A MUCH APPRECIATED SERVICE

Mr. A. W. Farney, head of the Farney Construction company which has the large river construction job here, has rendered a much appreciated service to the Boy Scout camp project committee in helping to locate the swimming hole site at the new camp. Not only did Mr. Farney take valuable time from his own work to visit the scene and look over the ground, but he has arranged to send his superintendent, Mr. Hardeman, there to survey the ground and make estimate of yardage requirements in this part of the project that would straighten the bed of Rock Creek and impound some of its water in a goose neck curve of the old meandering bed, to serve as a swimming hole.

ATTEND BANQUET

Dr. H. G. McClusky, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in company with Robert Foster Patterson, principal of the high school, were guests Thursday at the Calahan church west of Murdock. The occasion was the annual Father and Son banquet and in attendance there was some ninety of the fathers and their sons. The main address of the evening was delivered by Dr. McClusky in his usual able and impressive manner and made a fitting feature of the gathering. Mr. Patterson was also presented to the banquet party and gave the introductory for Dr. McClusky.

FUNERAL OF MRS. PITTMAN

The funeral services of Mrs. J. V. Pittman held Friday afternoon at the beautiful Sattler funeral home chapel, was one of the largest that has been held in the city, with friends from the entire community gathered to pay their last tributes of respect to her memory.

BAND NEEDS INSTRUMENTS

The school band is very much in need of instruments. Mr. L. D. Hiatt, director of the band, informs us that a number of boys would like to take up the band but have no instruments. If anyone in the community has an instrument which is not in use and which they would be willing to loan they are asked to take this instrument to Mr. Hiatt who will place it in the hands of a school child who desires to play in the band.

Death of Former Cass County Man in Oklahoma

Peter Volk, 86, a Resident of Near Cedar Creek, Dies Friday—Body to be Brought Here.

The announcement was received here late Friday of the death of Peter Volk, a resident of Cass county for a number of years, but who has made his home on a farm in Oklahoma, near Caldwell, Kansas, for the past thirty-five years.

Mr. Volk, while a resident here, made his home on a farm west of the city in the vicinity of the Heil school, and was one of the best known farmers in that portion of the county for a great many years.

Locating in Oklahoma, he continued his farming activities and was very successful in his work, but in recent years had been forced to give up the activities of the farm due to his advanced years.

CHICKEN THIEVES ARE ROUTED BY FARMER

Tuesday morning about 5 o'clock Wm. Kruger heard a car start up and start out of his farm home driveway. He grabbed a rifle and shot twice only to learn later he was "shooting up" his own car.

His home was visited by chicken thieves who also took his car. The car was found a mile and a half north of his home where it stalled on account of having no water in the radiator. When the thieves drove out of his yard they drove the car through a fence and it was damaged somewhat by this treatment.

California Man Falls into Evil Gang in Omaha

Stranger Taken for a "Ride" and Dumped in Hay Stack in the Vicinity of Ashland.

From Thursday's Daily Deputy Sheriff J. E. Lancaster was called to the vicinity of Ashland Thursday by the message that a supposedly dead man was lying in a straw stack at one of the farms in western Cass county. On his arrival the sheriff found the man was not dead but was in a far advanced state of intoxication or drugged and was not sure whether he was in Omaha or California.

The man was brought on to this city and lodged in jail to be cared for until he could recover sufficiently to give some account of himself. This morning the man stated that his name was Herman Phelps, of Truckee, California, that he had been visiting relatives in Boyd county, Nebraska, and decided to visit Omaha to meet some old friends and while there had fallen among evil companions and had been pined with much of the extract of the corn, the result being that he had passed out and knew nothing until awakening here.

The man claimed to have had two $50 traveler checks taken as well as a small amount of cash from his person, presumably by the parties that had taken him for the ride.

Residents of the vicinity where the man was found stated that they had seen a car bearing some foreign license in the locality and that three men were in the car and had apparently carried a bunch of sacks to the straw stack and thrown them down, the sacks later turning out to be the body of Phelps. The party had later returned to the car and drove on south in the direction of Lincoln.
