MANLEY NEWS

A good number of people from Manley and vicinity attended the circus in Omaha last Sunday.

The Manley lumber yard received and unloaded a car of lumber during the fore part of last week.

Henry Crozier, of Weeping Water, was looking after some business matters in Manley last Monday.

Edward Stander was a visitor in Omaha last Monday, where he was looking after some business matters and visiting with friends.

Herman Mann and wife, of Louisville, were visiting with friends in Manley and Mr. Mann was looking after some business matters as well.

Mrs. David Brann has been enjoying a visit from her two grandchildren, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Shelhorn, who make their home in Omaha at the present time.

Frank Stander of Omaha was a visitor in Manley, coming down to look after some matters of business and also renewing acquaintance with a goodly number of his friends here.

Teddy Harms, Jr., who has been visiting at the home of his grandmother at Talmage during the past ten days, returned last week and is all ready for the opening of school this week.

The Manley schools are opening this week with an increase in the enrollment and prospects of a successful year ahead. Miss Evelyn Peters, of Talmage, has been secured as one of the new teachers.

John Gakemeier, of Murdock, was looking after some business matters in Manley early last week, being accompanied by his father, Henry Gakemeier, who was meeting with his many friends while here.

Roland Coon, who is engaged in business at Liberty, near the Kansas state line, was a visitor in Manley during the fore part of the week, coming up to look after some business matters and meeting many of his friends while here.

Mrs. O. E. McDonald and daughter, Mrs. William Meyers, of Ashland, accompanied by William Meyers and Robert McDonald were over to the Rock Bluffs picnic last Sunday, and report seeing many of their former acquaintances there.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Schliefert arrived home the fore part of the week from a visit of several days at the home of a daughter at Hoardville. They report crops very spotted in the territory through which they passed, being good at some places and poor in others.

Car Damaged in Collision

Walter O'Brien and family drove to Omaha last Sunday for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stander. In getting about the crowded streets of the metropolis, their car was struck by another with such force that the occupants of both vehicles were shaken up considerably as well as damage done to both the cars.

Walter carries indemnity insurance covering damage he might cause to the car or property of others, but no protection on his own car, the repair of which cost in the neighborhood of $50, and as the other party was unable to make good the loss and carried no insurance, Mr. O'Brien had to stand the expense on his own car, notwithstanding he was not at fault in causing the accident.

Took Nieces Back Home

The Rev. Father Harte, who has been enjoying a visit from two small nieces, who reside in Casper, Wyoming with their parents, the mother a sister of Father Harte, left last week by auto to take the girls back home, where they will enter school at the beginning of the regular fall term. Rev. Harte will remain there for a visit at the home of his sister and enjoy seeing that part of the country.

Visited Here from West

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Person, of Denver, where he is engaged in business, arrived in Manley last Saturday and visited here for a few days. On departing for the west, they were accompanied by their children, who have been visiting here for some time with their grandmother, Mrs. Alice Jenkins. Mrs. Jenkins will also return to the west at a later date, as she expects to make her home in the mountain city during the winter.

Married at the Church

On Thursday, August 22, there was celebrated at St. Patrick's Catholic church the nuptial mass of Miss Ann Murphy and Loren J. O'Brien, the latter of Omaha. The marriage lines were read by Rev. Father Harte.

The bridal couple were attended by Miss Helen Murphy as bridesmaid and Paul Tighe as best man. George Rau presided at the piano. Miss Margaret Jean Robinson, of Weeping Water, sang a vocal solo.

The wedding was followed by the serving of a wedding breakfast to immediate members of the families of the contracting couple, provided by the brothers of the bride.

After a short visit in Omaha, the newlyweds will make their home in the western part of the state, where Mr. O'Brien has a position as instructor in a CCC camp.

The best wishes of the friends in this vicinity will accompany them to their new home.

Tighe Family Reunion

A reunion of the Tighe family was held in Omaha yesterday (Sunday) at the home of Miss Lillian Tighe, where a goodly attendance was expected to join in the festivities and partake of the sumptuous dinner that was provided.

Those from Manley who attended the reunion included Mr. and Mrs. John C. Rauth, Walter Mockenhaupt and family, Sister Alexia and Miss Mary Murphy.

Only a Few Students to be Given NYA Aid

Quota for the University of Nebraska is limited to 600 as 1,200 Seek Financial Aid.

At least half of the 1,200 students and prospective students who have applied to university authorities for federal student aid under the provisions of the national youth administration measure, cannot be given financial assistance, Dean Thompson said Friday night.

"We have many more applicants than we can possibly take care of now as our quota is about the same as last year when 600 students were given help," Dean Thompson declared.

"It is unfortunate that more cannot be assisted inasmuch as most of the students applying possess excellent scholarship records," he said. He indicated there was a chance that a few more than 600 may win places in the NYA program. The maximum monthly aid will be $20.

The dean of student affairs emphasized that the NYA setup is designed to supply additional student employment and will not force out student examination readers or others regularly employed at the university.

Students are already being selected by Dean Thompson, assisted by a faculty committee, and all will be chosen by the time the university opens Sept. 15. More than 2,200 students have asked for applications. The committee members include Professors T. Bruce Robb, S. M. Corey, L. K. Crowe, Dean Happer and Edgar Boschult, operating superintendent.

ABLE TO BE UP A BIT NOW

Legionnaires who called on Robert Reed at the Veterans' hospital in Lincoln Tuesday while en route to the convention at Beatrice, found him in greatly improved condition and able to be up and about in a wheel chair part of each day. He had been on his feet for the first time the day before, but found his strength taxed as a result of his four weeks in bed. He is advised that it will be three weeks yet before he will be able to return home. Dr. Moore, clinical director at the hospital, stated that had he been a few hours later in arriving at the hospital it would have been impossible to save his life. As it was, the operation was performed within a half hour after his arrival and doctors remained steadily at his bedside day and night the first 72 hours.

Plattsmouth offers a splendid market for farm produce of all kinds.

Enthusiasm at Meeting to Plan Carnival Details

Large Attendance at Luncheon Held Last Night—New Features are Being Arranged.

From Friday's Daily
If attendance and interest shown at last night's "pep" luncheon may be accepted as a criterion the fourth annual King Korn Carnival to be held in Plattsmouth September 18 to 21, inclusive, will be by far the most successful of any to date.

Forty intensely interested men of the community, nearly a third of them from the rural areas enjoyed dining together and afterwards participating in a planning discussion out of which were evolved many new and original ideas that will be put to good use in arranging this year's show.

Designation given each of the four days is as follows: Wednesday, opening and coronation day; Thursday, farmers' day; Friday, old settlers' day, and Saturday, rural school day. There are expected to be present five bands, four of them from outlying Cass county towns, and a 50-piece accordion band from Omaha.

Farmers' day will be exclusively agricultural in nature, the entire arrangements and execution being in the hands of the Farmers' day committee headed by Chas. Barnard, even to the attire of R. Foster Patterson, program director of former years, who will come here from his home at Tarkio to officiate before the microphone. On this day he will dress as a typical farm hand instead of his usual attire of a college professor.

Friday is set as Old Settlers' day, with the platform program given over to them at 3 p. m. following the Merchants' parade, and continuing right up to supper time, instead of being held at a separate place during the hours of other entertainment as has been done in the past. Experience has proven the other entertainment attracts many of the old settlers from their own meeting, greatly cutting down the attendance, so this year they will be given two to three hours time on the platform, with the further privilege of a forenoon program should the committee desire it. Paul Vandervort was added to the committee of which Judge C. L. Graves is chairman.

One of the features Friday will be the public wedding in the evening. Identity of the nuptial couple will be kept secret until the time of playing the wedding march and the couple is taxied to the platform, there to receive their license and be joined in wedlock.

The children's parade on Wednesday afternoon will be bigger and better than ever, with nearly every school child in the city in the line of march. That evening the king and queen will be crowned, the queen being chosen by vote of the public on ballots printed in each issue of the Journal, and the king selected by the program committee. Identity of both these participants will also be kept secret right up to the time of the coronation ceremonies. In connection with the naming of the king, a contest is to be held in which everyone may register their guess as to his identity, writing the same in a book kept for that purpose. A suitable prize will be awarded to the person who first guesses the identity of the king, this award to be withheld until after the coronation.

The soap box derby, set for late Friday afternoon will be another of the popular features this year. Already a large number of boys have made or are busy making their racing entries for this event.

Special stress will be laid on corn exhibits, although other classifications will not be barred and will be rewarded with smaller prizes. The corn prizes, however, will be of an amount in keeping with the fact that this is primarily a corn show, and will be paid in cash, while most other exhibit prizes will be in trade or donated merchandise.

The pre-carnival plans include but one parade, to be held on Saturday night, September 14. This will be fashioned along the pageantry line, with different organizations sponsoring successive theme depictions connected with the history of Plattsmouth, which was chartered as a city seventy-five years ago. Occupying a prominent part in this parade will be employees of the BREX shops, who last year demonstrated unusual ability in pageantry presentation. Other civic organizations will be asked to sponsor episodes in the life of the town, while the shopmen will naturally build their theme around the coming of the Burlington and the part its shops have played in the development of the community.

There will be two pre-carnival programs put on from the platform at Fifth and Main, however, to further stimulate interest in the big show.

Parades during the carnival will be limited to four in number, the children's parade on Wednesday, farmers' parade Thursday; merchants' parade Friday and rural school parade Saturday. All of these will be afternoon parades.

A public dance each night, city championship kittenball games, ferris wheel and merry-go-round, concessions and the Hazel McOwen Players will be among the attractions during the four day carnival.

Watch for the official program to be issued this coming week, also further announcements of interest in the columns of the Journal from day to day, and advise your distant friends and all old residents here that Plattsmouth is going to put on its greatest carnival and corn show this year and they will be missing a lot if they fail to attend.

Bridge Company Announces Lower Rates to Patrons

Five Round Trips Offered for $2 Over the Traffic Bridge Near This City.

The Plattsmouth Bridge Co. is announcing a lower rate for their patrons that will result in a very pleasing saving for those who may desire to use the structure.

The company is announcing that they will give five round trip tickets in the future for $2 which is a very considerable saving for those who have frequent use of the bridge.

The tickets are good for the purchaser, any member of his family or employes with the return limit set at one week.

URGES SPEED IN MAKING OF WPA APPLICATIONS

The recent deadline of Sept. 3 on PWA applications has also brought a hurry-up call from those administering the WPA program, which is quite unlike WPA.

In a letter received today from R. L. Metcalfe, state director of the National Emergency Council, he says: "The kind of projects to promote are projects that the communities will undoubtedly have to construct themselves some time during the next few years. For example, farm to market roads, resurfacing and repairing pavement, sewer extensions, parking improvements, recreational centers, etc. By sponsoring these projects at this time, the sponsors will benefit, because usually there will be $3.00 Federal funds spent for every dollar put up by the sponsors."

"I am writing to ask if you will not take this matter up with other people in your town and county and see if you cannot plan some projects for which you would like to make application under the WPA."

"I desire to impress upon both you and your neighbors that it is necessary IMMEDIATE ACTION be taken to have projects planned and applications made in order that Works Progress Administration may be in position to have work carried on particularly in the communities that have a relief load at this time."

HOME DAIRY FURNISHED TRUCK

In the list of acknowledgements for cars furnished to transport the Junior Drum corps to Omaha, Boys Town and Beatrice during the past week, the fact was overlooked of the Home Dairy furnishing its Ford V-8 truck for the trip to Beatrice Tuesday. All the drums and a number of the older boys in the corps were conveyed to the convention in this truck, which was driven by James Farnham and the same wholehearted thanks are extended to Mr. Hoffman as were expressed to other contributing car owners in yesterday's Journal.

MAKE A FINE SALE

The real estate deal by which George Born has purchased an 80 acre tract of land west of this city with its crops from Walter Tritsch, has just been completed. The consideration in the sale was $11,000 and is one of the most attractive sales made here recently. M. R. Bloom of this city conducted the details of the sale.

Wabash News

L. R. Staley was in Lincoln Tuesday, bringing back with him a load of groceries to replenish the stock at the store.

Uncle H. P. Hinds departed recently for Burns, Wyoming, where he will visit at the home of his son, James Hinds, for a few weeks.

Robert Reese and family, of Mound City, Mo., have been here visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reese and with other relatives and friends.

The Wabash schools will open this (Monday) morning, with Miss Hilda Scottbluff in charge and the students back in their places ready for nine months of intensive study.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Hardaway were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Rueter last Sunday, all attending the services at the Callahan church in the evening.

Charles Gerbeling, of Elmwood, and their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ackney Congor of Grand Island, were guests at the home of H. H. Gerbeling and wife in Wabash last Sunday.

Bert Austin and Leslie Bothwell were visiting in Lincoln last Wednesday, where they went to enjoy a baseball game played between a Lincoln team and the House of David traveling team, which they describe as being composed of some real ball players.

The family of Frank Marshall are moving to Weeping Water, where the children will attend school. Frank will divide time between the home in Weeping Water and the farm, caring for the stock and looking after other necessary work, including the gathering of the corn crop this fall.

John Woods has his new car completed and in good working order. He purchased a model T Ford chassis in Lincoln some time ago and has constructed a serviceable small truck out of it, overhauling the motor and placing a truck body thereon in which he can haul a considerable load.

William Langhorst, who has been at Excelsior Springs, Mo., during the past two weeks, writes to friends here that he is making good improvement and receiving much benefit from the baths. He says folks there are very kind and sociable to strangers in their midst and he is enjoying himself.

Miss Myrtle Wood, who has been on her vacation during the past two weeks, returned home last week and is back on the job carrying the mail as before. She reports having had a very nice time on her trip and wished it might have lasted longer, for time has a way of passing quickly when one is enjoying himself and seemingly dragging when we are occupied with the ordinary duties of making a livelihood.

Had a Splendid Trip

The 4-H club, which has been touring the west in search of information as to the modes of farming and stock-raising in that part of the west, as well as seeing many sights of interest including the Black Hills country of South Dakota, arrived home last week well pleased with their trip.

Enjoyable Visit in West

I. C. McCrory and family, who have been vacationing in the west during the past two weeks, arrived home on Saturday, August 24th. They were at Denver, Colorado Springs, Alamosa, Cripple Creek and other points in the west and also spent some time in the San Luis valley. They covered 2,100 miles from the time they left until their return, and were well pleased with the performance of their new car, purchased only a short time before their departure.

Has a Very Popular Place

John Woods, who is always looking to do something to help the fellow man, has placed a tank in the attic of his garage and attached a sprinkler to the same, with a valve to release the water, which is pumped into the tank with a gas engine. Being located up near the roof rafters, the sun warms the water and there is thus provided a fine shower bath arrangement for Mr. Woods and his friends who care to come and enjoy the same, which many of them have been doing. All that is required is that they see the water is restored to the tank, so there will be some for the next fellow, and of course John wants some water there when he desires to take his bath.

It is a fine thing to do and has provided pleasure and comfort for a large number of his friends, at a small expense, as the cost of pumping the water is not great.

GAMES IN SOFTBALL LEAGUE

The Friday double header in the softball league was marred by the fact that the long desired rainfall started shortly after the opening of the contests, but the players battled through the two games.

In the opener the league leaders, the Ford V-8 team won from the Home Dairy by the score of 14 to 5 to further lengthen their race for the season final as they have already won the first round championship.

The second game was hotly contested by the Nu-Way Champions and the Cardinals and resulted in a win for the Nu-Ways, 5 to 3, altho the redbirds made a great scrap and it was not until the last out that the final result was clinched for the Nu-Ways. This is the first defeat in the second round for the fast ball club composed of the young men from west of this city.
