Bank Examiner C. H. Gibson was in Elmwood Tuesday of this week looking after the collecting due the defunct Elmwood State bank and meeting with some of the creditors to arrange for their paying what they owe the bank.

While about her work at the home Vera Oehlerking had the misfortune to drop a heavy sink on one of her hands nearly severing the left fore finger, cutting a circle entirely around the member. Fortunately it was that the bone of the finger was not broken. It is however getting along nicely at this time and hopes are entertained that the finger will soon be well again.

Married Last Wednesday.

Miss Florence Bosh of between Elmwood and Avoca and Perry Miller in the same neighborhood, were united in marriage on Wednesday evening of last week. When their friends found out about the marriage they formed a charivari party and sure did make the young people know that they were uppermost in the minds of the merry crowd of young people. The newlyweds who were very happy themselves thought it the proper thing to make their friends happy also so they provided a treat for all who came and accepted the good wishes of the friends for a long and happy life together.

Will Hold Special Meeting.

The Masonic Order of Elmwood will hold a special gathering of the members the coming Saturday night at which there will be many visitors, two grand lodge officers, W. A. Robertson and Raymond Cook of Plattsmouth, with a number of other members from Plattsmouth, as well as many from Weeping Water. A member of Covert Lodge of Omaha, of which J. P. Cobb is a member, will be present. There will be degree work and a banquet.

Visits Old Home Town.

J. H. Rogge of 1508 Washington street, Lincoln, was a visitor in Elmwood Tuesday of this week and was meeting with his many friends and as well looking after some business. He first came to Elmwood in 1898 and was interested in the lumber business in Elmwood for forty-six years. Mr. Rogge likes to come to Elmwood where so much of his successful life was spent in active business and where he has so many good loyal friends. Here he met the Journal man and had his name added to the large list of readers all over the county and as to that in every state in the union.

Makes Purchase of New Car.

This time Mr. Charles F. Woods, the genial salesman at the Bothwell market and grocery, made the selection of the Ford V-8 when he made the purchase of a new car. The car was sold through the local agent in Elmwood, Harry A. Williams, who also knows a good car when he sees one and who is very enthusiastic over the latest creation of the Ford Motor Co. Mr. Harry A. Williams represents the Cole Motor Co. When the deal was made, Mr. Williams called over the phone to Mr. John Cole to bring the new car over.

Entertaining Elmwood Members.

The Order of Eastern Star of Weeping Water were entertaining at a Kensington in Weeping Water and had as their guests the membership of the order of Elmwood who are also members of the Kensington club. A large number of the members from Elmwood attended and among whom were Mesdames G. G. Douglas, Herman Penterman, E. J. Cook, Kazmarek R. G. Eveland, Edna Panska, Miss Ella Atchison and Mrs. J. P. Cobb.

Mrs. Jesse Hardnock Dies.

Miller of Alvo, she making her home with the husband a short distance from Alvo and who has been in the Bryan Memorial hospital at Lincoln for some time past, died at the hospital last Tuesday morning. The funeral was held today (Thursday) with interment at the Alvo cemetery. A story of her life will be published in this paper at a later date.

Cass County Youths Called to CCC Camp

Nineteen Sent to Fort Crook for Enrollment and Will Soon Be Assigned Companies.

Monday afternoon a group of some nineteen young men from Cass county, ranging from 18 to 29 years of age were taken to Fort Crook where they entered the Civilian Conservation Corps and will in a short time be assigned to companies and started in on their duties.

Those who were sent and accepted at the army post comprised the following:

Cecil Black, Greenwood.
Charles Blake, Jr., Weeping Water
Zane Blauvelt, Greenwood.
Manuel Broune, Weeping Water.
Harold Pettit, Eagle.
Edgar Pointer, Murray.
Ernest Seitz, Plattsmouth.
Marvin Smith, Louisville.
John Stoll, Plattsmouth.
Clarence Sutton, Mynard.
Arley Vanlaningham, Plattsmouth.
Joe Wood, Plattsmouth.

Eight young men who had first been selected to make the trip and enroll failed to appear and report at the office of the county relief department at the regular time and accordingly lost the opportunity of enlisting in this quota.

The county relief department states that the persons selected are from those who have dependents and their failure to report will make the matter of relief more difficult in the fall and winter.

SHOWERS FOR BRIDE-TO-BE

Miss Ona Graves of this city, whose marriage to Mr. Lester Thigman will take place on Sunday, June 30th, has been honored at two very pleasant pre-nuptial events in the past few days.

The ladies aid society of the Christian church, of which church Miss Graves is a member, gave a most enjoyable miscellaneous shower at their meeting at the church. The bride was showered with a fine array of gifts as well as recipes that were prepared by the members of the party and presented to her. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon.

Mrs. O. C. Hudson and Miss Leona Hudson entertained most charmingly the last of the week for Miss Graves at their home on high school hill. This was also a miscellaneous shower and the members of the party came with many beautiful gifts to be presented to the bride-to-be. Games were enjoyed as the diversion of the evening and the serving of dainty refreshments concluded the happy occasion.

Regents Give Approval to Retirement Plan

Board of Regents Saturday Makes Faculty Promotions and Grants Leaves of Absence.

Faculty promotions, leaves of absence, and a retirement plan occupied much of the time of the university board of regents Saturday. O. J. Frankforter, who was advanced from assistant professor of chemistry, to associate professor, was given leave of absence for five months next fall to do graduate study at Michigan. O. C. Collins, instructor in mathematics and astronomy, was given leave for next year to do graduate work at Yerkes observatory. His work will be carried on by C. J. Rust, instructor in physics.

A retirement plan that eventually will provide faculty retirement at the age of 70 was approved by the board. As set up, the plan, which goes into effect in 1936 will retire at half salary all faculty members, research workers, and administrative employees who have reached 75. In future years the age limit will be reduced one year annually until in 1941-42 faculty members will be retired at age 70. Provision was also made that faculty members with at least twenty-five years of service who have reached age 65 or are incapacitated for full time service may also be subject to this plan. The regents reserved the right to retain faculty members on active service if the best interests of the institution so demand.

Up to this time the university has never had any comprehensive retirement plan, judging each case on its individual merits. Following are the promotions for next year:

ROTARIANS HOLD MEETING

The Rotary club at their weekly luncheon on Tuesday had as the subject of the meeting that of business relations and under the direction of Dr. P. T. Heineman.

There were a large number of examples presented along the line of business relationship, and the members enjoyed a very interesting discussion.

Prof. W. H. Hohmann, teacher in the Lutheran college at Newton, Kansas, was a guest of the club and was received with a great deal of pleasure by the members.

Crops Day Set for July 2nd at the Ag College

Visit to Experimental Plots Is Part of the Annual Farmers Program During Afternoon.

The annual crops day at the college of agriculture will be held Monday, July 2, according to announcement made last week. The date is late this year, due to late maturing of small grains.

A varied program is planned for farmers who attend the field day with experimental work at the agronomy farm, east of Lincoln, under special observation during the afternoon on a tour of various plots.

Dr. F. D. Keim, chairman of the agronomy department, will preside over the morning session. C. W. Smith will discuss bindweed eradication machinery while Doctor Keim will conduct a weed clinic. Arthur Peterson is to tell of his pasture observations in all parts of the state, while Cheyenne wheat test results will be talked on by C. Suneson.

Farmers are expected to show special interest in a talk by Doctor T. A. Kieselbach on the 1936 hybrid corn program. Miscellaneous crops will be the topic discussed by P. H. Stewart, H. L. Westover of the United States department of agriculture to give an illustrated lecture on "Exploring the world for new crops."

Dean Burr's welcome to the visitors to the campus early in the afternoon will be followed by a field trip to the agronomy farm. Six stops will be made there, where the following will be observed:

Alfalfa varieties and strains, special selections, soybean cultural studies, manure treatments and rotations, temporary and permanent pastures, winter wheat varieties, smut studies and dates of planting, oat varieties and manner of planting, barley varieties and dates of planting, sorghum and spring wheat plots.

ENTERTAIN LADIES

The courtesy committee who have been in charge of the entertaining of the ladies of the visiting Eagles, have made a nice job of the work and served to make the stay of the ladies most pleasant. Mrs. L. W. Egenberger, Mrs. F. R. Gobelman and Mrs. Glen Whiteman have been in charge of this feature of the state aerie.

The ladies of the Eagles were taken on a trip through the plant of the Norfolk Packing Co. Monday morning while in the afternoon a card party was held at the Hotel Plattsmouth in their honor. In the playing Mrs. F. A. Mohring of York and Mrs. Charles L. Bates of Hastings were the winners in the bridge contests, while in the pinochle, Mrs. Wickam of Beatrice was the winner of first prize and Mrs. F. A. Matthews of Omaha received the second honors.

Monday evening the ladies were guests at a theatre party at the Ritz and followed by the dance at the Legion building.

This morning the visiting ladies were taken to the Nebraska Masonic Home to visit the Home proper and infirmary and meeting many friends in the members of the Home.

POPULAR NEW ORCHESTRA

The Nite Owl orchestra, a popular dance band made up of some of the talented young musicians of Plattsmouth are now playing with an orchestra that is known throughout the United States, Guy Noble and His Nebraskans. This orchestra is one of the best in the state and the Nite Owl's rhythm has captured Guy. Those playing with Guy from this city are Kenneth Armstrong, Edward Hadraba, Donald Cotner, Herbert Minor, Stuart Porter, William Henrichsen and Francis Stoll.

Banquet Feature of Opening Day Eagles Meeting

Banquet Presided Over by W. M. Barclay, Past State President—Initiate Class Monday.

The first day's session of the thirty-first annual state aerie convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, was climaxed Monday afternoon with the banquet of the order held at the Knights of Columbus hall and attended by some 200 of the local and visiting members of the great fraternity.

In the afternoon session there were reports of the various committees received and followed with much interest, especially that of Judge C. W. Britt of Omaha, chairman of the old age pension committee.

The afternoon session also saw the exemplification of the ritual by the drill teams of the aerics of Fremont, Omaha and Grand Island and in which Fremont was awarded the first place honors.

With the adjournment of the afternoon session the members gathered at the banquet hall for the treat that had been arranged for them by the ladies of the Catholic Daughters of America, a delicious menu being prepared and served in the most appropriate settings.

The Jesse Busse orchestra furnished the musical setting for the banquet and Hoyt Griffin, high school music supervisor led the group singing that aided in the enjoyment of the opening of the banquet.

William M. Barclay, of this city, past state president, presided as the toastmaster of the meeting and in a very clever manner presented the speakers of the evening.

Each of the aerics was called upon for a brief greeting and responses were heard from Omaha, Lincoln, Hastings, Grand Island, York, Nebraska City, Fremont, Columbus, Beatrice, Alliance and Pullerton.

Vernon W. Pope of York presented the award of the convention to the Eagle aerie at Lincoln which had shown the largest percentage of gain in the past year, there being some seventy per cent gained by the capitol city aerie.

The chief address of the evening was by Grand Secretary J. S. Parry of Kansas City, who in his able manner presented the highlights of the Eagles and interspersed with many interesting and clever stories to add to the pleasures of the banquet party.

Following the close of the banquet the Eagles adjourned to their hall where the aerie was formerly opened for the initiating of the convention class of young men that had been provided by the local aerie and the Fremont team, the prize winner group conferred the degrees on the class members.

Golfers Enjoy City Tournament Finishes Sunday

Frank Horskack Established a New Course Record While A. L. Carper Gets Hole in One.

Sunday brought a pleasant day for the golf enthusiasts and enabled them to enjoy a fine day in the last rounds of the city match play tournament, there being some excellent golf shown by the players.

The finals of the championship flight found the veterans, Dr. R. P. Westover and Frank Horskack pitted against each other and these two former champions waged a spirited struggle with Horskack the winner 7-5. Horskack set a new course record in a 30, two under par for the course and showing a real form in his work.

In the "A" flight C. R. O'son was the winner by default from L. O. Gaylord and a hot semi-final between Olson and R. D. H. G. McClusky.

The Class "B" flight of the tournament saw Fritz Fricke emerge the winner over A. B. Maddox by a score of 3-2.

A. L. Carper of Murray while not a champion had the proud distinction of getting himself in the "hole-in-one" club with his drive in the semifinals and is now setting among the elect of the club that have won this distinction in the past.

MEETS OLD FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Kerr were at Lincoln Sunday where they attended the state encampment of the Spanish War Veterans being held there. Mr. Kerr was a member of the First Nebraska from 1898 to 1900 and while at Lincoln enjoyed a reunion of the old regiment and met many of the old time comrades whom he had not seen for a great many years.

Not Always!

A good reputation should always be one of the most valuable assets any organization could have—but sometimes, we have found, such a reputation works out to a disadvantage.

The reason for this is, of course, that one naturally associates high prices with fine services, and, in our case at least, this is a mistaken line of reasoning.
