PASSING OF AN OLD NEBRASKA CITIZEN

George Leonard has just passed on to that eternal home. To the reward of the faithful follower of Jesus Christ.

Mr. Leonard was born at Camden, Ill., Nov. 19, 1858 and passed away at the home of his son, Forrest, near Plattsmouth at the age of 77 years, 9 months and 16 days. He was married in 1889 to Martha Anne Wood. The mother preceded him in April, 1923, also two sons and two daughters at other times.

The children surviving are: Ellis, Allie, Homer, Earl, Forrest, Verna and Rose.

Mr. Leonard was an ardent Sunday school worker serving as superintendent in the forenoon and afternoon sessions.

Mr. Leonard came to Nebraska some 40 years ago and lived at Holbrook a number of years, then moving to Oberlin, Kansas, operating a large ranch until failing health caused him to retire. He has made his home near Plattsmouth with his sons, Allie and Forrest since last March, being confined to his bed most of the time. On August 25th a reunion of the Leonard family was held at the Forrest Leonard home. Relatives from Illinois, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska were present, bringing to Grandpa Leonard much joy in being together once more. As I write this I have the fond remembrance of a devoted Christian, a loving father and a true friend to all who knew him.

Daddy, 'tis hard to say goodbye
As we part at the river of life
Our angel mother is waiting for you
As you leave this world of mortal strife.

We think of the days that are past and gone
And the road we traveled together thus far.
You've been a pal and a friend to all
And to your loved ones a guiding star.

Your counsel to us before you left—
Of a loving Saviour, that's ever true,
Will help us, Daddy, as we wend our way
Thru sunshine and shadow—
He'll take us thru.

You told us, Daddy, not to grieve
That Jesus was waiting for you,
He'd take away the ache and pain
And carry you o'er the river too.

'Tis one more link in our golden chain
With mother and Mabel of the other shore.
We'll meet you Daddy when our work is done,
In that Heavenly Home where we'll part no more.
—R. G. K.

Has 54-Year-Old Relic.

George Berger was reading his Bible and he reads it at times, when he ran across a post office box receipt issued from the Rock Bluffs office on January 9, 1881 for box rent for the quarter beginning, January 1, 1881, which was for five cents, a difference from what has to be paid at this time. This was 54 years ago. The postoffice and the historic town have long since gone as well as many other things during the past more than half century. The receipt was issued to Mr. Enos Berger, grandfather of George.

Floods in Other Days.

In the old family Bible George Berger found the following clipping which tells of the drowning of a number of his forefathers in the flood which occurred hundreds of years ago. The article best explains itself, which is as follows:

"The Dikes of Holland."—Holland in past times, was subjected to terrible inundations. In 1289, eighty thousand people lost their lives. The improved system of dikes, introduced by the Spanish Governor Robles, was the means of much good, as of late years the disastrous consequences of an inundation have been somewhat mitigated. What constitutes a dike is unknown to many. A solid foundation is necessary first, which is accomplished by either driving down piles, ramming the soil, or laying a substratum of clay. The depth of foundation for a sea dike averages from one hundred and twenty to one hundred and fifty feet. The face is of clay and the inner of sand or earth, the whole sloped from one to thirteen feet. A description of wicker-work filled with puddled clay, to close the interstices and render them compact, is placed as a kind of thatch to protect the dike. This wicker-work is renewed every three or four years, and its construction gives employment to many people. The upper part of the dike rises from twenty-five to forty feet; and when covered with turf, forms a very good road. The dikes of Holland are the most wonderful of the national characteristics.

Honor Church Workers at Banquet.

The officers and teachers of the Christian Bible school and the officers of the Christian church and their families were tendered a reception on last Thursday at the church building and a general good time was had. Addresses were made by Prof. Greer of the Murray schools, Rev. Lloyd Shubert, pastor, Mrs. Silas Perry, while Mrs. Overhiser favored the gathering with a number of readings together with the covered dish luncheon which was served, made the evening one very enjoyable.

Will Nominate Officers.

At the session of the Bible school the coming Sunday and the church service also there will be made nominations for the officers of both Bible school and the church board for the officers for the coming term. The election will be the following Lord's day. It will be well for all interested in the church and Bible school to be in attendance at this gathering as well as at all the sessions of the Bible school and church.

Visited Friends Here.

Wm. Newman and wife, the former state representative from Box Butte county in the last legislature and making their home at Alliance, were guests for the day and dinner last Saturday at the home of Representative and Mrs. George E. Improvements at Hardware.

The front of the building which is used by Lucean Carper for his hardware and implement store has been in need of paint for some time and in fact for some repairs on the carpenter work thereon. Last week M. G. Churchill began the work of making the needed repairs in the carpenter line and will in a short time paint the building and with both will make the place look ever so much better.

COLORS BRIGHTEN HOMES

Use of color is becoming more and more prevalent among average home-makers who heretofore have looked askance at the idea of boldly making free with original ideas in decorating.

The housekeeper who wishes to improve her home by redecorating a room may use the Moderation Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration for this purpose. Credit in amounts up to $2,000 will be extended by banks and other private financial institutions to the individual who has a good credit rating and a reasonable ability to repay the amount in monthly installments over a period up to five years.

With funds so obtained the housekeeper may do over a room entirely, using her own ideas to make the place distinctive. Scenic wall papers furnish desired color and often happily solve the problem of a single solid wall unbroken by doors and windows.

A dining room which has three walls broken architecturally could be decorated advantageously by having a plain paper on those walls and the unbroken space paneled with a scenic paper. Two small windows at the front of the room may be transformed into one large bay-window and hung with white venetian blinds.

A prosaic ceiling light could be replaced by all sconces in keeping with the decorative trend of the room. Covers may be purchased to hide radiators.

Wall paper can be purchased to look like wood paneling and may be used to form a dado around the entire room. Woodwork may be repainted to fit in with the general decorative trend.

An attractive dining room with a formal air has walls of pale green with a scenic effect on one wall painted in colors of grey, green, white and red. The woodwork is white and the carpet a dull emerald green. The draperies at the window are of garnet colored satin. Mahogany furniture is used and the chairs have seats of white leather.

ROBBERY OF PRIVATE BANK

We Are Enthusiastic

Some persons may wonder why we mention our funeral home so often, why we are so enthusiastic about it. The answer is simple enough, and those who have been in our home can understand our attitude.

We mention the home often because we know there are many persons who have never seen it, who do not know how well it can serve in time of need. And we are enthusiastic because the home warrants enthusiasm; it is such a splendid place, a perfect temporary home.
