Morehead Hints He May Run for U. S. Senator

Says He Might Be More Valuable There Than Anywhere Else—Much Experience.

Falls City, Neb.—A veiled hint that John H. Morehead would enter the United States senatorial race was seen Tuesday in the first public utterance of the First district congressman since his return from Washington. The remark that indicated the solon was considering making the senate race was:

"As to senator, I do think if I could be of real service with my long business experience, both public and private, that could be of more value there than in any other position."

Morehead's Statement.

The statement in full follows: "I stated some time ago that I would not be a candidate for the U. S. house of Representatives. I am still of the same opinion. I haven't fears of being elected and in my six elections to congress there were always some who said I would have a difficult time, and yet each time I increased my majority and this time it looks as easy as any time. I just don't have the desire to succeed myself."

"I have had many letters, telegrams and individuals urging me to be a candidate for governor. Executive work, if I have any ability, is very attractive to me but I will not be a candidate for governor."

"As to senator, I do think if I could be of real service with my long business experience, both public and private, that I could be of more value there than in any other position."

"The new deal isn't altogether a democratic move. They have the sentiment about as strong on the republican side, both house and senate, as on the democratic. Both democrats and republicans have been very loyal in supporting the president in his program."

"If I were returned to the house or should I be elected to the senate it would be my intention to go along with the president when I believed it would be to the best interest of the people I represent; but to state, as some do, in being 100 percent in voting with the president, or any other individual, it seems too silly for me to discuss."

"Why elect a public official if he hasn't any constructive ideas and courage enough to carry them out? We should save the salary and expense. No, I don't want to hold public office and pledge myself to sign on the dotted line."

Little Chance for Independent.

"The opportunities for a candidate not belonging to factions isn't promising. Governor Bryan has filed. His name is as well known as any in Nebraska. He has a good publicity bureau, a state organization and is a good campaigner. Congressman Burke of Omaha is strongly supported by the World-Herald, and he also has the support of Arthur Mullen and the national committeeman, former Governor Neville. Homer Gruenther, son of Chris Gruenther, who was a power during his life time, has an extensive acquaintance and with all presents Mr. Burke's side of the case in most glowing terms."

"In fact, after I read an article that he has sponsored, I wonder how the president can get along during the campaign without having his counsel every day. From these articles, Mr. Burke has been the only loyal democrat in Nebraska. This is not substantiated by the congressional record of congressmen. All five members of the Nebraska delegation have been very loyal to the president."

"Should I be a candidate, I have no press. I haven't in the past and I am not now using nor will I use the franking privilege to send out propaganda to the voters of the state. I have an extensive acquaintance and I hope a favorable one throughout the entire state but whatever I would do would be by personal contact and by paid ads in the different newspapers. I haven't personally told anyone, nor have I written a letter encouraging people to support me for office."

"Under our present methods candidates select themselves for public office. If there were a way where representative voters could congregate from over the state, which there isn't and express a choice, it would be a different face on the subject."

"As it seems now twelve or fifteen democrats will file for congress, First district, dividing the democrats primary vote into that many parts, which makes it possible to select the least desirable. This is a condition that can't be changed so we make the best of it."

"I am not coming home in a

I have been generously treated by the voters, not only in my home county but throughout the entire state. I have done in my public life what I believed was for the best interests of the people I represent and I repeat that I am not disappointed nor disgruntled but I more and more realize what it means to have a well administered government and it is largely up to the people we elect to administer our public affairs just as the success of a private business depends on the officials who handle it.

"What I want and hope will be possible, is to elect democrats that I can support, both in county, state and nation. I hope to continue my activities as a private citizen in correcting some abuses, as I view them, thru the democratic party."

"I cannot see any difference between a well managed private business and a public business, and I seriously question if we can borrow ourselves into a prosperous condition. I am fearful of it being rather temporary. The old slogan of paying as we go has been my thoughts in private as well as in public life."

TEMPORARY BONDS LISTED

State Auditor Price registered $200,000 of temporary debentures, without coupons, of the Columbus-Geneca power project Monday afternoon. The debentures were presented for registration by Secretary Carl Kramer and Attorney August Warner, representing the project, which is eventually to get a PWA loan of $7,300,000.

Kramer said the proceeds of the debentures are to be used for preliminary work on the project. "The money is now in the federal reserve bank at Omaha, ready for this use," said Kramer. "It is to be used for borings about the proposed dam and along canals and for detailed studies which are to be made by 100 engineers who will make surveys and detailed plans. We will advertise immediately for bids on borings to be made and men will be put to work at once."

A $150,000 and a $50,000 debenture, typewritten, were registered but Kramer said these will be replaced later by the engraved bonds which will be negotiable. The typewritten temporary forms were used to speed up progress.

ACCEPTS FILING

Troy L. Davis, mayor of Weeping Water, was in the city on Saturday and while here he accepted the petition filed some time ago by a large number of his friends, for the placing of his name on the ballot as a candidate for the republican nomination for state representative. Mr. Davis has held this office for several terms in the past and has had a very extensive experience in the state business affairs.

This is the only republican filing so far with George E. Nickles of Murray, the present representative and Paul Schewe of Murdock are candidates for the democratic nomination for this office.

Sox Win Fast Game from Nelson Auto Parts

Locals Win by the Score of 4 to 1—Sylvester Pitches Fine Game for the Local Team.

The Red Sox on Sunday took a fast game from the Nelson Auto Parts Co. team of Omaha by the score of 4 to 1.

The Red Sox scored first in the second inning when Pierce and Thimman each hit safely and scored on the blow of Oliver.

In the third frame the Sox again registered when McCarthy tripped and scored easily on the double of Joe Krejci, who died at second on the out of Stone.

The last score of the locals was in the fifth when Schlieske was safe on the bobble of the shortstop and scored on the double of Krejci, his second two base hit of the game.

The visitors scored when J. Baker was safe on an error in the outfield and later scored on the bingle of Lutley.

The pitching of Sylvester for the Sox was a feature of the game as he fanned out seven of the visiting team.

WHEN BROTHERS MEET

The kittenball game Tuesday night between the Wimpey Inn-Donat team and the V-8 team proved very interesting after the first innings, with the victory resting with the V-8's by the score of 6 to 4.

The game was unique in one respect that four sets of brothers faced each other on the teams, two Carlson brothers, as well as Robert and Howard Hinz, Frank and Joe Krejci and Chet and Bill Smith being seen on the rival teams and labored hard for the victory for their group.

Louie Knofleek was the mound artist for the Wimpeys and was wild in the opening innings in his effort for strikeouts. John Svoboda appeared in a new role of pitcher for his team and was able to hold the V-8 bunch in good shape.

Roy Turner for the V-8 team was effective throughout the game and pitched a mighty sweet brand of softball for his teammates.

The tabulated score of the game was as follows:

Nehawka

Elmer Stoll was a visitor in Weeping Water on last Saturday.

Clarence E. Hansen was a visitor in Omaha on Monday of this week where he was looking after some business matters in connection with the garage which he operates here.

Miss Lois Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell, Jr. residing between Murray and Nehawka is spending the week with her aunt, Mrs. Emma Christwiser in Nehawka.

Both the Nehawka quarries are working at this time, one loading a portion of the time and the other at another time, the rock can be prepared at one quarry while the other is loading.

Julius Buck of Newcastle, Wyo., a former resident of this community, but who has been away for some time shipped two cars of cattle to Chicago a short time ago where after he had sold them he visited the Century of Progress and on his way home stopped at Nehawka where he visited with the old time friends, being a guest of George E. Hanson for a day while here. Julius says that the country out that way was very dry as well as here.

Got Some Big Hall.

On last Saturday evening when the very fine rain came this way, it was accompanied by some very large hail stones as well as the good rain. There were some large hail and some which measured three or more inches across, they being flattened.

Has Peculiar Experience.

The family of Herbert Kuntz, thinking to have a day of pleasure, went with well filled baskets to the home of Albert Swanson, Mesdames Swanson and Kuntz being sisters, Albert Swanson and family residing near Alvo, where they picked up the other family. The dinner, which was contained in a basket was attached to one side of the car on the running board, they going to Linoma Beach for a picnic for the day, and as they were driving along just outside of Greenwood they noticed a peculiar odor as of burning paper and stopped to examine and found their dinner basket well afire. While it was expected that a good cool dinner was to be enjoyed, it was a hot one instead.

Visiting with Grandparents.
