Bishop Leete Speaks at the M. E. Church

One of the Outstanding Prelates of the Country Here to Hold Easter Services Sunday.

On Easter Sunday evening the city and the First Methodist church were highly honored by the visit of Bishop Frederick D. Leete, presiding head of the Iowa and Nebraska conferences and one of the outstanding leaders in Christian thought and life in the United States.

This was the first visit of Bishop Leete to this city and a signal honor to the local church that they were able to have this great leader to climax the Easter observance at their church. Bishop Leete is one of the busiest of the church leaders in the nation with a large and active conference to serve and it was a most happy occasion that the First Methodist church here was able to secure him for the address.

Bishop Leete brought a powerful and inspiring message to the people of this community and one that they will long remember.

The address of Bishop Leete was "Looking Unto Jesus," in which he carried the Easter message to the dawn of hope and everlasting life that had been first preached by the Man of Galilee.

During the service the choir of the church gave a part of the oratorio, "Penitence, Pardon and Peace."
