

MURDOCK ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gakemeier were enjoying a visit with one of their daughters and her husband, Rev. and Mrs. Wolters, of Arlington, near Fremont.

Thomas Christian, who has been making his home at Eagle, but more recently at Louisville, is now living a mile west of Murdock, having moved there but a short time ago.

C. E. Helmers, formerly an employee of the Bank of Murdock, but now residing in Omaha, was spending a few days in Murdock last week, calling on his friends here and looking after some business matters.

The Murdock fire department has organized a kittenball team and if they are as good at playing this game as they are at fighting and preventing fires, it will be no use for the players of surrounding towns to try and wrest a game from the champion players here.

Due to the activity of the chicken thieves of late, many of the farmers of this vicinity are providing themselves with heavy artillery in order to be prepared for the next raid on their henhouses. So, we would not be surprised, if this practice keeps up, to learn of someone being filled pretty full of lead.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tool were spending some time in Sioux City, Iowa, where their daughter, Mrs. W. P. Meyers and family reside. They went up a week ago Saturday and returned the latter part of last week. While they were away, Douglass was looking after the store as well as acting as housekeeper at home.

Eugene Ault, of Plattsmouth, was a visitor in Murdock for the day last Wednesday, and was a guest while here of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. McDonald and had a very good visit. He had been expecting to get to visit with his cousin, Bobbie McDonald, but found the latter away, as he has accepted a position on a farm near Benkelman, out in the southwestern part of the state.

Showing Nice Increase
The reinstallation of discarded telephones and addition of new ones has been going forward here with good success as a part of the Lincoln Telephone company's "Business Recovery" campaign, being conducted throughout the territory it serves in southeastern Nebraska. The quota of installations given to the operators of the Murdock exchange was twenty-three and that number has been exceeded while the campaign has some time yet to run. The telephone is a modern day necessity and homes that have tried to get along without it in order to help beat the depression have found the inconvenience worth much more than the small amount involved, and now, with the prices of grain and farm products looking up, many are putting their phones back in.

Entirely Cleaned This Time
Someone somewhere, or rather a greater number than that, has a decided taste for chicken and last week made a second raid on the henery of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Neitzel, getting the 125 chickens that were left from a former raid and cleaning out the chicken house and yards.

Joins the Reforestation Forces
Lloyd Fifer, living near Alvo, and a friend of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Craig, recently joined the reforestation force and is now at Fort Crook where he is waiting transfer to one of the camps in Nebraska to begin work. Last Sunday he was visited by Mrs. Fifer and Mr. and Mrs. Craig, they all enjoying a pleasant day together and a good time.

Cass County Hard to Beat
Some people think Iowa the best state, others think Illinois the one, while some have still different ideas about the matter. Be that as it may, when it comes to eastern Nebraska, it is hard to beat this country as to crops. Cass county is the garden spot of this entire territory and produces the finest of crops. It is an old saying that "It always rains in Cass county fifteen minutes before it is too late," and this year was no exception, for things looked like there would be no crops for a while. Will Rueter was doubtful if his wheat would yield twenty bushels to the acre, but when the time came to harvest it and the combine was put in operation, the yield was exactly 25 bushels to the acre. And so it has been with many others. Cass county is still in the running and able to produce her share of the crops to feed the world.

Kittenball Looking Up
The matter of pitching horseshoes in Murdock, that held favor for so long, even over golf and every other kind of amusement, is up against a tough opponent now, as kittenball is being introduced here. Of course the devotees of barnyard golf will not give it up over night or anything like that, and there are still a lot who pitch the quoits daily, and another group that comprise the audience, but nevertheless kittenball is gaining in favor and Murdock has a fine team that is meeting those from neighboring towns with a great deal of success. Men, women, boys and girls are all trying their hand at this new game and seem to like it. It may be horseshoe pitching is doomed, but we scarcely think so, and will not believe it until we actually see it pushed aside for the newer game. Murdock has too many expert shoe tossers for that.

Brother Dies in Canada
Last week, Lawrence Race, the garage man, returned from a trip to Canada, where he and a brother who resides in Elmwood, were called by the death of a third brother at Stratford, Ontario. The younger brother, Alfred Race, who had been ill for some time, underwent an operation of great severity, and which resulted in his death. When the brothers here were notified of the serious condition of their brother at Stratford, they departed at once and remained for the funeral of the unfortunate young man, returning home last week. Mr. Race and family have the sympathy of their many old friends in Nebraska in this their hour of sorrow.

To Celebrate 50th Anniversary
No, this is not a wedding anniversary, but a golden jubilee for the church at Ithica, which was founded by the Rev. Louis Neitzel, who preached there for two years from 1883 to 1884, and from there was sent to Omaha, going then to Madison and later to Milford, when he quit the ministry and came to the new town of Murdock just being started, and staked out a place for an excavation for the basement of a new store, that being in the year 1891. So, he has grown up with the town, still continuing in business here, where he has spent so many happy days, and withal some prosperous ones as well.

Now, after 50 years, the church at Ithica is to have a three day celebration and Mr. Neitzel is to make an address to the congregation fifty years after the institution of the church and the erection of the first modest church building there half a century ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Neitzel are arranging to go to Ithica for the three day celebration, which will be held on August 4th, 5th and 6th, and are looking forward to a most pleasant visit.

Mr. Neitzel came to Murdock on April 7, 1891, immediately beginning the erection of his store building, and on June 30, 1891, moved his family here, they having made their home here ever since.

CLUB MEETING

The Six Sewing Sallies met at the home of Fred Fornoff June 23. They judged dust cloths. Marie Lentz got first prize; Phyllis Speck second and Freda Fornoff third.

They were to make laundry bags. The next meeting was held at the home of Marie Lentz. There we read how to make an apron.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Phyllis Speck July 18. A delicious lunch was served at the last two meetings and was enjoyed by all club members.
