home somewhat tired, but having enjoyed the day most pleasantly.

Business Looking Better

The Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company have had in progress a campaign for better business, and have been rewarded by good results over their entire territory, as is evidenced by the results in Murdock, where with the efficient work of Misses Helen and Mary Bornemeier, they have added some sixteen new phones to the list on the exchange. A new service being inaugurated is the sending of markets for a brief period at nine o'clock. The message is limited to two hundred words at each period of dispatch and is now sent out three days of the week by Mrs. George Miller and the other three days by the Warren Produce company. It is expected to extend this service to include quotations on grain as well. The poultry and cream markets are now being furnished regularly, as well as the weather, which makes it very convenient for those in business as well as the farmer, for it is a farm service.

The telephone is well nigh indispensable to the conduct of modern day business, and instead of being a luxury, is an investment that can be made to yield good returns.

WARNS OF FARM RACKETEER

Washington.—Farmers were warned against employing experts to draw up their contracts in the acreage reduction campaign under which farmers will be paid benefits for agreements to reduce acreage in 1934 and 1935. Chester C. Davis, director of crop production, said reports had come to him that individuals posing as experts had offered to "make out the papers" for farmers who intended to sign agreements for 10 percent of the cash payments the farmers would receive.

"No wheat growers who intend to participate in the program for adjusting production and to receive compensation payments for his co-operation needs to pay anybody for helping him make out the necessary forms, statements and agreements," Davis said. "All necessary forms will be presented to the wheat growers by authorized agents of the secretary of agriculture. In some instances the county extension agents will represent the secretary; in other cases, special agents will be employed and assistance will be given without cost to the farmer."

DRYS FAVOR THIRD PARTY

Milwaukee, July 5.—Dissatisfied with the stand taken by both major political parties, the annual convention of the national Women's Christian Temperance Union adopted a resolution proposing a third party which would attract dry voters. The plea for the resolution was made from the floor of the convention. The members of the committee were hastily assembled and submitted the following resolution:

"As the leaders of the major political parties are supporting the repeal of the eighteenth amendment, we call upon dry men and women in every state to consider sympathetically proposals for the formation of a new political party which will actively support the principles and policies of prohibition, along with other great moral issues. The times call for citizens to return to the standard of justice and honesty set by the framers of the constitution." The organization adopted the resolution as the final act of business of the annual convention, which ended with the acceptance speech of the new president, Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith, of Des Moines.

VISITING IN OMAHA

Lloyd B. Wilson, of Washington, D. C., president of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co., is in Omaha where he is enjoying a visit with his mother, Mrs. Carrie Wilson and his sister, Mrs. Madge W. Johnston, 2304 Poppleton avenue. Mr. Wilson is a former Plattsmouth resident and for several years was general commercial superintendent of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. at their Omaha office.

More Poison Asked to Combat Hoppers

Senator Anderson Arrives to Appeal to Governor Bryan for Additional Funds.

An appeal for delivery of as much more poison bran as has already been furnished northeastern Nebraska to combat grasshoppers will be carried to Governor Bryan Thursday by State Senator Anderson of Bristow. Anderson arrived in Lincoln Wednesday night to appeal to the state to come again to the relief of the territory which is suffering its second serious grasshopper infestation in three years.

"The poison we have had has checked the hoppers," Anderson said, "but it will take as much again and maybe more to continue to hold them in control."

The state already has spent more than $6,500 of the $10,000 fund available for the next two years for poison, chiefly in half a dozen northeastern counties. The infestation is not as general as in 1931 when drouth and hoppers almost devastated the territory but infested districts report local conditions more serious than two years ago.

Senator Anderson said he also would ask Governor Bryan to plan hand and team labor road work for that section to furnish cash employment for hard-pressed farmers and laborers, who have seen their grains, hay and pastures destroyed by heat and drouth. He said rain can yet save the corn crop but must come soon. Rain also would permit farmers to plant forage crops to help take care of feed for livestock next winter.

COMMUNISTS HOLD FUNERAL

Omaha.—Communists and communist sympathizers gathered at Workers hall here to conduct funeral services for Edward Fritsche, 59, who died June 28 of a blood clot which affected his heart.

The funeral was described in 5,000 handbills distributed by the organizers as a "mighty protest that will be heard thruout the state." The protest is aimed at the Douglas county board and was coupled with a demand for larger relief rations and for unemployed insurance.

The handbills said flatly that starvation was the cause of death. Mrs. Fritsche said she turned funeral arrangements over to communists because she had no money to pay for them.

Bryan Leaves Home for Trip to His Farm

First Time Executive Has Been Out in Eight Months—Is Slowly Building Up Strength.

Lincoln, July 5.—Governor Bryan's first trip from the executive mansion in eight months was a happy memory today as he spent long hours, as usual, on state business.

With Mrs. Bryan, he rode to his farm four miles southwest of here Monday and inspected the live stock raised there under his direction.

Seated on a wagon tongue he watched while employes led out spring calves, pigs and colts and showed just how the farm had progressed during the months of his illness with heart disease and complications.

"I'm sitting up half the day now and working around my room in business clothes. I can go down stairs with a cane and I was out on the front porch the other day," he said.

"The poison's out of my system now that the teeth are gone," he said. "And now it's just a question of building up my strength."

FUNERAL OF EDWARD MARTIN

From Saturday's Daily
This morning at the Sattler funeral home the last rites were held for Edward Martin, long time resident of this city, whose death occurred several days ago at Sheridan, Wyoming. The chapel was filled with the old time friends of the family and associates in the years gone by, who came to pay their last respects to this fine gentleman now gone to his last rest.

The services were the impressive Episcopal ritual and conducted by Canon Petter, rector of the St. Luke's church, where in the years past Mr. Martin had been a member.

Following the service the body was borne to the Oak Hill cemetery where it was consigned to the last long rest in the family plot in that cemetery. The pall bearers were old associates in the Burlington shops and family friends, W. C. Tippens, Val Burkle, John Ledgway, J. H. McMaken, W. C. Soennichsen and Thomas J. Walling.
