

Compensation Rule Hits Thousands in State

One Group of 4,176 Veterans in Nebraska to Lose U. S. Allowance.

New soldier compensation rules laid down in Washington will affect many world war and Spanish-American war veterans in Nebraska.

In the state, 2,904 world war veterans, of whom about one-fifth reside in Omaha, were allotted a total of $1,453,496 for the fiscal year 1932 under the old disability compensation law. Of these it is estimated that about 15 per cent receiving compensation under the "service-connected presumption" rule, may be cut off entirely under the new regulations.

Under the strictly non-service connected disability allowance, 4,176 world war veterans in the state were receiving a total of $867,168. All these will be cut off from compensation entirely, it is believed, except those who are totally disabled. The totally disabled are estimated to number not more than about one in 40.

In Nebraska, under the old regulations more than six thousand Spanish-American veterans were receiving more than three million dollars. Under the new regulations it is believed about one-half will lose part or all of their pensions.

It was reported Saturday that apparently there will be no change under new rules in the status of persons, both soldiers and civilians, who receive pensions by special acts of congress.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1932, there were 14,522 persons over the country who by special congressional acts were receiving pensions totaling $6,358,672 annually.

TROUBLE AT LOUISVILLE

Deputy Sheriff Jarvis Lancaster was called to Louisville on Monday afternoon to look after a case that had arisen there in the court of Justice P. A. Jacobson. A complaint had been filed in the justice court there and which charged Mr. and Mrs. Carl Grassman with disturbing the peace, a hearing being had and Justice Jacobson imposed a fine of $10 and costs on each of the defendants or a five day jail sentence. It being necessary to impose the jail sentence the defendants were placed in the custody of the deputy. Mr. Grassman was brought here yesterday but as the wife was not in Louisville at the time it was necessary to make an additional trip there and then it was found by the deputy that no arrangements had been made to care for the children of the couple, the deputy accordingly insisted that the Louisville officers make some arrangements to care for the children if the parents were both to be brought here.

PLANNING THEIR TRIP

From Monday's Daily Billy Rosencrans and Jimmie Webb go to Louisville tonight to meet with the Boy Scout troop of that place and discuss with Scoutmaster R. D. Murphree plans for the fourth annual "gypsy hike" of the Louisville Scout troop. These two Plattsmouth boys were privileged to make the trip to Jacksonville, Florida, last year, and have been promised a place on this year's trip.

It is planned to start the last week in July and the probable points to be visited include Chicago, Detroit, into Canada, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Albany, New York City and Washington, D. C., with the return trip over a more southerly route.

Rev. Murphree has had many requests from the parents of boys all over eastern Nebraska, asking for a place for their sons on this year's trip, but will confine his load to members of his own Scout troop and the two Plattsmouth boys, unless a vacancy occurs among those now signed to go.

GEORGE MAKES THE MAGAZINE SECTION

George W. Olson, of this city, who has gained a great deal of publicity by his mathematical problems, was given a place in the magazine section of the Omaha World-Herald Sunday. The story carried a picture of Mr. Olson as he demonstrated his proposition of squaring the circle which has been submitted by Mr Olson to many of the college heads. The local man has apparently performed a feat in mathematics that was considered an impossibility.

TO LOOK AFTER PRESCRIPTIONS

Dr. R. P. Westover, one of the leading members of the medical profession here, is also one who believes in helping out his fellow man where possible and accordingly is to help in the conduct of the Mauzy drug store while Mr. Mauzy is at the Chicago fair. Dr. Westover will care for the prescriptions at the store during the time that Mr. Mauzy is absent, looking after this in addition to his regular professional work.
