The Ladies' Card club of the Greenwood General Kensington held a very enjoyable meeting at the hall last Monday which was attended by a large number of the members. A very fine time was had and in the games which were played, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Armstrong won the two high prizes. Those sponsoring the entertainment were R. E. Mathers, E. L. McDonald, O. E. Miller, Ashland, and C. W. Newkirk and their wives.

Passing of Aged Pioneer.
Mrs. Hannah Schroeder of Fairmont, who resided near Greenwood for many years with her husband, Henry S. Schroeder, who died some years ago, they being pioneer farmers in the vicinity, then went to Fairmont to reside with her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Nicholas, passed away last Monday. The remains were brought to Greenwood for the funeral. The burial was had at the cemetery at Ashland.

Mrs. Schroeder, with the husband, were early settlers in this vicinity where they struck many a hard blow to redeem Nebraska from the raw prairie to the highly cultivated estate which it is today. Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder won and retained many warm, true friends who were pained at the passing of this excellent woman, although she was four score years of age.

A large number of people were present to pay their last tributes of respect to a really great woman. Following the discourse the remains, followed by a large concourse of her friends, was taken to the beautiful cemetery at Ashland where interment was made.

She leaves to mourn her departure three daughters, Mrs. Wm. Nickles of Fairmont, Mrs. Anna Bullock of Bloomfield, Iowa, and Mrs. Lillie Waldrat of Clay Center, Nebraska; The sons, E. Renwanz and one of the pioneers of this vicinity, after an illness of several months duration, passed away shortly after the noon hour last Thursday, surrounded by her family, who had been summoned to her bedside on account of her critical condition.

She was a devoted follower of the Master and a consistent Christian, being a member of the Methodist church, having affiliated with that religious denomination during her early girlhood.

The deceased was formerly Miss Martha Teresa Schewe, a sister of Messrs Paul and William O. Schewe, of near Murdock. JOINS WHITE SLAVE PROBE

Chicago.—The federal department of justice joined in the investigation of a white slave ring which is accused of aiding young girls to escape from a training school at Geneva, Ill., and then placing them in disorderly houses. The government action was based on the charge that many of the ring's victims were taken into Wisconsin. United States District Attorney Green promised prosecution under the Mann act would follow if such is proven to be the case.

Julius Eberwin, assistant state attorney, said he would seek grand jury action Friday. He asserted that one resort keeper, who admitted taking girls furnished by the ring, had told how the girls were taken to the various resorts. A six month investigation was climaxed with the arrest of twenty-six persons at a Chicago hotel.

New Tax Law Causes Trouble for Schools

Districts With Bonded Indebtedness Can't Keep Enough Funds—Seek Court Test.

Attorney General Good said Thursday a 1933 tax law had made it virtually impossible for most of the state's counties and school districts to operate when they have any bonded indebtedness. His statement followed a conference with County Attorney Beal of Omaha and Robert Smith, clerk of the Douglas county district court, seeking a solution for Douglas county's predicament. The law, which caused the trouble, provides that delinquent taxes shall be applied first to discharge any unpaid obligation of the year for which they were levied and then be paid into a bond sinking fund.

"That means in the case of counties," Good said, "that all the real estate taxes levied last year, which ordinarily are used to pay this year's running expenses, can't be used unless paid before they become delinquent March 1."

He said if a taxpayer waited until March 2 to pay his taxes, the money would have to go to the bond sinking fund. In the case of schools, delinquent taxes paid up to July 1 could be used, but any paid after then would have to go to the bond fund.

Good said he had found no solution as yet but would study the matter to see if there is any way the law might be held unconstitutional.

Seek Court Test.

Scottsbluff, Neb.—The Scottsbluff board of education has invited a number of other school boards to share the cost pro rata of instituting a court test of the new state law which stipulates that back tax collections cannot be used for current operating expenses of schools but must be applied to outstanding bonds or other obligations.

Local board members declare the school systems are threatened because of the high delinquency rate. Most of the taxes being paid now, they assert, are on delinquent taxes and threaten to deprive districts of necessary operating funds. Norfolk and several other cities have been approached on the proposal of joining in a test suit and sharing the expense.

Fund of 950 Million for CWA Given Approval

Bill Passes the Senate and Measure Goes to Conference Between the Two Houses.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The senate tonight passed the administration bill appropriating 950 million dollars additional for civil works and relief grants to the states after administration forces had defeated overwhelmingly republican independent efforts to boost the total. It now goes to conference with the house.

The decision was reached without a roll call after Senator Cutting (rep., N. M.) had lost 57 to 10 an amendment to raise the fund to $2,500,000,000—two billion dollars of it for civil works—and Senator La Follette (rep., Wis.) had been defeated 52 to 14 in an effort to increase the total to $1,500,000,000.

Seven and a half hours of spirited debate preceded passage, members being held several hours after dinner so as to leave tomorrow free for a special aviation contempt trial.

Instructions to Conferees.
Senator McCarran (dem., Nev.) won by 42 to 19 an amendment requiring all state relief and civil works directors to be appointed by the president and confirmed by the senate. He obtained a promise from Senator McKellar (dem., Tenn.), in charge of the bill, that the senate conferees would come back to the floor for another vote before giving in on the proposal in conference.

McCarran said he offered the amendment in view of the wide publicity given charges of "scandal and fraud" in connection with administration of the two relief projects. He thought the senate should scrutinize those who are selected to spend the huge sums.

Opposition of La Follette.
La Follette opposed the amendment on the ground that some of the relief grants in states have to be matched by state funds and he did not believe presidential appointees should be permitted to dispense state moneys.

McKellar said Harry L. Hopkins, civil works and relief administrator, had told the appropriators com-

Lineup on Votes.

Seven democrats, two republicans and the farmer-labor senator voted for the $2,500,000,000 amendment. The democrats were: Black, Bone, Costigan, Dill, Long, McCarran and Wheeler. Republicans: Cutting and La Follette. Farmer-labor: Shipstead.

The same "aye" lineup was found on the vote for the $1,500,000,000 amendment, with these additions: Hatch, Murphy, Pope, Russell, all democrats.

State Offers Kansas Truce in Truck War

Nebraskans to Ask Governor Landon's Executive Order to Allow Reciprocal Agreement.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 7.—An executive order to permit full reciprocal agreement for truckers between Kansas and Nebraska, now barred by Kansas statutes, will be asked by Governor Alf Landon by Nebraska highway officials and truckers Friday at 10 a. m. it was agreed at an informal conference here Wednesday.

Nebraskans meeting Wednesday with the Kansas corporation commission, highway department and vehicle commission, included A. C. Tilley, Lincoln, representing Governor Bryan in the highway department; former State Senator Kenneth S. Wherry, Pawnee City; J. A. McGuire, Wymore, Gage County Truckers association; Bayard Clark, Falls City; Richardson county truckmen; E. F. Armstrong, Auburn, and W. H. Kath, Lincoln.

Tilley's Suggestion.

Others in the conference were L. D. Ferguson, secretary-treasurer, and Stuart Simmons, attorney for the Contract Motor Carriers association; Floyd Shield, attorney for the motor carrier department, and Carl Newcomer, Kansas vehicle commissioner. Tilley suggested Nebraska trucks, complying with Nebraska laws, be given unmolesated entry into Kansas and the Kansas trucks be given the same privileges. Newcomer, however, said it would be impossible to waive the port of entry or ton-mileage laws. The statutes require trucks to enter through certain ports to be checked for proper licenses, and if not registered, drivers are required to pay a fee for use of state highways in lieu of the ton-mileage tax.

"Clearance of trucks at ports of entry is setting up the sovereign right of one state over another" and therefore is contrary to the Constitution," Clark said.

Part of Revenue.

Former senator Wherry urged all additional license fees be eliminated, pointing out that in Nebraska a commercial license fee is the sole charge, while in Kansas the license fee is only a part of the revenue, the rest including ton mileage tax, permit fees and similar assessments.

"If full reciprocity agreement is not worked out between these two states," declared Ferguson, "Kansas is going to be in the unfortunate situation of refusing its own citizens the privilege of the road as offered by one of its sister states."

GROOM INJURED AT PARTY

Omaha.—Alfred Zimmerman, Herman, will have ample reason to remember his honeymoon. He's spending it at a hospital, his broken right arm trussed above his cot as the result of a fall suffered on the evening of his wedding day. Zimmerman and Miss Jeanette Whitmus were married at Tekamah Jan. 22. They cordially invited into their home that evening the customary charivari party. At the height of the party several guests started pulling his bride outdoors and Alfred, dashing to the rescue, slipped on an icy patch. His injuries included a compound fracture and a torn elbow joint. He was brought to a hospital immediately and was released three days later only to return for an operation to remove splinters.

'Semi-Skilled' Pay for CWA is Protested

Labor Leaders Say That There is No Basis for Classification—Ask Interpretation.

Nebraska CWA and state labor officials Thursday agreed to seek an interpretation from Washington authorities of "semi-skilled" wage rates, chief point of controversy between the officials and union leaders.

Federal Relief Agent Haynes was instructed to ask for an interpretation, after an afternoon conference in which Nebraska labor federation heads voiced strong criticism of any semi-skilled rates and charged that even if such a basis were justified, it was being flagrantly abused by county CWA directors thruout the state.

"Of all the plastering, painting, welding, brick laying, carpentering that has been done under the CWA in Lincoln," said Frank Coffey, counsel for labor groups, "only five men have been paid the $1.20 an hour prescribed for skilled labor."

Ray M. Brewer, Grand Island, president of the State Federation of Labor; Britt Pryor, Lincoln Central Labor union, and Fred Eisler of Lincoln, former state labor president, attacked the whole principle of semi-skilled rates. They said the unions never had recognized such a classification, that the federal government intended the semi-skilled wage to apply only to helpers to skilled laborers and that the application of this classification in Nebraska had deprived workers of the wages due them under federal orders.

Haynes explained that the semi-skilled wage rates had been applied under what he believed were properly interpreted instructions from Washington. He offered to ask a further interpretation to fix responsibility for wages.

George Hodge, federal re-employment officer, said in most cases in Nebraska, semi-skilled wages had been fixed at the prevailing rate of union labor in that community. Coffey said, however, there were many exceptions to this. He said county CWA directors arbitrarily limited the skilled classification on jobs.

Labor representatives at the conference also included Paul R. Chapman, A. N. Delhay, Charles Simon and Charles Maycock of Lincoln.

STOCK BROKER CONVICTED

Hastings, Neb.—George E. BOGGS, 59, securities dealer here, was convicted by a district court jury on a charge of embezzling stocks valued at $2,308.50 in dealings with Dr. J. V. Beghtol, pioneer Hastings physician. Boggs, a former business college executive and veteran of the Spanish-American and World wars, was charged with failure to return to Doctor Beghtol stock which he received and was to have sent to New York to exchange for a modified form of the same company's securities.

His defense was that he was handling stocks for a large number of clients, was caught short and was unable to get sufficient stock of the modified form to meet the obligation to Doctor Beghtol. He admitted he was indebted to the doctor in the amount he was charged with embezzling, but contended this was the result of a shortage in buyer and seller transaction. His attorneys indicated they will seek a new trial.
