Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Colman and Miss Elva went to Wahoo on Friday, where they attended the Saunders county fair and rodeo. They report a fine display of products considering the drought.

Miss Elizabeth Lanne returned home Saturday evening from a two weeks visit with relatives at Chicago. She also visited the World's Fair while there and reports a most enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. White and Mr. and Mrs. George Bucknell and sons spent Sunday at Sterling, Nebr., with old friends. They say things are a lot drier in that part of the country than here at home.

Miss Elva Coleman, with a crowd of young people from Murdock went to Milford on last Tuesday, where they attended Epworth League day, held in connection with the Evangelical church conference there.

Another need has been supplied in Greenwood with the commissioning of Dwight Talcott and Norman Peters as Notary Publics. Heretofore it has been necessary to go elsewhere to have a legal document properly attested.

Warren Allison, who occupies part of the building near the lumber yard belonging to B. Golding, of Plattsmouth, was building a new chimney, as the old one had gotten so dangerous it was likely to be condemned. The construction of the chimney has made the building much safer.

Pearl A. Sanborn, the implement man, was over to Omaha twice last week after repairs, the greater part of which were for corn binders, as everyone having a binder is putting it to work harvesting his fodder and that of as many of his neighbors as possible. This makes it possible to put just about every binder in the country to work on this heavy duty job and that, of course, requires many repairs, especially on the older model machines.

Attended County Convention On Thursday of last week, John M. Mefford, Mrs. W. A. Armstrong, E. H. Armstrong, Dr. N. D. Talcott, E. A. Landon and George E. Bucknell were in Plattsmouth, where they attended the republican county convention. On the same date, the democratic county convention was also held at the county seat, being attended by R. E. Attended the Convention A number of the members of the Greenwood American Legion post attended the annual state convention of the Legion held at Grand Island the fore part of last week. They took along their big gun, which has made a hit at former state conventions and had it fixed so they could fire it. When it was discharged they were in close proximity to a school building, and after the first shot, which was all that was fired there were twelve window lights out in the Grand Island school building. Followed a series of diplomatic conferences between the police force of Grand Island and the delegates from Greenwood who had fired the shot that it seemed came very near to being heard around the world. Just what adjustment of the matter was made, we are not aware, but for a time there were a number of very sober faced delegates from Greenwood at the convention.

The list of those attending the convention from here were J. S. Gribble, George Trunkenboiz, Earl Stradley, Ray McNurlin and Ed Stradley.

Seeing the South Walter Lovell, Dwight Talcott, Donald Scheffer and Woodrow Fulmer departed the fore part of last week in their car for a tour of the south and were expecting to go as far as southern Oklahoma and see the abundant crops which are growing in that section as well as observing the other features of the country and getting a little respite from their work and meeting with new faces and enjoy a real outing before the coming of winter.

Cobs Burn Prematurely The school board which has charge of the management of the King school, being desirous of providing the teacher with something to kindle fires readily when winter comes, after some rustling about succeeded in securing a fine load of cobs, which they stored in the fuel house, and along with them about half of the seats of the school. Early last Tuesday morning the cob house was observed to be on fire and with the dry weather and being isolated from a thickly settled portion of the district, there was no means of fighting the fire and the entire building and contents were consumed. However, there was insurance on the seats, although at the time the writer was informed of the fire, it had not been ascertained if there was any insurance upon the fuel house or not.

Dinner and Slumber Party Miss Ruth Lanne entertained in honor of Miss Nina Jeffery on Tuesday, August 21, at a dinner and slumber party, before she goes away to school. Those present were the Misses Bernice Carlson, Dorothy and Marian Snyder, Gladys Willis and Lucille Poid. All enjoyed the occasion very much.

Attended Eastern Star Picnic Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Leasley and family and Ardeth Wendt and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Mathis and family drove to the Ed Spangler farm south of Plattsmouth Sunday, August 26, where they attended the Eastern Star picnic sponsored by Home Chapter No. 139, of Plattsmouth. All the chapters of the county were represented at this time and a good sized crowd was present.

The afternoon was spent with games and stunts and in getting acquainted with each other. The old folks from the Masonic Home were the guests of honor. At five o'clock a bonny picnic supper was enjoyed. All returned home late in the day, having enjoyed a splendid time.

BULK MILK SALES BANNED Chicago.—What laboratory workers saw when they peered through their microscopes resulted in a ban on the sale of bulk milk in Illinois—the over-the-counter trade in milk by the jug, the bucket or the pan.

Horace N. Lepman, superintendent of the state department of foods and dairies, said milk with a bacteria count as high as 7 million to the cubic centimeter—Chicago considers 100,000 safe—had been sold in the city's fifty to sixty bulk stations. He announced at the same time that he would ask the legislature to enact more rigid milk laws, setting for the first time a state purity requirement.

Officers Transferred Washington.—Army orders issued by the war department includes the following: Lieut. Col. W. Lee Hart, now on duty at Seventh corps area headquarters, Omaha, assigned to duty in the Philippines. Lieut. Col. Lloyd R. Fredendall, now on duty at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, assigned to Seventh corps area headquarters, Omaha.

200,000 DEMOCRATS Despite the drought stricken areas of the country, America is going ahead. The seemingly impossible achievements of the Roosevelt administration instills courage and confidence, that by helping that fearless and sympathetic man in Washington, we too, will be helping ourselves.

Figures derived from the secretary of state show that at the recent primary the largest democratic vote in history was cast. At the democratic national convention in Chicago in 1932, the Junior Democracy society was organized. Today in every nook and corner of the United States a Young Democratic club can be found. Many of our nation's young citizens voted for the first time at the last primary, and considering Nebraska's 50,000 increase over that of 1932, the political campaign this fall is predicted to make even greater history than before. Plattsmouth can well feel proud of her Plattsmouth Young Democratic club in boasting the largest in the state.

CHANCE TO DEFEAT LANGERS Washington.—Senator Nye told newspapermen the chances of defeating the "Langer machine" in North Dakota at the fall election were "growing brighter every day." Nye returned to Washington to preside for three weeks at the munitions investigation of a senate committee. He admitted Mrs. Langer, republican wife of deposed Governor Langer and candidate to succeed her husband, would be hard to defeat but said he thought the election of Tom Moodie, democrat, was "entirely possible." Nye plans to campaign for Moodie.

DELAY NRA CASE DECISION Omaha.—Grant MacFayden of Omaha, state NRA auto code officer, Thursday night said that a decision in the case of the NRA against the Devine Motor company of McCook, Neb., will not be handed down by Federal Judge Donohoe, until Sept. 10. It had originally been expected that the decision would be given Friday.

The McCook company is charged with over-allowance on used cars and with cutting the price of new cars below that provided for in the code.

OFFICERS TRANSFERRED Washington.—Army orders issued by the war department includes the following: Lieut. Col. W. Lee Hart, now on duty at Seventh corps area headquarters, Omaha, assigned to duty in the Philippines. Lieut. Col. Lloyd R. Fredendall, now on duty at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, assigned to Seventh corps area headquarters, Omaha.

DISCUSS PUREBRED HERDS Columbia, Mo.—Representatives of pure bred cattle interests in Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas and Iowa met at the Missouri college of agriculture here to discuss a program for saving all or parts of purebred herds in drought areas. All national breeding organizations were represented. A committee brought out resolutions, approved with minor changes, urging government loans to dairy farmers owning registered cattle—to be repaid within two years at interest not exceeding 3 percent—to carry their cattle thru another growing season. It was recommended the loans be in feed, and repayable either in feed, cattle or money. The program, as finally adopted, will be sent to Washington with recommendations that it be used as a basis for aiding dairy cattle men in the drought regions.

A capital idea is the one which secures you some capital.

Society Ball Outfits Draw Fire. Here are two of the costumes worn at the benefit ball at Atlantic Beach, L. I., which aroused the indignation of the St. Joseph's hospital in Far Rockaway to such an extent that it refused to accept any benefit funds although it was on the list. Left, Eve Shaw, popular young society girl, as "Eve"; right, Mary Louise Peck, society beauty, as "Joan of Arc".
