All kinds of commercial printing done promptly at the Journal visited Old Rock Bluffs. Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Young and Mrs. Sadie Oldham, mother of Mrs. Young went for a ride the weather being pleasant and after driving for some time found themselves at old Rock Bluffs, which was a thriving river town and depot for forwarding freight across the plains, eighty years ago. Many a caravan was outfitted there, as it was a steamboat landing on the Missouri river. Here Mrs. Oldham came during the early sixties some 74 years ago, crossing the river there when a school girl, her maiden name being Sadie Storey.

The trip last Sunday reminded her of the long ago when a small child she attended school at the then flourishing town of Rock Bluffs which was to see many prosperous years and then dwindle away, to a few dwellings. There is a store there now but with no postoffice, as it is served from Plattsmouth. Still, during the life of this now extinct city, it has made much history for Cass county and Nebraska. At the time Mrs. Oldham came to Nebraska and landed there, it was a larger town than Plattsmouth, Omaha, or Canesville, (now Council Bluffs).

Bible School Thriving.
The Christian Bible school at their gathering last Lord's day had 103 in attendance and with the excellent lessons was thoughtfully enjoyed and much progress was made by the school, there being no contest. The attendance was very flattering.

Dr. G. L. Taylor Located in Murray
Dr. G. L. Taylor arrived in Murray for the first time on New Year's day, 1922, and looking over the town and becoming acquainted with the people of the community, he concluded to locate here and embark in the veterinary practice. Here he soon accumulated many staunch friends and here after some three months he was joined by his wife and they lived here a number of years, later moving to Plattsmouth where they made their home for several years, then moved to Colorado where they are now making their home and where Mrs. Taylor and the kiddies will remain until the close of school. The love for Murray and the Murray people have ever lingered with Dr. Taylor and family. With the coming of Dr. Taylor Murray is welcoming a booster for Murray and vicinity. Here we are, go to it Doc. You have the key to the city.

Mothers Day Next Sunday.
Following the Bible school hour at the Christian church the coming Lord's day there will be a program at the morning worship hour, which will be directed by Mrs. Addie Parks, and will be a real Mother's day program in honor of all mothers of the land. The council passed an ordinance which will be effective as soon as ordinances are published, which was done the day following. The ordinance provided that each place selling beer should pay an occupation tax of $10 annually, and also a license fee for selling beer in addition was $50 for on sale and $25 dollars for off sale. Other ordinances will soon be adopted regulating other lines of business.
