

Weeping Water

Sam Baker, the carpenter, has been placing a new roof on the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Jourgensen.

S. Ray Smith was looking after some business matters in Omaha for the past few days, he having some repairs made on some property which he has there.

The Rev. and Mrs. George I. Morey of the Methodist church of Hooper were in Weeping Water Monday, coming to conduct the funeral of the late Richard Bish of Denver.

Messrs. and Mesdames C. W. Bish and W. D. Bish of Denver where they are engaged in business, were here during this week, coming to be present at the funeral of son and nephew, Richard Bish.

Art Right, who has been making his home in the building which was formerly occupied by Anton Jourgensen as a cream station has moved to the home of Bert Fisher in the Wm. Dunn residence.

Spencer Marshall and John Cole were visiting at Union last Tuesday, they driving over to the hustling sister town for a short time where they had some business matters to look after.

Miss Anna Hubbard has been having a new roof placed on her home and as well some repairs made to the chimneys, placing the home in the very best condition before the opening of the winter.

Mrs. Edna Shannon was a visitor for a number of days last week at Plattsmouth where she enjoyed the company of her friends there as well as attending the Korn Klub Carnival which was held there for four days last week.

Rudolph Hart and family were enjoying attending the Korn Klub Carnival held at Plattsmouth during the past week, going over on last Friday and was greatly pleased in the way that the people of Plattsmouth endeavored to entertain them.

John W. Kintner who a number of years ago was farming southeast of Weeping Water, but who moved with the family are making their home at Idaho Falls, Idaho, arrived here late last week and has been visiting with his son, Dr. Elmer Kintner and also with his host of friends here. Mr. Kintner reports that crops are excellent in the west where he resides.

Margaret Cron of Louisville, Kentucky, who was a visitor at the Century of Progress exposition and after enjoying a week there came via Weeping Water and visited here with her cousins, Miss Agnes Rough Arthur Rough and family here, Stewart Rough and family of Nehawka and other relatives at Havlock and Lincoln for a number of days before returning to her home in the south.

Entertained O. E. S. Kensington. Mrs. Vivian Jones, assisted by Mrs. G. R. Binger entertained at the A. H. Jones home the members of the Eastern Star at their Kensington and where there was a large crowd who enjoyed the meeting very much, an excellent program being presented.

Weeping Water at Plattsmouth. Demonstrating a kindly fellowship between the two largest towns of Cass county, Weeping Water was represented by hundreds of her citizens and also by their excellent band at Plattsmouth, in celebrating their fall festival the Korn Carnival. The people of Plattsmouth, while they had an excellent entertainment for four days, were fortunate in the fact that there was ideal weather during the entire time of their festivities.

Weeping Water in caring for the Cass county fair was handicapped by the very bad weather which continued for nearly the entire week but by hard work and real courage, the management of the fair produces one of the very best of fairs, and one which was better than some half dozen of paid fairs which have been held during the past month and a half. Only in one instance was there a fair equal to this one and perhaps another with as large or larger crowds, they being the ones at Hooper and Syracuse. Working under adverse conditions the Cass county fair was one of the very best in all points.

Richard Bish Dies. Richard Bish of Denver, where the folks make their home and who were former residents of Weeping Water, was stricken with appendicitis and underwent an operation, but not being extra strong, succumbed to the effects of the affliction and the operation, passed away at his home in Denver. The remains were brought here and the funeral conducted from the old Bish home in Weeping Water and the interment made at the Oakwood cemetery. The funeral was under the direction of the Hobson funeral home. The funeral discourse was conducted by the Rev. George I. Morey, former pastor of the Methodist church here and at present min-

Attended Funeral at Manley. The American Legion, of which Humphrey Murphy was an honored member and in honor of this excellent young man who recently lost his life in an auto accident at Louisville, went in a body to attend the funeral which was held at Manley Wednesday morning. The firing squad also accompanied the legion and fired a salute over the last resting place of the mortal remains of their departed brother.

WEATHER VARIATIONS From Wednesday's Daily The last days of September are showing a wide variation of weather as summer struggles in the first days of the autumnal season. On Monday this section of Nebraska sweltered under temperatures that ranged from 80 to 90 while this morning the mercury indicated that 38 above zero had been reached during the night, or some six degrees above the freezing point.

Terryberry - Fullerton Wedding Monday

Popular Young People Are Joined in Wedlock at the Residence of Dr. H. G. McClusky.

The marriage of two of the popular and well known young people of this community occurred Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in this city when Miss Florence Catherine Terryberry and Mr. Howard E. Fullerton were united in the bonds of holy wedlock.

The wedding occurred at the Presbyterian manse. The attendants were Miss Florence Schaefer, niece of the bride and Mr. Glen Terryberry, brother of the bride.

The bride wore brown faille and velvet. Miss Schaefer was gowned in brown crepe. The bride's going away dress was fallie branzene green.

The groom and Mr. Terryberry wore dark conventional suits.

The bride is the daughter of James Terryberry, one of the prominent residents west of this city.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Fullerton of Buffalo, Mo. After a short trip they will make their home in this city.

ORGANIZE STUDENT COUNCIL

Members of the student council for the high school have been selected in each class and this important group is now affecting its organization for the work of the year. For the past several years, the council has played an important part in the student life of the high school as it has charge of the presentation of the programs and in any matters representing the entire school. Further it serves admirably as a connecting link between the faculty and the student body. Service in this organization requires a student of a high type who is willing to accept responsibility and has the initiative to carry out the program. The presidency of the council is perhaps the most responsible student position because this officer is the directing force behind the work of the council. Each year, this is recognized as able presidents are chosen.

This year, Mary Ann Rosencrans, three times class president was chosen and assumed her duties as chairman of the opening convocation Tuesday. With her experience as class president and native ability, she should make a splendid leader for the student body this year. A vice president and treasurer will be chosen soon.

HONOR LOCAL MAN
Paul Iverson of Plattsmouth was recently appointed business manager of the 1933-34 "Bronco," the year-book of Hastings College, it was announced by the editor, Charles Richards of David City.

Work has already begun on the book for this year and the students expect to record a complete account of the year's activities.

Mr. Iverson is also Junior class representative on the Hastings College student council.

A CARD OF THANKS

Social Workers Enjoy 'Friendship Tea' Yesterday

Over 100 Attend the Event Held at the Parlors of the First Methodist Church Tuesday.

From Wednesday's Daily The Social Workers of the Methodist church held a most delightful social gathering on Tuesday afternoon at the parlors of the church, which for the occasion was arranged with decorations of the garden flowers as well as many floor lamps to add their pleasant glow to the scene.

The occasion was a "Friendship" tea, and to which the members of the society had been asked to invite friends to enjoy the event, the result being that one hundred of the ladies were present.

The guests were greeted by Mrs. A. H. Duxbury as they arrived at the church and welcomed by the society.

The tea table was presided over by Mrs. W. A. Wells and Mrs. C. O. Troy.

During the afternoon a fine program was offered, there being a reading by Mrs. William Baird, the poem, "The House by the Side of the Road," the subject of this talented reader.

Mrs. Roy Cole was heard in a piano number given in her usual artistic manner and Mrs. Elbert Wiles gave one of her beautiful flute selections, the accompaniment being played by Mrs. Cole.

Miss Mildred Knoflicek gave two fine violin selections that reflected the greatest credit on the little lady and Miss Virginia Trively was heard in a reading, a delightful part of the afternoon program.

Rev. C. O. Troy gave a very fine address during the afternoon, the subject selected being, "Friendship," and which was presented in the usual able manner of this fine speaker.

The members of the party were divided into groups according to the months in which their birthdays might fall and the four seasons of the year, the favors being arranged in the seasons.

WESTMINSTER GUILD MEETING

The Westminster Guild of the Presbyterian church were the guests of Miss Anna Margaret McCarty at the Country club Tuesday evening. Each girl brought something to contribute to supper. All of the jolly group did justice to the repast, for their appetites were whetted by the lowered temperatures out-of-doors. Mrs. McCarty, mother of Anna Margaret McCarty served delicious ice cream to complete the menu.

The beautiful Candle Light Initiation service was held for Miss Margaret Taylor, Miss Susie Simonton and Miss Helen Gilmour who were duly made members of the Guild.

After the initiation several interesting games that are used in the mission stations were played, to the enjoyment of all.

A short business session brought the meeting to a close.

RETURNS FROM HOSPITAL

Virgie L. Kline, who for the past two weeks has been at Omaha recovering from the effects of an appendicitis operation, has so far recovered that he was able to return home Tuesday afternoon. The young man is feeling in excellent shape and is able to be up and around the house and will soon be able to be about as usual. His return brings a great deal of pleasure from the many friends to learn that he has made such excellent progress.

PARENTS OF FINE DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Howland of this city are very happy over the arrival of a fine six pound daughter, born at St. Catherine's hospital at Omaha on Friday. The mother and little one are doing nicely and the event has brought much happiness to the father and little four year old brother. The little daughter was born on the fifth anniversary of her parents.

HERE FROM OKLAHOMA

Mrs. William Weber, who has been quite ill for some time at Oklahoma City, has so far recovered that she was able to make the trip back to this city. Mrs. Weber is here at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Starkjohn and later will go to Omaha for a visit with another daughter, Mrs. Stef Steffens. She is feeling much better but is still in poor shape physically.

ATTRACTS MUCH ATTENTION

The recent parades held here as a part of the Korn festival has produced many attractive features in costumes and floats which were to be seen in the different events. One of the handsome floats in use Friday was that of the Cass County Chevrolet Co., of this city, the distributors of this popular make of car. This float represented a great deal of work and made a fine appearance.
