It takes a versatile government to attend to everybody's business without neglecting its own.

It is probable that no further effort will be made to extradite Samuel Insull. The inclination of the American government now is to let him fry himself in his own Greece.

The old-fashioned alumni who demanded the team win at any cost have softened their views a bit since stadium debentures were invented. Now his only demand is that if the team must lose, let it do so before a big crowd.

Perhaps the real reason for the greater attendance at football games this season is that many harassed business men attend in hope that they may be able to pick up a few pointers on how to make a gain in spite of interference.

The safest and most satisfactory Halloween observance to meet our notice was that of four 12-year-old boys who gathered at the home of one of their number, drank a gallon of cider, ate a dishpanful of doughnuts, and discussed plans for next year's Halloween, when parental supervision would be relaxed and they would be real tough.

Machine Gun Kelly seem not to have been the only bandit who was weak in geography during his formative period. Occasionally others get confused and commit their crimes in states that have capital punishment, when a few steps might have put them on more enduring ground.

Although it is an American product, we're glad to know that London Assing Show has finally caught up with it and thinks well enough of it to print it—the one where the quarter-master asks the recruit: "How do you want your uniform—too big or too small?"

Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf? Well, we will admit we have always been a little bit fearful we might not be able "to keep the wolf from the door," at times, and if it is the same wolf grown big and bad, why we are wolf grown big and bad, why we are weakening effect of going through what we have the last few years.

We have always been more or less of the opinion that what is sauce for the goose ought to be duck soup for the gander. If we are going to have a processing tax on hogs, let's make it unanimous, with no exceptions for such as the Wiggin and Mitchell type.

Bible School Lesson Study!

"Paul in Macedonia"

Acts 16:9-15, 25-31.
Paul's active spirit could not remain lying in the peaceful haven of Antioch. He must go forth and carry the gospel still farther into the world; so he plans his second missionary journey, A. D. 50-52. Barnabas is ready to go, but suggests to take John Mark with them. To this Paul objects, because he could not depend on him, but Barnabas wants to give the young man another chance. This broke up the partnership. But what seemed at first a serious thing for the enterprise, proved to be for furtherance of the Gospel, and instead of one expedition we see two starting out. Paul chooses Silas, the delegate from Jerusalem, and Barnabas takes John Mark and goes to his beloved Cyprus. Paul and Silas take their course westward to Asia Minor. Later we find that Mark by his fine work came back into Paul's good graces. A third man is needed to help carry the luggage and he was found in Timothy, a young man of good reputation, from good parentage, who lived probably in Lystra, and who was doubtless converted by Paul on his first missionary journey, when he was stoned at Lystra, and may have been cared for in Timothy's home.

On his journey the party proceeded northward through Phrygia and Galatia and Bithynia, but the Holy Spirit stopped them; therefore they turned westward through Mysia to the ancient city of Troas or Troy, and there waited for the will of God to be made known to them.
Here Paul has a vision in the night. Paul was a man of visions. He lived so close to God that the Father often revealed his purposes for him in this way. A man of Macedonia appears, in dress and speech known to be such, beseeching Paul to come and help them. The great moment has come that the gospel shall be carried into Europe. The Holy Spirit is directing the movement. Here the writer of the Acts becomes the fourth partner and "We" is used the first time, in speaking of this group. After deliberating, the "conclusion" is reached that God called to preach the gospel to them.

We enter now upon a new epoch in Christianity. If the events described in the following verses had not taken place, Christianity might have remained an oriental religion, as it started, along with Mohammedanism, Hinduism, Zoroastrianism. Paul heading the Macedonian call, made Christianity a European religion and ultimately and finally the world religion.

Leaving Troas, the missionaries landed eventually at Philippi. Here it pleased God to plant the first church in Europe, and the first convert—a woman—the first missionary station. There were not enough male Jews in Philippi to have a synagogue—as it took no less than ten men to form a congregation. But there were God-fearing women who kept the Sabbath by gathering in a secluded place by the riverside for prayer. Certain days the preachers looked over the ground—it was strange territory; they must make sure that they broke no law or custom; but they found the place and the opportunity to speak the word, the Holy Spirit assisting, and the meeting was a success. The first convert—Paul gets no credit—but the Holy Spirit. The successful business woman is not afraid that her business will suffer by accepting Christ; that she may become an outcast. She goes further, opens her home for the missionaries, becomes hostess to them, shares her religion with her household—which may have included a great many people. All become believers and are baptized. Thus the church is established in Europe. And what a fine church it was is disclosed in Paul's letter to the Philippians. The incident with the slave girl led to the severe punishment of Paul and Silas as the main preachers, while Timothy and Luke were not molested. Many sermons have been preached on the midnight scene in that old Philippian jail.

The greatest question that man can ask was answered there. For destroying a lucrative business for an unscrupulous company the preachers are beaten with rods, without a trial. Paul does not assert his Roman citizenship and is put in prison. Are the preachers discouraged? With bleeding backs, placed in a very uncomfortable position, no food or drink, feet in stocks, hands chained and confined in a dirty, evil-smelling dungeon, with no ventilation—thinking and talking over the events of the day, unable to sleep, they pass the time praying and singing. The old jail had never heard such going on; the other prisoners listen intently, for they had heard only cursing and groaning heretofore.

Then comes the earthquake—open doors—fetters loosened—the awakened jailer—the attempted suicide—the converted family—the banquet—the revival in the home—a happy family! What stirring scenes took place in establishing the church in Europe. The release from prison was a bitter experience for the officers. But Silas and Timothy go on to Thessalonica and Berea, leaving Luke to take care of the church at Philippi. Thus the light is on its way westward.

Federation of Labor Sees Sharp Buying Uplift

More Men Are at Work and the Country's Economic Life Is Improved.

Washington.—The American Federation of Labor's October survey of business reported several fundamental improvements in the country's economic life, although it said the individual worker's buying power was still declining. It credited employment of more than a million persons to the public works fund, including federal staffs. Total re-employment of 4 million was claimed for NRA code control and blue eagle agreement. The business decline was given as only 1.4 percent in October with 8.5 percent in September. Federal reserve bank credit, the federation said, "is at least beginning to trickle on to business."

Total buying power thru re-employment was recorded as having increased 20.5 percent. Trade union unemployment declined from 22.5 in September to 21.9. The higher prices caused a decline in retail buying in September, the federation said "retail buying by wage earners has increased."

The drop in individual buying power totaled 2.3 percent in September from the March level, though the average amount of money received was 6 percent higher. This was due to rising prices, the survey said.

The federation forecast that the heavy industries will soon be greatly stimulated by contract letting under public works, and for new railroad equipment. Greater buying was predicted "when workers are sure of their jobs and when their debts are cleared."

"These developments," said the federation, "mean far more for sound business progress than the spectacular rise we had last spring, but do not make nearly such good publicity. For these fundamentals will not appear in our business indicators until they have actually caused greater business activity."—State Journal.

BUSY ON CONGRESS PLANS

Washington.—Congressional leaders, gathering in Washington for informal conference and committee meetings, believe that legislation relating to repeal and monetary policies will be to the fore in the next session. It is conceded, even by congressional advocates, that whether inflation becomes an important issue will depend largely on the success in the meantime of the administration's recovery program. Inflationists are centering their efforts on a proposal to make compulsory the word, the Holy Spirit assisting, and the meeting was a success. The first convert—Paul gets no credit—but the Holy Spirit. The successful business woman is not afraid that her business will suffer by accepting Christ; that she may become an outcast. She goes further, opens her home for the missionaries, becomes hostess to them, shares her religion with her household—which may have included a great many people. All become believers and are baptized. Thus the church is established in Europe. And what a fine church it was is disclosed in Paul's letter to the Philippians. Many sermons have been preached on the midnight scene in that old Philippian jail.

MINE HOISTS WHIRR AGAIN

Uniontown, Pa.—The whirr of straining hoists and the thud of miners' boots told the story in sound of the break in a prolonged strike at western Pennsylvania's steel company-operated coal mines. The last 15,000 or so of the 75,000 who battled for three months for union recognition began wining their way thru drizzling rain in Fayette county.

Accompanied by chattering women carrying American flags, the United Mine Workers' columns moved two abreast to the diggings. On the sidelines stood company police—silent sentinels for the H. C. Frick Coke company. When the third shifts reported officials estimated between 8,000 and 10,000 of the "captive" mine workers had been re-engaged. They said about 5,000 more will be employed if contemplated steel-rail orders are placed.

NEWLON ON SCHOOL FADS

Omaha.—Omaha school officials were told by Dr. Jesse H. Newlon, former superintendent at Lincoln and now director of the Lincoln school at teachers' college, Columbia university, that "if a city harbors a Tammany type political group, school children should know of its existence and how it operates."
"The American public school system," Doctor Newlon told the Omaha school committee on social studies, "was established to promote good citizenship, set to teach reading, writing and arithmetic."

CLOSED FREMONT BANK DIVIDEND DUE SOON

Fremont, Nov. 2.—Payment of a $110,000 dividend to 1,200 depositors of the closed Union National bank, as announced Wednesday, is expected within three weeks. D. A. Becher, Columbus, bank receiver, said Thursday. The dividend represents 25 percent of deposits.

Becher recommended the payment Oct. 9, and received word Wednesday that checks are being mailed from Washington. Amount will be filled in and the checks returned to Washington where they will be rechecked by the comptroller of currency.

Declares for Cost of Farm Production

Farmer, President of Nebraska Holiday Assn. Says Parity Prices Not Enough for Grower.

Yutan, Neb.—H. C. Parmenter, president of the Nebraska Farmers Holiday association, Friday said proposals at Washington for "parity" levels of farm prices weren't satisfactory and predicted if the farmers don't get cost of production soon, they'll know there's a strike on.

"Parity prices are all bunk," Parmenter asserted. "The strike never will be called off on that kind of a proposition. If we can't get the cost of production we can't survive and there's no use monkeying any more."

Parmenter said farmer interest in the strike movement continued to grow but special efforts to push it were awaiting results of the governors' conference with President Roosevelt. He said the desire for parity was particularly strong outside of Douglas county, north, west and south of Omaha.

Shelton, Neb.—Farmers in the vicinity of Shelton who belong to the Farm Holiday association voted unanimously to withhold their products from the market pending outcome of the national strike called two weeks ago. They also appealed to nonmembers to join them and refuse to sell any products.

"Newspaper reports that the strike has been called off is nothing but publicity intended to cause dissension in the ranks of farmers," one member said. He declared the strike would not end until agriculture gets a square deal.

Many of those present stated that they had been withholding livestock and farm products from the market ever since the strike in midwestern states was called off.

GUINAN BODY TO NEW YORK

Vancouver.—The body of Texas Guinan, the night club hostess, will leave Tuesday for New York's Broadway, 3,000 miles away. "I would rather have a square inch of New York than all the rest of the world," she told her manager, Eddie Baker. Funeral services will be held at St. Malach's church, of which she was a member. The date has not been set. Her company of forty persons will disband.

The body, accompanied by George Guinan of Portland, a brother, will lie in state in Chicago and New York, because, she told friends, she wanted the public "who made me" to have an opportunity of seeing her.
