John M. Mefford Very Poorly.

John Mefford who is well into the eighties and nearly out of them, and who has been in poor health for some time past, suffered a very serious spell of illness some two weeks ago and has been kept in his bed at the home of his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Al Bauers. He has been having the best of medical attention and nursing but still he does not improve as desired. His many friends are hoping he may soon be out again and in his former good health.

HAVE A CLOSE CALL

From Friday's Daily This morning B. A. Rosencrans, proprietor of Bruce's Men's shop and Lyle Horton of the Horton funeral home, had a close call from being overcome from the effects of carbon monoxide gas. The two gentlemen were at the store of Mr. Rosencrans when the fumes, originating from a blocked chimney caused the gas to fill the store and before they were aware of it they were dangerously close to being overcome. Soot and other obstructions in the chimney had shut off the feeding of the fumes from the furnace and which had spread out into the basement and thence to the floor of the building occupied by the store. The two victims of the fumes were taken to their homes to rest and recuperate from the effects and it is thought that they will suffer no ill effects, but it was a very close call for both.
