

Weeping Water

Miss LaVerna Binger was a guest at the home of her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Voltz near Syracuse last Sunday.

Fred Allen was called to Lincoln last Monday where he was looking after some business matters for the day, the store being tended by his wife.

Bill Johnson and the family will move from the rear portion of the cafe to the home of Wm. Dunn who is now making his home in Omaha, and at this time Bill is doing some work at the Dunn home, and will be able to occupy it in a few days.

Sterling Amick, who is generally very active in the work at the work shop and garage, was letting the matters go to some of the friends who loved to come visit him and was getting in his potatoes, for he knows the necessity of having new potatoes as early as possible.

Harry M. Knabe of near Nehawka where he is engaged in the breeding and growing of the celebrated Hampshire hogs, was looking after some business in Weeping Water Monday afternoon. Mr. Knabe held a very successful sale at Nehawka on Saturday, March 30th.

Celebrate Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Ruge who were married just 57 years last Sunday, were celebrating the event very quietly and most pleasantly with the relatives who called to congratulate them.

They enjoyed a good dinner and also did everyone who was present. Those there for the occasion and to do honor to them were W. D. Love and family of Weeping Water; Henry Ruge, jr., and family of Ashland; John Macado and family of Syracuse; Carl Schunts and family.

Among the thirty-three present were fourteen grandchildren. All of the children were present with the exception of one who makes his home in the west.

LaVerne Klabuhnde Passes Away. LaVerne Klabuhnde, 12, of Blair, a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Michelson, died at 6:30 last Wednesday, after an illness extending over some days, the funeral being held last Saturday. The young man was injured in a game of basketball from which he was unable to recover. Mr. and Mrs. Michelson were at Blair to attend the funeral last Saturday.

A New Beauty Shop. Miss Eva Alop, formerly of Beloit, Kansas, and Mrs. Freda Greer of Pawnee City, Nebraska, arrived in Weeping Water early this week and bringing their equipment with them they will as soon as they can get their furniture arranged and their equipment arranged operate a beauty shoppe over the store of C. H. Gibson and will expect to be ready for work by the end of this week.

Attend Assessors' Meeting.

Pioneer Answers Last Summons.

Frank Hamilton Baldwin was born August 1, 1858, in the northeastern portion of Ohio where he resided during his early life and there learned the blacksmith trade which he followed during his entire life. He came to Weeping Water over half a century ago and had been a familiar figure in the industrial activities of Weeping Water. Ever ready to do a kind act for a friend or anyone who was needing a friend, he was an excellent workman, and struck many a hard blow for the advancement of the city of his choice. His wife passed away a few years ago and he had a portion of the time made his home with his son, and a portion of the time at his home.

Mr. Baldwin had been in poor health for some time past and passed away last Monday afternoon. The funeral was held from the late home, conducted by the Rev. E. S. Pangborn and directed by the Hobson funeral home. Interment was at the beautiful Oakwood cemetery.

Visit at Shenandoah.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Shields and Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Findley and son, Billie, were over to Shenandoah, Iowa, last Sunday, where they went to visit the radio stations there. They all had an excellent time and returned home in the evening, tired, but happy.

THREE FIRES, THREE DAYS

Palmyra, Neb.—A Palmyra farm family is seriously considering organization of a domestic fire department of its own, after three fires on successive days had damaged property on the farm.

The fires, occurring on the William Powers, sr., farm, started when a brooder house containing 250 chickens and a calf burned to the ground when a stove became overheated. The next day a box of matches fell from a cupboard, exploding as it struck the floor and burning a hole in the floor.

The following evening a gas lamp exploded as a daughter, Helen, started to light it. A table cloth and curtains were destroyed and the girl's eyebrows and hair singed.

APPROVE THREE CONTRACTS

Omaha.—State PWA headquarters announced award of a $500 a month contract for testing concrete on the Loup river public power project to the Omaha Testing Laboratories, Inc. Pouring of the concrete will start "almost immediately," it was stated. Before construction is completed about 110,000 barrels of cement will have been poured in the $7,300,000 project.

Two other contracts were approved. Nebraska Bridge Supply and Lumber company of Omaha was notified of approval of its low bid of $13,595 for timber for bridges, and the Central Bridge & Construction company of Wahoo was notified that its low bid of $6,794 for constructing bridges had been approved.

ARGUE LIQUOR EXCISE TAX

Omaha.—United States Commissioner Mary Mullen promised a decision within a week, following arguments in a test case seeking to establish constitutionality of the $1,000 federal excise tax as applied to liquor dealers in a dry state.

John Mullen, attorney for E. E. Barker, Omaha whiskey retailer, cited a recent opinion of federal circuit court in New Orleans in support of his contention that the excise tax provision died with repeal of the eighteenth amendment. More than 100 Omaha sellers of hard liquor arrested in governmental raids will be affected by the decision.

Mullen asked for dismissal in view of the New Orleans high court ruling that the tax is not a tax at all, but a penalty, and that its enforcement is not uniform. Fred Hawxby, assistant United States attorney, asserted Federal Judge Donohoe recently ruled in favor of the government in a somewhat similar case, setting the precedent as far as Nebraska federal jurisdiction is concerned. Should the decision favor Barker, it may mean a loss to the government of several hundred thousand dollars in Omaha alone, federal raiders estimating there are now 300 persons selling liquor here.

Feeding Tests of Interest in Drouth Region

Conditions Upset by Lack of Roughage, Farmers May Study Varying Rations.

Nebraska farmers who attend the twenty-third annual feeders' day at the college of agriculture April 18 are going to hear a number of out-state speakers and be able to view more than 150 head of experiment cattle, says Prof. R. R. Thalman.

With livestock feeding conditions largely unvetted in many areas, due to lack of roughage, experimental tests on varying rations are bound to attract particular attention. The animals will be on exhibition and experiment station workers will describe in detail the results of the tests.

A test comparing dry lot against grass fattening is expected to attract the most attention, as a great increase on fattening while on grass is probable in Nebraska during the coming months, especially in sections where roughages are lacking. W. W. Derrick, extension animal husbandryman at the college, will summarize experimental work done at the Nebraska station and other stations in the midwest. Three years work has been completed here.

Prof. M. A. Alexander of the animal husbandry department is to discuss some new feeding methods for sheep. A comparison of cottonseed cake, tankage and meat scraps for lambs as protein supplements is included in one test. In another, straw and alfalfa are compared as roughages for sheep.

Another test where six lots of steer calves, heifer calves and yearling heifers have been fed varying rations will also be discussed by Professor Thalman. On test 150 days, the experiment will show how heifers and steers do on a limited corn ration with silage and cottonseed cake as supplements.

Three lots of steer calves are included in the test. All received a full feed of silage. The first lot was fed one pound of cottonseed cake while the second received three-fourth of a pound of tankage and the third one pound of commercial cubes daily. The two lots of heifer calves were fed silage. One received one pound of cottonseed cake in addition while the second was fed five pounds of corn and one pound of cake. One lot of yearling heifers received silage, seven pounds of corn and one pound of cake while the second got silage and only one pound of cake daily. The silage fed in all lots contained no corn.

Another experiment, recently completed, concerns two lots of yearling steers given straw as a substitute for alfalfa in the fattening ration. Both lots were on full feed with one and one-half pounds of cake and some limestone. The first lot, however, received in addition as roughage half alfalfa and half wheat straw. The second was fed only wheat straw.

Low Interest Rates Offered to Agriculture

Alvo National Farm Loan Association Announces Lowest Rates in Many Years.

The lowest interest rate ever offered agriculture on mortgage credit is now available to farmers obtaining Federal Land bank loans through the Alvo National Farm Loan association of Alvo, Nebraska, according to Carl D. Ganz, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Ganz has just been notified of the permanent reduction of the interest rate from 5 to 4 1/2 per cent, effective on all land bank loans closed after April 1.

Informing the secretary-treasurer of the new permanent rate, D. P. Hogan, president of the Federal Land Bank of Omaha, declared: "As in the past, the Federal Land banks again have taken the lead in reducing interest charges. This new rate marks a milestone in the progress farmers are making by conducting their credit affairs cooperatively. The reduction will mean a saving of thousands of dollars to the land bank's future borrowers in your community."

Commissioner loans, also made by the land bank on either first or second mortgage security, will continue to bear 5 per cent interest.

WANTS NO 'AMBASSADOR' ARMY TO PARADE STRENGTH

Phoenix, Ariz.—Gov. Moeur denied he ever intended to send an "ambassador" from Arizona to Washington.

"There has been a lot of capital made out of it without any ground to stand on," he asserted. "All of these moves are belittling Arizona in the eyes of the federal government and I fear it will impair our relief status. It wasn't my idea but the plea of various interests in the state who requested me for representation in Washington when matters affecting Arizona come up."

He expressed resentment of the name "ambassador," declaring it was tagged on a bill by the legislators in providing $7,500 for a representative to the national capital.

Washington—Emphasized by tense international days abroad, the U. S. army will parade its strength at home next Saturday. The click of boot heels and rattle of gun caissons will mark army day, commemorative of the day eighteen years ago when the United States declared a state of war existed between it and the central powers. Secretary Dern, who describes "army day" as an annual opportunity for the people of the United States to survey their preparations for national defense, will review the national capital's troops and speak at the patriotic rally to be held here. Other army units, in military posts throughout the country, will stage special parades and reviews.
