Missouri River Improvement as Dinner Theme

Chamber of Commerce to Stage Dinner
 Soon With Leaders in River
 Work as the Guests.

The Chamber of Commerce at their meeting Thursday took definite steps to prepare for the proposed Happy Hundred dinner and which will have its theme Missouri river improvement.

The date for the event was fixed for February 26th, but this date will depend on whether the chief guests and speakers can be present and which may make a change of date necessary.

It is desired to have former Governor Arthur J. Weaver, of Patts City, pioneer in the field of Missouri river navigation, District Engineer Young, of Omaha, in charge of the government forces on the river as well as A. W. Farney and staff who are on the work at this point, as the guests of honor and Governor Weaver as the chief speaker of the occasion.

The dinner will have as its chief feature Missouri river catfish and which will be a feature that all of the dinner party can enjoy to the utmost.

The dinner will be open to the residents of the community and it is hoped to have a large number present to enjoy the fine program that will be featured.

SPACE

Can you measure space O mortal man,
 As the earth doth measure time,
 And span
 The heavens in the course of a year
 And break the stern realities of ceaseless fear?

Fear the enemy of all the human race,
 Foretells the storms and prognosticates,
 what man has to face,
 Until he is laid beneath the earthy sod,
 And his resting place decorated by the goldenrod.

The great cauldron of human woes,
 Empty its contents into the place that never grows
 Smaller, by reason of ignorance of the Divine,
 Who divides space into the realm of the sublime.

When we think of the atom and the molecule,
 And separate them into parts by the chemist's rule,
 We find that space would be a vacuum indeed,
 Like a wind-swept forest or a broken reed.

Curved space in the realm of thought today
 Is like the philosopher who declared he would square a circle some way,
 But distance three hundred thousand light years won't tell,
 Where sound judgment is enthroned and the morning star fell.

Space seems to entwine around the planets of old,
 And the telescope sinks deeper into the mystic fold,
 To recompense the searcher in quest of light,
 As the wanderers move, out of sight.

We feel inclined to bow our heads and silently proclaim,
 That the Creator of all surely continues to reign,
 And when the last sprig of acacia is considered no more,
 The hope of the soul we shall never ignore.

—J. R. T.

New Members Enrolled in C of C for Year 1934

Meeting Thursday at Hotel Riley Is
 One of Great Interest—Fine
 Start on Year's Work.

From Friday's Daily

A good omen for the Chamber of Commerce for 1934 was contained in the announcement yesterday to the 27 members of the group present that a total of 76 memberships had been received for this year and that the Chamber is in good financial shape.

The new membership represents a substantial increase over last year. Sam Gilmour was present as farmer guest of the Chamber, selected from among the school directors. It will be the policy of the Chamber to select two farmers as guests in the future. Elmer Sundstrom of Louisville, a prominent civic leader of that place, was also present as a guest and complimented the civic leadership of Plattsmouth. Dr. Puclek and Mr. L. H. Horton were introduced as new members and assigned to committee posts. It was announced also that the changes in the organization of the telephone company would also probably bring into membership Mr. Geist, Mr. Misner and Mr. Helms.

Hopes of having the new Burlington speed train enter Nebraska here were dimmed when Chairman Baird of the railroads committee announced that it was not at the present, the plan of the company to enter Nebraska at Plattsmouth. The Chamber had hoped that this would be possible and had in mind a celebration in honor of the event.

The promised revival of the Happy Hundred banquets will be a source of pleasure to many who recall these outstanding community events of years past. The entertainment committee is making plans now for the revival of this banquet sometime during the last week of this month with "Missouri River Improvement" as the theme. Former Governor A. J. Weaver has been invited to be the principal speaker as well as the officials of the Farney company and the personnel of Chief Engineer Mr. Young.

Interest was also expressed in the flower show which is being planned for sometime this spring.

BAR ASSOCIATION MEETS

Eighty-two members of the bar association of the second judicial district with their ladies, attended the annual dinner of the association held on Thursday evening at the Grand Hotel in Nebraska City.

At the business session of the association, W. A. Robertson of Plattsmouth was named as president; H. A. Collins, Papillon, vice president, and Thomas E. Dunbar of Nebraska City as secretary.

W. W. Wilson of Nebraska City, retiring president, presided over the meeting.

John J. Ledwith, of Lincoln, president of the state association, was the main speaker of the occasion. He discussed the United States supreme court and the constitution in regard to the recent decision of the court that the Minnesota mortgage moratorium law is constitutional.

Ledwith said the decision revealed the effect of public opinion on the court, and that the decision was in conflict with the constitution and opposed to the theory that laws are for the good of the greatest number of people.

It was decided to hold the 1933 meeting at Plattsmouth.

Those who attended from Plattsmouth were Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Dwyer, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Robertson and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Kieck.
