RIVER CONTINUES TO RISE

From Thursday's Daily

The Missouri river at this point has continued its rise in the last few days and the waters are now backing up in the creeks and chutes that lead into the stream on the Nebraska side of the river. The flood water is not apparently the June rise from the mountains but is of a golden color apparently coming from a clay soil, which many of the rivermen figure is cause from the recent high waters in northern Iowa and Dakota. The height of the river at this time if it receives the regular June rise will make the stream the highest that it has been for the past few years and seriously threaten the overflow of the lowlands and bars on this side of the river.

SEEK FUNDS FOR ADDITION

Omaha.—Douglas County Commissioners Dennell and Jacobberger Wednesday advanced a proposal that application be made to the Reconstruction Finance corporation for a loan of funds to the county for the purpose of building two more units of the county hospital.

The two units needed to complete the structure are a building for general sick patients and a surgical building. Dennell said at least $500,000 would be needed. Jacobberger, however, said $500,000 "wouldn't begin to touch it."

Reforestation Jobs for 3,100 Nebraska Vets

Nebraska's Quota in New C. C. C. Division Announced—Apply by Mail to Veterans' Bureau

Federal reforestation jobs will be available to 3,100 Nebraska world war veterans, Seventh corps area of the army announced yesterday on advice from Washington.

Application must be made with Gordon Beck, manager of veterans administration facility, at Lincoln.

Beck said that although he had received no official instructions to enroll veterans, he had registered about one hundred applicants so far. He advised veterans not to come in person, but to register by mail until further notice.

The 3,100 allotment to Nebraska comprises about one-tenth part of the total number of veterans in the state. The largest year's membership in the American Legion ran around 19,000, but this year is in the neighborhood of 12,500 to date.

Captain J. R. D. Cleland, public relations officer at area headquarters in Omaha has sent notices to veterans administration managers at Kansas City, St. Louis, Little Rock, Wichita, Sioux Falls, Des Moines, Minneapolis and Milwaukee, advising them of the number allotted to their respective states to comprise the second unit of 25,000 men in the president's 250,000 manpower reforestation plan. By the new allotment all state quotas have been raised 10 per cent, and the law of averages would give every tenth world war veteran opportunity to engage in this work. It is probable the number of unemployed veterans in this state will not exceed this ration, although in some states of large populous centers, the ratio is undoubtedly much higher.

Veterans must enroll in the states in which they live. Selection of veterans will be in the hands of the veterans' administration offices and final plans will be announced shortly, that will probably include working through local organizations to save the men having to make trips to far-away points for examination and other details before they are finally accepted and ordered to camp.

Until the plans are announced, a tentative register will be open at the veterans' administration office at Lincoln and mail applications will be received.

These men will probably be conditioned at Fort Crook after the present quota of men now in camp there have been sent to jobs in Nebraska or other states.

One of the points in this state selected as a campsite for a company of 200 workers is the state recreation grounds at Louisville. After a few months of labor by this large force of men, the grounds should be greatly improved, and instead of being overrun with weeds will become a place of real beauty. Hundreds of people congregate there each Sunday as well as on week-days to fish, swim and go boating on the waters of the numerous sandpit lakes and when the work is completed the grounds will become a mecca for thousands of eastern Nebraska residents. The Conoco travel booklet on Nebraska includes the Louisville grounds in its list of places worth visiting, even in its present rough state.

As the men now at the fort are moved out to begin work their places will be taken by other Nebraskans, as different groups are admitted to training camp prior to being sent on to the begin their work.

HOW PERSHING CAME TO BUY

Washington, May 31.—General Pershing's friendship for the late Dwight Morrow and another member of the Morgan firm was given by George Whitney, a Morgan partner, as the reason for the general's appearance on the selected list of Morgan customers.

"During the war," Whitney testified, "Morrow and another Morgan partner got to know General Pershing quite well. They became the general's intimate friends. After the war General Pershing told them he knew little about business and asked them to assist him with his investments. As a result he was given an opportunity to take part in these various underwritings. It was a purely personal thing. Having asked them to advise him, General Pershing naturally accepted when he was offered opportunity to buy stock.

SHOOTING FOLLOWS A FEUD

Pasadena.—Dr. H. M. Griffith, formerly wealthy property owner, shot M. Vilas Hubbard, bank vice president, three times in the arm, police said, after having mailed him a death threat in an eight year feud over a property deal. Hubbard fired four shots in return. The shooting occurred on the front porch of the mansion of W. H. Hubbard, father of the victim. Police said Dr. Griffith went to the W. H. Hubbard residence, tied up a negro maid, summoned S. E. Marshall, who holds a mortgage on the Hubbard house, and then forced him at a pistol point to summon the younger Hubbard by telephone.

Police said Dr. Griffith met the younger Hubbard at the front door and opened fire. One of his bullets struck a passing truck, the driver of which rushed to the porch and disarmed Dr. Griffith. Hubbard recently complained to police that he was being molested by Dr. Griffith.

Same Security for Federal Farm Loans Required

Only Interest Need be Paid at First, However, Hogan Explains—Interest Rate Reduced

Omaha, June 2.—"The security requirements for a federal land bank loan have not been changed by the mortgage act of 1933, signed by the president May 12," stated D. P. Hogan, president of the Federal Land bank here in discussing the large volume of applications for loans being received from national farm loan associations. This increased demand for loans has resulted from the fact that all loans made by the bank thru such associations within two years after May 12 will be at the reduced rate of 4½ per cent interest for the five years period commencing July 11, 1933. During the same period, rates on outstanding loans made thru associations also will be reduced to 4½ per cent.

"Interest has been further stimulated by the fact that for the five years commencing May 12 both old and new borrowers may elect to pay only interest and not pay the usual installments on the principal, provided they are not delinquent in any of the other covenants of their mortgages such as the payment of interest, taxes and drainage or irrigation charges," continued Mr. Hogan.

"Payment of interest only on the part of borrowers who obtained their loans several years ago, means a considerably smaller semi-annual payment to the bank. For example, a borrower who obtained a $3,000 loan in 1917 bearing 5 per cent interest normally would pay the bank each six months. Of the last installment paid, $57.75 went to pay interest on the unpaid principal and $32.25 was applied to the reduction of his debt. Thus, should he pay the interest only his payment to the bank would be only $57.75, instead of the usual $90.

"The bank is receiving some inquiries for loans in areas where there are no national farm loan associations making new loans at this time, and it is giving careful consideration to such applications. Where loans are made directly by the bank the rate of interest is one-half of one per cent more than if borrowers secure their loans through national farm loan associations. Borrowers obtaining loans directly from the bank must agree to purchase stock to the extent of 5 per cent of the amount borrowed in the bank instead of the association.

"A farmer who borrows directly from the bank may agree in his mortgage that when there are ten or more borrowers who have obtained direct loans from the bank aggregating not less than $2,000 and who reside in any locality which may, in the opinion of the farm loan commissioner, be conveniently covered by the charter of and served by a national farm loan association, he will unite with other such borrowers to form an association."

CABLEGRAM TELLS OF FATHER'S DEATH

E. Sundstrom received a cablegram from Sweden last Saturday, announcing the death of his father, Hendrik A. Sundstrom at his home. As Mr. Sundstrom had not heard of any illness of his father, he concludes that his death was sudden. He was 77 years old.

He is survived by eight sons. Four are in California. They are Ludwig, Leonard, Carl and Ingvar. Three are in Sweden. Two daughters also survive. One is in Sweden and the other, Agnes, formerly of Louisville, is now living in Chicago, where she has been located for a number of years.

Mr. Sundstrom was saddened by the news of his father's passing, but he is happy to think of his visit back to his home a few years ago. His many friends sympathize with him greatly in his bereavement.—Louisville Courier.

Why a Soil Analysis is Important to Buyer

Will Show the Presence of Excess Alkali, Lack of Iron in the Soil, Etc.

The analysis of a sample of soil in a laboratory is of more practical value to a man who is thinking of buying a farm than it is to the farmer who has lived on the place for several years. E. B. Engle of the Nebraska college of agriculture explained. The farmer who observes the condition of his crop year after year can tell very closely whether or not his land is in need of nitrogen fertilizer, Engle believes. Nitrogen makes the dark green color and the large vegetable growth in farm crops and other plants. When the soil is lacking in nitrogen the plants are yellow and stunted.

The laboratory soil analysis will show very clearly whether or not the soil contains an excessive amount of alkali, Engle said. In taking soil samples for such a test, however, it is very important to get a sample from each foot of depth down to at least four feet. This is important because a good rain might carry most of the alkali out of the top few inches of soil and the alkali would not show up again until the soil became dry.

Conditions of the subsoil is really of more importance than the top few inches of soil, in Engle's opinion. It is easier to change the texture, fertility, and other characteristics of the top soil than it is the subsoil. When a good top soil is underlaid with a subsoil of gravel or with a subsoil of hard clay, the land will not be as productive year after year as another soil underlaid with a good deep subsoil.

Farmers in the North Platte valley often notice that the leaves of trees, shrubs, etc., turn yellow in the early part of the season and plants do not develop properly. The common trouble in that section is excessive lime in the soil which interferes with the plant obtaining the proper amount of iron. Iron is necessary for the proper development of green color in leaves which enables the plant to manufacture its food. Supplying the plant with iron in the form of coppers will correct the trouble, several tests in the North Platte valley have shown.

COYOTE KILLED BY CAR NEAR TECUMSEH

Tecumseh, June 2.—A coyote was run down and killed this week by an automobile which Fred Mohler was driving.

Accompanied by Mrs. Mohler, Mrs. John F. Croft and Miss Erma Croft, Mohler was driving northeast of here when the coyote sprang up in the road ahead of him. By swinging his car from side to side, he kept the coyote in the road. It seemed dazzled by the headlights and did not try to leave the highway. Finally it was killed by the bumper of the car.
