Beyond Comparison in Quality, Construction, Appearance and Price With Any First Quality Tire Made

THE way to create a TIRE SENSATION is to give the people what they want, and Firestone has done this with the new Firestone Century Progress Tire.

As millions of people visited the Firestone Factory at the World's Fair last year, we asked this question—"What do you value most in a tire?" They answered—"Give us Blowout Protection, Non-Skid Safety, and Long Wear at a moderate price."

We knew there was only one way to build Quality and Value into a tire at a moderate price, and that was by volume production. We built the greatest tire ever made to sell at these low prices.

THE new Firestone Century Progress Tire IS EQUAL OR SUPERIOR to any first quality tire built, regardless of name, brand, by whom manufactured, or at what price offered for sale.

Emil Kuehn and wife were in Lincoln last Wednesday, driving over to the capital city to look after some business matters and also visiting with friends there.

Albert Theil was visiting with friends at Elmwood last Wednesday evening, driving over in his car. He found the roads a bit tough, but he did not mind a little thing like that.

Fred Stock, who has been rather poorly at his home on the farm for some time past, is reported as being much better at this writing and expects to be able to make a trip to town in a short time in much better health.

John Scheel has been feeling quite poorly during the past week, but is reported as being some better at this time, although he gets about with difficulty. His many friends hope he may soon be restored to his former good health.

Mrs. Glen Bosworth, of Ong, was a visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Scheel, who reside here, for a number of days, returning home the fore part of last week. She reports very little of anything in the way of crops about that part of the country, the drouth having been unusually severe there.

The snow fences have been hurriedly put up, Louis Schmidt having a crew of men out on this work. The coming of snow during the past week indicates what is in store from now on and prompted the powers that be to get speedy action in the matter of putting up the fences to prevent drifts interfering with traffic on the highways.

Gillespie, their son Merle and wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Ward and family, Oscar McDonald, wife and son, Robert, and John Eppings, wife and son, Eugene.

W. H. Warner, of Alvo, was a visitor in Murdock for a short time last Wednesday evening and while here was visiting with his friend, Mr. L. Neitzel. He was on his way to Plattsmouth to visit his brother, Charles Warner, who has been in poor health for some time. Mr. Warner was enjoying a ride with the Journal man on the trip to Plattsmouth as well as the stop here, which permitted him to renew acquaintance with his old friend.

Enjoyed Very Nice Visit Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Patterson and family were over to Little Sioux, Ia., Thanksgiving day, where they enjoyed a very pleasant time and an excellent dinner, visiting with many of their old friends there. They formerly resided at Little Sioux prior to coming to Murdock to live.

Visited at Masonic Home L. Neitzel, who edits the weekly Bible school lesson which appears in the Plattsmouth Journal each Thursday, was a visitor in Plattsmouth on last Sunday, where he was teaching a Bible class at the Masonic home. Mr. Neitzel is well acquainted with many of the residents at the home and it is much like going to visit with relatives there when he goes over on one of his more or less frequent trips to visit and teach the Bible class.

Arrival of Young Son At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Stock, Jr., on last Tuesday night, a fine young son made his appearance and will become a permanent guest at the home of the parents. The joy felt over his arrival was not confined to the parents but was felt equally as much by Grandmother Henry Reichman as well as Grandfather Fred Stock, Sr., and wife. Mother and son are doing nicely and happiness reigns supreme.

Spent Thanksgiving Here Mr. and Mrs. J. Gustin, of Wheatland, Wyoming, formerly of this place, drove back to see the old time friends and enjoyed a very pleasant visit here. They arrived the day before Thanksgiving and brought a fine large young turkey with them, which was eaten at the home of Ed Brunckow and wife. They visited with other friends here until Monday, when they went to Elmwood and from there left for home, going as far as Kearney that night, and continuing on their way home Tuesday.

Enjoyed Very Fine Time The banquet which the Ladies Aid of the Murdock church put on last Wednesday evening was one that was thoroughly enjoyed by all who were present, and that included many of the people of Murdock and vicinity. There was a very worthwhile program rendered, consisting of songs, music and addresses. The principal address was delivered by the Rev. Ernest F. Baker, pastor of the Christian church of Elmwood.

Card of Appreciation We, the children, wish to express our sincere thanks to the friends who so kindly ministered to the comfort of our beloved mother, Mrs. Anna Katherine Amgwert, in her last hours and to all those who expressed their love in floral tokens at the funeral, also for the songs and kindly spoken words, and to the minister who brot us words of comfort and good cheer.—The Children of Mrs. Amgwert.

Drive Very Successful Mrs. Hannah M. McDonald, representative for Cass county Chapter, American Red Cross, in Murdock and vicinity, wishes to express her thanks to those who gave their membership and to those making cash contributions for their interest in Red Cross. Although the membership was only twenty-two, she is sure this is a representative group who are interested in keeping alive the Red Cross, so it will always be ready to act when the need arises.

Murdock Pioneer Passes Miss Anna Katherine Hartman was born on April 26, 1860, at Waterville, Switzerland, where she resided with her parents during her early childhood, coming to America when she was eighteen years of age, in 1878. In 1910 she came to Murdock and she and her husband continued to reside here until 1919, when the husband, Louis M. Amgwert, died and was laid to rest in the Wabash cemetery. As the children grew up, some went this way and some the other until she was left alone and three years ago she went to Council Bluffs to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Letts, where last week she sustained a stroke which terminated her life on last Monday. Her passing was without pain and she drifted away in the same easy manner as a baby falling asleep.

During her early childhood, she united with the Lutheran church and ever remained a faithful and devoted follower of the Master. The funeral was held at the funeral home in Omaha on Thursday of last week, the services being at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, with a second service at Murdock at one o'clock, with interment in the Wabash cemetery, alongside the body of her husband who died some fifteen years ago. The children who survive this noble woman are Mrs. Charles Letts, Council Bluffs; John Amgwert, Lincoln; Mrs. L. A. Watson, Omaha; Mrs. A. Doedje, of San Francisco; Mrs. J. W. Ranney, of Council Bluffs; Miss Lillian Amgwert, of Omaha; Mrs. C. W. Morgan, of McCook and Mr. Henry Amgwert, of Murdock. There are a large number of grandchildren also mourning the departure of the grandmother.

RULING CUTS CHURCH CROWD

Scottsbluff, Neb.—Recent rulings depriving persons receiving federal relief in Scottsbluff county from operating automobiles has played havoc with church attendance, a minister complained to relief authorities Wednesday. "Since you took the auto license plates away from the people I can't get anybody to church on Sunday morning," relief officials quoted him as saying. His congregation is made up mainly of laborers, a large number of which are now on relief rolls. Relief officials said the minister told them he would demand the licenses be restored.

AMERICANS VIE FOR PRIZE

Oslo, Norway.—The Norwegian parliament, it was rumored, may award the 1934 Nobel peace prize to either Secretary of State Hull or John Mott of New York. The announcement is to be made Dec. 10. Two other outstanding possibilities are also rumored. These are Dr. Afranio de Mello Franco, former foreign minister of Brazil, and the disarmament committee of women's international organizations at Geneva. This committee, representing some sixteen women's organizations, is said to have been recommended by Lord Cecil of England as deserving of the Nobel honor.

WARNING SENT FROM ITALY

Rome.—A strongly worded Italian protest, the second in as many months, was made to the Ethiopian government after armed bodies of Ethiopians attacked Ualual, Italian Somaliland. The assault, Stefani news dispatches reported, took place Dec. 5, and the attackers, said to have had machine guns and artillery, were driven off after reinforcements were rushed to the isolated garrison at the Wells of Ualual.

Sketch of Life of Rev. Graham, Ex-Murray Man

Corydon Times-Republican Gives Sketch of Life of Former Murray Presbyterian Pastor.

William Forrester Graham was born December 5, 1875, at Sandwick, Illinois, and died November 23, 1934 at the age of 58 years, 10 months and 28 days, in the Parker hospital, Allerton, Iowa. He was the son of Abner Warner and Mary Forrester Graham, who both preceded him in death. The family lived in Biggsville, Illinois and in Viola, Kansas, before moving to Tarkio, Missouri, where the home was maintained until broken by the death of his mother in 1917.

He made his profession of faith in Christ and accepted him as his personal savior at the age of 12 at the same time with a distant cousin, E. B. Mitchell, who is now preaching in a Presbyterian church in Ottumwa. He attended college at Tarkio and was graduated with the class of 1897.

For two years he taught in the Freedmen's school at Henderson, North Carolina. He then attended Princeton Seminary for a year, taking two courses at the University of Princeton at the same time. English under Bliss Perry and jurisprudence under Woodrow Wilson. The next two years he studied in the United Presbyterian seminary at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, being graduated in 1902. In the fall of the same year, he was ordained by the Presbytery of College Springs, and he began his active ministry in the Adams congregation near Prescott, Iowa. The remainder of his 32 years of pastoral service have been spent in St. Charles and Westchester, Iowa, Bellingham, Washington, Winchester, Kansas, Hepburn, Iowa, Dunbar and Murray, Nebraska and Allerton, Iowa. In each place he has many friends. Allerton was his longest pastorate; he has served it for seven and a half years at the time of his death.

In 1905 he was married to Lena L. McKee of Olathe, Kansas. To this union was born one son, William Eugene. Mrs. Graham died very soon after his birth. He was married again at St. Charles, Iowa, January 20, 1908, to Susie Anderson. They were the parents of five children, Helen Margaret, Mary, Lois Anna, John Anderson and Robert Forrester.

Mr. Graham was very fond of music, especially that of male voices. All his life he was interested and active in organizing quartets and choruses. One of the joys of his life was working with the large group of men singers in the Allerton congregation. Another was singing with the Wayne County Preachers' Quartette, in which he carried the high tenor part. From young manhood he had enjoyed putting his thoughts into rhyme. He had published two small volumes of his poetry while in his Nebraska pastorate, "Air Castles," and "Scent of Roses." He was a staunch party prohibitionist. He fought to the last for the cause in which he believed with heart and soul. During his last year he served as treasurer, for the state organization. His interests were varied but foremost was a zeal for the salvation of souls and a desire to serve his Master faithfully and well. He was a member of the board of directors of Tarkio college at the time of his death. He had been elected moderator of the Synod of Iowa at their fall meeting. He was to be one of the commissioners to the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian church next summer. During his entire pastorate in Allerton, he enjoyed a fine fellowship with the other ministers of the town and county. He met an accidental death on the highway north of town as he was returning from a pastoral call. It was God's will that he should go in the midst of his active ministry and without pain and suffering. Surviving him are his wife the six children and one grandchild, Carolyn Jean Graham; two sisters, Mrs. Nettie Dobbin of Loveland, Colorado; and Mrs. Wilson Graham of Seattle, Washington, and one brother, John Graham of Burlington, Iowa. All of the children are living in Allerton except Eugene, who was married in 1921 to Louise Mitchell of Whittier, California, and who is at present situated at Yankee Hill, California, as medical advisor in a CQC camp.

BOYS TAKEN TO CASPER

North Platte.—Casper authorities left here with Orlin Warren and Joe Blake, each 19, who were picked up here Monday and confessed to robbing a store in Casper last Sunday evening. The boys had two new suitcases packed with revolvers, knives, cowboy wearing apparel, billfolds, etc., all taken from the Casper store. Wyoming deputies reported that three of the four youths who participated in the robbery had been captured. One was arrested in Billings, Mont., and the fourth, a Negro, escaped. The youths were captured here just before they intended to leave by freight for Omaha.

CLAIM RECORDS WITHHELD

Chicago.—Rep. O'Malley asserted he would inform congress of the purported refusal of the Chicago Title and Trust company to furnish records to investigators for the congressional committee probing real estate bondholders reorganizations. The Wisconsin democrat made his statement after the investigators had complained they were unable to get all the data necessary on certain transactions in question because the concern had declined to allow them to inspect its books.

Cattlemen Desire Protective Statutes Propose Highway Maintenance Men Serve to Stop Cattle Trucks, to Enforce Law. A delegation of officers of the Nebraska Livestock Growers Association, comprised of President Robert Graham of Alliance, Vice President A. R. Modisett of Rushville, Secretary F. M. Broome of Alliance and Thomas L. Arnold of the Valentine territory, were at the capitol Friday conferring with Secretary of State Swanson regarding proposed legislation which cattlemen desire passed by the coming legislature. They represent one of the largest industries in the state. Secretary Broome said the state association desires a law to permit Highway patrolmen to be deputized as state sheriffs for the purpose of enforcing a law now only laxly enforced. They said these highway employees who now care for maintenance of roads could easily enforce the law which requires truck drivers to carry a bill of lading showing the ownership and history of cattle carried on trucks. Few drivers are now stopped for an examination of the certificates which they are supposed to carry. A more definite form of certificate to ship livestock out of the state is also desired. Another proposed law will require operators of sales barns to show better title to livestock in their possession. An amendment of the brand law to require designation of the particular part of the body to which the brand is to be applied is also desired. Secretary Broome said the livestock industry may be said to be prosperous in spite of drouth and depression. "Prices are satisfactory, considering everything, and feeders expect them to be much higher in the spring. Most of the cattlemen have feed and are not complaining. Most of the complaint comes from those who lean too heavily on the government. About eight million head of inferior cattle have been bought by the government and this is bound to be better for those who can keep the better conditioned animals." Mr. Modisett of Rushville, one of the oldest ranchers, said he has the advantage of both a winter and summer range. Using these alternately the grass seeds itself. He has 1,800 head whereas he usually has 3,000. Regarding the long drawn out effort of the government to require range cattle to be tested for tuberculosis Mr. Modisett said little is now being done and as he understands it the cattlemen will perhaps have a day of grace until next December, but he said eventually range cattle may have to be tested.
