, being accompanied by his friend, Gust Sorman, and they were busy sharpening old lawn mowers and putting them in good condition for the owners.

Methodist Church

The memorial sermon at the Methodist church was one which inspired all who were privileged to hear the same with a love of country and a reverence for the laws of same and for a love of the church which makes this the very best government of the world. Many attended the morning services at the church and during the afternoon the services at the cemetery, at which John E. Curtis was the speaker. The services were under direction of the members of the American Legion.

Making Progress at Hospital

Mrs. Wm. Paul, of Alvo, who has been at the hospital in Omaha for some time, where she underwent an operation for the removal of a growth from one of her eyes, is reported as getting along nicely, although the operation was a very severe one and caused her much pain. She expects to be able to return home soon.

Paper Changed in Form

What has been the Eagle Beacon, and published formerly at Eagle by A. J. Gardner, who disposed of the paper to Charles V. Seeley, of Weeping Water, where it has been published for several years, has been given a change of dress and a new name and is now published in Lincoln as well as edited there. It is still the property of Mr. Seeley, however. The Nebraska Beacon is the new name of the paper and Mrs. Clo O. Schaeffer is the local correspondent and writer from this vicinity.

Mooney Back to His Prison Cell at San Quentin

Directed Verdict of Acquittal on Old Charge, But Statutes Little Changed.

San Francisco.—A directed verdict of acquittal abruptly ended Thomas J. Mooney's new murder trial on the long dormant 1916 preparedness day bombing indictment to which he has looked as a weapon in his fight for vindication.

Mooney, who previously had announced he would immediately ask Governor Rolph to pardon him, was whisked out of the courtroom and back to San Quentin prison, where he is serving a life sentence on a conviction of a like charge.

"I am very happy," said Mooney as handcuffs were applied to his wrists, "in spite of the fact that I could not verbally deny my guilt." Personally taking charge of his own defense in the dramatic moment when the unwilling prosecution had moved for the directed verdict of acquittal and it was beginning to become apparent that the case would end without the presentation of evidence, Mooney pleaded earnestly but in vain with Superior Judge Ward for a full fledged trial.

After intimating he had no alternative but to direct an acquittal under the circumstances, Judge Ward withheld the instructions to the jury while Mooney pleaded on and while William Murphy, assistant district attorney, argued that the state had no case and could not prosecute. It was 12:30 p. m. when Judge Ward turned to the jury and recommended the instructed verdict. The jury retired to deliberate but it was only a formality. Two minutes later it returned to court, reported the verdict as prepared and was discharged.

Mooney now stands convicted in the eyes of the law on one murder charge and acquitted of another. What the next move of the defense would be, aside from asking a pardon, was not immediately apparent. Legal authorities said the directed acquittal would not affect his status on the previous conviction. Frank P. Walsh and Leo A. Gallagher, his attorneys, went to San Quentin immediately, expecting to confer with him and map out a future course of action. Mrs. Mary Mooney, mother of the prisoner, expressed pleasure at the verdict of acquittal. "I am very happy," she said. "This is another step. Tom is going back to San Quentin but I do not think he will be there much longer."

No sooner than six men and six women had been sworn in as jurors than Murphy moved for acquittal, contending that it was to the best interests of the state that no evidence be presented by the prosecution. Mooney was on his feet instantly.

"It is my desire," he said, "to exercise my constitutional right and defend myself with the aid of counsel."

"That will be accorded," said the judge. "But let me say that in ninety-nine cases out of 100 a man makes a fool of himself by attempting to represent himself in court. On one side of you you have one of the ablest lawyers in the United States; on the other you have an attorney who is thoroughly acquainted with all the facts. The court will adopt the rule that you are defending yourself thru counsel."—State Journal.

TRY TO ABDUCT JOLIET GIRL

Joliet, Ill.—A kidnaper attempted to abduct 4-year-old Shirley Mae Calkins, whose life had been threatened in bloodmeared death notes. The child was sleeping with her mother at the time.

Her father, Clyde C. Calkins, told police he was awakened before dawn by screams from his wife. He rushed to her room and found the child lying on the floor nearly paralyzed from fright. "A big, dark man came into the room," the child told police later. "He tried to carry me away. Mother screamed, and he dropped me and ran."

Pro Rate Funds in Effort to Keep Churches Going

Nebraska Evangelical Conference at Kearney Has New Plan—May Become General.

Kearney, Neb., May 26.—In an effort to preserve and keep intact every congregation, large and small, the Nebraska conference of the Evangelical church adopted here without a dissenting vote a somewhat radical departure in financing, to extend over the entire state area. It is believed by proponents of the plan that its adoption may become nationwide if proven effective in Nebraska.

The sole purpose of the plan is that of bridging the economic crisis which confronts the church. It is quite obvious that financial support has not been forthcoming as liberally as in the past, since incomes of the parishioners have been curtailed, and as a consequence abandonment has been a serious threat in some of the districts where funds were woefully short of meeting fixed expenditures.

Under the new financing proposals, a system of prorating has been adopted. This will apply both to salaries of pastors and to conference and general church budgets. Thus the stronger churches can help sustain the weaker institutions over the period of the crisis. Subscriptions are fixed and maximum expenditures are set down. The plan permits shifting of funds to the poorer districts, as the need may demand, without, at the same time, imposing hardships on any of the more prosperous congregations.

"Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ," was the keynote of the appeal to support the movement, and the entire constituency of the Nebraska conference supported it by their votes.

CATCHES BIG FISH

William and John Grebe, veteran fishermen, who for years have piled their vocation in the waters of the Missouri river, have secured a real catch. The two were out a few days ago and landed the largest fish that they have secured this season, a fine forty-seven pound white catfish. The fish was a magnificent specimen of its kind and one that makes a day's fishing worth while.

SCHOOL HONOR ROLL

No greater honor can come to a student of Plattsmouth high school than to be listed upon the scholastic honor roll, signifying diligent and faithful scholastic work and high class room marks. This list is announced at the close of each quarter and semester and is a coveted honor.

Plattsmouth high school is proud of the large list of honor students and it is a pleasing reflection upon the type of work done by the teachers and students. Those listed on the honor roll are those who have three "A's" or more in solid subjects. Obviously this includes only the highest ranking students, leaving a much larger number who do "B" or above average work. Then there is a still larger number who do "C" or average work, with only a small percentage in the "D" or lower group.

The following are the honor students for the last quarter and semester:

Seniors: George Adam, Sam Arn, Norma Baumgart, Donald Bushnell, Greth Garnett, Margaret Lahoda, Francis Libershal, Emily Lorenz, George Lushinsky, Stuart Porter, Marseilla Ramel, Virginia Samek, Mata Schacknels, Floyd Shanholtz, Elmore Smetana and Gertrude Voltery.
