

AVOCA NEWS

M. H. Lum was visiting with relatives and friends at Lincoln last Sunday, and also looked after some matters of business while there.

The young people of the Congregational church of Avoca enjoyed a party at the church last Saturday night, a fine time being had.

Peter M. Jurgeson, who recently bought the filling station of his father, Peter Jurgeson, Sr., a few days ago purchased a new Chevrolet coach.

M. H. Lum was a visitor in Omaha last Friday, where he was looking after some business matters for the day, driving over to the city in his car.

Henry Straub, residing southeast of Avoca, was a caller in Weeping Water last Friday evening, where he attended the democratic rally and banquet.

Mrs. L. J. Marquardt was a guest last Sunday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Brendel, where all enjoyed a very fine dinner and an excellent visit.

Dr. J. W. Brendel was called to Weeping Water last Monday to welcome a new son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. I. Bixford. Both the new arrival and the mother are doing very nicely.

Mrs. Zimmerman entertained the members of the Catholic Holy Trinity Guild, which is the working organization of the Catholic church, Tuesday afternoon. A large crowd was present and a very enjoyable time was had.

Has Done a Lot of Work

Elmer J. Hallstrom, chairman of the democratic county central committee, was in Louisville and Greenwood Monday in the interest of the democratic ticket at the polls the following day. Mr. Hallstrom has made an excellent chairman and has given a great deal of time to the work and whatever success may come to the party nominees at the polls in this county may be attributed in large measure to the energetic work of Mr. Hallstrom and his aides, the various precinct committeemen and committeewomen.

Gave Enjoyable Dance

The ladies of the Catholic church Holy Trinity Guild gave a very enjoyable dance at Avoca last Monday evening when they had good music and everybody had an excellent time. They realized a very nice sum to help carry on the work of the Guild and the church.

Attended Meeting Wednesday

W. L. Hobson, of Weeping Water, was a visitor in Avoca Monday in the interests of a meeting to be held at Weeping Water Wednesday evening at which members of the Tribe of Yessir, well known Omaha booster organization were to be present. It was desired to have representatives there from the surrounding towns and a goodly delegation of Avoca business men went over to attend the dinner and program that night.

Visiting Son in Avoca

Mrs. W. H. Findley, mother of Charles Findley, Avoca merchant, who resides at Douglas, has been visiting for a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Verne Hillman, at Oteo, coming to Avoca for a visit with the son and wife on Wednesday. She expects to remain here for some time.

Dan Anderson Has Birthday

Like a shy young girl in her teens, Dan Anderson had a birthday on last Sunday and it was duly celebrated by the members of the family. Those who were present at the celebration to make the affair a success included the guest of honor, Mr. Anderson, his brother, Albert Anderson, of Nehawka, Mrs. Bedella Stander and Arthur

Guests at Avoca

Rev. Louis Wilson, pastor of the Congregational church of Weeping Water, together with his wife, were guests at the home of Rev. Fred W. Hall and wife here at a six o'clock dinner one evening during the past week.

Will be Neighborly

A week from next Sunday, November 18th, the ministers of the different churches of Cass county plan to exchange pulpits each one preaching in some neighboring church. As now arranged, Rev. Fred W. Hall of the Avoca Congregational church will occupy the pulpit of the United Brethren church at Otterbein, while the Rev. Ernest Baker, pastor of the Disciples of Christ church at Elmwood will occupy the pulpit of the Congregational church of Avoca.

This is a splendid thing to do occasionally and shows true neighborliness on the part of the pastors, while the congregations will undoubtedly enjoy listening to a message from an out of town speaker this one Sunday.

JACK FROST

Jack Frost has come and made his round, causing the leaves of the trees to tumble down.

The roses and chrysanthemums that have staid too late, are drooping their heads inside and near the old garden gate.

We wrap ourselves with much heavier clothes, watching our steps for fear of frosting our toes.

The beets and pumpkins are put in place, to keep old Jack from biting their face.

When the apples begin to fall from the trees, the orchardists arrange their baskets on the leas, to gather their fruit and pack it away.

That they may use it some more convenient day.

The wind from the north will soon scatter the snow, in whirligigs on the mountains and valleys below.

And Jack Frost will enter your sacred house, cracking the pitcher and freezing the souse.

The youngster as he goes on his way to school, pulls down his cap and observes the rule.

To protect his ears from the frost and colds, puts on his gloves while his books he holds.

Jack Frost covers the ground, the stocks and fields, laughs at the workman as his hands he shields.

And blows them with a triumphant zest, beating them again and again on his heaving breast.

There is a frost that comes to you and me, and tries to blanket the whole world that be, protection with truth in the consciousness of every man.

Will break its hold and overthrow its veritable plan.

PRESIDENT BUSY ON FUTURE

Hyde Park, N. Y.—President Roosevelt spent a quiet day at home before voting. Enjoying the pleasure of his own home surroundings and the beautiful weather, Mr. Roosevelt took advantage of the day to the full extent with an automobile ride in the late afternoon. He included in the day a cursory survey of national affairs. The impression prevailed at Hyde Park that after the election there would be new developments. However, the only official business of the day was a meeting with officers of the American Newspaper guild. They proposed to the president that press associations be included in the newspaper code.

Limit to the Shuffling of Bankruptcy Pack

Judge Munger Overrules Motion to File Amendment—One Debtor Owes $123,000.

In a memorandum opinion of Monday, Federal Judge Munger indicates that there perhaps is a limit to the attempted shuffling about from bankruptcy to the debtor class, later for the purpose of taking advantage of Section 75, new act, authorizing requests for composition and extension from farm debtors only.

He has overruled the motion of Edward Chab, DeWitt farmer, who asked leave to file an amended petition under Section 75. The court however, allows exception. According to the opinion, Chab earlier filed voluntary petition in bankruptcy.

"The proposed amendment does not seem to have any relationship to the original petition," says the court.

He states that, in the case of a voluntary petition, the petitioner expresses willingness to surrender all property for the benefit of creditors. He pays $30 filing fee. Under Section 75, he must show that he is a farmer desiring an extension of time in order to pay his debts. He pays a $10 filing fee. The court says in part:

"The act of congress did not provide that any farmer who filed a voluntary petition might afterwards amend and proceed under section 75. In that section it is expressly stated who shall have the advantages of proceedings under it and method to be used. Proceedings after these petitions are filed differ in every material step and in final relief. After the petitioner becomes a voluntary bankrupt it seems his voluntary petition should first be dismissed before he can have the advantages of filing under section 75."

Heavily in Debt.

Petition of William Ulbrich, Oteo county farmer, for composition or extension under section 75, filed Monday, lists debts of $123,182.66 of which $119,193.98 are secured. He lists assets at $46,380, including real estate of $42,000.

Among secured claimants are the following: L. A. Ricketts, trustee Lincoln Safe Deposit company, mortgage lien, $8,354.36; taxes due, $1,894.31; Ardith Heinel, Gertrude and Edwin Moran, Nebraska City, second mortgage lien, $10,837.18, also duplicate of that amount and $10,899.96; First Trust company, a successor trustee Lincoln Trust company, first mortgage lien, $13,505.61; L. A. Ricketts, trustee Lincoln Trust company, concurrent first mortgage lien $874.51; Fred A. Woolsey, Nebraska City, first mortgage lien, $57,557.06; Reconstruction Finance corporation Omaha, tax sale certificate, $504.76; E. C. Yont, Brock, Neb., $4,000.

Coleman Automatic Electric Iron

The Coleman Automatic Iron saves $2 to $5 a year on electric current.

When it reaches the temperature at which the thermostat is set, the current is automatically cut off. It "coasts" or "free wheels" on stored heat. 40% of the time it is in use it consumes no electricity. This saving on your electric bill goes on year after year as long as you use your Coleman! This same automatic action of the thermostat eliminates fire danger and scorching of clothes. Saves work... does more than the ironing.

The Coleman is beautifully designed and finished in super-chromium. Has long tapering point, burton bevel and glass-smooth ironing surface.

Come in and see this beautiful iron. Let us prove our statements about the money it saves you.

Murray

Ray E. Frederick was called to Greenwood on last Tuesday to look after some business matters for a short time.

Roy Greig was a visitor in Plattsmouth on last Saturday where he was looking after some business matters for a few hours.

Miss Beasie Copenhaver was a visitor in Union on last Sunday and was guest of her folks where they all enjoyed a very pleasant visit.

Hallas Aklin was looking after some business matters in Nehawka Tuesday of this week, driving over in his auto and also was visiting with his parents.

A. G. Cisney was a visitor in Plattsmouth on last Saturday where he had some business matters to look after and as well was visiting with his many friends there.

The Murray Lumber company received a car of coal last week which was unloaded and delivered mostly to customers from the car, a small portion being placed in bins.

Albert Johnson and mother of southeast of Nehawka, were guests for the day on last Sunday at the home of Mrs. Selma Nelson and family where all enjoyed a very fine visit.

Harry Albin and wife on account of the good trade they had on last Saturday had to go to Omaha to purchase supplies for their cafe. They were also visiting in Plattsmouth as well as Omaha.

Mrs. O. A. Davis, E. S. Tutt and Glen Perry and daughter, Miss Helene were over to Omaha on last Saturday where they were visiting and as well shopping, they driving over in their auto.

Malvern Reed, living south of Murray, was over to Plattsmouth on last Saturday where he was looking after some business matters and negotiating the sale of stove wood, as well as visiting friends there.

Election day in Murray last Tuesday was a very quiet day but there was a large vote cast, such a fine day for it at that. The ladies of the Library Association served dinner and had a good time which added much to the pleasure of the annual meet.

Robert Welton and Herman Frederick were engaged in doing some grading at the Farmers elevator and were doing a fine piece of work leveling the ground and removing a hill on the west and improving the drainage and sure making the surroundings look much better.

Joseph Bonnie who has been at the University hospital for some time past receiving treatment, was down to Murray for over the week end and while he is feeling much better he returned to the hospital for further treatment and expects in a short time to be able to remain home and go to work again.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wasson and the kiddies of Havelock, were visiting for the day last Sunday at the home of the parents of Mrs. Wasson, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Hatchett Mr. Hatchett, who has been in very poor health for some time past, was so much improved that he was able to be up a portion of the time. While it was very difficult he was able to go up town on last Tuesday and cast his vote.

Arrived at Destination.

Mr. and Mrs. Audrey Townsend and the family who departed from Murray some time ago with their destination as New Mexico, and battling with tires down and many exciting experiences along the way such as getting into the ditches by the wayside, at last arrived at their destination and were pleased that the long trip was over. They write that they are well pleased with the south and that they are enjoying a very pleasant visit with the folks.

Murray's New Postmaster.

The examination for the supplying of the postmaster for the office at Murray, the appointment was determined for a long time and announcement became only on last Sunday when it was announced that Charles D. Spangler, a real democrat, had been selected. Mr. Spangler has lived in and near Murray for the past more than fifty years, in fact he resided in Cass county before there was any postoffice here. Mr. Spangler has been engaged in farming the greater portion of his life and has made his home in Murray during the past few years. Mr. Spangler served as county commissioner for one term and acquitted himself in the position very creditably.

Entertained for Her Sister.

Mrs. Albert Schaeffer of Long Beach, Calif., is at this time visiting in this neighborhood and a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Schaeffer, and is as well visiting with her many friends here. On Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs.

They Fed the People.

The ladies of the Murray Library Association on last Tuesday, election day, served a very fine dinner in the room east of the Lancaster store and fed the hungry one with some good eats, which also netted the association a few shickles.

Social Gathering Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucean Carper entertained at their home on last Sunday evening and had as their guests a number of friends from over the county where all enjoyed a very pleasant evening. Those present: Harry Ingwersen and wife, Verne Lundberg and wife, Harry Dodson and wife, Hennings Johnson and wife, all from near Nehawka and Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Ingwersen of west of Plattsmouth.

Foot Getting Better.

Some time ago while working cutting wood George Park had the misfortune to cut his foot which has been causing him much suffering and inconvenience as he was not able to work. However the member has been showing good improvement and is much better so that he is able with the assistance of a cane to get about slowly. It will be some time before he can use it as formerly.

"America's Little House"

"America's Little House," the eight-room demonstration home which the New York committee on Better Homes in America in co-operation with the Columbia Broadcasting System has built and furnished in New York City, was opened to the public on the morning of Tuesday, November 6th. Mrs. Albert Young, chairman of the Murray Better Homes committee, has announced. Regular broadcasts over a coast-to-coast network are already coming from the studio of the Little House three times each week, on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4:00 to 4:15 (e. s. l.). In the form of dramatic sketches, interesting information is presented by the architects, the decorators, the landscape architect, and other experts who have worked on this educational project in housing and furnishing.

Many folks considered prohibition to be No. 1, but our opinion is the greatest blow to personal liberty in this country is the practice of contractors who build high fences around excavations for new buildings, shutting off the view of the kibitzers.
