

UNION ITEMS.

Dance, sponsored by Union Fire Department, Friday night, Oct. 25th. Miss Nola Banning, who holds a position as teacher in the Nebraska City schools, visited at home over the week end.

Ray Becker was called to Nebraska City and Auburn on Tuesday to look after some business matters, making the trip in his car.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rice, of Plattsmouth, drove down Sunday for a visit at the home of their daughter, Mrs. John Fitzpatrick and family.

E. G. McClure is putting a porch on his home in Union, making it up at the lumber yard and taking it home in sections to be assembled.

Dr. C. W. Alexander, eyes examined, glasses fitted. Clark hotel, Union. Second Friday every month. 017-24-31-n7

Clifton Garrison and Paul Madison made a trip out into the pheasant country over the week end and were able to get their quota of the elusive birds.

The Union Fire Department will sponsor a dance Friday night, October 25th. Don't fail to attend.

George Trunkenbolz, of Eagle, was a visitor in Union Monday, coming to look after some business matters in connection with the oil station the Trunkenbolz company operates here.

W. E. Sudduth and wife were at Weeping Water last Sunday, where they visited for the day at the home of his brother, Dan Sudduth and enjoyed the excellent dinner that was served.

Joe Banning and wife, A. L. Becker and wife and Henry Becker and family, together with a number of others from the vicinity of Union, went to Nebraska City last Sunday to attend the funeral of the late Joseph Mullis.

John Hoback and two sons, Willis Eaton and Sherman, and Lee Hathaway were eating breakfast at Wakefield Sunday morning after their early hour hunting expedition, when who should pop up by Elmer Withrow and Frank Bauer, who were also up in that part of the country on a hunting trip.

Miss Opal Griffin, clerk at the Union postoffice, has been ill with a severe cold that prevented her being on the job, requiring Miss Augusta Robb to remain on duty long hours. Because of this she pressed Uncle Mont Robb into service as housekeeper at home, a position he is qualified to fill, as attested by the fine meals he has been preparing.

Don't fail to attend the dance sponsored by the Union Fire Department Friday night, October 25th. You are sure to have a good time.

Ray Frans was out to the farm and with some competent assistance, was engaged in building a chicken house with concrete foundation and a concrete floor. The farm is located on the highway west of town, being known as the N. C. Deles Dernier place. With this kind of equipment it ought to be easy to raise some fine chickens and get a lot of eggs, which by the way are beginning to command a premium price as cold weather approaches.

Editor C. E. Withrow and wife, of Palmyra were visiting in Union last Sunday, driving over for a visit with their son and wife. Arriving here, they found their son, Elmer, and grandson, Elmer, Jr., were away for the day, but visited with other members of the family, returning home in the evening without getting to see either of the two Elmers. So the old Legion slogan, "Where's Elmer?" was again brought into play, this time far removed from the scene of convention fun and frivolity, however.

Welcome for Minister

Members of the Methodist church and other citizens of Union, together with a number from Wyoming, which is also included in the pastorate of Rev. B. N. Kunkel, who was recently returned here by the conference, planned a reception for the pastor and wife last week, but the weather was bad and the event was postponed, being held on Monday night of this week. A very pleasing program had been arranged, consisting of readings, music and other entertaining features, climaxed with the serving of a delicious luncheon. A large number were present at the reception and Rev. Kunkel and wife are convinced that Union is a splendid place in which to live and carry on their church work.

Farm Brought Good Figure

With the purchase of the Hathaway farm by C. F. Harris, and arrangements being made for Lee Farris to occupy the place, the latter offered his farm for sale. A number of interested people looked it over and a deal has been made whereby Oliver Schiber comes into possession of the same. Mr. Farris will move to the farm purchased by Mr. Harris and Mr. Schiber will move onto the Farris farm which he has purchased in the early spring.

P. H. S Students at Tarkio

Nine recent graduates of Plattsmouth high school are now students at Tarkio College, Tarkio, Missouri, and outside of towns within a few miles of Tarkio, constitute one of the largest delegations in the school. All are taking an active part in the activities of the school. Front row: James Comstock, Dorothea Siemoneit, George Adam, Lois Meade, Albert Toman; Back row: Kenneth Armstrong, John Nottelmann, Prof. R. F. Patterson, former P. H. S. Principal; Cecil Comstock and Stuart Porter.

Large Number Attend Church

With an enrolled membership of 84, attendance at the Methodist church last Sunday reached a high mark, there being 92 at Sunday school and 99 at the morning worship. This is very pleasing to the pastor, officers and members and shows a healthy interest in religious matters by the people of this community.

Visited at Columbus

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ehlers and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Clarence drove to Columbus last Saturday for a week-end visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Clarence. While there, the men folks engaged in hunting pheasants, with the opening of the season Sunday, and the ladies enjoyed a very pleasant visit together.

Failed to Return on Time

George Stites, the elevator man, who enjoys hunting, and especially going after the elusive pheasant, set out Saturday for the pheasant country, and up to supper time Monday evening had not returned. His friends were curious about his prolonged absence as they had expected him back Sunday night. However, they were of the belief that he may have gotten on the trail of a pheasant that kept on going, with George in pursuit. They were sure nothing more serious could have happened to him than getting stuck in the mud or some similar mishap to delay his return. All have doubtless heard the details of the trip from George himself by this time.

Visited at Stanton

The annual migration of pheasant hunters has furnished the highlights of this week's news all over southeastern Nebraska which is closed territory, as countless hundreds of sportsmen journeyed to the pheasant country to get a few shots at the elusive birds. One group from here was composed of Donald and Sterling Harris, Melvin Todd and J. Marion Stone, who reside near Nehawka. They departed Saturday, going to Stanton and Pilger, and early Sunday morning as the sun started to show its face, were out on the firing line ready to get their share, which we understand they did. At any rate, on their return they looked as though they had enjoyed their visit and hunting expedition.

Visiting in the West

Some time ago, Mrs. C. F. Harris went to the west coast for a visit for three months. Mrs. Emma Daniels of Diller also went west recently and has persuaded Mrs. Harris to remain until spring.

Everybody Hunting

W. B. Banning came in from Lincoln Friday and early Saturday departed in his car for the western part of the state, expecting to visit at the farm home of some friends and try his luck at pheasant hunting as there is said to be a greater abundance of the birds out that way than farther east, where the hunters of Omaha and Lincoln have kept the supply pretty well thinned out.

Believed in Making Sure

Eugene Roddy, the mail carrier out of Murray, but who makes his home in Union, did not want to take chances on being disappointed so decided he would neither go hunting or fishing. Instead he drove over to the river and after parting with a coin acquired some very good eating in the way of a nice catfish. When one gets them that way, there is no guesswork about it, and oftentimes a lot of lost time without results is saved. Still others prefer the thrill of hunting and fishing, regardless of whether their efforts are futile.

Hunted Near Wakefield

Another of the hunting parties that went forth from this vicinity on a trip to open territory, was composed of Earl Crawford, Tuggles Withrow, his father Elmer Withrow and Frank Bauer, they making the trip in the car of the latter. They left shortly after midnight Saturday night, driving to Wakefield, where they spent the early morning hours hunting.

Later in the day they started for home, coming via Decatur, a town off the railroad up in Burt county, along the Missouri river. This is a thriving little town despite the fact it has no railroad, for it is served by bus and truck lines and looks forward to the advent of Missouri river transportation a few years hence. Here they enjoyed a very pleasant visit with Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Luxford, who formerly were located in Union when Dr. Luxford was practicing here. They enjoyed their visit and were invited to come again. They found Dr. Luxford enjoying a nice business there and very well located.

Clubs Hold Achievement Day

The Huskey Rustlers and the Knot Hole clubs met at the Baptist church last Saturday, October 19. The Knot Hole club demonstrated some of the different knots and told about the trip to camp. The Huskey Rustlers had some of their posters on display there. Part of them were made by members who were too young to enter them at the fairs. This club was able to win two prizes on posters at the state fair and also two prizes at the county fair. Their booth won first prize at the state fair. At the end of the program refreshments were served to the friends and parents as well as to the members of the two clubs.—Parley Comer, News Reporter.

Enjoyable Birthday Dinner

October 14th being the birthday of Marjorie I. Hoback and her brother, Ivan T. Hoback, a fine dinner was served at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hoback. Those present to enjoy the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hoback and children, Marjorie, Donald and Ivan, also the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Taylor.

Death of Six Months' Old Baby

Doris Ann McClain, baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted McClain, was born at Union March 16, 1935, and died October 14th at the Lutheran hospital, age 6 months and 28 days.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, October 15, at the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted McClain, in charge of W. A. Taylor. Interment was in the West Union cemetery.

During the service two hymns were sung by Philip F. Rihn, "When He Cometh" and "Does Jesus Care."

Episcopal Women Meet

The Episcopal Women's Auxiliary met at the home of Augusta Robb instead of with Mrs. Stites, as previously stated, on Friday afternoon, October 18, with special review of the United Thank Offering in the life of the church during the forty-five years in action in domestic and foreign fields, through its women trained in teaching, nursing and social service, building schools, churches and hospitals around the world—the United States, Alaska, China, Japan, Islands of the Pacific, Mexico, Canal Zone, West Indies, South America and Africa. Millions of dollars have been raised through the U. T. O., which is a volunteer gift of the women of the church and in no wise considered an obligation. It is a sacred way of expressing a thankful heart and the small gift is emphasized when once in three years at time of presentation it becomes a large gift from the women of the church.

Friendship House in Omaha is the social service project sponsored and the Chief Friend is a United Thank Offering worker. This house is open twelve months in the year and carries on such worthy projects as summertime Bible school, weekly baby clinics by the Visiting Nurses association, serving the entire neighborhood, a social center for people of all ages, Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Girls' Friendly organizations. This house serves its community of all creeds with the cheery motto, "Here friendship lifts its candle high to welcome every passer by."

The treasurer reported pledges paid to January 1st, but not all obligations. Nine members were present, all joining in writing a letter to a sick member and one to our United Thank Offering worker in Allakaket, Alaska. A Christmas gift went with this letter.

At the close of the devotional service, the hostess served light refreshments.

The "Harvest Home" meeting when donations will be brought for Clark's hospital, will be held November 8 at the home of Augusta Robb. All members please keep this in mind. —Acting Secretary.

Mrs. Ernest Rathke Poorly

Mrs. Ernest Rathke, who with her husband and children have been visiting here for some weeks, is not feeling very well, but is prolonging her stay for a time in order to get the best of medical service, hoping that her health may be restored.

Death of Mrs. Mullis

Mrs. Josephine Mullis, wife of C. J. Mullis, of Nebraska City, died at St. Mary's hospital there last Friday night after an illness of but a few days from diabetes.

Mrs. Mullis was born in Wyoming precinct, September 21, 1863, and had but recently passed her 72nd birthday. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Barkhurst, pioneers of Nebraska. She was educated in the schools of Otoe county and on March 7, 1888, was married to C. J. Mullis. The family made their home at Dunbar for a number of years.

Mrs. Mullis was a member of the Presbyterian church, the Order of Eastern Star and of the Royal Neighbors of America and was well known and popular in Otoe county, where she had spent her entire lifetime.

Besides the husband, she is survived by three sons, Carl and Wilbur Mullis, of Syracuse; Roy Mullis and one daughter, Mrs. Henry Becker, of Union. Also two sisters residing in Nebraska City and two brothers, one of Lincoln and one of Weeping Water, nineteen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Two sons and a daughter predecease her in death.

Funeral services were held at a Nebraska City funeral home on Sunday afternoon, with Rev. W. A. Taylor of Union in charge. Burial was in Wyuka cemetery in Nebraska City.

FRENCH CRUISERS SAIL

Tulon, France.—The French cruisers Franche, Tourville and Dupex sailed for an undisclosed destination, accompanied by three submarines and the sloop Colonial. Naval authorities said they were "on maneuvers."

Resettlement Bureau Gives Farmers Help

Families in Need of Subsistence to Receive Temporary Aid From the Administration.

Lincoln, Oct. 21.—Cal A. Ward, regional director of the federal rural resettlement administration, Monday said temporary federal aid will be furnished through his office to farm families in need of subsistence, particularly in the drouth areas.

The plan, designed to help farmers not now under the federal rehabilitation loan program, he said, provides for certification of needy families for temporary direct relief on a subsistence basis.

175,000 Families.

Ward estimated 175,000 farm families in the nation will be added to the rehabilitation program, which already has 350,000 families on rehabilitation rolls in the entire country.

He said through an agreement made with the works progress administration the new group will be assigned to the resettlement administration by existing state relief agencies, which will function as certain application bureaus.

In Nebraska the work of checking the rural relief situation will be done by E. F. Witte, state federal relief administration administrator and state WPA certification officer.

"The agreement with WPA," Ward asserted, "provides that the central application bureaus will assign to the resettlement administration only those farm families on the relief rolls which can eventually be placed on a permanent rehabilitation basis in the judgment of the resettlement administration. "The central application bureau will determine in their section of families as to whether they are to be assisted by the WPA or the R.A., thereby avoiding duplication of operations."

Two Phases.

Paul V. Marvis, assistant national director of rural resettlement, during a visit here, explained the program would have two phases:

1. Emergency aid to farmers in "catastrophe areas"—drouth assistance, for example.
2. Temporary help to families who may have applied for individual rehabilitation loans but who may not yet have received actual monetary assistance.

The program, Marvis said, was adapted to this region, consisting of Nebraska, Kansas and North and South Dakota, because of drouth, dust storms and floods in recent years.

KEATON SERIOUSLY ILL

Hollywood.—The condition of Buster Keaton, film comedian ill at his home here, was described by his physician, Dr. John Shuman, as "serious." Keaton was stricken with influenza a few days ago and it was believed this had developed into pneumonia.

HAD VERY PLEASANT MEETING

Those from here who attended the Arbor Lodge district Scout meeting held at Nebraska City last night, felt well repaid for their trip, as valuable discussion looking to improvement of district courts of honor, establishment of a few experimental Cub packs and a more orderly handling of financial matters was engaged in.

The court of honor procedure is being changed somewhat to provide an advancement director chairman and a vice chairman, with each given definite duties to perform. The host troop is charged with providing a program of thirty to forty minutes duration while the board of review, composed of troop advancement directors from the different troops are in session in adjoining rooms examining the candidates for advancement. The district advancement chairman presides over the program session while the vice chairman is directing the board of review in its work.

In the presentation of awards, entire troops will be called up at a time, while the advancement director member of the troop committee will make presentation. This will include second and first class and merit badge awards, while in Star, Life and Eagle classifications the awards will be by groups, regardless of what troop they may belong to, also with the various Palm awards above Eagle Scout rank.

The next court of honor in this district will be held at Nehawka on Tuesday evening, November 19th.

The financial set-up will be continued on the three cents per capita basis of past two years, but dues will be forwarded to district treasurer instead of to area headquarters and the district will underwrite the budget, in turn getting the money from the towns in the district, thus doing away with area headquarters having to contact the more than 100 towns in the area, and enable them to get the same results through budgeting among the fourteen districts of which Arbor Lodge is one.

It is quite likely Nebraska City will get the first Cub pack to be organized outside of such cities as Lincoln and Omaha. The Cub program embraces boys of pre-Scouting age and the experiment of organizing such packs in two or three towns of different size over the area will be watched with interest by all Scouters.

The Plattsmouth delegation arrived home about 11:30 and were guests at a midnight lunch at the E. H. Wescott home before breaking up the group, with a continuing discussion of Scouting problems.
