

GREENWOOD

Greenwood is to be well represented on the jury drawn for this term of district court at Plattsmouth, the three selected from here being John C. Lomeyer, Gust Weitzel and A. L. Lear. They go to serve this week and for the remainder of the term.

Mrs. W. E. Newkirk, who has been visiting for some time at the home of her son, Clyde W. Newkirk and family and at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. M. Palling and family, went to Murdock last week to visit for a time with her daughter, Mrs. Dr. L. D. Lee and family.

Town Board Canvasses Vote

The election in Greenwood this spring developed a lot of interest and resulted in a large vote being polled. In fact, there were more votes cast than at any time in a good number of years. In the canvass of the votes, it was found that a number of the voters had written in the name of E. L. McDonald on their ballot, but had not placed a cross in the square opposite the name and that these were thrown out when the votes were being counted by the election board. Inquiry directed to the attorney general's office disclosed the fact that the state supreme court has ruled that the writing in of a name on the ballot is evidence of the voter's intent to vote for him regardless of whether he marks an x in the square or not.

With the recount of the ballots by the canvassing board it was found that Mr. McDonald had received the highest vote of any candidate for a place on the town board, and he was accordingly declared elected.

Seventh District Assembly

Members of the Rebeckah lodges of the seventh district met at the Masonic hall in Greenwood on last Thursday. The business session was held during the afternoon and in the evening one of the features was the conferring of a degree. A number of candidates were given the work, with the degree team with the Havelock assembly. A banquet was also served at an appropriate hour, adding interest to the occasion.

Covered Dish Luncheon

The members of the Order of Eastern Star met last Wednesday noon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Leasley, where all enjoyed a covered dish luncheon. There were a large number present. The afternoon was spent in quilting.

Doing the Right Thing

The American Legion, which is always endeavoring to assist those in need of help, has arranged to provide seed for the growing of a garden to those who cannot afford to purchase the same. In addition, they are also providing a place for the various gardens that may be planted. One of the members of the organization, after he had planted his potatoes, had a bushel and a half of seed left, which he gave to the cause and which if properly planted and cultivated during the growing season, should provide enough spuds to feed several people during the greater part of the coming winter.

The interest of the Legion in this worthy project is very commendable, indeed.

Will Organize New District

There is a move on foot at this time to form a new district for the subordinate lodges of the I. O. O. F. of Lancaster, Cass and Saunders counties. A meeting will be called in Ashland in the near future to discuss the plans.

To Perfect Team Work

The six I. O. O. F. lodges of Cass county are to hold a meeting soon at Louisville to arrange for the organizing of two degree teams from among their membership, which will enter into a contest to see which of them can best master the work of conferring the initiatory and advanced degrees. In this way it is hoped to greatly increase the proficiency of all those taking part. This will also make available for putting on of the work two trained degree teams, so it can be made more impressive than would be possible otherwise.

It will take a lot of work to master the ritualistic ceremonies incident to conferring the various degrees and those selected for a place on the team will be chosen with a view to their ability to handle it in the best manner possible.

Held School of Instruction

During the holding of the Rebeckah assembly here last Thursday, one of the features of the afternoon program was a school of instruction. A goodly part of the membership of the various lodges present was enrolled to receive the instruction thus providing a much more uniform method of giving the work in the district. All enjoyed the instruction provided and derived much good therefrom.

Visited Friends Here

Mrs. Myron Coleman, of Sheridan, Wyoming, has been visiting with relatives and friends in Greenwood and Ashland for some time past and was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Landon during a portion of last week. Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Ella Marshall, of Ashland, and Mesdames E. A. Landon and Aaron Wright formed a party of four who went to the home of W. P. Daily, of Ashland, to visit for the day last Tuesday. Needless to say, they all enjoyed a splendid time.

Home from a Trying Trip

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Holt are home from a tedious trip which they made to southwestern Illinois to attend the funeral of the husband of a sister of Mr. Holt. They found the travel difficult due to poor train service. First they went to Lincoln, from where they took a train for St. Joseph, Mo. At that point they were delayed in getting a train for Hannibal, Mo. Arriving at Hannibal on the morning of the day of the funeral, they went via auto from there to the point in Illinois where the funeral was held, and afterwards were driven back to Hannibal, where they caught a train for St. Joseph, then to Lincoln and on home. During the entire four days consumed in making the trip, they were unable to have their clothes off or get any perceptible amount of sleep, and they were surely tired out and ready to go to bed when they arrived home.

Exemplified Initiatory Degree

On Monday of last week, the I. O. O. F. lodge of Greenwood, at their regular meeting first looked after the routine business before them and then closed the lodge in the third degree, reopening in the initiatory degree, with the team exemplifying the initiatory degree on a candidate, Jack Gribbel, who now is an initiate member of the I. O. O. F.

WHITNEY NOMINATED AGAIN

New York.—Richard Whitney has been renominated for the office of president of the New York stock exchange. Heretofore, nomination has been tantamount to election. Mr. Whitney will have completed his fourth term as president May 14. The nominating committee named three new members of the board of governors, renominated Warren B. Nash for treasurer and E. H. H. Simmons, a former president, for the office of trustee of the gratuity fund. Maurice L. Farrell, Laurence M. Marks, and Roger D. Mellick were the new members proposed for the governing board. James Auchincloss, George U. Harris, and Jay P. Cahill, were not renominated. They are respectively the chairman, vice chairman and third member of the executive committee in charge of publicity. In their places as governors the nominators suggested Maurice L. Farrell, Laurence M. Marks and Roger D. Mellick. There was reported dissatisfaction of some exchange members with the policies of the organization's public relations department.

CARL HILTON'S BODY FOUND

Cambridge, Neb.—The body of Carl Hilton, young farmer who disappeared last November, was found in the Republican river Thursday evening. Hilton's dog was found last November standing in shallow water and had to be pulled from the stream. His gun was found in the water near the dog. Altho scores of searchers dragged the river and state game wardens dynamited the river, Hilton's body was not found at that time.

Examination of the body has not been completed. Hilton, who was 29 years old, lived with his parents near here and had walked away from home one day without an explanation of where he was going.

MAN IS FATALLY BURNED

Nebraska City.—Roy Hoagland, 29, of Julian, died in a hospital here Thursday of burns suffered late Wednesday while he was burning out stumps on his farm.

Pouring fuel oil on the stumps to facilitate their burning, Hoagland's clothes became ignited. Failing to beat out the flames, he crawled to a creek about half a block from the point where the fire started, and succeeded in quenching the flames in the water. Gravely burned, he crawled about three-quarters of a mile to the home of a neighbor.

Young Teddy Enlists to Aid in Campaign

Son of the Late President Tenders Service in Republican Cause for Fall Election.

Washington.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., offered his services to republican leaders in the G. O. P. campaign to capture control of congress next fall. Young "Teddy" made it clear in a series of conferences with party chiefs he thinks the time is fast approaching when a concerted, militant attack on the more vulnerable policies of the new deal would be the best republican strategy. He is preparing to make a vigorous onslaught on "brain trust" experiments and preach the gospel of abolishing governmental interference with industry as the best means of assuring permanent recovery. In a brief interview Colonel Roosevelt predicted the republicans would gain a large number of seats in the next house of representatives. He declined to reduce his predictions to figures.

He said many normally republican districts which fell to the democrats in President Roosevelt's landslide victory over Hoover would unquestionably return to the republican column in the fall. Other gains are expected by the republicans as the first flush of enthusiasm over the democratic administration's achievements gives way to dissatisfaction and fear that the president's advisers are planning to go too far, he said.

It is understood, however, republican leaders are not so optimistic at this time as to expect to gain actual control of the house. Their present hope is to increase the party's representation from 115 to about 200 seats, leaving the democrats only a slender majority. Among those with whom Colonel Roosevelt conferred was Representative Wadsworth of New York, considered a contender for the republican presidential nomination in 1936.

Small Riot Started by Angry Taxpayers

Batter Way Through Steel Doors to Voice Their Protest to County Commissioners.

Pottsville, Pa.—A crowd of angry taxpayers, protesting their assessments had been raised while coal companies were not affected, battered thru steel doors in the courthouse annex, seized two county commissioners and hustled them to an indignation meeting. Leaders charged that assessments were increased on private dwellings in some instances as high as 300 percent. A mass meeting was arranged and the commissioners were ordered to appear. They declined.

This infuriated the crowd, estimated at one thousand persons. Shouting and jeering, they invaded an anteroom in the annex and, using benches as battering rams, forced the locked doors of the offices of Commissioners Brownmiller and Adamson. The crowd rushed them to the meeting in a courtroom. Peter Bovolac and Ray Burchill, clerks caught in the melee, were taken along with the struggling commissioners. Bovolac was beaten and Burchill's glasses were broken.

The crowd swarmed into the courtroom, which seats about five hundred. Taxpayers and their followers climbed over seats, perched on railings and stood on the judge's bench where they displayed a banner emphasizing their demands. City police had restored some semblance of order before they were reinforced by state police called from the Tamaqua and Hazleton barracks. James H. Kirchner, minority commissioner, was at the meeting as the two other officials were thrust into the room.

Shortly afterward the commissioners unanimously decided to hold hearings on revision of assessments at public places thruout the township rather than with individuals in their office. The commissioners said they did not contemplate prosecutions of leaders of the disorder.

Colorado Band Flees with Large Sum of Money

Discovery of Abandoned Car of Bank Raiders Turns Hunt Toward the South.

Sterling, Colo.—Four or five bandits, armed with machine guns, raided the Security State bank of Sterling at 8:30 a. m., escaped with nearly $34,000 and grabbed three officials of the bank as hostages. The officials were released unharmed two miles east of Sterling.

The automobile in which the robbers escaped was found four miles east of here near a clay pit, where authorities believe they had cached another machine in which they continued their flight.

National guard airplanes circled overhead while motorcades of posses, who recently were asked to watch for the outlaw John Dillinger, scoured the countryside. Discovery of the abandoned car turned the search southward toward Otis, Colo.

Officers said the first machine had been stolen Tuesday in Brush, Colo., together with three sets of license plates, all of which still were missing.

R. A. Towne, president of the bank, who was one of the hostages, said a check showed the robbers took $19,125 in cash, $3,428 in clearing house checks and $11,104 in warrants of registered bonds belonging to patrons of the bank, which are not negotiable. Towne said insurance covered the entire loss.

A GASTRONOMIC REVIEW

I stand and look across the sea and hear the billows roar. And gently touch the hand of Him who led me to the shore. In solitude I love to dream of days we looked for shells. To decorate a treasured spot where alone my memory dwells.

Homer never drained a cup of sweets more sublime. Nor does his liard prove that grace came from rhyme. But love amidst the dense intertidal gloom. Opened the floodgates of heaven and gave it plenty of room.

Nestling in the forest by the restless sea, Lingers in my memory a longing to be. Where gleams of the beacon that flashes out bright. To guide the mariners to steer their ships aright.

The hills all covered with grass and trees. Bow their heads to the lasting frieze. That decorates the gorgeous monuments formed and built. By nature that removed the rocks and silt.

As the great ships pass by the open door. And the rays of the moon fall across the floor. The joy of living seems to steal serenely across. My open hearth, ablaze with fragments of wood and moss.

That cottage by the sea where the roses bloom. And the honey suckle twines and shades my room. The humming bird sips its blossom for sweets. As the dew drops down upon the vine it greets.

There stands the oak, the Hickory and ash. These giants of hearty and sentinels rash. And as the last ray of light gleams in the west. The cottage and trees go to rest. —J. R. T.

Wool Co-operative Members Will Pool Wool at Weeping Water

County members of the Mid-West Wool Growers association have made arrangements to pool their wool at the Farmers Union Grain and Supply Co., at Weeping Water. The first advance will be made when the wool is weighed there. From this point it will be trucked to Fremont and go in carload lots from there to Boston.

This saves making about four transactions that wool usually goes through, thus the profits go to the grower. The present advance is 23c per pound for most grades of wool. The national association aims to keep the advance at about 75% of the Boston market. A second advance will be made after the wool is graded at Boston and a final payment made at the end of the wool marketing season. Most of the members received about 32c last year when the final settlement was made. Anyone interested should get in touch with Ed Lorenson, manager of the Farmers Union Grain and Supply company at Weeping Water. He is handling the wool and supplies for the association in this county.

Group Achievement

Two hundred project club members and friends from Rock Bluff and Plattsmouth precincts were in attendance at the group achievement program at Murray, Friday, April 6th. The program included an original song, readings, vocal and instrumental numbers and a musical comedy, "The Ranch Frolie." This comedy depicted the various lessons in the past year's work. Readings, accordion and guitar numbers made this skit especially enjoyable.

This was the last meeting of the year for the clubs in the Murray group. Other groups will hold their achievement days on the following dates:

Louisville, Wednesday, April 11th at 1:30. Nehawka Auditorium, Wednesday, April 18th at 1:30.

Eagle, Methodist church, Thursday, April 19th at 1:30. Murdock, school house, Thursday, April 19th at 7:45.

Elmwood, Community building, Wednesday, April 25th at 1:30.

Feeders Day Program

Programs for the annual livestock feeders day which will be held at the Agricultural College, Lincoln, Friday, April 20th, have been received in the Farm Bureau office. The morning sessions will be divided into programs for the men and program for the women. The morning session for the men will be held at the Activities building, starting at 9:15. The morning session for the women will be held in Room 306, Agricultural Hall. The afternoon session will be a general program for both men and women, at the Activities Building.

Special attention is drawn to the two principal speakers on the afternoon program. C. A. Cobb, chief of the cotton division, AAA, Washington, D. C., has for his topic, "Cattle, Cotton and Commerce." The cotton program is one year ahead of the corn belt. Furthermore Mr. Cobb has been closely associated with congress in the development and passage of the Bankhead bill for enforced controlled production. He is a splendid speaker. We feel confident it will be well worth your time to find out what the south is doing as told by Mr. Cobb.

Mr. James E. Poole of Chicago has an interesting topic, "My Opinion—Take It Ore Leave It." He has a very unique method of telling what he thinks. He does not mince words. I am sure everyone will find him a very interesting speaker. He has had one ear to the ground listening to omens pertaining to the cattle market for so long that he has developed an uncanny ability at forecasting what is around the corner.

Of special interest on the women's program in the morning is a talk by Helen Bender on "Our Experience With Lard for Cake Baking." Many other worthwhile topics will be discussed. Families who are planning on attending the program should try to be there promptly at 9:15 so that you may have a chance at the prizes to be given.

Rhubarb and Date Pie

With the oncoming of rhubarb fresh from the garden, we believe the following recipe for rhubarb and date pie will appeal to most families:

- 1 recipe of plain pastry.
- 2 c. or 1/2 lb. rhubarb.
- 1 c. or 1/2 lb. dates or raisins.
- 2/3 c. sugar.
- 3 T. flour.
- 1 egg.

Mix the sugar and flour, add to the beaten egg. Cut rhubarb in about one inch pieces and chop the dates. Put in pie dish which has been lined with the pastry. Cover with a top crust or with a "lattice." Bake in a hot oven for about twenty-five or thirty minutes.

Deadline in Ordering Trees

Cass county farm people have but a few days left to put in their applications for Clarke-McNary seedling and transplant trees. The deadline for accepting applications is Monday, April 15. Thus far farmers here have made application for about 15,000 trees which will be used for windbreak, woodlot and shelterbelt purposes.

Nebraska farmers have made the 1934 tree planting program an unqualified success. They are planting more seedling and transplants than in many years. Clayton W. Watkins, extension forester at the Nebraska College of Agriculture, has announced that the 1,000,000 goal has been surpassed and in all probability a total of 1,100,000 trees will be distributed by the agricultural extension service and agricultural agents this year.

Trees used for farm plantings are in fine shape and thousands have already been shipped from the Nebraska National Forest at Halsey and from storage in Fremont.

PILOT FLIES UP NINE MILES

Rome.—Renato Donati, a World war ace, soared into an overcast sky behind a four bladed propeller to carve what apparently is a new world airplane altitude record of slightly more than nine miles out of a misty atmosphere. The civilian pilot required only seventy-five minutes for his flight, which his instruments revealed had taken him 14,500 meters or 47,572.0785 feet into the heavens. He descended so rapidly in his specially constructed biplane that he suffered from shock on touching the earth again and had to be given first aid treatment.
