Mr. and Mrs. E. Armstrong, Mrs. John Vant and Mrs. Goodhart Vant were business visitors in Lincoln Saturday afternoon.

Harold McNurlin was among the recent graduates from the Anaheim (Calif.) high school. He is the son of Guy McNurlin.

The Dorcas society will meet at the Christian church next Friday afternoon, June 21st, with Mrs. W. A. Armstrong as hostess.

Mensell, the small son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McGill has been quite sick with the measles, but he is getting along nicely at this time.

C. D. Allen, of Lincoln, stopped Tuesday afternoon as he was on his way home from Gretna to visit at the White and Bucknell homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Ellyson are the proud parents of a nine pound son born last Thursday, June 6th. Mother and babe are doing nicely at this time.

Mike Sheehan and family, of near Monley, were visiting for the day last Wednesday at the home of the parents of Mrs. Sheehan, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Leesley.

Mrs. Paul Stander went to Kansas City, Mo., Thursday to visit relatives and also to be present at the services at which time her brother was ordained a priest.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. White and Mr. and Mrs. George Bucknell and sons, Loren and Warren, were in Shenandoah, Iowa, last Sunday, attending the flower show.

Rual Mick has accepted employment with the Burlington in their welding crew and departed for Burlington, Iowa, on last Wednesday to take up the work.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Woltzel returned home Saturday from Sioux City, Iowa, where Mr. Woltzel has been teaching in the high school during the last semester.

The American Legion Auxiliary will meet at the Legion cabin Wednesday afternoon of this week, June 19, with a picnic lunch, if the weather is favorable.

Mr. and Mrs. Stradley and children were business visitors in Lincoln Thursday of last week. Mr. Stradley has been serving on the federal jury during this term of court.

Roy Reighard, Zane Blauvelt and John Gommerding went to Oxford on Tuesday to work for the Burlington railroad in the Republican valley flood area. Zane and John returned on Thursday.

Mrs. R. E. Mathews, who has been visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Belle Wilson, at Powhattan, Kas., for the past ten days or two weeks, returned home on Wednesday of last week.

Misses Irene and Lucele Kelley, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kelley, of Greenwood, had as their guest last Saturday, Miss Irene Ingraham, of Ashland, who remained over Saturday night.

Miss Hazel Trunkenbolz, who has been making her home in Lincoln, where she has been employed, was enjoying a visit at home with the parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Trunkenbolz, on last Sunday.

Glenn Rouse, of Lincoln, who is working as a bus driver for the Burlington Bus company between Lincoln and Nebraska City, was home over Sunday, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jardine of Lincoln spent Sunday with her father, Wm. Reawanz, Sr. The Jardines are moving to Sioux City, Iowa, where Earl will be a district manager for an insurance company.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gumbel, of Omaha stopped for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Peters on Wednesday of last week while on their way to the Ozark country of Missouri for a vacation visit.

Mrs. Walter Richter and daughter, of Sioux City, Iowa, were visiting for a short time in Greenwood, guests of Mrs. P. A. Sanborn. They have been friends for many years and enjoyed their visit together very much.

The members of the American Legion post will repair the west room of the small school building for use as a Legion hall and expect to have it in shape in the near future. This will make the boys a nice place to hold their meetings.

Mrs. Ben Howard received word the latter part of the week from her brother Jesse Dyer, of Ashland, Kansas, that Mrs. Dyer had been taken to a hospital in Wichita, Kansas, for treatment. Mrs. Dyer will be remembered as Miss Mabel Landon.

Mrs. Elsie Peters and son Norman and a little daughter of Leo Peters were enjoying a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Byris Lewis at Vardon last Sunday. In the evening, Norman returned home with his mother and the little niece remained for a week's visit there.

W. C. Willis received a message advising that his father, who resides at Popular Bluffs, Mo., was very poorly, so Mr. and Mrs. Willis hastened to the bedside of the elderly man, finding him in a serious condition on their arrival. They will remain for some time.

Clayton Sanborn, who makes his home in Council Bluffs, was a visitor in Greenwood last Wednesday and was looking after some business and visiting with the mother, assisting her in getting the business straightened out, following the death of the husband and father.

While Sophus Peterson was at his work in the blacksmith shop, the hammer which he was using on a disc he was sharpening and was taking apart, found a place on the thumb of Sophus instead of the bolt he was endeavoring to hit and his thumb is very sore on that account.

Miss Elizabeth Laune entertained the Tiny Stitches club at her home Saturday afternoon, June 8. The usual project lesson was presented by the leader, Miss Laune. There was a good crowd present. The rest of the time was spent visiting, after which the hostess served dainty refreshments.

The L. C. C. Kensington was meeting last Thursday at the home of Mrs. E. H. Armstrong, where they were delightfully entertained and where all were shown a very pleasant afternoon. The ladies were loud in praise of the enjoyable afternoon that had been provided for them by the hostess.

Layton Gordon, a Greenwood young man, is located at Red Cloud, where he has a crew of workers engaged in helping to clean up the debris left by the recent flood and get tracks in shape so that trains can resume operation over the main line from Kansas City to Denver, through the Republican river valley.

Mrs. Westley Miller, residing some distance northeast of Greenwood, was in town last Wednesday and took home with her some lumber for repairing the hay rack, as the alfalfa is getting up to where it needs cutting and it was considered advisable to have the rack repaired and in readiness to handle the heavy loads.

Mrs. Opal Hartsook, of Chicago, who has been visiting her son, Everett and wife near Havelock, came down Sunday evening for a visit with Mrs. Lizzie Hartsook and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hartsook and baby and Miss Dorothy Hartsook, her daughter. She was accompanied here by her daughter, Jean, who has just graduated at Cork.

Harry Leesley has just completed repairing the roof on the chicken house section of the large barn, getting it in the best of condition. During last summer there was no need of a leak-proof roof for there was no rain to come through, but the recent rains of this spring have called attention to the weak places in the roof, and he has had them mended.

John Wolfe, his wife, daughter, Rachel and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wolfe, of Clay Center, visited at the L. J. Dimmitt home on last Thursday and Friday. They came from the L. D. Mulher home at Alvo. Mr. Wolfe is a brother of the late Fred Wolfe, who passed away several years ago here. John Wolfe is a cousin of Mrs. L. J. Dimmitt and Mrs. L. D. Mullen.

The lawn at the home of E. A. Landon, which is quite large, has been let grow this year, producing a yield of blue grass that has been cut for hay, making a full rack load of forage. Last year, at this time all the lawns were completely burned out, but the rooted grass has staged a remarkable comeback this year and seems to have suffered no serious effects from the drought.

Lawrence Palmquist, who has been in California, returned last week to accept a position on the welding crew of the Burlington who make it a practice to keep the joints of the rails welded and in the best of condition. They have found it pays to do this, in the saving of wear on their rolling stock as well as making for easier pulling of freight and passenger trains and smoother riding.

Ray Frederick, of Nebraska City, was in town with a force of men and trucks to obtain a supply of seed corn that had been held in storage here, which he is shipping to the flood district for replanting in the washed out areas. The heavy rains have resulted not only in washing out of a large amount of seed, but causing a considerable amount to rot in the ground, so there is a lot of replanting to be done during the next week or ten days, all over the state.

On last Thursday evening, the Greenwood Rebekah lodge No. 246 met in regular session. There were twenty-eight members present. At this meeting the degree staff put on their initiatory degree in a very fine way adding a new member to their membership. At this meeting, they elected officers for the next term, as follows: Mrs. Nettie Brunkow, Noble Grand and Mrs. Ferne Peters, Vice Grand. It was decided to hold their installation on July 18. After the close of the business meeting, a social hour was enjoyed during which time delicious refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee were served by the committee composed of Mrs. Everett Cope, Mrs. Charles Dyer and Mr. and Mrs. Merton Gray.

At the recent meeting of the town board, orders were given for ten car loads of road gravel to be used in the resurfacing of the streets of Greenwood. The gravel will come from pits at South Bend. A number of outside truckers attended the meeting of the council, endeavoring to secure the contract for hauling, but W. G. Hoyt, the Burlington agent, represented that as the Burlington is one of the heaviest taxpayers in town, they are entitled to the hauling—and they got it. The ten carloads will be sufficient to resurface all the present gravel streets and place them in first class shape again.

There was to have been a ball game at Greenwood between the home team and an outside organization, but the heavy rains prevented the arrival of the visiting team and so like the old style manner of play when baseball was in its infancy, they chose up and with efficient captains at the head of each team, proceeded to play a very interesting and closely contested game, the winners having 8 scores to 7 for the losers.

Five new liquor commission inspectors began work Thursday.

The newly appointed inspectors are Wallace Nelson of Fremont, Leonard Wallin of Hordville, Fred Mueller of Kearney, Howard Rhine of Omaha, and J. B. Minor of Omaha.

The inspectors were employed on a temporary basis with no salaries determined yet. Members of the liquor commission, however, said it was likely salaries would be the same as those of the state beer inspectors.

Work was begun today checking warehouses and wholesale houses to which licenses have been granted.

Eight new wholesale liquor licenses were granted by the commission. The licenses are D. E. Bolman & Son Sales company of Beatrice; V. B. Williams of Scottsbluff; C. Mozer of Lincoln; Joseph J. Shramek of David City; V. D. Ledbetter of Scottsbluff; Harry R. Tollefsen of Kearney; Charles W. Hammond of Omaha, and the Central Distributing company of Grand Island. A total of 17 have been issued.

Forty-two more retail license applications were filed in the commission's offices Thursday.

J. A. McEachen, member of the liquor commission, said it is not likely that "more than a very few" retail licenses will be granted Monday, the first day on which they can be issued.

Members of the commission said issuance of retail beer licenses will be the responsibility of city councils and village boards, their action being subject to approval of the commission.

The municipal governing bodies will have authority only over licenses to be considered within city limits—other applicants for beer licenses are to file their applications with the commission. The commission, Mr. McEachen said, will submit rural applications to county boards for recommendations.

Washington.—American business was urged to turn to the federal trade commission for codes of fair practice by Harper Sibley, president of the United States chamber of commerce.

Indicating a new course of business action to follow the abandonment of most of NRA, Sibley advised that the supreme court decision be used to point the way that business co-operators may travel.

The chamber president spoke after a day's meeting of the chamber's board of directors, which Saturday will release a statement outlining a program for organized business for the coming year.
