

MURDOCK ITEMS

Paul Schewe was called to Ashland on last Saturday, where he had some business to look after, driving over in his car.

The class reports that Leo Rikli, the substitute teacher, done very well in the absence of L. Neitzel, who nursed a very sore throat.

Miss Clara Martin, niece of Mrs. L. Neitzel, of Cedar Bluffs, came on a visit and the way the weather acts, it will be a prolonged stay.

Clarence Ohms and wife moved to near South Bend last Wednesday, where they will make their home in the future and will engage in farming.

L. Neitzel, who was so ill for a time last week is now so far improved that he is able to be back at the store and look after the business again.

G. Baur was a visitor in Elmwood on Tuesday of last week, where he was called to look after some business matters and also visited with friends while there.

Robert McDonald has been in Manley during the past week assisting his father with the work at the cafe and confectionery which he is conducting here.

Roy Leaver, who has been farming the land comprising the Rueter estate, now owned by August Stander, moved last week to near Ashland, where he will make his home this summer.

When the storm broke this Wednesday morning, school was dismissed and the scholars sent home in a hurry. Indications pointed to a repetition of the great blizzard of January 12, 1888.

A letter from Jack Craig, son of Eddie Craig, tells of his now being stationed at San Francisco on the U. S. S. Pennsylvania. The letter also said that Jack was not feeling the best, but was not seriously ill.

Floyd Pothast, of Lincoln, was looking after some business matters in Murdock on last Thursday, he selling groceries on the road. He is a cousin of the former Oris Pothast, who was engaged in the banking business here a number of years ago.

Gust Gakemeier was shelling and delivering corn last Wednesday forenoon and as the day advanced found much difficulty in getting along with the work. Finally the blizzard became so severe they had to stop and wait for a more favorable time to proceed with the work.

As the writer was en route to Murdock last Wednesday morning, during the driving storm, our car slid into the ditch near the home of August Ruge, who with his son and another party with a truck came along and helped place our car on the road again. Thanks to you all!

William Knaupe and family, who have been farming the John Stroy farm northeast of Murdock, recently moved to their own farm near the Wabash cemetery, where they will reside. The Stroy farm will be worked this summer by Henry Minke, who has farmed the Herman Schweppe place east of Wabash for a few years.

Harold W. Tool was looking after some business matters in Lincoln on last Saturday, driving over in his car, and was accompanied by W. T. Weddell, who was over to see the wife in the hospital there receiving treatment, and who underwent an operation for relief from the intense suffering which she has been going through. She was reported as resting slightly easier last week.

Visited Friends Here
W. H. Hoover and daughter, Grace, of Louisville, were visiting in Murdock last Thursday, being guests at the home of William Heier, Sr. and wife, where they enjoyed a fine visit and also an excellent dinner. They were looking after some business matters here as well.

Will Hold Caucus
On March 12th (Tuesday) there will be held a caucus for the placing in nomination of the various officers of the town, and also of the board of education.

Goes to California
A few days ago, Charles Hendricks left for Los Angeles, Calif., where he is to work on the chicken ranch of his brother-in-law, David Elchoff, who is engaged in that line of business on the coast.

Will Make the Race Again
Henry Carsten sold a truck load of corn to some parties from Beatrice who came after the grain and took it home with them in their truck.
C. A. (Doc) Green, barber supply salesman, was in Murdock on last Thursday and was supplying the barbers here with some needed materials. Last year, "Doc" was a candidate for nomination as lieutenant governor and just missed being nominated by a slender margin. He says his hat is in the ring for next year, 1936, when the primaries will be held early in the spring, due to that being a presidential year and a group of delegates to the national convention to be elected. On the so-called "off year" the primary is not held until August.

Enjoyed Trip Very Much
Mrs. Meta MacDiarmid, who with two lady friends are visiting in Los Angeles, writes they they stopped at Jenreaz, Mexico, last Sunday, March 3rd, while en route to the coast via the southern route, and visited one of the parks there, which she described as a place of great beauty, having all kinds of beautiful tropical flowers in it. She says the visit there was well worth the hardships of the entire trip, and offered a decided change from the weather that has prevailed here during the past few months. The party of ladies expects to remain in the southwest for the next two months.

Kept the Road Cleared
John Eppings, the patrolman having charge of highway No. 1 between Murdock and the Murray corner did some splendid work last week that is worthy of more than passing mention. When the heavy snowstorm Wednesday developed into somewhat of a blizzard and there was indication of the road becoming drifted, John started out in the afternoon as the storm abated slightly and was able to complete a round trip over the entire stretch by one o'clock Thursday morning and after a short rest started out again for a second round trip. This put the road in first class condition and traffic was able to proceed over it with ease. It is such solicitous care for the welfare of the motorists as this that attracts attention, and we are pleased to pay Mr. Eppings the compliment he is so justly deserving of. Many another patrolman would have waited until regular working hours and then if he had been unable to get through would have just let the matter rest there. Not so with John, however, for he is willing to go out at any and all hours and knows how to keep the road in good condition and safe for traffic.

Public Sale Season About Over
The public sale season is about over for this year. Although there have been a goodly number of such sales held during the past few weeks, the attendance at most of them has been very good, and prices satisfactory to the sellers. There is a brisk demand for used farming equipment of all kind and many articles of this nature have been sold through the medium of small ads in the Journal's classified department, besides all that have gone through the sale ring at the various public auctions.

Suffers Broken Leg
Mrs. Lacey McDonald stepped to the door to throw something out a few days ago and as she stepped onto the snow she slipped. In an effort to save herself from falling she was precipitated from the steps and suffered the fracture of one of her legs just above the ankle. Dr. L. D. Lee was called and advised that she be taken to the hospital and an X-ray picture be made of the injury in order that a perfect fit of the bones could be assured, the fracture being a very bad one. She was taken to the hospital at Lincoln, where the reduction of the fracture was accomplished.

Ask Sugar Acreage Reports be Rushed

Sugar Beet Processors Are Requested to Disclose Contracts for the 1935 Crop.

Washington.—Sugar beet processors were requested by the sugar section of the AAA to report by March 10 the acreages contracted to that date for the 1935 sugar beet crop in each factory district.
After these reports have been filed with county agents in each factory district, the total acreages contracted for on that date will be compared with the acreage allotment for that district. If the acreage allotment has not been filed by that time, processors during the following fifteen days may contract for additional acreage.

This procedure has been worked out in co-operation with the processors, producers and extension service workers in the various states," John E. Dalton, chief of the sugar section said. "This plan is designed to afford the sugar beet industry the opportunity to obtain the full acreage necessary to produce, with average yields, the national beet sugar marketing quota of 1,500,000 short tons of sugar in 1935."

Acreage allotments for 1935 already have been made to co-operating producers in most states and processing companies have offered purchase contracts to growers on the basis of individual allotments. In certain areas where the initial sign-up campaign has not been completed as of March 10, processors are being requested to report beet acreage under contract as of that date, and to make a supplementary report of March 15.

Processors were said to have agreed that if the full district acreage is not contracted for by March 15, growers having allotments already under purchase contract will be given an opportunity to increase their acreage before purchasing contracts are offered to growers who do not have a past sugar beet production record.

It was added that in order that beet producers throughout the nation may be offered opportunity to produce the full quota of their sugar, if by March 25 the full acreage allotment for each factory district is not placed under contract, the unused acres will be made available to a national reserve to be distributed by the secretary, pursuant to the terms of the sugar beet production adjustment contract.

A "TREE CAPITAL" RISES

Kinsley is going out after the title of "tree capital" of the Kansas shelter belt project, states County Commissioner J. A. Pitz, an enthusiast in forestry and gardens.

The western Kansas town made its first bid for this recognition through Phillip Mehrlinger, nurseryman and brother of Pete Mehrlinger, former University of Kansas athlete and Olympic wrestling champion.

Phillip has been awarded a government contract to furnish 102,500 trees for shelter belt planting.

It appears, however, he may be unable to provide the seedlings, for the reason that he has been unable to find them. The government had asked for delivery by April 1.

The contract called for 95,000 honey locust and 7,500 Russian mulberry seedlings. Mehrlinger found plenty of the latter, but few of the former.

The government may be forced, Mehrlinger said, to establish nurseries to provide seedlings for the shelter belt. He and the Kinsley Chamber of Commerce have asked that a large nursery be placed at Kinsley to grow small trees for the Kansas belt.

Backing Kinsley's suggestion for such a project is R. L. Von Treba, regional director of the shelter belt project, stationed at Albion, Neb.

"The Kinsley locality seems to me to be an ideal locality for a tree nursery," he has informed superiors. Other varieties of trees are available, but forestry experts have found the honey locust and Russian mulberry—qualities making for permanence in a shelter belt.

Huey and Trenmor Put in Comparison

Speaker O'Gara of Nebraska House Favors Cone—Many Liqueur Telegrams Received.

Speaker O'Gara of the Nebraska house, just back from Washington where he went with Senator Green as legislative delegate to confer with members of the American Legislative association, saw Senator Huey Long in action. He has seen Trenmor Cone in action at home, and draws this comparison:

"Mr. Cone, you are a much better legislator than Huey Long is congressman."

The speaker and Mr. Cone have seldom thought alike. They have indulged in many floor controversies. The love each holds for the other is rated as negative. They have served together thru many sessions, and there have been occasions when the break between them was pronounced. Some therefore looked upon the "compliment" as left or back-handed.

A telegraphic bombardment reached the desks of certain members upon their return Wednesday. The meat of the messages sent from the local communities of the representatives, is that they make haste in bringing out H. R. 448, the so-called administration liquor bill prepared by Attorney General Wright. The special liquor committee remodeled the Wright bill and sent it out under a new cloak, declining to report the original to general file. An attempt will be made to force it out. This perhaps will be the first real liquor test.

Joe S. Steele of Kimball, while at Longmont, Colo., visiting his father who is critically ill, went to Denver and attended sessions of the Colorado legislature. He was invited to speak on the unicameral legislature.

Croydon, Eng., March 7.—Gloved bandits who worked apparently under the very eyes of airport attendants mysteriously removed $107,000 worth of gold from the closely-guarded strongroom of the Croydon airrome. Scotland yard detectives were without clues as to the identity of the thieves or how they got the precious metal out of an "unopened safe."
