

Dr. Wynkoop Asserts will Die Before Trial

Declares Reputed Confession Because Senses Demise—Earle Will Be Arraigned.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 30.—Dr. Alice L. Wynkoop looked up from her Bible in the county jail today and told her jailers she would not live to go on trial for murdering her daughter-in-law.

Frail, worn out by hours of police questioning, her hands shaking as they turned the pages of the Bible, Dr. Alice announced she had diagnosed her own case and had become convinced that her death was near.

The 62-year-old woman, doctor admitted that death might be "long and tedious," but she declared her health never would permit her being placed on trial. And she indicated that death would not be unwelcome.

Diagnoses Own Case.
"All the medical men in the world can't help me," she told Dr. F. W. McNamera, physician of the jail. "My case—I have diagnosed it. I don't need any other medical aid."

Dr. McNamera said the woman's condition was about the same, the only change being an increase in her pulse to the unusually fast rate of 110. She is suffering from arterio sclerosis (hardening of the arteries), a heart ailment and bronchitis.

"Sensed Death, Reputed Tale."
She had been ordered to remain in bed indefinitely, but her physicians have indicated not even the best of care is likely to improve her condition to any extent.

It was her feeling that death was near, Dr. Alice revealed, that caused her to repudiate a confession in which she admitted shooting Rheta, wife of her favorite son, in the back as the girl lay dead or unconscious on her operating table after an overdose of chloroform.

Earle to Be Arraigned.
In another section of the jail, Earle Wynkoop ate roast chicken with other inmates, spoke of "finding the real murderer of Rheta after his release," and asked again to see his mother. Physicians said a visit between the mother and son might be too exciting for her.

Earle still was perturbed over a grand jury indictment charging his mother with murder. "She knows no more about it than I do," he said, "and that's exactly nothing."

He will be arraigned in felony court tomorrow as a participant in the alleged plotting of Rheta's death. The charge is being an accessory before the fact. He has not been indicted.

'Judge' Julius S. Cooley Once a Resident Here

Is Subject of Dispute Between Douglas and Lancaster Counties; Spent His Boyhood Here.

"Judge" Julius S. Cooley, who is now the central figure of a dispute between Douglas and Lancaster counties, as to which county should assume the care of the now aged attorney, was once a resident of this city, spending his boyhood here.

It was in the seventies that the Cooley family made their home here and in this community "Judge" Cooley received his schooling, later going to Omaha. A number of the older residents of the city will recall him in the days of his youth and to many he was a familiar figure after locating at Omaha.

In the early days of his law work at Omaha "Judge" Cooley was noted for his debonair manner and stylish dress, a figure in Omaha police circles that attracted universal attention and he served for many years in defending those who were brought before the police courts at Omaha.

In recent years with age and failing health "Judge" Cooley has been at Lincoln with a sister until she was unable longer to care for him and as the result he has been the subject of the disagreement between Lancaster county and Omaha, the Lincoln authorities claiming that his residence was legally at Omaha. The dispute culminated Friday on when "Judge" Cooley was taken to the Clearview home at Omaha, unloaded from the car and which drove away leaving him to be cared for at the Douglas county home.

'REICH ENEMIES' LISTED

Berlin.—Secret Prussian police, engaged in a relentless pursuit of non-nazis, published a long list of "enemies of the state" in addition to Albert Einstein. The famous scientist, whose property was confiscated Nov. 29, is now in Princeton, N. J. Friday's list includes Rudolf Breitscheid, former parliamentary floor leader of the social democrats; the author Emil Ludwig; and Wilhelm Muenzenberg, a millionaire communist publisher. Deposits of German peace societies as well as the postage stamps, cash savings, and bank deposits which belonged to the republican reichsbanner organization, also were confiscated.

Al Smith Says Failing of PWA Hidden by CWA

Thinks That Absent-Minded Professor Placed Anagrams With 'Alphabet Soup.'

New York.—Alfred E. Smith said the public works administration was broken down and that the civil works program was set up to hide its failure. "Instead of acknowledging the failure of the public works administration," said the former governor, "... this crazy topheavy structure, choked with red tape and bureaucracy is being left as it is, and out of it is being created the civil works administration to raise relief wages and get more people to work during the winter.

"Half way between a lemon and an orange is a grapefruit; half way between a public work and a relief work is a civil work. Up to now the federal establishments only recently scheduled for consolidation, have been increased to include an AAA, an FCA, a PWA, an FERA, an NRA, a CCC, a TVA, an HOLC, an RFC—and now we have a CWA.

"It looks as tho one of the absent minded professors had played anagrams with the alphabet soup. The soup got cold while he was unconsciously inventing a new game for the nation, a game which beats the crossword puzzle the game of identifying new departments by their initials."

Smith's attack was made in an editorial in his magazine, the same issue of which contained his demand for "sound money" and a return to the gold standard, made public last week.

Hopkins Given New Title.

To effect the civil works program, the editorial said, Harry Hopkins "has been given a new title and 400 millions of Mr. Ickes' money, and has been instructed to take 2,000,000 men from relief work and put them on civil works and to put 2,000,000 more men on new civil works projects to be devised overnight. No one has yet described just what a civil works project is, except that it is some sort of minor construction or repair work which does not require the service of a contractor, which can be finished before Feb. 15 when the money gives out, and which does not involve a great deal of supervision or material. . . .

"One thing is obvious, and that is that without a complete reorganization of the public works administration there will be no more public works under way on Feb. 15 to absorb the civil workers than there are today to absorb the relief workers. The more we string out the public works program, the less men are employed at any one time, and the surer we are not to put enough printing in the industrial pump to get it working by itself. . . .

METCALFE SEEKS PUBLIC IDEAS ON ROOSEVELT PLAN

In opening offices for the Nebraska NRA board, Richard L. Metcalfe, newly appointed state chairman, calls upon the public to write him their ideas in support of President Roosevelt's recovery program. His statement follows:
"I have been drafted as chairman of the Nebraska state recovery board, and have opened offices at Rooms 405-6 Hotel Conant, Omaha, where all communications should be addressed.
"In a few days a meeting of the recovery board will be called for Omaha. In the meantime, I invite every man and woman in Nebraska who is supporting the president's splendid efforts for the common good to write me a letter setting forth their own attitude, and that of their neighbors. Nebraska NRA organization rates very high at Washington, and we desire to show the president how fully and faithfully the people are behind him. Already NRA is showing good re-employment results throughout the country and particularly in Nebraska. The Nebraska state recovery board intends to carry on the good work in this state, to the end that the president shall receive the encouragement to which he is entitled.

Mrs. Kimberly is still visiting here.

A Pioneer Laid to Rest

Miss Mamie J. Garrett was born September 2, 1861 at Mount Pleasant, Iowa, where she with her parents remained for but a short time and during the Civil war the family came to Plattsmouth, where they made their home for some years. The father, John Garrett, with E. C. Coleman and others, was engaged in making trips to and from Denver, freighting goods to the Mile High city of the west. It was on one of these trips that the father met death at the hands of a savage band of Indians. Later, the mother and her family came to Greenwood, locating on a farm near here, where they made their home. It was here that Miss Mamie grew to womanhood and received her education in the public schools, being united in marriage on November 20, 1878, to William Kimberly. Together they took up life on a farm near Greenwood, which was their home for a few years before the husband and father took up his trade as carpenter and worked on many of the residences constructed in Greenwood during the days when railroad development brought a boom in that line. The husband died in 1904.

To this union six children were born, they being Mrs. J. E. Weideman, of Lincoln; Mrs. M. L. Blum, of Lincoln; Mrs. L. C. Marvin, of Greenwood, and Messrs. A. R. and J. G. Kimberly, of Long Beach, Calif., who survive, while William Roscoe Kimberly, the other son, died at the age of ten many years ago. In addition there also survive ten grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Kimberly passed away at noon Saturday, November 25th, at the home in Greenwood. The funeral was held Monday afternoon, November 27, from the home and interment was in the Greenwood cemetery. Funeral services were conducted by her pastor, the Rev. W. E. Goings, pastor of the Greenwood Christian church. She was a devoted follower of the Master during her life and united with the Disciples of Christ in her girlhood days, remaining active as a member of this denomination right up to the time of her death.

During the funeral services Lee Knowles sang "Whispering Hope," "What will it be to There" and "There will be No Night There." The pall bearers, all old friends of the family, were Walter Chevront, Henry Coleman, E. A. Landon, Ralph Coleman, N. O. Coleman and W. F. Laughlin.

The next meeting is to be held on Thursday afternoon of this week, at the home of Mrs. Frank Welton.

William Earl Newkirk

William E. Newkirk was born near Shopiere, Wisconsin, June 24, 1861, coming with his parents when a lad of tender age to Mount Pleasant, Iowa, where they resided until he had arrived at life's estate and was married to Miss Surrelda Linch, of Mount Pleasant, February 26, 1884. Shortly afterwards the young couple came to Cass county, Nebraska, settling near Alvo, where they resided for many years, and in the later years of their life, moved to Greenwood to make their home. During the years spent at Alvo, they were engaged in farming and also in business in Alvo. After coming to Greenwood, Mr. Newkirk was engaged in business here for a considerable time. He was an ardent democrat during his entire life, and was a member of the Knights of Pythias and also of the Modern Woodmen of America.

During the past few years, he had failed rapidly in health and the aged couple were making their home with the children. At the time of his last illness, they were at Byron, at the

Some ten days ago he suffered a severe stroke and passed away Friday, November 24th. The funeral was held Monday, November 27, from the chapel of a funeral home at Ashland, with interment in the Greenwood cemetery. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. Hugo A. Norberg, pastor of the Evangelical church at Callahan.

The deceased leaves his wife, who has been his companion for almost half a century, one son and four daughters, as follows: Clyde W. Newkirk, of Greenwood; Mrs. Del Pailing, of Byron, Nebraska; Mrs. Minnie Kimberly, of Long Beach, Calif.; Mrs. Grace Pailing, of Greenwood and Mrs. Cecile Lee, of Murdock. There also survive fourteen grandchildren and three great-grandchildren, together with numerous other relatives.

The pall bearers were selected from among his friends and were Messrs. C. E. Calfee, E. A. Landon, Ray Rouse, Earl Stradley, Ed Stradley and Vern Shepler.

Held Social Meeting

The I. O. O. F. lodge No. 98 held their regular meeting Monday evening with a good attendance present. After lodge they entertained their wives and family and the members of the Rebekah lodge. The I. O. O. F. lodge gave a fine program, which was responded to by the members of Rebekah lodge and a few others. After this games and a general social evening were enjoyed. A fine oyster supper, with all the trimmings, was served by the committee.

M. E. Guild Entertained

The M. E. Guild was pleasantly entertained Thursday afternoon, November 23, by Mrs. Jacob Witt, at her home. There was a large crowd present. During the business meeting plans were laid for the Christmas bazaar and supper which is to be held December 9th at the church. The remainder of the afternoon was spent socially and with fancy work. Before the time came for departure, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Surprise Party

Mrs. Lillian Richards, of Ashland, gave a surprise party for her aunt, Miss Ella Johnson on last Wednesday, in honor of her birthday. At noon a most bountiful basket dinner was greatly enjoyed by all. She received many beautiful and useful gifts.

These present were Mrs. W. P. Bailey, Mrs. Vanderman, Mrs. Rung, of Ashland, Mrs. E. A. Landon, Miss Cassie Coleman, Mrs. Aaron Wright, Mrs. N. O. Coleman, Mrs. L. V. Sheffer, Mrs. Nannie Coleman, Mrs. W. P. Willis, Mrs. W. L. Hillis, Mrs. J. I. Elwood, Mrs. Montgomery, Mrs. John Armstrong, Mrs. Emily Sayles, Mrs. Fred Palmquist, Mrs. Farmer and son, Mrs. Ellen Kirk, Mrs. Louise Hoham, Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Pearl Rouse and Mr. and Mrs. Richards. All departed late in the day wishing Miss Johnson many more happy birthdays.

No CWA Projects Here

The village of Greenwood did not make application for any CWA funds and with the allotment to the county now completely exhausted, no further projects can be approved before another grant is announced. However, to relieve unemployment in this vicinity, men registered for work here will be given employment on the state park improvement project at Louisville each alternate week. This project in employing a force of 30 men, and one week they will be Louisville and Manley men, while the succeeding week they will be drawn from this portion of the county. This week is Greenwood's turn to furnish men. The plan of staggering the help needed was devised by Frank O'Connell, of the State Game and Fish commission, in charge of park development work over the state, and will provide work for a considerable number of men from this community. The Louisville project calls for an expenditure of $4,500 and is aimed to complete the work left undone by the C. C. C. when they were transferred to Red Cloud a month ago, after having spent four months in Louisville, improving and developing this park.

GUARDSMEN SOON DISPERSE

Milledgeville, Ga.—Exaggerated rumors that a north Georgia mob was headed toward the state prison farm near here resulted in national guardsmen assembling unofficially in the Milledgeville armory, but they soon dispersed and went home. Attorneys for Max James, Negro under death sentence for the assault of a white woman, reported to Governor Tallmadge in Atlanta Wednesday night they feared a mob would seek to seize James.

The governor called prison farm officials. Captain Hargrove of the local national guard company, learning of the report, called twenty men to the armory and told them to get into their equipment. Captain Hargrove then called Adjutant General Camp in Atlanta and was told to go to the prison farm and confer with officials there. The guard officer, after going to the farm, reported to the adjutant general that the reports were evidently "false alarms."

Wakeful Wonder

If there were any prize for sleepless endurance, William Blackburn, of Huddersfield, Eng., would win in a walk. Since he underwent an operation eight years ago, Blackburn has not had a wink of sleep. Doctors say he should have died years ago, having taken enough morphia to kill several persons in attempts to induce a dose.
