Had a Peculiar Experience
When A. Steinkamp drove up to the filling station of Aug Krecklow

Smiling Invader

A smile on her lips, but determination in her heart, Joan Ridley, English tennis star, is pictured as she arrived at New York on the S. S. Olympic to seek fresh laurels on the courts. She will participate in the national championships at Forest Hills, L. I.

to get some gas, he had a peculiar experience and one that he will not forget for quite some time. It so happened that he drove a little past the pump from which he desired to secure the gas. He had gotten out of the car, and so loosened the brake in order that the car might settle back to the desired spot. The ground being sloping, the car did not "choose" to stop once it started rolling, and kept right on going—something that Adolph had not anticipated and all that he could do to stop it was of no avail, especially in his weakened condition following a recent stroke. The car ran backwards across the street, and shot through between the trees near the bank and the building, carrying Mr. Steinkamp with it and squeezing him between the car and the brick wall of the building, continuing on its way until it came to an abrupt halt when it ran into a coal shed at the rear, with some damage to both the shed and the car. Mr. Steinkamp was so badly injured that he was compelled to take to his bed for a few days. He is now getting some better, although still very sore, both externally and internally. It was one time that the car would run without gas, although nobody wanted it to do just that.

DENOUNCES POLICE TACTICS

Philadelphia. — Mrs. Cornelia Pinchot, dynamic wife of Pennsylvania's chief executive, extended her picketing activities to Philadelphia and denounced methods of police on strike duty at silk hosiery plants. From suburban Croyden, where she joined picket lines at the Blue Moon Silk Hosiery company plant, Mrs. Pinchot telephoned J. A. Lestrangle, acting superintendent of police in Philadelphia, and criticized what she termed disrespect of constitutional rights of the strikers. Mrs. Pinchot drove from her home in Milford to pledge her support to the strikers' cause. She addressed a gathering of 1,800 at Croyden and then conferred with a group of strikers from the Cambria Silk Hosiery company plant in Philadelphia before telephoning Lestrangle. "I am informed the police at the Cambria mill are as bad as deputy sheriffs at Lansdale and in the soft coal fields of Fayette county," she told him.

MEN ADVANCED FROM RANKS

Washington. — Members of the civilian conservation corps who have been promoted in the forestation work from $1 a day jobs to those paying $26 to $45 a month will take over on Sept. 1 positions of leadership in the camps. Some 4,000 regular army officers and enlisted men are to be withdrawn from the conservation corps' administrative personnel by that time and only two commissioned officers and two enlisted men will be maintained at each camp. Approximately 200 reserve officers will be called to active duty to fill the vacancies left by removal of regular army officers and the enrolled men who have been promoted to the better pay basis will take the places vacated by the enlisted men.

RECEIVER IS REPLACED

E. C. Manny of West Point, receiver for the West Point National bank, also has received notice he will be displaced but no successor has been named.

State Tax is Charged Against the Counties

Increase Made in the Levy, But Total Amount to Be Raised Shows a Decrease of $1,109,895

State Tax Commissioner Smith has compiled a statement showing that the levy of 2.39 mills for state taxes will bring into the state treasury $4,955,147 for the year 1933 as compared with a total state tax revenue of $5,975,042 for the year 1932 when the levy was 2.39 mills on the dollar. The decrease this year is $1,109,895. Lancaster county is this year charged with payment of $305,134 to the state as compared with $360,677 on last year's levy. Douglas county this year must pay to the state $632,797 as compared with $740,549 last year.

Comparison of the state tax levies for 1933 and 1932 upon counties follows:

Roosevelt's Approval Means Jobs for Many

Word to Start Construction Follows Closely Japan's Inauguration of Big Naval Program.

Hyde Park.—President Roosevelt approved plans of the navy for construction of twenty-one new warships in the 238-million-dollar building program.

The president carefully analyzed the bids recently received by the navy and the allotments decided on by the commanders. His approval signalled an immediate start on work providing jobs for thousands in government and private shipyards.

Admiral William Standley, chief of operations, and Rear Admiral Emory Land, chief of construction, brought the naval construction program to the summer White House by seaplane.

Mr. Roosevelt talked the plans over with his naval chiefs and after giving his approval with them the formal announcement of assignments to yards for construction of the ships.

The start of America's huge naval construction comes just after word from Japan of the start of a building program there.

Mr. Roosevelt's ship building plan comes under the public works program and is intended to give the American fleet the strength it is allowed under existing naval limitations agreements.

Both republicans and democrats in congress have urged that the American fleet be built up to the terms allowed by the London agreement.

About 46 million dollars is to be expended this year and a total of 238 million dollars over three years.

Omaha Headquarters for the Federal Relief

Majority of Projects There; Hearing to Be Held at Fremont on Crete Project.

Fremont, Neb.—Omaha was recommended Wednesday afternoon as headquarters city for the administration of federal relief projects in Nebraska by John Latenser, jr., Omaha, and Dan V. Stephens, Fremont, the majority of the state advisory board, in a conference here. Omaha was designated because the regional office is there and more projects are contemplated in that vicinity than anywhere else.

The first hearing on public works projects will be held here by the board Friday at 1 p. m. A proposed sewage disposal plant for Crete at an estimated cost of $34,488 will then be considered. Mayor Kobes and other city officers of Crete have been invited to attend.

Latenser and Stephens reiterated their desire to obtain information of contemplated projects immediately so preliminary surveys may be made. They plan several other hearings next week and will continue hearings as fast as applications are made and the desired information is available. Other projects have been fully submitted and are being studied.

The advisory board was notified that George Hodge, Lincoln, state re-employment director, has begun his survey of unemployment by counties. Neunemployment conditions and the usefulness and need of projects are factors considered most in giving approval.

Projects already applied for and their cost: Scottsbluff city auditorium, $127,000; Lincoln county jail and heating plant at North Platte, $50,000; Middle Loup irrigation and power pldoject at Arcadia $1,500,000; Crete sewage disposal plant, $34,488; Platte valley power and irrigation district at Gothenburg, $4,805,877; Great Plains community hospital at North Platte, $50,000; North Loup public power and irrigation district, $2,905,951.

Preliminary information has been submitted on the following proposed projects: Water and gas extensions of the metropolitan utilities district at Omaha, $967,520; Loup City irrigation power company to irrigate 47,000 acres of land on the Middle Loup river between Arcadia and Comstock, $1,300,000. Also second well for DuBois water system, Henderson school addition, Gibbon school, Oconto water system, and Hyannis water improvements, amounts of each not stated.

SEEKS STOCK YARD CHANGE

Grand Island.—E. P. Ryan, traffic manager of the Grand Island chamber of commerce, has filed a petition with the interstate commerce commission asking suspension of an order listing four Nebraska stock yards as "public stock yards," and thus limiting their time of reshipment of feeder cattle to seventy-two hours.

The order involves yards in Grand Island, Norfolk, York and Scottsbluff, and Ryan claims it is unjustifiable and injurious discrimination. His petition asks also that an investigation be held and a proper remedy applied.

Limiting the time for reshipment of inbound stocker and feeder cattle at these points to seventy-two hours, the petition sets forth, would have the effect of drastically increasing stocker and feeder rates into these markets. The increases would involve amounts as much as $35 a carload, the petition added.

CHALLENGES GANGSTER RULE

Chicago.—Joseph B. Keenan, assistant U. S. attorney general in charge of the federal government's drive against kidnaping, racketeering and extortion, declared that the national administration "will not permit substitution of a government of the underworld in place of lawfully constituted authority." Speaking at the joint banquet of the International Association of Chiefs of Police and International Association for Identification, Keenan said that the government is "in dead earnest" in its campaign and urged co-operation of local authorities.

"The efforts of the government in this drive," Keenan said, "will be first, to vigorously and relentlessly enforce the federal law with particular emphasis on suppression of the crimes of kidnaping and other forms of threat and violence; second, to attempt in a lawful and sound manner to lend itself as a co-ordinating and co-operative law enforcement agency in all communities."

COMPLAIN OF A SALESMAN

St. Louis.—Selling the blue eagle emblems to persons unauthorized to buy them was charged in a federal warrant issued against Harlan French, a salesman. French's arrest is believed to be one of the first on such a charge. The warrant, issued by United States Commissioner Burke on complaint of Bryan Purtest, assistant United States attorney, further charges that French's alleged violations of the provisions of the recovery act obstructed and impeded President Roosevelt's program. Issuance of a warrant, Purtest said, followed complaints that French sold the emblems to employers who have not signed the blanket code for shorter working hours and increased wages. He added he was considering the advisability of issuing warrants against the unauthorized persons who purchased the emblems. Purtest said French, who is being held in jail at Clayton, was understood to be employed by a company authorized to manufacture and sell the emblems.

FANNING FLAMES OF WAR

Tokyo.—The usually conservative Tokyo newspaper Asahi gave a prominent place to "reliable reports" of a secret Chinese-American aviation treaty which it said was recently negotiated in Washington by Dr. S. Alfred Sze, Chinese minister to Washington, and the American state department. If the pact is made effective, Asahi said, "it will gravely menace Japan's national defenses, wherefore the reports are claiming the serious attention of the imperial army." A foreign office spokesman said his bureau had no knowledge of such a treaty.

Washington.—William Phillips, acting secretary of state, said reports in Japanese newspapers of a secret Chinese-American aviation treaty are entirely without foundation. The Tokyo reports said such a treaty was negotiated in Washington by the Chinese minister and contemplated expenditure by China of 40 million dollars for American aircraft and the employment of American fliers as instructors. Similar reports have appeared in the orient of recent months and on all occasions the state department has declared them absurd.

STEAL FROM SCRUBWOMAN

New York.—Anastasia Kopy worked most of her forty-five years as a menial to accumulate $6,700. Now she is penniless and her latest employers are being held to the grand jury charged with "the rottenest crime" in the history of Magistrate Earl A. Smith's court. Four years ago Anastasia went to work for Jake and Mollie Arnowitz, scrubbing floors, washing, cleaning and cooking for $35 a month. Hard times came. She worked on for her board. The Arnowitz pair learned one day of her bank account. And they knew she was ill. They persuaded her to turn over her money to them and let them arrange for an operation for her. The operation was performed—for $100. When she was released from the hospital—where she nearly died—the Arnowitz denied she had given them anything more than $100. They told police she was "talking balmy." The police believed Anastasia.

CHURCHES ARE UNDER NRA

Omaha.—Even the churches are lining up in the ranks of President Roosevelt's NRA recovery army. While some Omaha church officials are out of town on vacations, others announced that the "blue eagle" will fly at their churches. The Catholic diocesan offices have been placed under the president's code at the request of Bishop Joseph F. Rummel.

CONTINUE RULO SERVICE

Atchison, Kas.—Orders to continue service on the forty-five mile Atchison-Rulo, Neb., branch of the Burlington railroad were received from company's headquarters. Abandonment of the line was ordered by the interstate commerce commission effective July 19. A postponement was obtained by S. M. Brewster, United States district attorney representing communities of the line. The postponement is understood to be for the purpose of giving Brewster time to plea for a re-hearing.

Burlington May Drop Two of Its Colorado Lines

Leadville and Silver Plume Roads No Longer Carry Fortune—Meeting to Be Held.

Denver, Aug. 3.—Like the ghost towns that dot their steel trails two Colorado railroads that have hauled fabulous fortunes in gold and silver soon may pass into oblivion, victims of gasoline and rubber.

One line is the Colorado & Southern South Park railroad that connected Denver with the boom mining camp of Leadville in the days when H. A. W. Tabor was making his millions in silver. The other is the Denver and Silver Plume line, including the famed Georgetown loop that was the marvel of railroad engineering 50 years ago when it was constructed.

A statement by Edward Flynn, operating vice-president of the Burlington railroad, has revealed the company will renew its application before the interstate commerce commission to abandon the Leadville road. The application was filed three years ago but action was delayed to determine if the road could regain business lost to busses and trucks. Flynn said the volume of business has decreased since that time.

The fate of the Silver Plume rests with the residents along the line, Flynn said. A meeting with shippers will be held soon and if they agree to give more business to the railroads instead of to trucks and busses, Flynn said the company will rebuild a portion of the line recently damaged by floods and service will be resumed.

Both lines follow tortuous narrow mountain canyons. At many points the precipitous walls of the canyon are so close passengers are warned not to extend their arms or heads from the car windows. Within a few feet of the other side of the rails are rapid, foaming streams.—World-Herald.

LIPT LAUNDRY WAGE SCALE

Washington.—Wage and hour schedules under which the laundry industry will operate in lieu of President Roosevelt's re-employment agreement pending completion of its own code were authorized by Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator. Wages for the laundry industry varied from a low of 15 cents an hour in the south for women, to a high of 50 cents for men in the east, with a 10 percent reduction allowable in cities under 100,000 population, for a forty-five hour week.

The wage scales for the laundry industry were: Women: Twenty-five cents an hour in the east, 14 cents in the south, 20 cents in the southwest and 22 1/2 cents in the north. Men over 19: Forty cents in the east, 20 cents in the south, 32 cents in the southwest and 35 cents in the north.

Engineers, firemen and maintenance crews were allowed 50 cents in the east; 35 cents in the south, 40 cents in the southwest, and 45 cents in the north, also subject to the 10 percent reduction provision.

Office workers were allowed $14 minimum in cities of over 500,000; $13.50 in those between 100,000 and 50,000, and $13 in those under 100,000, with $1 a week less to be paid in the south.
