Fish Visions a Swing of Democrats to G. O. P.

New York Congressman Admonishes Republicans to 'Build on Constitution'—Scores New Deal.

Omaha.—Congressman Hamilton Fish, jr., of New York, speaking here Tuesday night at a republican founder's day banquet, declared a swing away from the new deal now under way would sweep new dealers into political oblivion. He admonished republicans in the next campaign to "build on the constitution and appeal to deceived Jeffersonian democrats to cross over and oust the administration dictators."

"Without attempting to formulate a republican platform," he said, "I submit that any republican program must not pussyfoot or compromise on the fundamental issues."

He named as fundamental issues the restoration of constitutional government and business confidence, stabilized currency on a sound basis; repeal of the AAA; abolition of processing taxes on production; preservation of home markets; abolition of government publicity bureaus, which are "political propaganda machines," and "reasonable social and economic justice."

He said the republican platform must provide for national defense "but not aggression" and must allow fullest freedom of speech and press. It also must reaffirm faith, he said, in the early principles of the party and set up a bookkeeping system "so we shall always know the extent of our wealth."

"Business must be free from governmental interference," he declared. "A few fundamental codes would suffice. The secretary of agriculture should be empowered to fix national minimum prices to regain foreign markets." He advocated an adequate old-age pension or retirement plan, without political advantage to any group.

Three Territories Seek to Become 49th State

Three territories seek the distinction of being the 49th state admitted to the union. Bills have already been introduced before congress proposing acceptance of Hawaii and Puerto Rico as states. Alaska relies on the present FERA colonization plan to increase her population to the point where her petition for acceptance as a state will be assured. Anthony J. Dimond, Alaskan non-voting delegate to congress and Samuel W. King, who serves Hawaii in the same capacity, seek statehood for their territories. Puerto Rico, governed by Blanton Winship, was promised "ultimate statehood" in the Democratic platform of 1932. Puerto Rico has the largest population of any of the three territories and Alaska is the biggest. The U. S. flag would be changed if an addition was made.
