Legion Provides Kiddies Treat
The local post of the American Legion provided a very pleasant time for the kiddies of Greenwood early last week, when, with much sleep, every child in Greenwood received a present of a bag of candy and nuts, which the little ones surely enjoyed. The sight of the little ones' faces lighting up when they were presented with their candy bag well repaid the donors for their trouble in arranging the treat. The Greenwood Legion post is ever alert to render community service in accordance with one of the precepts inculcated in the preamble to its constitution.

Improvements Add to Wintersteen School

In Addition to the Building Program of Improvement Rolling Partitions Being Added.

Through the efforts of the live and active Parent-Teachers association and co-operation of the school officials, the Wintersteen Hill school is being made one of the best of the ward grade schools in the city.

The association secured the recommendation of a project from the Civic Works administration that would permit the necessary labor to build a small addition to the south portion of the building which would provide cloak rooms and inside toilets for the children, modernizing the school building and making for more facilities in the rooms of the school for the large number of children who attend.

The school has secured the rolling partitions that were formerly in use in the old high school building and which will be placed in the Wintersteen Hill building and make an improvement that will be appreciated by the teachers and pupils as well.

This school building has stood for many years and has served hundreds of the residents of the community in acquiring their grade education and at the present time has one of the largest attendance of students of any of the grade buildings.

Heir to Throne Born in Japan; Nation Rejoices
Mikado Presents Son with Sword in Rite That is Centuries Old—Plan Ceremony.

Tokio, Dec. 23.—A baby boy who will, if he survives his father, one day become the one hundred twenty-fifth mikado and carry on the succession of the oldest dynasty in the world, was born today in the imperial palace here.

He is the first son of Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako, and therefore, the long-awaited crown prince of the empire. Previously four daughters were born to the couple. One of these is dead.

Nationwide rejoicing greeted the hastily broadcast tidings of the arrival of the imperial princeling at 6:39 a. m. today.

The birth relieves Prince Chichibu, eldest of the emperor's three brothers, of his responsibility as heir presumptive.

Sirens Awaken Tokio.
Court physicians announced that the empress and the princeling are doing well. The baby weighed 7½ pounds.

Two long blasts of sirens awakened Tokio at dawn, proclaiming what devout Japanese considered was the best tidings the nation has heard in years. If the child had been a girl a single blast would have been blown.

Almost simultaneously with the infant's birth, the Japanese diet was called into session. On all buildings and buses and street cars flags were flying.

An Intense Expectancy.
Around today's event was gathered an expectancy probably more widespread, devout and intense than has greeted the birth of any other infant in history.

Rites prescribed by centuries old custom of the imperial court came into play at once. First came the ceremony of presenting to the newborn infant a sword, a gift from his imperial father, a symbol of the life-force of the new arrival, believed potent to ward off all evil.

Priests to Visit Shrines.
The next important ceremonies will be held on the seventh day, when the baby receives his name. Then the baby will be given his ceremonial bath.

At the conclusion of these ceremonies high priests of sanctuaries within the palace will go before these shrines to report the birth and naming of the princeling to his ancestors and deities of the imperial family.

Still later imperial messengers will go down to the grand shrines of the sun goddess at Ise, 250 miles southwest of Tokio, conceived to be the dwelling place of this greatest of the Japanese deities, to report to her the arrival of the princeling.

Clarence Eno is Sought After a Bank Hold-Up
Believed to Be One of Three Men in 1,500 Robbery at Syracuse on Thursday.

Syracuse, Neb.—State Sheriff Endres Friday night said he was seeking Clarence Eno, who escaped from an Alkmuze, Okl., jail last Nov. 25, for the $1,500 First National bank robbery here.

The officer, after an investigation, said he believed Eno and two of the men who escaped with him were the trio which, shortly before noon, robbed the bank here and abducted two men, Charles W. Andrews, assistant cashier, and W. C. Lambeth, a clothier and bank customer. They were released unharmed a few minutes later about a quarter of a mile from here, but authorities have found no trace of the gunmen.

Officers were unable to find any fingerprints in the bank, but Endres said one bank official, whom he declined to name, had identified Eno's photograph as one of the robbers. He discounted reports that Wilbur Underhill, noted southwest desperado, had taken part in the robbery.

Eno also is wanted for the $6,135 robbery of the Merchants bank of Nebraska City last Oct. 24, and for Kansas and Oklahoma robberies.

The three gunmen forced a dozen people to line up against the wall while they looted cash drawers but were unable to get into the vault due to a time lock.

The robbery was the eighth bank holdup in the state this year and brought the total loot to more than $190,000.

Twelve See Picture.
Sheriff Hyder said "about a dozen" witnesses of the robbery here identified the photograph of Eno as being one of the robbers. Other pictures he had the witnesses look at failed to establish any clues, he said.

Hyder said he had no report of the fleeing gunmen since early afternoon and that one proved false.

After rigorous questioning as to their activities thru the day in several towns in southeastern Nebraska Friday, Chief Condit of Lincoln, released four men and a woman late in the evening, satisfied that they were not participants in the holdup of the Syracuse First National bank.

Three of the men fitted the descriptions forwarded to Lincoln police district. After he had been quizzed thoroughly, he was hocked and placed in a cell. The rest of the party was picked up by two officers after they had left a house in Havelock on which officers had been "planted" since late Friday afternoon.

Chief Condit said that the party was selling correspondence courses in several small towns in southeastern Nebraska. In addition to their physical appearances being similar to the descriptions reported for the bank bandits, their car, a new light coach was similar to that of the robbers.

CWA FUNDS DRAINED AWAY
Washington.—The public works administration in a year end summary of allotments made from the 2.3 billions authorized by congress in June showed it now has less than 300 millions on hand. Allotments to date for more than 11,000 projects have totaled $3,072,101,203. Of the total $2,413,234,727 has been for federal projects. Of this 400 millions went to the civil works administration and 100 millions to the Federal Housing corporation. Nonfederal projects, including those for states, municipalities, railroads, semipublic housing and private projects, have been allotted $638,866,476.

Withdrawals of funds from the treasury department against the allotments total approximately 160 millions, but public works officials expect the completion of further contracts in the immediate future will result in a great impetus of withdrawals. Since July 8, when Secretary Ickes was appointed administrator of the public works fund, allotments have been made at the rate of $128,004,217 a week or $18,286,316 a day.

Central Building is to Have Improvement
Work Started on Friday for the Arrangement of an Auditorium in the Grade Building.

One of the CWA projects that has been secured for this city, was started on Friday morning with a crew of workmen engaged in remodeling at the Central grade school building.

The plans for this project call for the removal of a partition between two rooms and the erection of a stage at one end of the room and giving an ample and attractive auditorium that will have the seating capacity of some 200 persons.

The stage that will be placed will be ample for the grade school entertainments and will be equipped with curtains and other necessary accessories for the proper staging of the entertainments that are given during the school year by the younger students.

The Central building has long needed an auditorium of this kind and which will be much appreciated by the teachers in the building and the young people who take part in the various activities during the school year. The work was made possible only by the opportunity of the CWA funds provided by the government and which takes care of the labor cost while material of the school can be used in the stage erection.

SANTA BRINGING $85,000
Geneva, Neb.—Approximately 1-300 Fillmore county farmers will have their own "Christmas party" Friday and Saturday. Santa Claus will be present to give them $85,000 in the form of benefit payments for reducing wheat acreage under the federal program.

County Agent Thompson reported late Thursday the receipt of the checks which will go to farmers as fast as they can come to his office for them. The line, it is expected, will probably be long. The payments come just in time for Christmas.

Why Hospitals Use a Liquid Laxative

Hospitals and doctors have always used liquid laxatives. And the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. Do you know the reasons?

The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can be controlled. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The right liquid laxative brings a perfect movement, and there is no discomfort at the time, or after.

The wrong cathartic may keep you constipated as long as you keep on using it! And the habitual use of irritating salts, or of powerful drugs in the highly concentrated form of pills and tablets may prove injurious.

A week with a properly prepared liquid laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will tell you a lot. A few weeks' time, and your bowels can be "as regular as clockwork."

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative which all druggists keep ready for use. It makes an ideal family laxative; effective for all ages, and may be given the youngest child. Member N. R. A.
