More U. S. Help for Railroads is Roosevelt Aim

Offers Loans to Purchase Rolling Stock and Steel Supplies—Spur to Trade.

Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 27.—President Roosevelt today offered railroads a federal loan for immediate purchase of new equipment. He made known that the good offices of the government would be used to compile the needs of the carriers for new stock with the purpose of making a single gigantic order which is expected to bring lower steel prices as in the collective deal for new rails. This whole program is expected to spur industry in general. Stopping at the front porch of his home before motoring for a look at the agriculture pursuits on the place, Mr. Roosevelt talked with newspapermen accompanying him.

Silent on Expansion.

As for an immediate statement on his credit expansion plans, he simply said he had been interested in the reports about this. He predicted none but there is every prospect that before he returns to Washington, Mr. Roosevelt will make a speech or two which will tell the people just what he is thinking in the way of the future.

The president feels that if the idle money in closed banks and in other deposits is put to use, a fair test can be made of the needs to credit. Apparently he is convinced that these funds will provide the backing for his price-lifting campaign for agriculture and industry.

Union Pacific, New Haven Place Orders for Rails.

New York, Sept. 27.—President Roosevelt's desire that the railroads of the nation aid the steel industry by placing orders for rails received a boost today with the announcement by two roads of the purchase of 40 thousand tons of rails in lots of 20 thousand tons each.

J. J. Pelley, president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford, and C. R. Gray, president of the Union Pacific, said their lines had placed orders for the new rails.

Mr. Roosevelt expressed the wish that the roads would buy up 750 thousand tons of rails this year.

These two commitments today raises the total tonnage under the president's "buy now" drive to approximately 100 thousand tons.

Some rail officials here indicated they were reserving their announcement in anticipation of an announcement by the steel industry reducing the present price of $40 a ton.—World-Herald.

CONDEMNNS CREDIT AGENCY

Omaha.—George Christopher, Cherry county rancher, said here that ranchers thruout the western range country are dissatisfied with the way farm credit agencies of the government are functioning.

"Government bureaus set up to help the farmers and ranchers don't have one practical ranch man on their staffs," he said. "If they're going to help ranchers, they ought to hire a few men who have been in the ranching business and know our problems."

All ranchers ask, he commented, is that the price of beef on the hoof be in fair proportion to the wholesale and retail prices of hide and somewhere when the cattle grower gets less money for beef and consumers pay more than they did," he added.

Christopher praised Charles C. Kuning, manager of the Omaha branch, regional agricultural corporation, saying "he has done more than any of these government men to help farmers and ranchmen get a fair price for their livestock."

GOVERNOR LEHMAN ILL

New York.—Governor Lehman suffered a sudden attack of appendicitis, his secretary announced. He said an operation would not be necessary immediately, but the governor was ordered to bed.

Camps for Transient Idle will be Fixed

Hitch Hiking to Be Fought on Nationwide Basis, According to Relief Director Hopkins.

Chicago.—A program to take every transient unemployed person—both professional hoboes and recent depression victims—off the highways and freight trains and place them instead in "concentration centers" was revealed by Federal Emergency Relief Director Hopkins. He told the United States conference of mayors that the federal government soon would remove completely from the shoulders of local relief organizations the burden of supporting transients.

"Hitch hiking on the highways will be combatted on a nationwide basis," Hopkins said. "So will bumming on freight trains. City and state authorities will be called upon to pick up transients on local vagrancy laws and turn them over to federal authorities. Concentration centers will be established in every state, probably several of them in more populous states, and in them the transient will be given a new chance in life."

Hopkins said that in addition to proper food, clothing, housing and medical care the transients would be given opportunity for education. He said "white collar" workers—of whom he said thousands had become transients in recent months—would serve as instructors in the camps.

"About 75 percent of the hundreds of thousands of transients on the road at present," Hopkins said, "are recent victims of the depression, as distinguished from hoboes of long standing. Conditions for them are intolerable. Scanty relief is given them by local authorities. Often they are driven from city to city—poorly fed, improperly dressed, and with no housing facilities. Such conditions must not continue."

Hopkins told the mayors the commissary system of providing relief thru grocery orders was undermining the morale of 15,000,000 unemployed. He declared work relief or distribution of cash to be the only satisfactory and humane systems.

"We must face the facts as to the huge numbers of unemployed in the nation," Hopkins declared. "Prior to last March, that information was a deep, dark secret. We have determined now, however, that the number at that time was 4,800,000 families—or about 20 million individuals. There has been improvement, the figure at the end of last August being about 3,200,000 families."

CHARGES FOLLOW THE FAKE BROADCAST OF CONVICT HUNT

Chesterton, Ind., Sept. 28.—Captain Matt Leach of the Indiana state police said tonight he would file charges with the federal radio commission in Washington immediately against station WIND of Gary, charging deliberate falsification of a news report, as a result of its broadcast of an alleged convict manhunt last night.

The program was broadcast from a farmyard during the hunt by hundreds of officers for 10 convicts who escaped from the penitentiary at Michigan City Tuesday. It was originated in station WIND and was relayed on the Columbia Broadcasting company's network shortly before midnight.

Steve Trumbull, an employe of the Columbia broadcasting system; Harold Fair, an announcer, and three members of their field crew were taken to Tremont for questioning last night. All but Trumbull were released last night.

OIL PRODUCTION CUT IS ORDERED BY ICKES

Washington, Sept. 28.—A cut into the national daily oil production was ordered today by Secretary Ickes in efforts of the federal government to bolster petroleum prices through controlling the output while studying closely the question of price regulation.

The cut reduced the daily total from 2,409,000 barrels to 2,337,500 barrels.

A SURPRISE TO WEST BRANCH

West Branch, Ia.—Ex-President Herbert Hoover stopped for a short time today in his native village while on his way from Chicago to Trenton, Mo.

His appearance was unheralded and business men and housewives hurriedly hung out flags when the word spread that the most distinguished son of West Branch had returned for a brief visit.

Havana Streets a Battleground with Four Dead
Soldiers and Communists in Deadly Clash—American Wounded During Fray.

Havana.—Soldiers and communists turned Havana's broadest avenues into battle grounds late Friday sending to morgues and hospitals four dead and twenty-five wounded. Among the wounded was Joe Gibson, 46, an American newsreel photographer.

Six of the wounded, including Capt. Hernandez Ruda of the army, may die. Gibson was one of several photographers taking pictures from the roof of a hotel. Five shots struck him in the leg. None of the other photographers was injured.

Scattered shooting still resounded thru empty streets at night and students said unknown persons were firing haphazard from speeding automobiles.

The clatter of machine guns and the firing of rifles and pistols reduced uptown Havana to a scene of the wildest disorders as students and ABC radical members joined the heaviest army forces ever to patrol Havana streets. The early outbreaks of shooting centered along Reina street, where communists were reported to have sniped at the soldiers from the top of the Anti-Imperialist league headquarters.

The communist demonstration was in honor of Julio Antonio Mella, a student leader killed in Mexico in 1929, whose ashes were brought here this week. Reports indicated one army captain and four soldiers, including one machine gunner, were among the wounded. The captain Hernandez Ruda, was in a critical condition.

Later in the afternoon heavy firing began around the Diario de la Marina newspaper building. Persons entering the building said a number of persons were killed or wounded in the volleys of shots. The demonstration was to have been climaxed at a brick obelisk in the park, where Mella's ashes were to have been buried. The soldiers, however, stopped men working on the memorial, destroyed it and then posted guards to see that no one approached.

Suddenly rifle, pistol and machine gun fire began at a number of points. The thousands in the streets, including throngs of curious, rushed for
