BACKBONE OF TRANSPORT

In spite of all claims to the contrary, the railroads remain the backbone of the nation's transportation system.

Other carriers may supplement the rails and perform a valuable service. But it is a limited service.

Trucks can handle but a fraction of the nation's freight, and almost none of its heavy, transcontinental freight—wheat, machinery, etc.

Buses can provide inexpensive and excellent short-haul passenger service—but the vast bulk of travelers still go by rail when embarking on a lengthy journey.

There are definite limits to the airplane—its high cost, its relatively sparse coverage of the nation, its inability to handle freight.

The waterways are limited by geography and by seasons. In addition, they have proven to be constant money losers, and can only be kept in operation by vast governmental subsidies.

The railroads touch every portion of the country. They provide service to remote areas, tiny hamlets, little known farming and mining districts. They run on regular schedules. They provide maximum service at a minimum cost. The railroads did much to bring civilization to the wilderness in the beginning of this nation's expansion—they do much to keep civilized places from degenerating back to wilderness now.

In addition, the railroads are one of our greatest taxpayers, employers, purchasers of supplies. They offer a gigantic market in normal times for lumber, steel, copper, coal. They are the bulwark of all industry—and an essential public servant.

HAS PLENTY OF ACCIDENTS

Council Bluffs, Ia.—Miss Sunny Hoath, Council Bluffs beauty parlor owner, is no "adventure girl" like Joan Lowell, who sees excitement all over the world. Without even looking for it, Sunny finds plenty of excitement, mostly in narrow escapes from accidents. To date her experiences include:

Two airplane crackups. Three automobile accidents. One train wreck. One buggy accident.

The last does not include the time when, at the age of 4, she was left stranded in a ferris wheel for two hours during a storm. Nor the time at Wichita, Kas., when a tornado blew her car off the road, and she didn't even realize it was a tornado.

But she's come thru all of them without serious injury. Only one, an automobile accident, was bad enough to send her to hospital and she had only a slight brain concussion in that case.

Once a man caught her by the heels just as she was falling from a twenty-one story building in Chicago and pulled her back.

Still she says: "Life's sure a lot of fun."

WINS HIGH HONOR

Wendell Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Marshall, former residents of this city, and graduate of Abraham Lincoln high school of Council Bluffs, was awarded the one year scholarship to the Creighton Arts college, given by the Council Bluffs Creighton Alumni Association, according to an announcement by Mr. Leo Connolly, Council Bluffs attorney and president of the alumni group. The selection followed a competition examination given senior honor students of three Council Bluffs high schools.

Wendell attended the Plattsmouth public schools through the sixth grade and won the music memory contest here in 1927.

The scholarship may be used in any department of the university. Wendell plans to enter the college of arts and sciences this fall.

Henry Marshall, a brother, graduated from the Creighton Arts College in 1934 and is now a senior in the Creighton School of Law.

Wendell has been spending the summer visiting his sister, Mrs. Justus Lillie, and recently returned home to accept the scholarship.

SCOUTS DEPART WESTWARD

From Tuesday's Daily. This morning a group of Boy Scouts departed from Nehawka with their destination as the mountain country of Colorado where they expect to spend a short vacation in the many points of interest and which will give them a good insight into their woodcraft work. The boys are traveling in a large school bus built by the Chevrolet Co., and which is equipped with a radio and all of the comforts for travel. The party is in charge of E. C. Stimbart of the Nehawka schools and Glen Rutledge of the Nehawka Enterprise and Burwell Adams are accompanying to assist in the driving of the bus so that there will be plenty of relief drivers. Billy Rosencrans of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rosencrans, is a member of the Scout party.

WIN FROM MURRAY

The Junior American Legion baseball team Sunday afternoon won from the Murray boys' team on the diamond at Athletic park by the score of 10 to 5. The youngsters played a good game and fell well pleased over their victory.

SCHOOL DAYS COMING SOON

The passing days of August is bringing to the close the summer vacation of the city schools and in the passing of some three weeks the youngsters of the community will be wending their way back to the school house for the nine months of training. The schools in the city will open on Tuesday, September 3rd.

Already the athletic minded young men of the high school have begun to turn their thoughts to the forthcoming football season and a number have been out in the afternoons to try out a few passes and kicking exercises to get in readiness for the formal opening of the season. With the return of Coach Fred Rothert and the resumption of school the regular strenuous training will be taken up for the opening of the season schedule.

AN INTERESTING PAPER

The Journal recently received a copy of the Evening News of this city, published October 3, 1897 which had been arranged by the members of the Woman's club of this city who had conducted all of the work of preparing the paper aside from the mechanical work. Mrs. Kate W. Davis was the editor, Miss Carrie L. Holloway as assistant, Mrs. Margaret Mauzy as the treasurer, Mrs. Fred Lehnhoff and Mrs. Frank Morgan were the advertising solicitors. The subscription committee was composed of Mrs. Henry Mauzy, Mrs. John Leasley, Mrs. I. H. Dunn, Mrs. Harry Barthold, Mrs. A. P. Campbell.

The paper contained historical writings of the churches of the city as well as several of the towns over the county where the ladies had prepared sketches of their community. The chief news items were of persons going to and from Omaha, the railroad station in "them days" being a prolific source of news. In the advertisements appearing in the paper there are few that are now in the business life of the community, Westcott, F. G. Fricke & Co., and William Schmidtmann, being among the business houses and James Rehal was then as now making his high class line of brooms. Of all the ladies who were members of the staff for the edition, Mrs. Henry Mauzy is the only one surviving in the passage of time.
