Esther Johnson is assisting with the work of the conduct of the Short Lunch which is conducted by her brother Arthur Johnson.

George Wallinger of near Ashland, but still in Cass county was looking after some business matters in Weeping Water on Tuesday of this week.

Theo Davis who has been kept at home on account of an injury to one of his legs is again able to come down town but as yet is not feeling the very best.

Ralph Martin who has been employed with the stone quarry interests was not able to secure a suitable home in which to live here and last week moved to Plattsmouth.

L. P. Hanson was a visitor in Omaha on last Saturday and where he was looking after some business matters and reports enjoying a very fine business in the produce station line.

H. M. Prawl, the painter, was a business visitor at the state capitol last Saturday and was meeting his friends there. Messrs. McAllister and Paul R. Stangenberg of the State Journal.

Frank Doty who has been down near Syracuse for the past two weeks, was a visitor in Weeping Water on last Tuesday for a short time, returning to the home of his friend where he will work for the remainder of the winter.

The Cole Motor company delivered a new V-8 to the home of Edward Jochim on Tuesday of this week and by the way Mr. Cole is finding sale for a goodly number of these excellent cars. Better drop around and see the newest and have a demonstration.

Harry Doty is busy at this time getting his room in condition and the furniture for the opening of his amusement parlor which he is to conduct in Weeping Water in the near future. The opening of the new amusement parlor is set for a very near date.

Mrs. John Stratton who was recently taken to Omaha where she entered an hospital for an operation for appendicitis is at the present being treated before the operation can be performed. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beck were over on last Tuesday to visit the daughter.

An Earl Console entire electric radio, seven tubes, and carrying a guarantee of four years, which cost $90 a few years ago for this style at wholesale, is now selling at $25. Elmer Michelsen is offering these modern radios, thus showing the difference saved the purchaser. This makes an excellent gift and a most dependable radio.

Mrs. George Olive, who has been so ill for some time past is now reported as being considerably better, but still is kept to her bed. She has been suffering from a severe case of influenza, which threatened pneumonia but which the best of nursing and medical attention prevented. Mr. Olive has been faithfully caring for the wife and staying at the home during the tenseness of the disease. Miss Bessie Kivitt and Ben Olive have been looking after the business at the store during the illness of the patient.

Order Eastern Star Meet.

The members of the Order of Eastern Star of Weeping Water and many members residing out of the city some at Manley, were being entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hinds, furnished a most pleasant afternoon for the crowd which was assembled at her home. Mrs. Hinds proved herself a most capable entertainer and genial hostess. Those present were loud in their praise of the very charming time which was provided.

Pleasant H. Canady Dies.

Pleasant Henry Canady, aged 74 years, 3 months and 26 days on February 23 passed away following a stroke some weeks ago and which took a loved citizen from the midst of his friends, of late making his home with a daughter who resided out in the state, but had returned to Weeping Water and was making his home with another daughter at the time of his death. Mr. Canady was a member of the Congregational church and a very close friend of Rev. Birch, former pastor of the church here, but now located at Scribner, was asked to come and conduct the funeral services, but as the weather was so inclement he could not get here and the services were conducted by the Rev. E. S. Pangborn, pastor of the Methodist church and interment at Oakwood cemetery.

The Hobson funeral home had charge of the direction of the funeral.

Home from the South.

Some two weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nickles and the kiddies departed for their old home town at Fair-play, Mo., where they visited for some two weeks, returning home here last Wednesday. They drove over to the old home town in their auto and enjoyed every minute of the time there, for they formerly resided there and have many relatives and friends residing there. They were guests at the home of Mrs. Nickles parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clymoth Sudduth where they visited and at the home of W. Nickles, the parents of Mr. Carl Nickles and both families being grandparents of the kiddies. Mr. Nickles in speaking of the country there said that there had been plenty of rain and an abundance of snow. People there are feeling hopeful for a good crop the coming summer.

David Olive a Manly Lad.

David Olive who was so badly injured when struck by an automobile and was taken to the Bryan Memorial hospital at Lincoln is still there and the injuries have been prepared for the placing of the hips of the lad in a cast and the setting of the fractured limbs. He is cheerful and is feeling that it will not be so long until he is able to return home and well again. However it is a long time for the lad to remain cooped up at the hospital. The many friends of this little lad are hoping the time may soon come that he will be well and home again.

James Henry Johnson.

James Henry Johnson who had resided southeast of Weeping Water for many years where he was engaged in farming, having resided there for many years was taken seriously ill and passed away on Friday of last week. The funeral was under the direction of the Hobson funeral home and was conducted at the late home by Rev. George I. Morey, former pastor of the Methodist church of which also Mr. Johnson was a member. Interment was at Oakwood cemetery. Mr. Johnson and wife have ever conducted a home which was a haven for those who needed a friend and were ever ready to extend a helping hand to those in need. All who knew this gentleman will miss his kindly smile and kind acts.

Fire Destroys Home.

On the Sunday night about eight o'clock there was reported a fire at the home of Arthur Fitzpatrick, a fire which with the weather in such a condition that it was difficult to fight the demon, but still the fighters when they were called hastened to the scene of the fire, but when they arrived which was almost instantly after the fire was a veritable furnace and consuming the frame structure. It was impossible to enter or approach the home, but with heroic fighting the fire was extinguished with but a shell of the home and the contents destroyed. The members of the fire department are to be congratulated on their efforts and as well the very good work which they did. There was insurance on the building and contents, enough it is thought to restore the structure and to refurnish the home. The fire department was handicapped in their work by the need of better equipment.

American Legion Give Play.

Last week the American Legion Minstrels gave a two evening performance at Syracuse, which was enjoyed very much by the people who were fortunate enough to attend. The attendance was not such as was desired as the weather was very bad and one night a real blizzard, but those who were there sure enjoyed the excellent production.

No better town in which to reside than Plattsmouth.

Compulsory Control of Farm Production

Amendment to Adjustment Act to Be Introduced in the House—Enforcement Broadened.

Washington.—Provision for establishing compulsory control of all farm production without additional legislation will be proposed as an amendment to the agricultural adjustment act expected to be introduced Wednesday by Chairman Jones of the house agriculture committee. The amendment, designed to strengthen the act, was submitted to Jones by Secretary Wallace. It would permit the secretary to establish quotas or allotments for any crop covered by a license and marketing agreement following agreement by two-thirds of the farmers affected.

Chester C. Davis, farm administrator, said that while this and other proposed amendments actually would give the secretary of agriculture legal power to establish compulsory control under marketing agreements and licenses, that as a practical thing such control of national grown crops, such as wheat or corn and hogs, would be difficult. "It is possible on such a crop as cotton, where it must pass thru gins first, to restrict marketing thru licenses," he said. "However, on nationally grown crops, where a hog or a bushel of wheat loses its identity soon after leaving the farm, the practical difficulties of controlling the crop thru licenses would be tremendous."

Another amendment would broaden the scope of contracts entered into between the secretary and farmers to allow one contract to cover all crops, whether or not they are declared to be basic commodities. This provides that agreements could be drawn "requiring the producers who are parties to such agreements to reduce or limit acreage and production for market of agricultural commodities other than basic agricultural commodities, as well as of one or more basic agricultural commodities."

It also would allow the administration to draft marketing agreements with processors, producers, associations of producers, and others handling any agricultural commodity which might "burden, obstruct or in any way affect, interstate or foreign commerce."

Enforcement powers would be broadened to provide a penalty for exceeding any quota or allotment fixed in a license of a sum equal to three times the current market value of such excess, to be recoverable in a civil suit.

DEATH OF MRS. PLATT

From Wednesday's Daily
Mrs. Harry Platt, a former resident of this city, who has been very seriously ill at the Lutheran Wise Memorial hospital at Omaha, died last evening, word received here today by friends states. Mrs. Platt had been gradually growing worse and Tuesday morning hope of her recovery was abandoned by those in attendance.

The deceased lady leaves surviving her the husband and one daughter, Joan, as well as her parents, residing at Springfield.

No funeral arrangements have been made as yet by the family. The news of the death of Mrs. Platt came as a distinct shock to the many friends she had made during her residence in this city.

George Hodge Confers with NE County Groups

Emphasis Placed on Giving Service to Private Employers—Says Crisis is Coming.

Managers, interviewers and clerks from national re-employment headquarters in twenty northeast Nebraska counties met in Hotel Norfolk Wednesday with George Hodge, Lincoln, federal re-employment director, to review registration instructions and to make plans for the spring drive to serve PWA, highway and Missonri river projects.

Special emphasis was placed on the matter of giving efficient service to private employers in the employment of men and women through re-employment headquarters. These headquarters, Hodge said, have an index on all kinds of people and the kind of work they are fitted for, and their service is free to all who wish to avail themselves of it.

124,000 Applications.

At present, he said, there are 124,000 applications for work in Nebraska with 66,000 of that number considered as legitimate unemployed. Of the remainder, he added, there is some question as to whether they are actually unemployed because many will be absorbed in seasonal work.

Of the 66,000 listed as legitimate during the winter, 33,000 have been working on CWA projects, which means that an equal number of needy people have been standing around and watching the others work, Hodge stated.

Under new orders, he continued, the CWA is to start tapering off jobs at the rate of 10 per cent a week so that all CWA projects can be discontinued by May 1st. "Assuming that on May 1st, the CWA will be discontinued we will have 66,000 needy people in the state," he said. "We have analyzed PWA, Missonri river and highway work and find about 25,000 potential jobs. That will leave 41,000 needy people to be absorbed by industry, according to the administration."

"A Serious Thing."

"This is a serious thing in Nebraska, because it is not an industrial state and what industries there are have not been needed up to the point where they can absorb the 41,000. This means that when CWA is discontinued a great many needy people will simply have to go on direct relief unless absorbed by private firms and employers."

"One of the purposes of the CWA was to take off 50 per cent of the persons on relief rolls as of November 16th. In Nebraska we practically cleaned up 34 of the employable on relief as of November 16th, but so many have applied for aid since the latter part of November that there are more on relief rolls now than on November 16th because needy folks have used up their resources and had to apply for aid."

"Nebraskans have shown a great spirit of patience and faith and confidence in the administration. The crisis in unemployment that seemed imminent last fall was postponed due to the administration of CWA and in the spring of 1934 we will face another crisis."

Hodge Has Confidence.

"I have confidence and I'm sure that when the clouds of unemployment look darkest the administration will not step out from under anybody. The administration is anxious that people on federal payrolls be absorbed by private industry as soon as possible."

"The president said when he signed the National Recovery Act that real success could only come from wholehearted co-operation of industry and labor and every citizen of the nation. There never has been a time when that challenge for co-operation is as important as it is now."

"The one danger as I see it that will destroy in a measure confidence and co-operation will be the coming election when politicians will want to show shortcomings of various plans and schemes the administration has been using to help solve the nation's problems."

The federal re-employment director was accompanied to Norfolk by three of his field supervisors, R. F. Vogeler, J. D. Fenn and P. V. Cornell, all of Lincoln.

A similar meeting will be held Monday at Kearney, Tuesday at North Platte and next Wednesday at Alliance.

Farmers Union Meeting.

The monthly Farmers Union meeting was held at the home of Tom Saxton Tuesday, February 20th. This meeting was also an all day affair. At noon all those who came brought a covered dish and a fine dinner was enjoyed. The main feature of the afternoon was the discussion on limestone as a feed for livestock. Bert Philpot from near Weeping Water was present and gave a talk on its value. Other things of interest took place throughout the afternoon. If you were not there remember you missed one of the high spots of ways to improve farming. I am sure if you all are present at the next meeting it will be of pleasure as well as educational to you.
