ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE
Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Cole of Lincoln are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Muriel, to Harold Hinds, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Hinds of Weeping Water. The marriage took place on December 16th at Marysville, Missouri, at the home of Mrs. Hinds' sister, Mrs. James Elgaard.
The marriage lines were read by the Rev. Mr. Hagee and the young people were attended by Miss Helen Cole, sister of the bride, and Jack Hammer, both of Lincoln. A dinner was served following the wedding.
Mrs. Hinds is a former graduate of the Peru State teachers' college and Mr. Hinds is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where he joined Kappa Sigma fraternity. He is a member of the Scabard and Blade and was awarded the Pershing medal last year. He is engaged in the credit department of the store of Miller & Paine at Lincoln. The young people are residing in Lincoln at 512 South Sixteenth street.

SHOWING IMPROVEMENT
The Plattsmouth friends of John Nelson, of Havlock, will be pleased to learn that he is now doing nicely from his recent attack of appendicitis and operation. Mr. Nelson was at the Bryan Memorial hospital for some two weeks but is now home and recuperating nicely.

W. J. Box, well known resident of the vicinity of Elmwood, was here today to look after some matters at the court house.

Death of Mrs. C. H. Smith at La Grange, Illinois

Former Resident of This City Dies at Home of Daughter—Funeral Services Here Tuesday.

The death of Mrs. Nellie Smith, widow of the late Chester H. Smith, a long time resident of this community, occurred on Sunday at La Grange, Illinois, where she has been making her home for some time with a daughter and family.
Mrs. Smith was a member of one of the pioneer families of this community, she being formerly Miss Nellie Black and was reared to womanhood in this city and where she was married to Chester H. Smith. The family made their home here until after the death of Mr. Smith and since which time Mrs. Smith had made her home with her two daughters at Brock, Nebraska and La Grange, Illinois.
Mrs. Smith had a large circle of old friends here who will learn with the greatest of regret of her death. While a resident here she was active in the social circles of the city and was for many years secretary of the Knights and Ladies of Security lodge.
She is survived by the two daughters, Mrs. Tinsie Tegarden of Brock and Mrs. R. E. Sheehan of La Grange, as well as several grandchildren.
The funeral party will arrive at Omaha on Tuesday morning and the body brought to this city to the Sattler funeral home. The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 at the Sattler funeral home, conducted by Rev. H. G. McClusky.

KNABE'S 12TH ANNUAL BRED SOW and GILT SALE

To be Held in Town (Nehawka) Starting at 1 O'Clock on Friday February 16

50 HEAD
20 Tried Sows, 15 Fall Gilts, 15 Spring Gilts
Our herd was the highest money winning herd at the National Swine Show last year (1933) and we won more Blue Ribbons and Champions than any other herd of Hampshires of the corn belt shows. And we are of course, selling all these champion sows, in order to keep our reputation of selling a better offering year after year.
This offering of Sows and Gilts are mated to the best battery of herd bars we ever used together. One thing sure, you better get these good ones at bargain prices while you can, for I do not believe you can do it next year at anywhere near the low prices now prevailing.

VISITS IN THE CITY

Gerald Westover, of Valentine Nebraska, was a visitor here over the week end as a guest at the home of his uncle, Dr. R. P. Westover. The young man is a student at the University of Nebraska in the college of medicine, taking advantage of the examinations at the school for a short vacation with the relatives here.

A GEOGRAPHICAL PARTY

The Presbyterian Sunday school classes taught by R. Foster Patterson and Miss Vivian Johns enjoyed a Geographical Party, Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Giles.
The games, under the direction of Lois and Sheldon Giles, included Observation, for which partners were chosen by matching states and their capitals. The lucky winners received the "North and the South Pole."
The participants in geographical spelling certainly knew their geography.
The passengers who went for an airplane ride will never forget their parachute jump and the landing!
Anna Margaret McCarty captured the prize for intangling geographical places representing all parts of the world.
The geographical icon was also evident in the refreshments which consisted of snow capped mountain peaks, striped layers and floating islands.
The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. R. Foster Patterson, Miss Vivian Johns, Anna Margaret McCarty, Almee Jane Thomas, Wilda Johnson, Louise Fitzmeyer, Alice Hlatt, Marjorie Wohlforth, Oliver Taylor, Cecil Comstock, Floyd Shanholtz, James Comstock, Floyd McCarthy, Arthur Wargo, William Fitzmeyer, Charles Walden, Stephen Davis, William Henriksen.

We have decided that the line, "Seventeen Years Old" found on certain bottles of repeal liquor, means the age of the bottler's oldest daughter. We can't imagine any other product of his to which he might refer.

DEATH OF AGED LADY

The funeral services of Mrs. Jane Thrush, 88, were held at the Bralley & Dorrance chapel at Omaha, Monday afternoon with the Christian Science service being used. The funeral cortege was head by a motor police escort to the Mt. Hope cemetery at Benson where the body was laid to rest beside that of the husband. Six of the grandchildren were pall bearers.

Mrs. Thrush was well known here where she made her home for several summers with her daughter, Mrs. Ivan Taylor and the many friends of Mrs. Taylor will join in their sympathy to her in the bereavement that has come to her.

The deceased lady was formerly Miss Jane Smith, born at Gloucestershire, England, in 1845, and grew to womanhood in that portion of England. She was married on August 1, 1868, the family leaving in 1872 for the United States where they were to make their future home, crossing the ocean in the slow sailing vessel of that day and while the party were on the high seas the eldest child of the little family observed her third anniversary.

The family resided in Omaha for some thirty-two years and it was in that city in 1909 that Mr. Thrush passed away. In later years Mrs. Thrush made her home with the children, she residing with her youngest daughter, Mrs. Floyd Childs at the time of death. Her last visit here was on Thanksgiving when she visited the Taylor home.

There is surviving four daughters and two sons, Mrs. E. D. Buckley, Chicago; Mrs. Kate Elgin, Bloomington, Ill.; Frank Thrush, Benson; Mrs. Ivan Taylor, Plattsmouth; George Thrush, Omaha; Mrs. Floyd Childs, Omaha, as well as eighteen grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

ATTEND SCOUT DINNER

The annual dinner of the Lincoln district of the Boy Scouts was held at Lincoln on Monday evening and five of the local leaders in Scouting were in attendance. Ray Larson, scoutmaster, Russell Reeder and Aulton Rolland, assistant scoutmasters, and E. H. Westcott, veteran leader in local Scout circles, as well as Searl S. Davis.

The speaker of the banquet was Ray Wyland of New York City, a field representative of the national organization, who discussed the scouting problem from many angles.

The meeting also gave recognition of those who have been active in scouting over a period of several years, in which Mr. Westcott was given a citation for service of fifteen years or over and Ray Larson and Aulton Rolland for five years and over.

The banquet was presided over by R. W. Joyce, president of the Lincoln district.
