NO. 76

Sketch of Life of Mrs. John Nettleman

Well Loved Resident of This Section of Cass County Laid to Rest at Springfield.

Daisy E. Jarman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Jarman was born in Stark county, Illinois, August 29 1872, and entered into rest at her home near Plattsmouth, Nebraska October 17, 1934, at the age of 62 years, 1 month and 18 days.

With the exception of the last few years, her life was spent near Springfield, Nebraska.

She was united in marriage to John H. Nettleman June 28, 1911 at Springfield.

She leaves to cherish her memory her husband and one son, John, Jr., of Plattsmouth; five brothers, John, Louis and Taylor Jarman of Springfield, Lloyd Jarman of Gretna, Nebraska, and Arthur Jarman of Larimore, North Dakota; two sisters, Mrs. Charles VesKerna of Gretna, Nebraska, and Mrs. Olive Blunt of Kallispel, Montana.

Preceding her death were her mother in 1914, father in 1916, one brother, Edgar O. Jarman in 1921 and one sister, Mrs. T. N. Bundy in 1930.

She was united with the Methodist church at an early age and took an active part in community affairs wherever she lived. She was a good neighbor, a kind friend and a thoughtful wife and mother.

Funeral services were held on Sunday, October 21st at the Methodist church at Springfield, Nebraska, the services being in charge of Rev. W. A. Taylor of Union, assisted by the pastor of the church. The interment was at the Springfield cemetery.

I can not say and I will not say.

That she is dead, she is just away.

With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand, She has wandered into an unknown land.

She left us dreaming how very fair,

It needs must be since she lingers there.

And you, oh you who the wild-est yearn,

For the old-time step and the glad return.

Think of her fating on as dear,

In the love of there as the love of here.

Think of her as the same I say,

She is not dead, she is just away.

HAVE PLEASANT MEETING

From Tuesday's Daily

The members of the Young Men's Bible class of the Methodist church were most pleasantly entertained last evening at the home of George Kafenberg. A song-fest composed of songs new and old opened the evening's festivities. Rev. Adrian Edgar, son-in-law of Mr. Kafenberg, and pastor of the Methodist church at Syracuse gave a splendid talk to the group upon the subject of "The Church." Rev. Adrian is one of the most prominent of the younger members of this conference, and had many helpful and inspiring things to say. "The Sunday School" as the right arm of the church, was a subject introduced by Howard Davis with most appropriate manner, and participated in by many of the class members. Rev. Edgar who has specialized in recreation activities conducted a series of games in which all indulged with merriment. The occasion was further enhanced by the fact of its being the birthday of the host. He was presented with a token from the class, indicating their esteem and high regard. Guests aside from the class membership were Rev. Edgar and family of Syracuse, and John B. Kafenberg and family of this city. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Edgar and Mrs. Kafenberg assisted by Mrs. William Heinrich.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Royal of Lincoln, were in the city Sunday to visit with Judge C. L. Graves, father of Mrs. Royal, and a number of the old friends.

WINNERS IN TOURNAMENT

The members of the golf club who by their skill were able to cop the gasoline offered as prizes by L. L. McCarty at the tournament Sunday are the following:

Three lowest scores, Dr. R. P. Westover, 77, J. W. Holmes, 81, A. L. Carper, 83. In the putting contest Dr. Westover won with 24. The bogie prize was awarded to Mrs. R. W. Knorr in 68. The winners of the flag contests were A. L. Carper, Ben McCarty, Ray Misner and Fritz Fricke.

Vandals Pay a Visit to the Young Cemetery

Parties Overturn All the Monuments and Tombstones in Rural Cemetery South of This City.

Sheriff Homer Sylvester was called Sunday to the Young cemetery, five miles south of this city where some person or persons had committed vandalism on the last resting places of many of the pioneers of Cass county.

The sheriff found that practically every tombstone in the cemetery had been disturbed and pushed over and apparently for no other reason than the love of destruction.

The depredation was not discovered until Sunday when some of the lot owners visited the cemetery and the deed was apparently done sometime between Wednesday when the monuments were intact and early Sunday.

This cemetery was established in the pioneer days when the late William Young deeded the land on his farm for the purpose of a burial ground for the early settlers in that portion of the county and has been kept in nice shape by the descendants of those who first founded the cemetery and now are at rest there. No trace of the persons doing this dastardly work was revealed, but the tombstones are being replaced today.

PLAN CONVOCATION

The committee of former students and present student body of which E. H. Wescott is the chairman, have been making plans for the special honor convocation in honor of Miss Olive Gass which will be held at the high school on the morning of December 7th. Two meetings of the committee have been held and a general program featuring music by former students as well as the present student body and reminiscences by former students, faculty and board members, with of course, the spotlight and place of honor being reserved for Miss Gass.

The idea of this convocation originated with the student council of the high school who recalled the fact that Miss Gass served for many years as a teacher and principal of the high school with hundreds of students who recall their association with her. The response on the part of those who are most interested in the program as former students gives promise of a large crowd and fine program on December 7th.

ORGANIZING ORCHESTRA

Several of the young men of the senior class of the high school are organizing an orchestra to be at the service of the public for dances and other entertainment with programs of hot and sweet music to tempt the dancers.

The orchestra will be composed of Francis Stoll, piano; Herbert Minor, Robert Hall, Donald Cotner, saxophones; Russell York and William Henriksen, trumpets; Edward Hadraba, bass, and Charles Howard, drums.

The new orchestra is now rehearsing and will be in readiness to add their part to the musical life of the community in the future.

TO STUDY AT CHICAGO

Miss Emma Albert is at Chicago where she is taking up special laboratory work. She is studying at the Mt. Sinai hospital, one of the largest institutions of its kind in the west.

Educational Program at the Transient Camp

Arrangements Being Completed for Courses of Instruction for the Young Men at Camp.

The United States government are completing arrangements for a program of educational work to be carried on in the government transient camps over the country where young boys are being cared for.

Monday afternoon S. S. Caldwell, of Omaha, state director of transient camps, H. F. Fore, director of education for the camps at Omaha and Plattsmouth, with W. L. Wallace superintendent of the junior transient camp at this place, were here to discuss the plans with local people, Mr. T. H. Pollock of this city being one of the most active in aiding this excellent work of the government in helping the young boys.

The government has arranged plans for the development of an educational system for the junior camps that will provide courses from the lower grades to the high school work.

Mr. Fore, who has been active in educational work at Creighton university, is organizing the program and which will prove of untold value to the young men of the camps. Their large number has made it impossible to assimilate the boys in the local school system and the plans now are for a school at the camp.

Mr. Fore is desirous of securing local teachers as far as possible to handle the training of the boys and getting the school under way for the winter season during which time the boys may receive educational benefits and occupying their otherwise idle time.

In this fine work the camp officers and Mr. Fore should have the hearty co-operation of the local people in every way possible and one of the ways that Plattsmouth people can aid the camp is to assist in securing books that may be placed in the camp library that has been started. Many have books they can donate to this worthy cause.

The government plans for a camp school is an excellent piece of work and will be the means of affording the boys a chance for bettering themselves through education.

CASS COUNTY CATTLE WIN

William Wehrbein and W. G. Boedeker of Murray, who are among the best known stock feeders in this section of the state, have scored another triumph for their celebrated white faced cattle.

They have had a group of their two year old white face cattle on exhibit at the Ak-Sar-Pen stock show at Omaha, the cattle being awarded the first prize Monday at the show.

The cattle were not only the best of their class but as fine a group as shown in this great exposition of stock. Messers Boedeker and Wehrbein have many times topped the Chicago market with their stock and the latest honors paid to their fine cattle speak well for their judgment and care in handling their stock.

ARRANGING CLUB ROOMS

The members of the American Legion post of this city are busily engaged in arranging the new club rooms of the post which are on the third floor of the Bekin building. The post will maintain their club rooms in the north portion of the building and the large hall will be used for dances and other entertainments during the winter season. The rooms that will be in service as club rooms will be very comfortable and serve to afford a place for the old veterans to meet.

HERE FROM DENVER

Mrs. W. B. Oakes, of Denver, is in the city a guest at the home of Mrs. Robert A. Bates, an old time friend of many years standing. Mrs. Oakes formerly resided at Silver City, Iowa, where Mr. Oakes was engaged in the banking business at the time the late Mr. Bates was publisher of the Silver City Times. This is the first visit here in a number of years for Mrs. Oakes and one that is enjoyed very much by the friends.

RECEIVES TWO YEARS

William Burke, held in jail here for the past two weeks, was arraigned Saturday on the charge of assault with intent to commit great bodily injury. The charge is the outgrowth of the attack that Burke was alleged to have made on a fellow workman at Union and as the result of which the companion sustained a fractured skull.

The defendant entered a plea of guilty before Judge D. W. Livingston and was given a sentence of two years in the state penitentiary at Lincoln for the offense.

Officers Find Still on Farm Near This City

Federal Officers and State Deputy Lancaster Visit Farm of Joe Ulmann Near This City.

From Tuesday's Daily
Monday Federal Officers Frank Hass and Walter Condit, with State Deputy Sheriff J. E. Lancaster, visited this section and seized a still at the farm of Joe Ulmann, north of this city.

The officers had been working on the case for some time and yesterday morning came to the farm to start the search for the still, locating it in one of the out buildings of the farm.

The still, one of fifty-two gallon capacity, was not in operation at the time but two hundred and fifty gallons of mash being prepared to still out was discovered and dumped out. The officers also found a small amount of whiskey that was taken as evidence.

Mr. Ulmann was taken on into Omaha by the officers and arraigned before Commissioner Mary Mullen on the charge of possession and manufacture of liquor, this being the second time that he has been captured by federal officers on charges of liquor law violations.

Mr. Lancaster, in addition to the capture of the local still, was one of the party of federal and state officers that captured a still near Grand Island recently, one of the largest that had been taken in the state.

JUNIOR PLAY PRACTICE

Rehearsals for the annual Junior class play have been in full swing for the past two weeks under the direction of Mr. Alvord. The cast are fast getting the lines and action of "The Hidden Guest," a splendid mystery-comedy in shape for the opening curtain on the night of November 27th. All parents and patrons of the school are asked to keep this night open on your calendar, the Junior class play in the high school auditorium.

An advance sale of tickets will be made under the direction of Mr. J. R. Reeder, sponsor in charge of finances, and at the usual low price of 25 cents for students and 5 cents for adults. The proceeds of the play go toward the payment of the expenses of the Junior-Senior banquet held in the spring and the class is anxious to pack the house for that night. To this end they are working as hard as possible to make the play one of the best in years passed.

LIVES AT RAYMOND HALL

Miss Lois Bestor of Plattsmouth, is one of the one hundred and seventeen girls that are making their home at the Carrie Bells Raymond hall, while attending the University of Nebraska. This hall is the new residence for women at the university, conveniently located and beautifully furnished. Miss Bestor is a freshman in the college of arts and sciences.

SUSTAIN WILL

From Tuesday's Daily
This morning Attorney C. E. Tefft of Weeping Water was in the city for a few hours to look after some legal matters. Mr. Tefft served as special county judge to hear the application for probate of the will of Mrs. Bessie Shea, deceased, this being opposed by the daughters of the deceased. Mr. Tefft today ruled in favor of the probate of the will and admitted it as the last will and testament of Mrs. Shea.

Packing Force Tender Farewell to Mr. Broman

Employees of Norfolk Packing Company Entertain for Departing Canning Superintendent.

Tuesday evening the Eagles hall was the scene of a farewell party staged by the employees of the Norfolk Packing Co., honoring Mr. O. R. Broman, who has served at the plant as superintendent of the canning department, and who leaves Thursday for his home in Wisconsin. There were three hundred in attendance at the event and the fine manner in which the evening program was carried out showed the fine work of the committees.

There were several specialties on the program of the evening, David Robinson was heard in four vocal numbers, playing the accompaniment on his guitar, the Canterbury sisters, clever dancers, gave an interesting part of the program. Later in the evening Mrs. Gilbert Hirz was heard in three charming vocal selections that were much appreciated. Walter Porter as the master of ceremonies presented the various numbers in his pleasant and genial manner.

The committee that so splendidly handled the entertainment was composed of Helen Persinger, Glen Starkey, James Bridgewater and Randall York.

During the evening there was dancing to the music of Tommy Mason and his orchestra of Nehawka, both the old and modern dances being featured. Elmer Fitchhorn did the calling for the old fashioned dances of the evening.

Late in the evening refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee was served to add to the pleasures of the occasion.

Mr. Broman was called upon and expressed his appreciation of the demonstration of regard shown to him and for the fine manner in which the members of the packing plant force had co-operated with him during his service here. He also expressed his enjoyment of the stay in the city and the contacts that he had made with the local people.

As a token of the feeling of friendship Mr. Broman was presented by the packing house associates with a Zenith car radio which will afford him many pleasant memories of the Plattsmouth friends.

The members of the force with whom he has been associated as well as the residents of the city regret to see Mr. Broman leave the city but wish him the greatest of success in his Wisconsin home.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

From Wednesday's Daily

Last evening a number of the school friends of Betty Jean Vroman were entertained at her home at a Halloween party.

Dainty refreshments were served by the young hostess, assisted by Mary Alice Ohlschlager. Games were played and a general good time enjoyed by all until a late hour.

Those in attendance were Shirley Mason, Wilma Swatek, Dorothy Ann Will, Charlotte Cotner, Aileen Reedy, Betty Jo Libershal, Jean Taylor, Mary Louise Kaneer, Helen Hiatt, Thelma Capper, Virginia Beck, Betty Bruce, Jeanne Quinnette, Lunetta Falk, Elaine Hanley, Alice Allen, Dorothy Wall, Lova June Wright, Mary Alice Ohlschlager, Elma Atteberry, Dwight Atteberry, Eldon Vroman and Betty Jean Vroman.

FATHER MUCH IMPROVED

From Monday's Daily

The Elmer Webb family drove to Sioux City again yesterday to visit Mr. Webb's father, who is confined in the St. Joseph hospital there, following an operation some ten days ago. They found him much improved over last Sunday and indications favorable for recovery in spite of his age.

They were accompanied by Mrs. A. G. Bach, and returning home down the Nebraska side, came upon the scene of the triple car crash north of Blair in which one was killed and a number seriously injured, within a few minutes after the accident occurred. The three cars were all badly demolished.

CONVERT SPEAKER HERE

The Rev. Hiram Jacobs, a former Rabbi of the Jewish faith, but now a Christian evangelist to the Jews of Jerusalem and Palestine, gave a very interesting and spiritual address at the morning service at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning. His address of the evening was illustrated by pictures he had taken in the Holy Land. Being thoroughly acquainted with the religious principles of his own race and consecrated to the conversion of the Jew, to Christianity, it may be that he will be the first of the apostles for the return of the Israelite to the fold of the true Messiah.

Democrats Hold Fine Meeting at Weeping Water

Close of Day of Strenuous Campaign Climaxed by Banquet and Speaking in Evening.

From Wednesday's Daily

After a day of campaigning over Cass county the democratic caravan rested last evening at Weeping Water, that stronghold that has so often swept out great republican majorities, but which Tuesday evening was a thorough democratic community.

The banquet and speaking was held at the Philpot hall where over 400 persons were crowded and many were unable to gain seats at the banquet board, but all remained to hear the addresses of the evening.

The main attraction was Roy L. Cochran, nominee for governor, who in his short talk assailed the claims of the republican candidate as to being the candidate of any party leader, pointing out that he had served under several different governors and with no criticism. Mr. Cochran also appealed for the support of the new deal. Others present were Walter Jurgensen, candidate for lieutenant governor; George E. Hall, candidate for treasurer and Harry P. Conklin, candidate for land commissioner.

Mrs. Arthur Mullen and daughter were also in the banquet party, accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Edward Murphy of Lincoln to the banquet. Attorney John J. Ledwith of Lincoln was also present and heard during the evening on the issues of the day.

The meeting at Weeping Water was presided over by O. C. Hinds one of the democratic leaders of that city.

VISIT AT COUNTRY HOME

The pleasant country home of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Klamm south of this city was the scene of a delightful gathering of relatives and friends on Sunday. The day was featured by the splendid dinner arranged by Mrs. Klamm and the remainder of the day was spent in visiting and a general good time. Those who enjoyed the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Shrader and son, J. L., of Nehawka; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Gish and daughter, Virginia, Weeping Water; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mayfield and daughter, Valley Lee, Weeping Water; Mrs. Dorothy Shrader and Mrs. Ray Ehlers of Nehawka. Mr. Lester Shrader and Mrs. Gish are cousins of Mrs. Klamm and the others are old time friends.

MANY ATTEND SUPPER

The chicken supper given by the members of the St. Patrick's parish at Manley Sunday, was very largely attended by residents from all sections of the county. A large number of the Plattsmouth people were present to enjoy the fine repast that the ladies of the church had arranged. The occasion also brought a large number of candidates for office to enjoy the event and meet the residents of that community. Among the guests was Lieutenant Walter Jurgensen of Lincoln and wife, Mrs. Jurgensen being a former resident of that section of Cass county. All of the county candidates of both parties were present and were introduced by Father Patrick Harto, pastor of the Manley church.

From Tuesday's Daily

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Banning of Alvo were in the city today accompanying the democratic caravan on its trip over Cass county.

Democratic Candidates Tour County

Caravan One of Largest That Has Been Seen in Recent Campaigns and Band Adds to Interest.

Today was democratic day in Cass county and in every city and hamlet the candidates of the party visited and contacted the residents of the communities with their greetings and personal visit from the county candidates.

Roy L. Cochran, candidate for governor was unable through other engagements to join the party, but will speak at the banquet at Weeping Water this evening. The party reached Plattsmouth at 10 o'clock and enjoyed a visit here until 10:45 when they left for Cedar Creek and Lewisville where the noon stop was made. Lieutenant Governor Walter Jurgensen was with the party of local candidates as was Elmer Hallstrom, of Avoca, the hustling chairman of the county central committee.

The caravan carried a part of the Avoca band that added to the colorful features of the journey over the county.

There were a large number of boosters of the ticket in addition to the candidates that accompanied the party, Senator W. B. Banning of Union, veteran warhorse of the party being among the number.

The candidates that were with the group comprised Fred Carsten, Avoca, candidate for state senator; George Nickles, Murray, candidate for state representative; Bernard G. Wurl county clerk; Lillian G. White, register of deeds; Homer Sylvester, sheriff; J. L. Stamp, treasurer; Harry K. Dwyer, county attorney; W. H. Puls, assessor; E. B. Chapman, Union, and Fred H. Gorder, county commissioners and R. D. Fitch, surveyor.

The candidates were presented at each of the towns visited as the representatives of the two non-political candidates for county superintendent, Miss Alpha Peterson, present superintendent and J. R. Reeder.

TALK OVER CONVENTION

The Plattsmouth teachers held a general teachers meeting in the high school building Monday evening at 4:15 for the purpose of discussing the lectures of the Nebraska State Teachers Association. All teachers were present and all expressed their approval of the general fine quality of the programs.

Each teacher made a report on the parts of the program in which she was most interested and the parts that seemed to them the most practical. Especially were the teachers interested in the discussions of Dr. Ernest Horn, specialist in elementary education, and Dr. Harl Douglass, in secondary education. It was a general feeling that the time was well spent and that many practical suggestions were given that may be applied in the school-room.

There has been a great deal of progress made in the matter of methods of teaching within recent years and it is only fitting and proper that the Plattsmouth teachers should be the recipients of this progress.

HAS HAND INJURED

Mrs. John B. Livingston suffered a severe accident on Sunday morning at the family home when she had both hands very severely cut. Mrs. Livingston was engaged in opening a jar of pickles when the glass jar broke and cut deeply into the first finger of one hand and the palm of the other. The injured lady was taken to the office of Dr. L. S. Pucelik where four stitches were taken in one hand and one in the finger. The wounds were very painful and will greatly interfere with the usual activities of Mrs. Livingston for some time.

HERE FOR SHORT VISIT

From Monday's Daily

Mr. and Mrs. Loftis of Hartington, Nebraska, were in the city for a short time today visiting with friends. They were en route home from Union where they have been visiting with friends.
